It Nearly Causes Disaster in the Western Union Office.

SOLVING THE PURE MILK PROBLEM.

Appropriations Wanted by the Board of Health to Enable it to Inaugurate a System of Inspection.

was avoided yesterday by prompt action of the chief operator, at the Western Union. office, who at the risk of being killed by a current from a motor wire pulled the plugs from the switch board at the Western Union office while the electricity was hissing and burning the board and instruments. Some electric light men employed by the Thompson-Houston Electric Light company were stringing a wire on Twelfth street across Farnam street, and through carelessness broke one of the Western Union wires, which fell down through the mass of wires and directly on the motor wires. The current went into the Western Union office like "greased lightning," and immediately the switch board was on fire, melting the brass connec-tions and instruments like wax. tions and instruments like wax, and had it not been for the prompt action of the oblief operator and his assistant the building would have been in flames in a minute, endaugering the lives of fifty people. Three sets of instruments were burned before the deadly current could be cut off and the switchboard was damaged to some extent.

PURE MILK.

How the Board of Health Seeks to Obtain It.

City Physician Gapen says that he was rather surprised the other day to learn while in Chicago that the appropriation for the board of health at that place was $412,000. Omaha has $3,000 and fully one-tenth of the population. Omaha should have at that ratio about $40,000.

Speaking of the inspection of milk the physician says that the board will make a strong effort to secure the sinews of war for the prosecution of the work. It would try to get along on $10,000 and employ three or four competent inspectors. To make the work thorough, an ordinance should first be passed specifying in detail just how a dairy should be manazed, who should run it and how the be manazed, who should run it and how the milk should be handled from the pasture or dairy-farm till it reached the consumer. A chemist should be secured who would give the city wholesale rates for the analysis of a sample of milk water or other article. The inspection should then be made, not by jumping on a wagon and taking a sample, but by going to the dairies and beginning there. Them the dairymen and beginning there. Then the dairymen should be licensed and their wagons numbered like expressmen.

In proof of the need of inspecting all the surrounding condition of the dairy, the doctor cited an instance of a family treated for scarlet fever for which no cause could be dis-covered till a visit had been paid to the dairy.

UNITED PRESBYTERIANS.

The Ladies Adjourn and The Presbytery Closes Today. The morning session of the Presbyterian Ladies' Missionary society was opened by devotional exercises conducted by the president. The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows:

President, Mrs. John Williamson, Omaha; first vice president, Miss Mary Fowler, North Bend; second vice president, Mrs. J. C. Lynn; corresponding and recording secretary, Mrs. J. A. Henderson, Omaha; treasurer, Miss Belle McCulloch, Omaha.

After the missionary exercises the society proceeded to the business of the afternoon. Miss Beile McCulloch, the newly elected treasurer, presented her resignation, which was accepted. The election of delegates to the general Presbyterian society was then taken up. Mrs. J. A. Henderson and Miss Maggle Scott were elected. Mrs. E. B. Graham and Miss Mary Fowler were elected alternates.

The society then distened to a well written letter from a missionary located in India. It was read by Mrs. J. M. French and dwelt largely upon the customs and manners of the people among whom she is laboring. A like letter from Miss Aggle Donison of the Norfolk freedmen museum, Norfolk, Va., Another letter was read from India. Its author was Miss Mary White, M.D., of the Siakkot, India, misssion.

Mrs. L. W. Williamson read a very inter-MIS. L. W. Williamson read a very inter-esting paper on "Our Thank Offering."

Mrs. John Williamson opened the conference by a paper on "Would special work add to our efficiency as a Presbyterial society?" After a general discussion it was moved and carried that the society pledge $100 to one special object in mission work under the care of the presbytery. A committee was appointed to inform the presbytery of the action. Adjourned until 8 p. m. At the evening session the business of the society was laid over, and the mission bands of the First and Central United Presbyterian churches entertained the audience. The Cass street mission children were brought forward, and each repeated a verse of scripture pertain ing to the work of the child. The First church band then spoke of the work in the different foreign countries, and also the most promi-nent missionary. In connection with this Miss Nettie Gibbs rendered a solo, the band ig in the chorus.

Mrs. J. C. Lynn then rend a paper on "Mis-sion Work-Its Authority and Object." She cited several passages of scripture as the foundation of mission work and the bible as the authority. The first society was organ-ized in 1800, and was a union of the Baptists and Congregationalists. The missionary spirit was at a very low ebb at this time, but and Congregationalists. The missionary spirit was at a very low ebb at this time, but has increased to a great extent. She closed with a strong appeal to all Christian women to be awake to their duty and be filled with more of the missionary spirit.

The committee on resolutions reported the following resolutions, which were adopted:
Whereas, God in His goodness has garhered us in annual convention and has blessed us with interesting and profitable sessions, and because He hath blessed as during the past year with health, means and increase of workers; therefore, be it.

Resolved, That we praise our Lord for His loving kindness toward us in permitting us to be co-warkers with Him in the upbuilding of His kingdom. That we enter upon the conding year with renewed real more consecration and a strugger determination to do more and better work than ever before, and

Whereas, Our beloved state is being agitated from one end to the other on the subject of constitutional prohibition of the liquor tradic.

Resolved, That we, the members of the Omaha Presbyterian society, piedge ourselves to do all in our power, not only by prayer but by personal word and influence, to secure the adoption of the desired amendment to our constitution.

Resolved, That the thanks of this society be

Resolved. That the thanks of this society be tendered to the ladies of the First United Presbyterian church for their generous bospitality and to all others who contributed to the interest of this convention.

Resolved. That we extend to the kind friends of the Sweedish Baptist church our hearty thanks for the use of their house of worship for part of the services of our convention and pray that the Lord may bless them in all their efforts to further his cause.

Mrs. J. A. Henderson led a consecration meeting, and thus ended the most successful convention the society has held.

Besides the amount, $176, given in the treasurer's report yesterday, about $725 has been sent direct to the general fund, which increases the total amount raised by the local societies to about $900.

A RACE FOR A TOWN.

The Burlington Strides Toward the Black Hills Capital.

Railroad building east of the Rocky mountains this year promises to be turned principally in the direction of Deadwood and other Black Hills points. As heretofore reported, John Fitzgerald has been awarded a contract by the Burlington to grade about one hundred and fifty miles of new line, being an extension, or more properly an additional branch of its northwest system, from siding No. 7, forty-eight miles east of New Castle, Wyo, to Deadwood, Dak, It will pass through Fall River, Custer, Pennington and Mead counties, Dakota, cross the Cheyenne Mead counties, Dakota, cross the Cheyenne river not far from Hot Springs, pass through Buffalo Gap, touch Custer City, make a round about circuit to Lead City, and enter Deadwood from the north. The road is to be completed by January 1 of next year. If this effected, some very lively work will have to be done. Mr. Fitzgerald is employing all the men he can and will, it is understood, have at least 2,000 engaged on the work within twenty days. Much of the established route runs through an extremely rough country. The enterprise must necessarily cost an immense amount of money. Fitzgerald's bid, it is understood was something like $200,000 lower than that of four others, but the amount it calls for is not known. Verbal estimates, however, place the cost of certain portions of the line not known. Verbal estimates, however, place the cost of certain portions of the line at $50,000 a mile.

The people up in that country, especially those living at Dealwood, seem to feel confident that the Burlington's action will compel the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley company to extend its Black Hills terminus, which is now at Whitewood, within ten miles of Dead-

On this matter one of the officials of the road on this matter one of the officials of the road said he had no knowledge as to what his peo-ple proposed to do. The ten miles between Whitewood and Deadwood is a difficult stretch through which to construct a railroad. It means the climbing of a mountain or tunn ing through 1,000 feet of solid rock. In its deal the Burlington secures an old piece of narrow gauge road known as the Deadwood Central, though the only value it has in its present condition is simply the right of way. It will be taken up and rebuilt.

It is estimated that not less than 300 houses will be creeted in Pierre during 1890. Eleven business blocks are already under way.

A Snug Reward.

Yesterday noon Detective Haze and Lou-Grebe arrested and placed in the county jail a lusty young German named John Witte, who is wanted in Davenport. Ia., to answer to the charge of seduction. He is about twenty-three years old and was found working at Paulson's dairy, just across the street from Ruser's park. Witte denies knowing anything about the crime with which he is charged. The officers are confident that he is the right man, not only by reason of the fact that he answers the routine physical description given of him, but also because he has a peculiar scar on the back of his right hand, as is emphasized in the description. If Haze and Grebe are right as to the fellow they will pocket 8150 apiece reward money. A telegram sent to Davenport soon after the arrest was answered to the effect that a gen-tleman from these would be here by the first train to identify the prisoner.

SOUTH OMAHA DAILY EVENTS.

A Daughter Tries Her Hand at Shooting Her Father.

MRS. BRUBAKER'S AIM WAS POOR.

She Inflicted Only a Flesh Wound in the Leg of Her Paternal Progenitor - Police Court

News.

Mrs. Mamie Brubaker's aim was poor Tuesday or else she might have been guilty of parrichle. In a moment of anger, or as she claims, in an effort to defend herself from a brutal father's abuse, she shot the parent, fortunately only causing a slight flesh wound

Mrs. Brubaker's maiden name was Nicholon. She is the daughter of the notorious George Nicholson, who has given the police force of South Omaha more or less trouble for the last three years. Nicholson lives on the bottoms in the vicinity of N and Thirteenth streets, and periodically tries his hand at abusing his wife and family. Mrs Brubaker's husband is an estimable man, but between him and his dissipated father-in-law there is an enmity strong enough to lead old Nicholson to regularly heap vials of abuse on the sworn protector of his daughter's happi-

Tuesday morning Mrs. Brubaker secured a warrant from Judge King for her father's arrest, alleging that her life was in danger. Nicholson had driven his daughter and eight months old baby out of the house and threatened her with death if she ever returned. He chased her across lots with a table knife in his hands and admonished her not to return or the tableware would cause her life blood

Nicholson was arrested and at once leased at once on a bond of $2,000 to keep the peace. Mrs. Brubaker went to the house of a friend on Twenty-fourth street on the cofa friend on Twenty-fourth street on the cof-ner of L. Her father followed her there and continued the abusive talk he has been in-dulging in regularly in regard to his daugh-ter. He called her such endearing names as strumpet, prostitute, etc. Mrs. Brubaker was armed. During his angry thrade of abuse the father stooped down as though he intend-ed to pick up something and throw it at his daughter. She was fearful for her own safety and drawing a revolver from the folds daughter. She was learned for her own safety and drawing a revolver from the folds of her dress she fired. The ball struck the old man in the right thigh, took a downward course and buried itself in the calf of the leg. Mrs. Brubaker was placed under arrest at once by Officer Hughes and taken to the po-lice station. Her father was removed to the station, where Drs. Ensor and Slabaugh Pressed the wound. He was then removed to als home. The ball was still lodged in the calf of the leg but will be probed for and re-moved. He will be on his feet again in a few days. Mrs. Brubaker was released on a bond and went to her home. She refused to talk of the affair or make any statement to the press representatives. She did this on the advice of her attorney, who treated her mere like a Pinney farm suspect or a cold-blooded murderer than as a woman who had defended herself against the attacks of a brutal father. The Niekolson family has given the South Omaha police force more or less trouble for years. Invariably when the old trouble-maker was placed under arrest for his brutalities some member of his family would come around to the station and beg him off or fail to appear against him when their testimony was absolutely necessary to secure a conviction. About a month ago the police force had just such an experience. At 2 o'clock in the morning they were called to the Nicholson house to arrest him for abusing his family and before the trial could come off his wife paid the costs incurred in the case, refused to testify against him, and thus secured his discharge. Mrs. Brubaker was at the police court yesterday morning for a preliminary hearing. On account of the inability of her father to attend the hearing it was postponed to Wednesday of next week. Mrs. Brunsker was released on bonds for her appearance.

Mr. and Mrs. Newman Surprised. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Newman were the victims of a very pleasant surprise last evening. Yesterday was the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage, they having been married April 9, 1865, and the members of the Coffee club, a society composed of ladies, of which Mrs. Newman is a member and Mrs. Hellman president, decided to give them a surprise. With that end in view a committee, with Mrs. Isaac Oberfelder at the head, proceeded to deck Metropolitan hall in gay colors, and in the evening Mrs. Hellman drove to the Goodman residence and induced Mr. and Mrs. man residence and induced Mr. and Mrs. Newman to accompany her, without telling them where they were going. They drove to the hall, where they found about sixty-five couples awaiting them. Pleasant greetings were exchanged, after which the party sat down to card playing, and a game of progressive high five was entered upon, the prizes being handsome coffee cups with silver tea spoons.

Later in the evening the party adjourned to Later in the evening the party adjourned to the lower floor, where a banquet had been prepared for them. They see no moral offense in it—it's their privilege to beat the government if they can, fair means or foul. The strangest thing of it all to my mind is that these same people could not be induced to perjure themelves in the state courts. There are quite as truthful as the ordinary run of witnesses, and they appreciate fully the moral wrong committed in perjuring themselves. It's a strange thing

The figure 9 in our dates will make a long stay, No man or woman now living will ever date a document without using the figure 9. It stands in the third place in 1890, where it will remain ten years and then move up to second place in 1900, where it will rest for one hundred years, There is another "9" which has also come to stay,

It is unlike the figure 9 in our dates in the respect that it has already moved up to first place, where it will permanently remain. It is called the "No. 9" High Arm Wheeler & Wilson Sawing Machine. The "No. 9" was endorsed for first place by the experts of Europe at the Paris Exposition of 1889. where, after a severe-contest with the leading ma-chines of the world, it was avarded the only Grand Prize given to family sewing machines, all others on exhibit having received lower awards of gold moduls, etc. The French Government also recognized its superiority by the desoration of Mr. Nathaniel Wheeler, President of the company, with the Cross of the Legion of Honor.

The "No. 9" is not an old machine improved aron, but is an entirely new machine, and the frand Prize at Parts was awarded it as the grand-est advance in sewing machine mechanism of the ago. Those who buy it can rest assured, there. fore, of having the very latest and best.
