'In the account of the arrest of a saloonkeeper near Lake Manawa yesterday The Brn stated that D. B. Nutting was locked up at the central station. It should have read S. E. Nutting, a brother of D. B. The latter claims to have no interest whatever in the 5aloon.

The trees were set out three years ago and were growing finely. The work of excavation was very carefully and neatly done,

The city council has refused to appoint a committee to act with a similar committee of the board of trade to secure, if possible, a lower rate of fare on the motor trains be-tween the two cities. Aldermen Wood, Smith and Casper, who voted against the resolution, claim that it would do no good, as the company would act to suit itself. The latter fact has become pretty well established. A free bridge is about the only practical relief to be now sought.

Landlord Jameson of the Hotel Jameson denied yesterday that the police visited the hotel Sunday, and stated that the first he knew of the alleged transaction was what he read in the papers yesterday merning. In-quiry at police headquarters reveals the fact that complaint was made there Sunday afteron by a traveling man who claimed that he had been playing poker in one of the private rooms of the hotel and had lost $20. From his representations the police were satisfied that gambling was going on in violation of orders, hence the move to suppress it.

A shooting affray occurred on Nineteenth street and Avenue B on Sunday morning in which a husband and his wife were the prin-cipals. The couple's name is Neff, and the shooting greew out of a quarrel resulting from marital delinquencies on both sides. The woman pawned her jewelry to procure a re-volver with which to shoot her bushand Sho volver with which to shoot her husband. She fired two shots, both of which took effect, one in the shoulder and the other in the arm of the man, inflicting only slight flesh wounds. The woman then turned the pistol upon herself and fired one shot, which made a slight wound in her shoulder. There were no ar-rests, the affair only leaked out yesterday afternoon. Neff is a showman, and his wife has also traveled with a circus. They live in one of ex-Alderman Rudd's tenement houses.

Judge Deemer was still busy yesterday with equity cases. That of Despaines vs Pace & Smith took up most of the time. The plaintiff had been buying cattle and sheep, the defendants furnishing the money, and the plaintiff taking half the profits on each deal. He claims that he has never had a fair accounting for some sheep, and also claims a half interest in the profits of a real estate deal. Pace & Smith bought twenty acres on the bottoms just before the boom, and made well on it. The plaintiff claims that he ought to be given half of the profits, as he gave them a pointer about the boom coming, and where they had better invest.
