

COLD WATER COLD SHOULDER

Given to Francis Murphy by the Omaha Ministerial Association. HE TALKS UPON HIGH LICENSE.

But They Want Him Kept Away Because He Will Not Operate in Favor of Prohibition—Prohibition in the Church.

The Ministerial association met at the Y. M. C. A. building, and the gathering was enlivened by a discussion as to whether it should extend a welcome to Mr. Francis Murphy, the temperance orator, who is to speak here soon.

The debate was opened by an innocent little resolution presented by Rev. A. Laird of the Knox Presbyterian church, suggesting that the association endorse the meetings to be held by the temperance reformer in Exposition hall from May 4 to May 14.

Rev. P. S. Merrill of the First Methodist Episcopal church, was on his feet in a moment and intimated that he was afraid to have Murphy come here, as the latter might endorse high license, and do him wrong in the past.

Rev. H. T. Clark of the Park Place Congregational church, complained that the gospel temperance people were to be turned out of their hall to give Murphy a chance to speak. Said Mr. Holt:

"We put our disapproval on anything of this nature, have heard Murphy speak and know that he will not be so much against prohibition and in favor of high license, in the name of God, brethren, if Francis Murphy wants to run a side-show to the prohibition movement, let him organize a society organized for the purpose of blotting out the rum traffic. Such a course isn't right, it isn't Christian, it isn't courteous."

Mr. Laird said that the charge made by Mr. Holt was unjust and it was not right to make it. Francis Murphy was employed by Mr. Starr to come here and speak in the cause of temperance. An actor had been received from Hon. H. T. Clark of Iowa in which that gentleman declared that Murphy had done a glorious work for the cause of temperance. Mr. Laird then turned to Mr. Merrill and asked him somewhat sarcastically if Mr. Clark were "a good enough boy."

Rev. Mr. Merrill replied that he was not a good enough boy. He said further that Murphy was a regular orator that carried every thing before him, and was from him in favor of high license would do immense harm to the cause of prohibition. Mr. Merrill likened Murphy to the eloquent minister who was coming here to speak in the liquor cause.

Rev. Mr. Lamar of the First Baptist church thought it was a waste of time to discuss the matter as Mr. Murphy was coming here under his own auspices and not under those of the association. The speaker deplored the fact that there were so many ministers in the city of Omaha, even in the churches. He asked the brethren to take a vote in their churches some day and find out for themselves how few of their members favored prohibition.

Rev. Willard Scott of St. Mary's avenue Congregational church, said he would never vote against Mr. Murphy, but he would never vote to prohibit a temperance man from talking on that great subject. Any cause which cannot stand fair discussion must die. He said further: "I believe in free speech. The introduction of a vigorous temperance orator does not mean that we should be accorded the same right as we should at any other time."

Rev. Mr. Merrill criticized Rev. Scott's speech saying it had nothing to do with the question. Rev. C. N. Dawson of the south Tenth street M. E. church, said most emphatically, "if you have a temperance man come here in favor of Mr. Murphy coming and would contribute liberally towards his expenses, but I am not in such a business and what a preacher, a distiller or a saloon-keeper wants, I don't want."

After several other speeches which were distinguished by their length and their periphrasis, the question was called for and the resolution rejected by a strong vote. Mr. Murphy will therefore speak in Omaha without the moral support of many of the brethren of the cloth.

Rev. Mr. Holt offered the following which was unanimously adopted: Resolved, That we oppose the introduction of an aggressive form of work for the cause of prohibition into every church of whatever denomination, and that in all such efforts care be made to make it moral and religious in its character, and that in all religious efforts to support prohibition amendment, thus removing this question entirely from the domain of politics, and that we are in favor of the issue in its true light in the homes and churches and the saloons, along which we are content of standing, and that we are in favor of our enemy's success determined to prevent, if possible.

Owing to the length of the discussion, the reading of the paper on "The Conduct of Funerals" by Dr. Merrill, was postponed until the next meeting. Dr. G. W. Wainright of Blair, agent for the American bible society being present, was afforded an opportunity to address the assembly.

He said that during the last seven and one-half years, over 7,000,000 families had been visited by agents of the bible society, and one-eighth of this number were found to be without bibles, and were then supplied with the same by his society. Bibles were given to 650,000 families and 300,000 individuals. There has been no canvass of Omaha for five years and he recommended that a colporteur be appointed. The speaker reminded the association that the annual report of the society for 1889, showed that the various churches appointed a general field day and utilize it in the cause of the bible.

In response Rev. Dr. Merrill presented a resolution concerning the selection of a colporteur which might be made by Dr. Wainright, the salary of the colporteur being not more than $1,200, and whatever was left of collections above expenses to be remitted to the treasurer of the Douglas county society. Rev. Mr. Lamar said he would vote against the matter as his church was already supporting a colporteur.

Rev. Mr. Henderson offered the same objection. After considerable debate the resolution was passed by a very feeble vote, but was shortly afterwards reconsidered on motion of Rev. Mr. Henderson.

Rev. Willard Scott moved that it be the sense of the meeting that the association favor the appointment of a colporteur, and that the Douglas county bible society be asked to present plans for aiding the work to the pastors.

AN IMMENSE OUTLAY.

The Union Pacific's New Equipment. The Union Pacific's new equipment, when delivered will have cost that corporation about $3,000,000. One hundred and thirty-one locomotives at $9,500 each, amount to the very small sum of $1,245,000. Add to this 1,000 box cars at $600 apiece, 900 coal cars, 450 fine stock cars, 200 first-class fruit cars, 60 cabooses, 40 passenger coaches and 60 elegantly furnished chair cars, and then note how the expense piles up.

As Pullman has the contract to fill a large proportion of this enormous order, it is said that the object of his visit here Saturday was to consult Vice President Holcomb about it.

A Race for Supremacy. Chief Engineer Bogue is still lingering in the Puget Sound country looking out for a right-of-way for the Union Pacific's proposed extension from Portland to Seattle, Victoria and Tacoma. The situation up there is becoming an exciting one on account of the rivalry between the Union Pacific and Central Pacific, which also wants to occupy that region.

A Daily Stage Line. May 1, the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley road will put on a line of daily stages to run between Cooper, through the Wyoming oil regions by way of Bessemer, Oil City, Shoshone and Alameda, to Fort Washkie, 160 miles. This will not only be a great convenience for the people in that country, but indicates an extension sooner or later of the road to these points.

The Cheyenne Meeting. General Manager Dickinson, J. M. Barr, superintendent of the Nebraska division; J. K. Chant, superintendent of the Colorado division; and Car Accountant Buckenham left Omaha Sunday for Cheyenne to attend the adjourned meeting with a committee of conductors. Much lively interest is manifested both by officials and employees in the establishment of a line. While there seems to be no fear of a strike because the conductors are a non-striking body their demands exceed what the management deems just. However, the conductors say they are determined and for that reason one of the officials made the remark that he anticipated trouble.

The Newcastle Extension. When the Burlington people started out to build a branch line of road from its Newcastle extension up through the Black Hills country to Deadwood they had in view two objects, one the establishment of a market in the rich iron work at Deadwood for their Newcastle coal and the other an all rail outlet for the smelting product. This new line is now under construction and must, according to contract stipulations, be completed by the first of November. It connects with the Newcastle extension at Cheyenne river, crossing in Fall River county, the extreme southwest corner county line, and then follows the course of the north, through a pass in the Black Hills to Custer City, thence around Harney's Peak through the west end of Pennington county, by way of Sylvan and Rapid, up to Brownsville, where it strikes the old Black Hills & Deadwood road that runs to Lead City. The entire distance is about 100 miles and sixty miles.

"This," said an official of the B. & M., "is the only new work we have mapped out for the year."

The Niobrara Scheme. The people of Niobrara seem to feel confident that they will soon have direct rail communication with Omaha by way of the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley road. They appear perfectly sure in their belief that this corporation will extend its Verdere branch from Verdere, the present terminus, to their town. Not more than ten miles of track remains to be put down, and according to a representative of the company it can be done at very small cost. The right-of-way is clear and a road bed constructed some years ago is so well preserved that with few repairs and leveling up can easily be utilized.

Stone's Sure Successor. An intimate friend of George B. H. H. who resides in Omaha, says he knows it to be an absolute fact that H. H. will succeed H. B. Stone, as second vice president of the Burlington road. "I will not tell you how I know this," but quote us as informing The Bee that it has been settled, and you will be right."

New Mail Cars. The Union Pacific has received four of the six new postal cars for use in the fast mail service. The cars are beautiful and combine comfort with facilities for lively handling of mail. They are 40 feet long, 8 feet wide and 8 feet high, and are used in the "Q" fast mail, that the former are long, look like Pullman sleepers and are gold lettered.

FIGURES DO NOT LIE. They Show That South Omaha Would Gain by Annexation. There were about twenty of the twenty-five members of the joint committee of the council, the board of trade and real estate exchange, appointed some time ago in the interest of annexation, present at the meeting yesterday. In the state of exchange, this committee, of which Henry W. Yates is chairman, is composed of the following: Real Estate Exchange—C. Hartman, M. A. Upton, W. G. Shriver, George N. Hicks, D. C. Smalley, D. J. O'Donoghue, R. S. Berlin and W. H. Cray.

City Council—D. H. Wheeler, W. G. Shriver, Henry Ostoff, A. H. Sander, P. D. Cooper, W. H. Beckler and J. H. Hartman. Board of Trade—John A. McShane, Samuel Cotner, J. L. McCague, W. J. Broutch, P. E. Her, W. A. Paxton, H. W. Yates, Herman Ritzman and W. H. Cray.

Mr. Yates occupied the chair. Mr. Beckler made a verbal report to the effect that the committee had had a South Omaha ready for annexation as shown by the issuance of the proclamation calling for a vote on the matter.

Mr. O'Donoghue of the subcommittee appointed to gather statistics as to taxation reported that very favorable figures had been obtained but that it was thought best not to make them known to the public. He stated, however, that they were such, in effect, as he did not consider it possible to be contradicted by those opposed to annexation. If South Omaha were annexed to Omaha the tax on improvements would be $83,000 instead of $47,000 as was now the case.

Mr. Wheeler said that the people of South Omaha were compelled to pay 5 cents per $1,000 on account of their fire insurance on extra for their remoteness from the Omaha fire department. Annexation would save them of this for one thing, and an engine house or two of the Omaha department would be immediately established there.

The meeting then proceeded to discuss some very broad and thorough planning for the accomplishment of annexation, and it was thought best not to make the plans of the committee known at present to the general public of either city.

A Verdant Swale. Sven Lindholm, a Swede, and he is as fresh and green as the fields of Iowa, from whence he came. Sven reached the city Sunday morning, and while he was making a tour of lower Tenth street, according to his own story, he fell in with Ed. Culver and two other parties who were looking for a man who would go to their farms and till the soil.

The man who was engaged at a salary of $50 per month, and found. He felt as though he ought to show his gratitude, and with this feeling upon his mind he returned to the city, and in which the quartette visited the saloons on Cut-off island, where the farm hand spent his money freely, and as an accommodation to the man who was engaged at a salary of $50 per month, and found.
