Damon: You are hereby notified that the Omaha Depot company, a corporation organized and ex-isting under and by virtue of the laws of the state of Nebraska, has located its union pas-senger station, and its railway tracks turn-outs, switches, offloes, structures and appur-tences, hereafter to be constructed, in the construction, maintainance and operation of its passenger depot in the city of Omaha, Douglas County, Nebraska, in and upon the following described tract of land: A part of lots one, two, three and four in block number two hundred and twenty. In the city of Omaha, described as follows, to-wit. Beginning at the north-west corner of said block number two hundred and twenty; run-ning thence south on the east line of Eleventh street twenty-eight and eight tenth (28.8) feet; thence south sixty-seven degrees and fifty-six minutes, east two hundred and thirteen fand sixty-six hundredth feet to the west lin olot one in said block; thence south in th e west line of said lot one; twe, forty-six and seventy two hundred (46.7) feet to the south line of said lot one; thence east in the south line of said lot one; thence east in the south line of said lot one; thence east in the south line of said lot one; twenty-two and seven tenth she runs away from me her father is re-sponsible and must return to me the money I paid for her. That is the Annaeconomical arrangement," remarked the old doctor.

"Not so much as you think," replied the officer. "I give Ti San-for that is her name-15 plastres a month for her wordrobe, to say nothing of the presents I make her from time to time and the disagreeable surprises to which she treats me now and then. The other day, for instance, Ti San blossomed out in a beautiful robe of brocaded silk that I had given her. Then, with one of her friends she left the house for a promenade, and while strolling around the town she saw a party playing cards in a gambling "Like all her people, Ti San is pas-sionately fond of gambling. Nothing could tempt her to pass that house, and so in she went, seated herself at the table, and was soon absorbed in the game. There she sat until she had lost all her money, her jewels, and, finally the clothing she wore, and when she returned to me the next morning she was arrayed in a lot of rags that had been given her out of charity. "That is not all. The contract I made with her parents provides that I must feed her well. That clause seems to include her entire kindred. She had been with me only two days when her family (and you know families are not small in (and you know families are not small in this country) swooped down upon us and installed themselves in a house near mine. Every time I enter my kitchen I find my cook preparing rice for all those ravenous persons. I offer them a thou-sand insults, but they never wince and nothing will induce them to bulge from my nomines until there have been a my premises until they have had a good, square meal. You see, marrying an Annamese girl has its decided dis-advantages." Dr. Birney, practice limited to catarrh-al diseases of nose and throat. Bee bldg.

HIS ANNAMESE WIFE.

France after a residence of over two years in Tonkin, tells about the Annamese bride of a French officer stationed at Namdinh. The doctor visited the of-fleer at his home in the big town, and there met a very pretty native girl about

18 years old, who wore a robe of violet silk and more rings on her fingers than western belles regard as in good taste. "You see, I have married an Anna-as I please, but I must treat her well. If I choose I may return her to her parents and they must receive her again. It is a very easy sort of divorce. She cannot leave me without my permission, and if

Too Smart to be Killed.

"Towser," a setter dog belonging to Nathan Simmons, a Castle street saloon-keeper, was before Judge Curtis in the Boston municipal court recently on trial for his life. The dog bit Helmoth House, who sued for damages and de-manded that the dog be shot because he was savage. To impress the court with Towser's lawabiding and righteons disposition, he was put through his paces in court, says a Boston special to the New York World. Towser walked on his hind legs, lay down and feigned death, shouldered a stick like a soldier his gun, whined in imitation of singing, stood against the wall on his head with the assistance of his proud proprietor, and finally captivated the judge and caused the spectators to break forth with applause by tripping gracefully on two legs up on the judge's bench and offer-ing his paw to his honor. The court thus convinced awarded judgment to the detendent defendant.

Lightning Turned a Negress White.

Among the curious incidents of the Among the curious incidents of the thunder storm which played such havoo around Bridgeton, N. J., recently, none has caused more surprise than a freak of the lightning. On that day the resi-dence, of Mr. Frank M. Riley, cashier of the Cumberland bank, on West Com-morce street, was struck by lightning, says the New York Star. The fuid ran says the New York Star. The fluid ran down the chimney, struck an iron screen which it threw four feet away from the fireplace, and then passed to the arm of the cook, a colored woman, who was standing near, but she did not feel tha shock. The fluid entered her wrist and passed out of her elbow, turning the flesh a snowy whiteness. Her arm was only slightly burned, and otherwise she suffered no pain at all. The doctor who attended her, says that in all probabili-ty her arm between the cloow and wrist will remain white.
