

THE CITY.

Bank clearings yesterday $792,023.33. The Central Labor union will give its second annual ball at Washington hall on the night of April 16. The local painters' union, at a meeting Tuesday night, expressed satisfaction with the existing state of wages and hours of work. [The] Worthington will confirm a class of seven of the pupils of Browning hall at 7 o'clock this afternoon at St. Mathias church on South Tenth street. A sick man in absolutely destitute circumstances is reported to the police. His room is at 210 South Twelfth street. The superintendent of the poor has been notified. The preliminary hearing of Suspect Sherman, charged with being implicated in the Pinney farm tragedy, will take place before Justice Morrison this morning. The growing business of the telephone company has made it necessary for its addition to be made to the switch board, increasing it from its present capacity of 1,600 numbers to 1,800. On next Tuesday evening the ladies of the George A. Custer Relief corps will give a calico ball at Griggs hall on Howard street, near Sixteenth. The invitations are very unique, being printed on strips of figured calico. The Young Men's Christian association rooms were closed from 3 to 4 p. m. yesterday in deference to the memory of the late P. C. Himebaugh, the former president. On Sunday afternoon special commemorative services will be held. Isaac K. Terry of the firm of Honan & Terry died Tuesday night at his residence, 2527 Charles street, after a brief illness. His remains were forwarded by express to Wilton, Ia., his former home, for burial. Mr. Terry served in the Iowa legislature several terms, and was for a long time quite prominently identified with Iowa politics.

END OF A BRIGHT LIFE. A Young Girl's Sad Death at the Open Door. The death of Colla Elmore at the Open Door Tuesday ends the story of another young life blighted by man's cruelty. Miss Elmore was the bright and beautiful daughter of a respectable but very poor family in a town in Indiana. She was only seventeen years old, but was well educated and intelligent, and for the past year has been helping defray the family expenses by teaching school. It was during this period that she was seduced by the hero of other amours, and she fell in love with him. He knew this and recaptured by betraying her under promise of marriage. Her parents, unwilling to fulfill his promise of wedlock, refused to do so, saying that another young man had been seduced by the same man as she. Miss Elmore insisted and, growing alarmed, fled to Omaha. She followed him, but he still turned a deaf ear to her entreaties. This was early in October, and as she was penniless and among strangers she had to seek refuge at the Open Door. Her sin, and the time her health has been very delicate and she has been a constant care. She endeavored herself to the matron and sister-in-law, but her intelligence and sweetness of disposition. Three weeks ago the crisis came and since then her condition has been very critical. A doctor Friday it was discovered that she could not live much longer and she begged Mrs. Clark to help her in persuading Chapman to marry her. Mrs. Clark, who was the young man and told him of Miss Elmore's condition. He again reiterated the fact that there was another young lady in Indiana who had a prior similar claim upon him. Mrs. Clark finally prevailed upon him to marry the dying girl. He procured a marriage certificate and the same evening was wedded to her, as she lay on her dying bed. W. J. Harsha officiating at the sad ceremony. The fact that she was finally honorably wedded seemed to give her fresh life, but it was only temporary, and in a day or two she began to sink again. At 1:30 p. m. Tuesday she died. A telegram was sent to her parents apprising them of the demise, but they sent back word that they were too poor to pay the expenses of shipment and that they would like to receive a decent burial. Mrs. Clark promised to do so, and through the kindness of Mr. Clark, the undertaker and others, and the little contributions of the unfortunate girls at the Open Door, the body will receive a respectable interment. The funeral exercises will occur at 11 a. m. today and the remains will be laid away in their final resting place at Forest Lawn.

clothes that had been left at the store to be repaired. Further information was obtained to the effect that a blood-handskerchief bearing a name, and in appearance indicating that it had been wound around a man's hand, was found beneath the window through which entrance had been gained, and there were traces of blood on the glass it would seem that the burglar had evidently cut his hand in putting it through the hole he had made to get to the fastening. A girl living over the store was awakened by the burglars, and going to a window saw one or two of them. She declined to give any particulars. The loss falls quite heavily upon Mr. Peterson, he being a man of comparatively small means, and particularly in view of the fact that this makes the second time he has lost heavily by burglary within about three months. The latter part of last December his establishment was gone through to the extent of about $1,000. He told the reporter that he thought he knew one of the parties connected with last night's raid. THEY WANT SHORTER HOURS. Omaha Carpenters Want More Pay After May 1. The Omaha carpenters are getting into position to demand shorter hours and higher wages after May 1, as decided at the American federation of labor meeting in St. Louis a year and a half ago. The various trade organizations of the country have been shaping their plans to carry out this programme and many of them have obtained concessions from their employers. The carpenters, however, are the eight hour schedule for a day's work, a most matter of fact. Some of the local trades unions, however, have not been so successful in the current year. The list they have not been thoroughly organized until recently and have no regular hours of work or scale of wages. They had a large meeting at Green's hall, Tuesday night and received a large number of new members. The eight hour movement was discussed and will be made the object of a special meeting to be held at Garfield hall, April 14, at which meeting W. H. Kivler of Chicago, president of the general executive board will deliver an address. The carpenters will ask that after May 1 they receive 35 cents an hour for work and that eight hours constitute a day's labor.

Coughing. Nature's effort to expel foreign substances from the bronchial passages. Frequent, this causes an inflammation and the need of an anodyne. No other expectorant or anodyne is equal to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It assists Nature in ejecting the mucus, allays irritation, induces repose, and is the most popular of all cough cures. Of the many preparations before the public for the cure of colds, coughs, bronchitis, and kindred diseases, there is none within the range of my experience, reliable as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. For years I was subject to colds, followed by terrible coughs. About four years ago, when so afflicted, I was advised to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and to lay all other remedies aside. I did so, and within a week was well of my cold and cough. Since then I have always kept this preparation in the house, and feel comparatively secure. Mrs. L. M. Brown, Des Moines, Iowa. A few years ago I took a severe cold which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the Pectoral, a permanent cure was effected. Horace Fairbrother, Rockingham, Vt.

She will be supported by a very able company and the piece will be mounted in a manner that is rarely equalled here. Mrs. Wright's support will include Burton Hill, William F. Owen, Percy Brooke, E. Y. Backus, Blanche Walsh and Louise Muldener.

The Best Result. Every ingrain employed in producing Hood's Sarsaparilla is strictly pure, and is the best of its kind it is possible to buy. All the roots and herbs are carefully selected, usually cleaned and dried in the best manner. So that from the time of purchase until Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared, everything is carefully watched with a view to attaining the best result. Why don't you try it?

Judge Hopewell Serves a Notice on Dilatory Attorneys. Judge Hopewell took occasion yesterday to notify the bar that the cases on the docket would be called in their regular order and that he would be prepared to receive any application made from 9:30 in the morning (til 3 p. m.). He complained that he had several times been prepared to go on with suits and had been delayed and compelled to waste time by the dilatoriness of attorneys. Future neglect of that sort, he said, would be to the peril of the cases.

Flourishing Officials. The local election in Florence on Tuesday resulted in the selection of the following officials: J. S. Tracy, mayor; J. C. Webber, clerk; J. S. Ransom, police judge; M. E. Hamilton, treasurer; Peter Olsen and Frank Reynolds, commissioners.

The District Attorneys. The board of equalization is still at work on the Tenth street viaduct damages, but will soon have a report ready. It is understood that the damages will be assessed against property benefited all over the central part of the city, extending as far east as Fifteenth street and as far north as California.

A Young Lawyer. Mr. J. Graham Stearns was admitted to the bar of the district court yesterday. In his examination he is said to have made 99 out of 100 points. He has been studying for over two years in the office of O'Brien Brothers, and will shortly be taken into that firm. Mr. Stearns is well and favorably known in the city and his friends promise a bright future for him.

Persuade Their Neighbors to Try It. Dr. J. C. Anthony of Oshkosh, Neb., says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives satisfaction and is a big seller." The reason it sells so well is that people who use it find it so much superior to any other medicine they have ever used, that they persuade their friends and neighbors to try it. No one troubled with a cough or cold can use it with impunity, and it cures all colds, coughs, and bronchitis, and relieves a hoarse, raw, and inflamed throat. It is a natural and healthy condition.

To the Dealers in Oil. This is to notify you that we have no further interest in the Des Moines oil tank line of Des Moines, Ia. Owing to a disagreement with Messrs. W. R. Stewart, Jr., and E. P. Pratt, we decided to sell them our interest, which we did January 30, 1890. Parties desiring to buy first class oils, independent of the Standard Oil company or consolidated Tank Line company, will please write or direct and we will take much pleasure in making lowest prices possible. We can furnish you all grades of illuminating and lubricating oils, gasoline and naphtha—in fact, all products of petroleum. SCOTFIELD, SMITH & TIGHE, Independent Refiners, Cleveland, O.

Habitual Constipation causes derangement of the entire system, and leads to diseases that are hazardous to life. It produces indigestion, early decay, headache, defective memory, gloomy forebodings, nervousness, fevers, diarrhoeas, irritability, and a general debility, which unites the sufferer for business or agreeable recreation. Regular habits of bowels alone can correct these evils, and nothing succeeds so well in achieving this condition as TOTT'S PILL. These pills not only clean the system renovated, but in consequence of the harmonious changes thus created, there follows a feeling of satisfaction, the general faculties perform their functions with vigor, and the mind and body are brought to that perfect health and perfect heart of ease that bespeaks the full enjoyment of life.

There Was No Quorum. A special meeting of the city council to appoint additional registrars was called for last night. When the hour of meeting arrived, Mr. Chaffee and a few satellites were in their places. There was no quorum, however, and the party adjourned to a convenient resort on Fifteenth street. Here the president was accosted by a reporter with the question: "How did you get along at your meeting this evening?" "I was there if I lost," responded the gentleman addressed.

County Court. Elizabeth Graber has brought suit in the county court against Andrew Graber. The story in the petition classes Andrew among the most base deceivers. In 1880 he caused a mock marriage to be performed in Council Bluffs and the couple lived together as man and wife for five years. In 1884 a child was born to them. In 1885 Graber secured the nullification of the marriage in the district court of Douglas county, and since that time has refused to contribute anything toward the support of his child or his mother. The mother therefore brings suit against the unnatural father to compel him to contribute towards the support of his child. She estimates that the cost of maintaining the child during the time of his desertion is $1,000, for which she asks judgment.

THE FIGURE "9". No man or woman now living will ever date a document without using the figure 9. It stands in the third place in 1890, where it will remain ten years and then move up to second place in 1900, where it will rest for one hundred years. It is unlike the figure 9 in our dates in the respect that it is already moved up to first place, where it will permanently remain. It is called the "No. 9" High Arm Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine. The "No. 9" was endorsed for first place by the experts of Europe at the Paris Exposition of 1889, where, after a severe contest with the leading machines of the world, it was awarded the only Grand Prize given to family sewing machines, and the highest honor ever conferred upon a sewing machine. It is the only machine that has received the highest award of gold medals, etc. The French Government also recognized its superiority by the decoration of Mr. Nathaniel Wheeler, President of the company, with the Cross of the Legion of Honor. The "No. 9" is not an old machine improved upon. It is an entirely new machine, and the Grand Prize at Paris was awarded it as the grand advance in sewing machine mechanism of the age. Those who buy it can rest assured, therefore, of having the very latest and best.
