

THE DAILY BEE.

E. ROSEWATER, Editor.

PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION

Daily and Sunday, One Year.....	$6.00
Two Months.....	4.00
Three Months.....	5.00
Sunday Bee, One Year, with Premium.....	2.00

Weekly Premium, $2.00.

Omaha, Bee Building, 267 No. 6th Street.

Chicago Office, 267 No. 6th Street.

New York, Rooms 11 and 12, Tremont Building.

Washington, No. 12 Bond Street.

Boston, Corner N. 13th Street.

CORRESPONDENCE.

All communications relating to news and editorial matter should be addressed to the Editor-in-Chief.

BUSINESS LETTERS.

All business letters and remittances should be addressed to the Bee Publishing Company, Omaha.

Drafts and Postoffice orders to be made payable to the order of the Company.

The Bee Publishing Company, Proprietors.

Bee Building, Farnam and Seventeenth Streets.

THE BEE ON THE TRAINS.

There is no excuse for a failure to get the Bee on board the cars. All mail is carried by express to every car in the company. Travellers who want the Bee and can't get it on trains where other Omaha papers are carried are requested to make arrangements with me.

Please be particular to give in all cases full information as to date, railway and number or train.

THE DAILY BEE.

Sworn Statement of Circulation.

State of Nebraska, ss.

County of Douglas, ss.

George L. Tschuck, secretary of THE DAILY BEE Publishing Company, does solemnly swear that the actual circulation of THE DAILY BEE for the week ending March 22, 1890, was as follows:

Sunday, March 16..... 20,300
Monday, March 17..... 20,261
Tuesday, March 18..... 20,251
Wednesday, March 19..... 20,257
Thursday, March 20..... 20,257
Friday, March 21..... 20,257
Saturday, March 22..... 20,257

Average..... 20,336

GEORGE B. TSCHUCK,
Sworn to before me and subscribed to in my presence this 22 day of March, A.D. 1890.
R. E. FEIL, Notary Public.

State of Nebraska, ss.

George L. Tschuck, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is secretary of THE DAILY BEE Publishing Company, and that the actual circulation of THE DAILY BEE for the month of March, 1890, 35,864 copies; for April, 1890, 35,864 copies; for May, 1890, 16,738 copies; for June, 1890, 18,365 copies; for July, 1890, 16,738 copies; for August, 1890, 18,361 copies; for September, 1890, 18,737 copies; for October, 1890, 18,737 copies; for November, 1890, 18,737 copies; for December, 1890, 30,048 copies; for January, 1891, 19,565 copies; for February, 1891, 19,561 copies.

GEORGE B. TSCHUCK,
Sworn to before me and subscribed to in my presence this 1st day of March, A.D. 1891.
R. E. FEIL, Notary Public.

THE cyclone has opened up business for the season down in South Carolina in its usual frisky manner.

KEYA PAHA county in this state may be the long sought for Eldorado of hidden mineral wealth. But it is best to await further developments.

WITH nearly fifty thousand votes enrolled in the Farmers' alliance of Nebraska the future of the machine politician is decidedly gloomy.

THE Illinois supreme court has effectually punctured the gas trust of Chicago. Corporate combines should not place their trusts in courts.

FIVE hundred republicans joined the resubmission club in Fort Scott, Kansas testimony against the folly of prohibition is as conclusive as that of Iowa.

A FORTY-FOUR per cent increase in the bank clearings places Omaha tenth on the list, and sets a lively, prosperous pace at the threshold of all classes of the people.

THE TARIFF DILEMMA.

It appears that it was not the intention of the majority of the ways and means committee that the abstract of Mr. and Mrs. Jones is creditable to the city and county officials. But much remains to be done to forge together the various links of evidence before the trial can proceed. For this purpose it is absolutely necessary that the hands of the county attorney should be strengthened. It is folly to expect that he can devote to the case the time and attention its importance demands when his services are almost daily required at the district court.

The public cannot expect effective work from an official whose time is divided between the civil business of the county board, criminal prosecutions in the district court, and state cases in the police courts of Omaha and South Omaha.

Even though the law does not authorize the county board to grant assistance to the county attorney, public policy demands that every means at the command of the county be employed to prosecute and mete out justice to the perpetrators of the Pinney farm tragedy.

The blood of the aged victims cries out for vengeance and every official is in honor bound to use every effort and spare no expense in the collection of proof and in preparing an impregnable line of prosecution.

The safety and security of society no less than the credit of Douglas county, call for a thorough and exhaustive inquiry into every circumstance, and the securing of positive proof so as to prevent a miscarriage of justice.

Starting Out Right.

New York Tribune.

The statement announcing the policy of the new French ministry is certain to be received with cordial approval by the great mass of the French people. It is significant in declaring in emphatic terms in favor of a free, tolerant and peaceful republic, and likewise in what it says concerning the condition of working people and the duty of the government to improve their position. This new cabinet has made a good beginning.

Prevention Better Than Cure.

Boston Globe.

If the great public which furnishes the regular supply of physicians' patients could be induced to look at the matter on the prevention rather than cure side, how could "regular" physicians help themselves! They would hardly think of resorting to monopoly legislation, as they are doing now, to keep "irregular" practitioners out of the field and, if possible, thrust them into prison.

More than likely they would find, in the course of a few generations, their occupation gone. And would it be much the worse for us all if we could really get along without them altogether?

IN THE ROTUNDA.

State Senator John L. Nesbitt of North Platte is in the city. He says that politics have begun to sizzle little out his way.

"The Farmers' Alliance, of which I have read so much in THE BEE's rotunda interviews, isn't going to do so much of a figure in the western portion of the state as it will in the east, although it is quite strong in our county.

I can't give you any specific information as to the work of the alliance, as lawyers are barred from membership. They claim that the lawyers and railroads are affiliated and the less you have to do with both the better off you will be. Their object, however, is simply to look out for their own interests, and the railroads are their meat.

The lumbermen are reported to have convinced the committee that it is not expedient to reduce the duty. There are mutterings of dissatisfaction among the carpet manufacturers with the proposal to increase the duty on carpet wool forty per cent, and there are indications of discontent among the iron manufacturers of New England at

ATTENDING TO TRUSTS.

At last there is promise of a serious effort in congress to provide legislation for the suppression of trusts. Senator Sherman's revised anti-trust bill was given a place on the calendar last week and it will come up for discussion daily until disposed of, which it is presumed will not require a great deal of time. The Ohio senator introduced a bill last year for a like purpose, but it encountered constitutional objections which the present measure was framed to overcome. The bill now under consideration in the senate declares to be against public policy, unlawful and void all arrangements, contracts, agreements, trusts or combinations between two or more citizens or corporations, or both, of different states, or of the United States and foreign states, having the purpose or tendency to prevent full and free competition in articles of production or manufacture, and to advance the cost to the consumer of any such articles. It is provided that the circuit court of the United States shall have original jurisdiction in all suits of a civil nature, at common law or in equity, arising under this section, and the attorney general and the several district attorneys are directed to commence and prosecute all such cases to final judgment and execution.

A RECIPROCITY FEELER.

The house committee on foreign affairs last week agreed on a resolution intended to encourage interest in reciprocity with Canada. It recites that whenever the president shall be duly informed of a desire on the part of the government of the Dominion of Canada to enter into such commercial arrangements with this country as will result in the complete removal of all duties upon trade between Canada and the United States, he shall appoint commissioners to meet with those who may be designated to represent the government of Canada to consider the best method of extending the trade relations between the two countries, and to ascertain on what terms greater freedom of intercourse can be best secured.

If this resolution passes congress it is possible it will have the effect of inducing the government of Canada to seriously consider the policy of entering into the negotiations to which it points, but it cannot be reasonably supposed that at present the Canadian government or people entertain for us the most friendly feeling.

Our proposed tariff legislation has aroused there a great deal of apprehension which may be presumed is not unmixed with a sense of resentment at what the people of Canada might be pardon for regarding as an evidence of unfriendliness. While we are counting the commercial favor of every other country in this hemisphere we show a disposition to shape our fiscal policy so as to do the greatest possible harm to our northern neighbor. There is an obvious inconsistency between our professions and our conduct in this respect which it would seem is more likely to inspire a spirit of retaliation than encourage one of reciprocity in the government and people of Canada.

However, the resolution referred to may operate as an emollient, and something of that sort may be expedient under the circumstances.

HAMPERING JUSTICE.

The pursuit and capture of the three men implicated in the dastardly murder of Mr. and Mrs. Jones is creditable to the city and county officials. But much remains to be done to forge together the various links of evidence before the trial can proceed. For this purpose it is absolutely necessary that the hands of the county attorney should be strengthened.

It is folly to expect that he can devote to the case the time and attention its importance demands when his services are almost daily required at the district court.

The town of Roseland, Adams county, is too large to fit the requirements of the district court, so it is petitioned to extend the boundaries to a quarter section. There are now four sections inside the town limits.

John Cole, a Cedar county young man who lifted a window and stole a jug of whisky from a house, was convicted of burglary and sentenced to the penitentiary for nine months at hard labor. He is being circulated to secure his pardon, as his mother is a widow and nearly blind.

Holt county will build a bridge across the Niobrara river at Whitney's crossing to connect with the Sioux reservation. The contract has been let for $4,800.

There are now sixty men employed in the Springfield stone quarries and it is believed that 300 will be at work there and in the quarries during the summer.

A series of missionary meetings under the auspices of the Methodist church of Groun 2, York district, will be held at Rising April 1, Shelby April 2, Osceola April 3 and Stromsburg April 4.

The town of Roseland, Adams county, is too large to fit the requirements of the district court, so it is petitioned to extend the boundaries to a quarter section. There are now four sections inside the town limits.

John Cole, a Cedar county young man who lifted a window and stole a jug of whisky from a house, was convicted of burglary and sentenced to the penitentiary for nine months at hard labor. He is being circulated to secure his pardon, as his mother is a widow and nearly blind.

In the coming campaign the railroad political gangs are routed, and radical regulation laws enacted, the corporations will have themselves to blame. They have invited retaliatory legislation by maintaining excessive freight tolls and robbing the producers of the fruits of their labors. They have sown the wind and will reap the whirlwind of popular indignation.

The Wild Western Style.

Minnesota Times.

Pue seems to fear that the Chicago world's fair enthusiasts spell boom "b-o-o-n." That may be, but they don't spell subscription "w-i-n-d."

Won't Hold Water.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The land currency scheme is beautiful in theory, but it would be destructive in practice. Senator Stanford's remedy for industrial ills is impracticable, and stands not the slightest chance of adoption.

What Would Please Them.

Chicago Times.

President Adams of the Union Pacific is wailing over the condition of the Frye bill, which gives the company fifty years in which to pay its debt to Uncle Sam. There is apparently one thing which will please a government debtor. Cancel the debt and vote through congress the thanks of the people to the repealer for so long patiently tolerating the government as a crotchet.

The Platt Valley Lyceum has been purchased by a lady, Miss Gertrude Huntingdon.

Cattlemen report that between eight thousand and ten thousand cattle wintered in Jackson hole, in northern Uinta county.

James Nolan, a ranchman near Fort Laramie with a wife and eight children, has been declared insane and will be sent to the asylum.

The Union Pacific offers to turn the Laramie waterworks over to the city, provided the city will step in and replace and furnish the Union Pacific.

For Mr. Hanson has resigned the pastorate of the Congregational church at Lusk, to take effect in May. This makes the third or fourth change in pastors of that church in the past two years.

Edwin W. Warick of Cheyenne tried to shoot out taking three fingers of carbolic acid, but she handicapped the poison by drinking whisky before downing the deadly dose and still lives.

The students of this section of Wyoming have been unusually favored during the past winter, says the Lander Mountainer. South and west of here snow has fallen to an unprecedented depth, and the loss in stock has been unusually large in consequence.

During all this time the weather has been unusually mild and enough snow to keep the cattle in good shape.

Mary O'Neill, a seventeen-year-old Laramie girl, poured kerosene on the kitchen stove and set it afire while watching her baby.

The Kreamayre meat company had announced articles raising liability from $2,000 to $25,000. The management of the concern is now in the hands of a board of five directors instead of the president, secretary and treasurer.

CITY NEWS AND NOTES.

The streets at the corner of Ninth and P streets were swept off today and the initial step taken for work to commence on the new $15,000 hotel.

The executive committee of the State Teachers Association met tonight at the Wyo. Hotel to systematize and plan the work of the annual meeting of the association, which commences tomorrow.

M. C. Dickey of Beatrice succeeds J. W. Crittigham as city editor of the Call.

Mr. Crittigham's successor is to be a graduate of extended experience.

William F. Shannon died yesterday at the depot hotel. He is a brother of F. O. Shannon and was twenty-one years of age. The funeral took place this afternoon from the hotel.

The coroner decided an inquest unnecessary over the death of Monroe Howard and in the death certificate assigned alcoholism to be the cause.

His brother, Frank Howard, arrived yesterday from Indiana to keep the cattle in good shape.

The Farmers' Alliance of Lancaster county met in the city today and perfected a county organization. It is said that the organization is among the strongest in the state.

TERRIBLE WORK OF THE WIND.

A Number of People Killed by the South Carolina Cyclone.

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 24.—Particulars of Saturday's storm say that the fury of the cyclone was principally felt in Sumpter, where much damage was done. Ida Richardson was killed by a falling house; two men, names unknown, were fatally injured, and many persons badly bruised and cut.

The railroad bridge over the Broad river at Shelton was blown off the piers and completely demolished. An unknown man standing on the bridge was carried away.

In Chester county the wind did a great deal of damage.

In Orangeburg county a woman was killed by a falling roof beam.

In Dillon county a woman was killed by a falling roof beam.

In Kershaw county a woman was killed by a falling roof beam.

In Lexington county a woman was killed by a falling roof beam.

In Marlboro county a woman was killed by a falling roof beam.

In Newberry county a woman was killed by a falling roof beam.

In Pickens county a woman was killed by a falling roof beam.

In Richland county a woman was killed by a falling roof beam.

In Saluda county a woman was killed by a falling roof beam.

In Spartanburg county a woman was killed by a falling roof beam.

In Union county a woman was killed by a falling roof beam.

In York county a woman was killed by a falling roof beam.

In Greenville county a woman was killed by a falling roof beam.

In Laurens county a woman was killed by a falling roof beam.

In Chesterfield county a woman was killed by a falling roof beam.