ANNOUNCEMENTS.

On Tuesday and Wednesday of next week will occur the next legitimate attraction at Boyd's opera house. Frederick Warde, the noted tragedian, will appear in "Damon and Pythias" and "Virginius." These are the two strongest plays in Warde's repertoire, and will be produced most effectively. Mr. Warde is the leader of the younger school of tragedians of America, and his advancement within the past few years has been very rapid.

The polite comedy sensation of New York and Boston this season was made by the Kendals, proving that Americans sustain the English verdict as to their ability. In London they are regarded as the most perfect comedy actors in the kingdom. Mr. and Mrs. Kendal will be at the Boyd on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, presenting the following repertoire: "A Scrap of Paper," "The Ironmaster" and "The Queen's Shilling."

Of Mrs. Longshore-Potts, M. D., who will commence her series of popular lectures on health at Boyd's opera house Thursday night, the Chicago Inter-Ocean of Jan. 11 says: "The celebrated Dr. Potts is not what the posters would imply. On the contrary, she is much below the medium height, very slight, with delicate features, and gray eyes that sparkle behind gold-bowed spectacles. He hair waves naturally, is iron-gray and was cut short. * * * She has a captivating laugh." The first lecture will be to both sexes Thursday, at 3, Dr. Potts will deliver her first lecture to women only. Both will be free. The object in giving two free lectures is to enable people to judge without cost of the merit of the lectures.

Sorenson's Robbery.

The case of O'Leary the hackman from Council Bluffs, who is charged with robbing Martin Sorenson of Avoca, Ia., will be heard next Friday. O'Leary was admitted to bail in the sum of $2,000, Dan Carrig of the Bluffs being the surety.

Fell from His Wagon.

While engaged in hauling ice yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock at Eighth and Leavenworth streets, a young man named John Johnson fell out of his wagon and was badly bruised up about the face. He was removed to his home, 175 Pierce street.

On to the Fort.

The street car company yesterday commenced taking up its Twenty-seventh street tracks and laying them on Twenty-eighth and Lake. The new route will be up Miami to Thirtieth and thence out to the fort. The work will be pushed with all possible rapidity.

Marriage Licenses.

Licenses were issued to the following parties by Judge Shields yesterday:

Frank Sherwood, Omaha	21
Cora Berry, Monmouth, Ill.	20
Richard A. Carpenter, South Omaha	23
Lora M. Graham, South Omaha	18

The Two Forgers.

Robert Neil waived examination and was bound over to the district court in the sum of $1,500, being $500 on each of the three charges against him, viz: forgery, uttering forged notes and disposing of mortgaged property. He went to the county jail to await the pleasure of the district court.

The examination of Fred Wommelsdorf, the young man charged with getting money from William Butts by forging the firm name of Heimrod & Hanson and Peycke Bros., was postponed to Saturday, 10 a. m.

A Runaway.

A horse attached to a two-wheeled go-cart driven by Webster Fish, who was accompanied by Miss Maxfield, became frightened at the corner of Fourteenth and Davenport streets yesterday afternoon and ran away. As the gig turned the corner it was upset and both the occupants were thrown out. The horse was caught after going only a short distance. Neither of the people was injured, but the horse sustained an ugly cut on the hind leg, and the harness was torn to pieces.

GIVE HIM SATISFACTION.

The Experience of an Old Time Editor in the West.

Mr. Seth W. Swiggett of Cincinnati, who was called to this city by the sudden death of his brother, James Swiggett, is a veteran journalist. In 1857 he started the Sioux City Eagle, the first newspaper in this quarter of the globe. Mr. Swiggett had originally left his home for Omaha, but at St. Louis he was met by a delegation of Sioux City people who offered him a liberal bonus to start his paper there.

Mr. Swigget was a very aggressive, trenchant writer and tells some thrilling tales of his experiences in those days. Among his relics is a revolver which belonged to some fellow who had come to secure satisfaction for some pointed editorial, but had the deadly weapon taken from him by the plucky editor. The fellow then flew down the street and Mr. Swiggett emptied every barrel of the revolver after his retreating form.

During his brief stay in this city Mr. Swiggett met a number of Omaha people who, in early days, lived at Sioux City. Tuesday evening he returned to his home in Cincinnati.

A WORTHY WOMAN

Recognized In a Generous Manner.

What many of our leading citizens have to say about Mrs. Longshore-Potts, M. D., the Philadelphia Quakeress: Popular medical lectures have generally been marked by so little ability and often by less honor that the following will be of unusual interest, although the lady's reputation is world wide.

OMAHA, April 8, 1890.—We, the undersigned, take pleasure in saying we have seen the credentials of Mrs. A. M. Longshore-Potts, M. D., consisting of letters of recommendation from ex-Governors Russell A. Alger, Austin Blair and C. M. Crosswell of Michigan, United States Senator O. D. Conger of Michigan, ex-Governors Thomas T. Crittenden of Missouri and William Larrabee of Iowa, Governor A. L. Thomas of Utah, Rev. David Swing of Chicago, Congressmen R. Q. Mills, Allen, McMillin, Crisp, Cobb, and others. Also articles of a strong commendatory character from all the leading newspapers of London, Eng., New York, Boston, Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans, San Francisco, Melbourne and many other cities. Also her diploma from the Womans medical college of Philadelphia and certificates of registration from twenty-two states in this country where the practice of medicine is governed by law. Mrs. Dr. Potts is to deliver a series of lectures at Boyd's opera house commencing Thursday, April 10 and from the above credentials we feel justified in saying that this course of lectures will be productive of much good in their moral and educational influence.

THE COURTS.

Dr. Coffman Institutes a $15,000 Damage Suit Against the City.

Judge Doane heard the case of Georgie Bouscaren against the Conreid English opera company and H. Conreid, the manager. A jury was waived and the testimony taken. This case was tried before Justice Anderson some time ago, and came up on appeal. Miss Bouscaren is an opera singer, and states in her petition that she contracted with Conreid to sing in the "Gypsy Baron." Conreid put her off from time to time, and finally refused to complete his part of the contract. She sued him for seven week's pay, amounting to $175. Judge Doane decided the case in favor of the plaintiff, giving her judgment in full.

The case of Hamann against the street railway company was given to the jury yesterday afternoon.

The jury which heard the case of W. H. Spelman against Dr. J. C. Jones, for a balance on a plumbing bill, returned a verdict for the defendant and assessed his damages at $3.28. The defense set up the cross claim of damages by reason of delay in fulfilling the contract.

Fred W. Gray has commenced suit against Charles Norling et al to recover $4,367.29 on a bill for material furnished in erecting a house.

L. W. Tulleys has brought suit in foreclosure against Kimball E. Valentine et al to recover on a loan of $1,000 secured by a mortgage on lot 14 in Clifton Place.

Alexander McGaveck has appealed from the action of the Tenth street viaduct appraisers in awarding him $400 damages to his property, forty feet of lot 8 in block 203.

Dr. V. B. Coffman has commenced an action against the city for $15,000 damages sustained by reason of the grading of Twenty-seventh and Jackson streets, whereby his residence on the southwest corner of those streets has been rendered inaccessible and his business as a physician damaged because his patients cannot reach his house.

Another Van Etten-Edwards suit has been commenced in the courts. Mrs. Emma L. Van Etten seeks to recover $397.77 from D. R. Edwards on several notes.

THE SOUTH END.

Treasurer Rush Claims That It Is Not Being Improved.

City Treasurer Rush has his opinion of the action taken by the council on the petition of the south siders for a share in public improvements. The finance committee reported that the First and Second wards had, since 1882, obtained one-half of the improvements and recommended that the petition be filed. Referring to their action Mr. Rush said:

"They are evading the issue and doing us a gross injustice. The condition of the south end of the city is our strongest argument. Let any sensible man go to the dome of the court house and pronounce an impartial verdict. But the council has determined to ignore the south end, and I have given up all hope of getting anything from them. I presented a statement of the work done for us which accompanied the report. My figures are correct. Their figures were also correct, I suppose, but here is the rub. Previous to 1888, the northwestern boundary of the First and Second wards was Harney street, and between 1882 and 1886 the greatest amount of street improvement was made. Now, you can easily see what an amount of money in improvements they have charged to us unjustly. The most expensive work in the city is included in the district cut off from us in 1886. All those streets from Ninth to Sixteenth and the east and west streets have had an immense amount of money spent on them. It is an easy way to evade the issue. We are not after improvements between Harney and Leavenworth, but in the south end of the city. I have no expectation that we will get them."

Justice Dalton on Pills.

I. S. Dolen, justice of the peace and merchant of Bristol, Ill., says he can recommend St. Patrick's Pills. "I have used them," he says, and know whereof I speak." Any one troubled with constipation or biliousness will find them a friend. They are prompt and certain in their action and produce a pleasant cathartic effect.

Window Tapping.

Fred Hopke was fined $10 and costs for molesting Mrs. Mary Kruse, a washwoman who lives at 1111 South Sixth street. Hopke, she said, had been tapping on her windows and throwing stones at her house.

Hopke insinuated in his testimony that Policeman Stiles had made very frequent visits to the woman's house. He knew this from personal observation, as he was compelled to go into Mrs. Kruse's yard every night for water.

Mrs. Kruse explained the presence of the officer by stating that she had sent for him to discover who it was trying to frighten her.

BRING THE MEDICS.

A Move to Secure the American Medical Convention.

An effort is being made to secure the next session of the American medical association for Omaha. This meeting is one of the largest and most important of all the annual conferences and would bring to the city between one and two thousand delegates to say nothing of the visitors who would naturally attend an assembling of the leading medical talent of the country in the northeast, southeast, northwest and southwest, and it is the turn of the northwest now.

A committee consisting of Drs. Gapen, Cramer, Rosewater, Bacon and Bryant has been appointed to take preliminary action. The competing cities will be Milwaukee, Denver, St. Paul and Omaha.

Death of Mrs. L. E. Rice.

Mrs. L. E. Rice, mother of J. L. Rice of this city, died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Curtis, yesterday at 4 a. m. She was in her sixty-ninth year. Death resulted from an accident which occured eleven days ago. The deceased was an old member of the Methodist Episcopal church and was connected with the First church of this city. She fell from the second step of a flight of stairs, and the distance was so short that it was nor thought at first that her injuries could be serious. She lost her husband in Denver last June. Last fall she came to Omaha to make her home with her daughter. Three sons and two daughters mourn her loss. The funeral takes place from her late residence, southeast corner Twenty-fifth and Lake streets this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Looking for a Back Yard.

Officer Boyle, in looking after the sanitary condition of a section of the city assigned to him, applied at the residence of Thomas O'Connor on South Eleventh street. He said he wanted to see the latter's back yard. Mr. O'Connor said that he had no back yard. The officer said he would try and find one. Mr. O'Connor refused to let him pass into the house to search for the yard without a warrant. Hot words passed, but finally Officer Rowden appeared and adjusted the differencies.

It is thought that Boyle will be brought before the commission.

An Annexation Committee.

A communication was received at the real estate exchange from the secretary of the Noyes cart company saying that he had been called home on account of sickness and would come to Omaha as soon as possible.

At the regular meeting at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon a permanent committee on annexation was appointed.

Morris Morrison reported the sale of the south 24 feet of lot 4 block 78, South Omaha, for $3,800.

Imitating Neal.

Chief Seavey received a dispatch yesterday morning from Deputy Sheriff Hill of Cawker City, Kan., as follows:

Look out for S. A. Rogers, with about one hundred black Galloway cattle and several horses, supposed to be on market today. Arrest and hold.

The chief immediately dispatched Detective Horrigan to South Omaha to notify Marshal Maloney of the matter and if possible arrest the thief.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.
