An Introduction of Rev. Mr. Shinn, the Universalist Minister.

A SKETCH OF THE REVISION.

Rev. Q. H. Shinn.

Rev. Q. H. Shinn, paster of the First Universalist church in this city, is Omaha's newest preacher, and THE BEE submits the following introduction of him: He was born at Bingaman, Va., January 1

1845. His father and mother were members of the Presbyterion church at Clarksburg. His father, Elisha Shinn, died when Quillan, as the boy was called, was, three years old. His mother married again and lived to see her first set of children grow up to manhood and womanhood. Her second husband, Dr J. H. Fortney, was a Universalist not by education but by nature, and she became a happy believer in the great faith before her Quillan worked on the home farm until he was nearly fifteen, when he started out into the world. He did whatever his hands found to do, farming at $5 per mouth and splitting rails at 50 cents per day, until the war broke out in 1861. Then, being an ardent union st, he was seized with the desire to enlist in the union army. He was only six-teen years old and was so small that the enlisting officers would not take him. But he went on scouting expeditions, stood picket, guarding his home, and lived with the soldiers until he was sworn into the Third Virginia ent as a member of the regimental band he served from September, 1861, to March, 1862, when the band was discharged August, 1862, he was mustered into the Twelfth Virginia infantry as a private and he served till after the war. He was discharged at Richmond two months after Lee's surrender. He saw a good deal of guerrilla warfare near his home. His regiment ex-perienced hard service from the beginning to perienced hard service from the beginning to the end, having started on a long raid over the Alleghanies before it ever had a drill with muskets. He served under Hunter, Melroy, Crook, Sheridan and other noted generals. He was a prisoner in Belle island and was wounded at Winchester. He was present and witnessed Lee's surrender, his regiment being in the division of the Twenty-fourth corps which, with the lifth corps prayshed dicorps which, with the Fifth corps, marched all night on the night on the 8th, and were in front of the confederate army at Appenmattox at daybreak on the memorable 9th of April. His was a thrilling experience all through the four years of carnage.

Returning home, his school days began.

After attending various educational institutions in West Virginia, he finally went to Mount Union college, Ohio, and from there t St. Lawrence university at Canton, N. Y. where he took a three years course in the logican department of that Universalist institution. Graduating in 1879, he settled in Gaysville, Vt., and was ordnined there in Oc-At the end of the second year he we back to his native state as a missionary. e loved New England too well to stay, so after supplying a year at Zyngsboro, Mass., he was settled as paster in the Second Uni-uersalist church in Lynn, Mass. He re-mained there three years, and then became paster of the churches in Foxboro and Mans-field in the same state. He was there four years. His next settlement was Plymouth, N. H., where he built a church and 'labored four years more. While there he organized the National Universalist grove meeting at Weirs, a beautiful summer resort on the shores of Lake Winnipesaukee. This he has conducted as an annual for eight successive years, and is now making arrangements for his minth meeting, to be held August 4-10. At the close of each meeting he has taken a large excursion to Mount Washington and through the grand notches of the White moun tains, usually iasting three days. His next asttiement was Deering, Mo., three miles from

A year ago last October Mr. Shinn, as gathered a few people of his faith and held a meeting in Boyd's opera house. The ladies' social workers association was organized and has kept up its meetings ever since.

Last May Mr. Shinn was urged to go to Rutland, Vt., and fluish a flue marble church edifice that had been begun but had stopped for want of funds, the pastor having resigned.

A large sum of money had to be raised. Mr.

Shinn accepted the responsibility and at the end of nine months the work was completed and the church dedicated; after which he was ready to respond to the invitation ex-tended by the Universalists of Omaha has summer. He arrived here with his famile the 14th of Fobruary, and is now living at 22 South Thirty-ninth street near Farnam. Hi church holds its meetings in Goodrich hall north Twenty-fourth street. It is already well organized, with Sunday school and all the machinery necessary for the ac-complishment of good works.

A new church is to be erected this summer in Kountze place, corner of Ninetcenth and Lathrop streets. An excellent building com mittee is now at work, and will soon let the con tract. Meanwhile Mr. Shinn is finding new people of his denomination continually, and under his leadership they are soon to become great workers and go straight to success. The money donated for this church was raised at his Weirs' meeting last August, over $1,600 being subscribed then. The Univer-salist general convention is backing the

The Revision Movement.

Whereas, Overtures have come to this general assembly from fifteen presbyteries, viz: Nassau, Mattoon, Bellefontaine, Lake Superior, Boulder, Portsmouth, Des Moines, Dayton, Geneva, Nebraska City, Lansing, Tryanity, Logansport, Austin and Syracuse, asking for some revision of the confession of faith; and, sking for some revision of the confession of sith; and, whereas, in the opinion of many of our ministers and people, some forms of a trements in an confession of faith are line e to mismaters tanding and expose our system of doctrine to innerted criticism; and. Whereas, Before any definite steps should be alson for the revision of our standards, it is estrable to know whether there is any general desire for such revision; therefore. Resolved, That this general assembly overfuce to the presbyteries the following questions:

1. by you desire a revision of the confession of faith?
2. It so, in what respects and to what extent? This is the overture on which the 211 pres-yteries of the church are now taking action public should understand that the Probyterian creed is not understand. that the Fres-byterian creed is not undergoing revision, but the general assembly has simply asked the presbyteries if they want revision, and if so to indicate the particulars and extent of the revision desired. The answers of the presbyteries will be forwarded to the state cierk of the general as-sembly, who will report the same to the assembly, who will report the same to the as-sembly, which is to convene at Saratogu, N. Y., May 15, 1890. It is not certain just what course the assembly will then take. It is probable, however, if two-thirds of the pres-byteries respond in the affirmative, that a large and representative committee on revis-sion will be appointed. This committee, if epared, will report to the assembly in May,

These are strikes that are, and there is another threatened. The hundreds of employes in the packing houses are dissatisfied and a general walkout on May 1 would not be a surprise to those who have watched the situation closely. The men assert that the bosses have not lived up to all the articles of the agreement entered into after the great strike of 1888, So dissatisfied have they become that they have asked for a return of the percentage of their wages withheld by their employers as a guarantee against the men quitting v out notice, and this is practically a notice that a strike is contemplated if certain demands they intend to make are not complied with Such is the unsatisfactory condition of affairs in Chicago, and the restlessness among the workingmen there—seemingly is effecting their fellows throughout the west.

In Omaha. So far this spring there has been no open eruption between employers and employes in Omaha and outside the building trades so ar as can be ascertained, no trouble is antipated.

Building is extensively contemplated in Omaha this year, the architects say, and, con-sequently the eyes of business men of the city are turned anxiously towards the unions presentative of the building trades. There is no disguising the fact that many of the men are dissatisfied with the existing state of affairs. The hod-carriers are hold-ing frequent meetings, but so close mouthed are they concerning their affairs that but little can be ascertained concerning their trouble, although it is definitely understood that they have a grievance of some character or other. The bricklayers claim to be satisfied, but if the hod-carriers should strike they would of necessity become involved in the antter. If the latter intend striking at all they will probably do so about May 1, and the carpenters intend demanding eight hours, which they have been so strongly ad-vocating during the winter months at their union meetings, they will probably do so at the same time. The carpenters are much the same time. The carpenters are much better prepared to enter into an issue of this kind now than they were last spring, when two very strong contending factions existed among them, leading to several members withdrawing from the original union and or-ganizing another. These differences, at least the men so assert, have been healed and the fight of one will become the fight of all.

The plumbers do not contemplate taking with their employers this spring o them, although it served to remove a m ber of disturbing elements from their midst

The oldest missionary periodical in the world, entitled the Periodical Accounts Relating to the Missions of the Church of United Brethren Established Among Heathen, issued in London, has just cele-brated its centenary. The first number was printed March 2, 1790. The Missionary Herald is only thirteen years younger. Incomplete returns are given in the Japanese newspaper, the Christian, of the additions to the evangelical churches of the empire in the year 1889. So far as reported these additions numbered 3,100, while in the preceding year the number was 4,700. The report of the shurches connected with the American board as not yet been received,

A number of land owners who saw a species of revelation in "Robert Elsmere" have founded a temple in which to have the views taught therein put into practical operation. Rev.
