Sr. Louis, Mo., April 1.-Information from what is known as the Laconia circle in the section of country between Helena and Arkansas Cliv, which is practically surrounded by the Mississippi and White rivers, is to the effect that people there are in a bad condition and suffering. The water poured over the evces on all sides, and in three hours the rcle was filled even with the surface of the rivers and in some places was eight feet deep. This occurred so suddenly that the people had no time to do anything. Their houses, stock and everything else they owned was in the water and in some cases swept away before ey knew what had happened. A steamer from Helena brought out 130 A steamer from Helena brought out 130 people and a large amount of stock Friday, and the steamer Titan with barges will bring out all the remaining stock and as many of the people as desire to get away. Before the steamers arrived many of the people cook refuge in trees and the tops of houses to escape being drowned. Many of the planters are utterly ruined. The comminder have no seed to plant even should remainder have no seed to plant even should the waters subside in time to put in crops. The suffering has been and will be great, and aid of all kinds will be necessary to carry the people through.

The Situation at Louisville. LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 1.-The sun came out bright this forenoon and shone all day. The ruins dried off rapidly and the work of repairing the damage done by the tornado has gone forward energetically. Walls are going up and roofs reappearing on every hand. The work of relief is now proceeding systematically. Clearing the streets entirely of wreckage was begun today. Temporary machinery has been constructed by which it is hoped the water in the reservoir can be supplied. The health officers fear a great increase in disease as a result of the lack of water to flush out the sewer connections in Out of about eighty houses destroyed by he storm in Jeffersonville the owners of four fifths of them are poor people, whose little homes were their only possessions. All the homeless ones have been given shelter, but the situation over there is much under esti-mated and help there is needed. In the block between Market and Front and Mulberry and Fort nearly every home is ruined and most of the inmates lost all except the clothing they wore. Subscriptions for Jeffersonville are coming in slowly.

Heavy Rains at Greenville. GREENVILLE, Miss., April 1.- The situation has been very wet the past twenty-four hours. Heavy rains last night and today made things disagreeable in addition to the encroachment of the backwater in the northern part of the city. The water, which has not spread much last night is now flowing over since since last night is now flowing over the track of the Louisville & Now Orleans road, thereby preventing its spread very much in town. Water from the Huntington break is now passing back into the river through the Ofntt break, thereby re-lieving the waters at the ontback. The Easton break is, however, letting out a great quantity of water, which is fast spreading over the contract water which is fast spreading over the eastern portion of the country and in some places is quite deep. Today the mayor appointed a committee to look after and care for those in need in the water flooded districts of the city. The cotton exchange today sent a report to the Associated press saying that the condition here was not so bad as it would seem to be to the outside world. Should the flood pass off in thirty days a good crop will be made, which has been the case in nearly all cases of overflow. A Tornado-Swept Region.

John Rosleky was in the chair and J. W. Zerzan acted as secretary. After reading the minutes of . the last meeting the committee made a report of collections and subscriptions obtained toward de fraying the expense of the necessary proceedings. The report showed $150 subscribed and nearly one-half of the same collected. Attorneys Berka and Corn-ish were asked their opinions of the situation and the best mode of procedure to gain the and the best node of protectors to gain the desired end and gave their views at length. J. H. Butter made a strong argument in favor of all interested parties making a per-sistent and energedic fight in favor of doing away with what he termed the "nulsance." He was confident that the courts would sus-tain the property owners in the contest. He himself was not as great a sufferer as those living in the near vicinity, and he would get a smell of the stiffing smoke emitted by the yards only a few times during the season, but when it did come it was unbearable. The Bennett Law Brings a Religious War in the Campaign.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 1.- The municipal election going on in this city today is probably the most hotly contested in the history of the city, There are three tickets in the field, republican democratic and citizens. The triangular fight includes even the smallest office in the gift of the people. There is no particular issue at stake, so far as city affairs are concerned, but the Lutherans and Catholics forced the Bennett com-pulsory education law into the campaign by exacting a declaration from the candidates as to their standing on the law. They demand its repeal, and will vote for no candidate who does not agree with them. This arouned the Protestant and Ameri-can elements of the population, and they have turned out enmasse. Today's vote is being watched with great concern by the friends of education everywhere. The indications tonight are that George W. Peck, democratic, editor of Peck's Sun, is lected over Mayor Brown, renomina the republicans. There was also a third ticket in the field, headed by N. S. Murphy, labor-citizens' candidate. Many democrats de-nounced the position of their party on the educational law, but voted for the party candate on the ground that law was not an issu in municipal candidates. The Lutheran and Catholic clergy were very active in support-ing the democratic candidates, who were pledged to a repeal of the Bennett law. LATER—The democrats elect Peck mayor and the entire ticket by 5,000 majority.
