An Urgant Application for the Appointment of a Receiver.

BOME SENSATIONAL STATEMENTS

Stockholders Say that Two Well Known Business Men Did Their Best to Wreck the Association.

The Coliseum, which although so young in years, has been the scene of so many an utteriv heartless fake, as well as the most soulful and brilliant operatic festival, and the most celebrated industrial exposition ever known in the west, has thus early in its career found itself in the toils of the law.

Yesterday several of the stockholdersfiled a petition praying that a receiver be appointed. The petition is headed James A. Woodman, Abraham L. Reed, William L. Mardis, Everett S. Flagg, John A. Fuller, James E. Ebersole, Frank F. Williams, Willard F. Sears, John S. Prince, and William I. Kierstead vs Coliseum building association, Milo S. Lindsay, Charles L. Mears, Nebruska fuel company, and John F. Boyd, sheriff.

It is a very lengthy document and opens with a sketch of the association's history. It was organized August 16, 1888, with an authorized capital of $50,000. The petitioners say that the receipts and revenue from the building have been in excess of $60,000; that the corporation has issued its stock in part legitimately and for face value, for which, as they have been informed, $29,700 has been received; and that the total cost of the building did not exceed $55,000. The business of the concern, the petition states, has been under the direct charge of Milo S. Lindsay and Charles I. Means.

under the direct charge of Milo S. Lindsay and Charles I. Mears.

The petitioners charge that, while the articles of incorporation require that the stock shall be issued only upon the full payment of its face value, Messrs. Lindsay and Mears have in collusion with each other and in disregard of the rights of the other stockholders issued, at various times, large blocks of stock without the association receiving but little if any consideraciation receiving but little if any considera-tion therefor, with the design, intent and purpose of gaining control and management of the corporation to the prejudice and disad-vantage of the other stockholders. They also say that Lindsay and Mears, notwithstand-ing the large precipts and income designing the large receipts and income derived from the entertainments as well as from bor-rowed monney, have allowed current expenses to go unpaid, though all the time chargable with funds in their hands more than sufficient to pay the current indebtedness. It is furth er claimed that Lindsay and Mears would buy up claims at a large discount and then charge the association with the full face value. The actual indebtedness as reported by the officers August 1, 1889, was $23,855.67, while the amount of stock issued was $22,500, making the alleged indebtedness largely in excess of the amount authorized by law. The indebtedness is constantly increasing, more especially by a loan of $5.000 by a mortgage given on the building. The statement that Lindsay and Mears fail and refuse to apply the association's funds to discharging its indebtedness is reiterated frequently and with much emphasis, and plaintiffs say that if they are not now holding money to pay the debts they have wrongfully converted it to their own use.

In another place it is charged that Lindsay and Mears have utterly refused to allow the books of the association to be seen, notwithstanding a request so to do was backed by the fuel company, by Lindsay and Mears when, plainting state, those gentlemen could and should have paid the bill from association funds. Under this judgment the fuel com-pany is trying to have the building sold to their bill.

In conclusion the plaintiffs ask that the court cause a receiver to be appointed and that Lindsay and Mears be made to come to the front and give a strict accounting of their stewardship: also, that the sheriff be en-joined from selling the building to satify the

William Sauer, a minor, by his next friend, Rosalie Sauer, sues the Union Pacific for $2,000 for damages sustained in the vard of the company at Columbus in September, 1889. The defendant, while on his way to a mill with a small hand-wagon was run over by a switch engine which mangled his hand and injured his head and hip. The engineer was absent at the time, the machine being in charge of a fireman. Through a defect in its construction, it is claimed, the locomotive always started sud-

Make It a State Bank.

The Bank of Commerce people say that they have no intention of selling their branch concern but propose to separate it from the parent institution. George Barker thinks the law, if tested, would not compel them to discontinue it as a branch of the National Bank of Commerce, but the state inspector has found fault with it. Therefore, rather than bring about a contest, the owners propose to organize a new company, capitalize the branch for $100,000 and continue it as a

"We can," Mr. Barker continued, "form this kind of an organization among ourselves and let all the stockholders of the main bank take stock in the new corporation."

THE NEW BOYD.

The Ex-Mayor's Most Recent Utterances on the Subject. The question of building a first-class ground-floor theatre for Omaha is now under serious consideration and there is every reason to believe that it will result in the early commencement of active operations. If the negotiations go through ex-Mayor Boyd expects to back this enterprose and erect a temple commensurate with the growth, demands and importance of Omaha. and importance of Omaha.

In the building ordinance, however, he has encountered, he says, an obstacle that must be removed by municipal legislation before anything can be done. The New York docuanything can be done. The New York document, it is said, was originally gotten up by a lot of political contractors purposely to control theater—building there and some of its provisions are most extraordinary.

It proved so very unpracticable that there is now pending before the New York assembly, a bill providing for the substitution of a greatly mediated and more reasonable law.
Colonel W. F. Sinn and M. New York and Colonel W. E. Sinn, an old New York and Brooklyn manager, said Saturday that a man would be very foolish to undertake the im-possible task of building an opera house in possible task of building an opera house compliance with such an ordinance. "In first place," he continued, "a theater of the kind it calls for would not be comfortable and no one can afford to invest as much money in a building exclusively for dramatic purposes as it would cost to build after its re-quirements. It calls for aisles taking up quirements. It calls for aisles taking up more room than the seating capacity, lobbies sufficiently large on each floor to hold the en-tire audience, solid iron stairways, tile floors, glass roof over the stage and many other im-practicable features."

Column Sinn also stated that when the Broadway and Metropolitan theatres in New York were remodeled the authorities under-took to enforce this ordinance but found they were not able to do so and granted the build-ers such modified constructions as they de-

Mr. Boyd says that his plans drawn by Mackelfatrie, contemplate a house on the ground floor with an entrance twenty-five feet wide, an exit on each side five feet wide, a separate stairway to the gallery, two stairs to the balcony and an eight foot alleyway on the inside. The walls are to be of brick, the curtain between andlence and stage fire proof and everything about the edifice strictly first-class. The building completed will, ac-cording to estimate, cost $150,000. General Lowe stated that the site of the proposed theater when measured was found to be in accordance with his first as-sertion instead of three feet short as former-

Preparation for the Great Election on the Question of Annexation.

On Thursday, May 8, the election on the question of annexing South Omaha will take place in this city.

There will also be submitted to the citizens the question of voting bonds to the amount of $175,000. Of these $75,000 are to be devoted to paying, repaving and macadamizing intersections of streets and spaces opposite alleys; $50,000 for the construction and maintenance of sewers, and $50,000 for the construction of four fire engine houses.

As a consequence this will be one of the most important elections ever held in this city. In order to vote, however, it will be ecessary to register.
The several boards of registration in the city will open this morning and will continue in session until 9 o'clock to-night. This will be the last opportunity to egister. The boards and places of registration in the various wards are as follows:

PRESERVATION OF HEALTH.

It will be Attempted by the Framing of Several Ordinances.

The drafting of several new and important ordinances will be considered at the next meeting of the board of health. One will provide for a double system of death reports. It will require physicians to report all cases of death and prohibit persons connected with a cemetery or any others from handling a body without a permit from and returnable to the board of health. Another ordinance will require all dairymen and other dealers in milk to take out a permit or license at a nominal cost, and that the animals shall be in a healthy condition, and the care of the diary conform to certain requirements; also, that the milk shall come up to a certain standard. Under the regulations concerning analysis of foods and drugs in the District of Columbia is given this standard regarding milk: Whole (pure) milk, the minimum specific gravity, 'actual density,' shall be 1,030 at 60 degrees farenheit, and the milk shall contain not less than 13.0 parts in 100 of solid, as follows: Fat, 3.5; solids, not fat, 9.5; water, not more than 87.0. The removal of cream, the addition of water, foreign fats or coloring matter, will be considered certain standard. Under the regulations fats, or coloring matter, will be considered adulterations." What Camp Says.

they ever seriously contemplated carrying out their part of this agreement, the conductors subsequently changed their minds and let the matter go by default.

An effort was made to see some member of the board having the enterprise in charge but the members of the latter are out of town on their respective runs. One man said that after the meeting at which this scheme took shape and promised to be carried out suc-cessfully all interest in it seemed to die out. The chief engineer of the order now has his direct to him. Heretofore Mr. Hancock has been the assistant of Freight Auditor Van which it has long maintained. Correspondence relating to the claims for overcharges, loss and damage to freight, tracers must hence-forth be addressed to Mr. Hancock. Mr. Hancock has been a faithful and earnest employe of the company and his promotion is appreciated.

The B. & M. people have a very large deal of some kind under serious consideration.
