Omaha 9, Minneapolis 7. MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 16. - [Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-The Omaha team could not but Hudson's twisters this afternoon, but its members fielded in grand form in spite of the bitter cold weather, the mercury being almost down to the freezing point. The work of Cleveland at third was phenomenal. He was everywhere in a minute and assisted nine times without a skip. Rearns, at second, and Andrews, at first, also cabbaged all the balls that came their way in faultiess form. The playing of the Minneapolis men was in marked contrast to that of the visitors. The Flour city men batted the ball very hard, but their fielding was execrable. Ryn at first and Hengle at was execrable. By at first and Hengie at second each acted as a sieve, and the result of it all was a victory for the Nebraskans. Minneapolis started to score in the first iming on a base on balls to Carroll, who stole second, took third on a fielder's choice, and second on Minnehan's hit to center. Another was added in the third by Carroll's home run against the heavy wind over the left field fence. Omaha then came to but and took the After Fanning had gone out Canavan got a base on balls and was given a run on three successive passed balls. Willis in the meantime got a base on balls, stole second, taking third on a passed ball, and scoring on Waish's sacrifice. Waish went out easily, and Andrews got a base on balls, stole second and scored on Kearns' hit. Kearns stole sec ond, but Cleveland struck at three high balls, and he was left there. In the fifth Minnea-apolis gathered in three tallies and was momentarily in the lead, but the Nebraska men made three and again led. It was 7 to 5 at made three and again led. It was 7 to 5 at the end of the sixth in favor of the visitors, but Minneapolis engineered a tie in the seventh blanking the champions. The eighth settled it. Urquahart made a clean hit and stole second. Fanning got a base on balls, and both advanced a sack on Hudson's wild throw to catch Urquahart at third, the latter going home on the play. Caravan took first on a fielder's choice, Willis doing the same on a throw which caught Fanning at the plate Willis stole second and third, but the next two men ended the picnic by going out on files. The Bicycle Race. Talk about your hot bicycle races! The one now in progress at the Collseum between

Jack Prince and Ned Reading never had its equal within the annals of the wheel. Reading's performance is literally marvelous, and it is doubtful whether the man lives who can duplicate it. He is a veritable steam engine. His powers of endurance seem utterly inexhaustible, his speed wonderful and his resolution of the heroic kind. The same cannot be truthfully said of Prince's work, as Prince himself is free to confess. All through the long, wearisome hours of the race so far the sordier has made the pace, with the single exception of four or five miles. To those unfamiliar with the qualities necessary for such a stupendous achievement his work may seem little more extraordinary than that of the sturdy Englishman, who has really covered the same number of miles. Yet it is, The pace-making in a race of this description The pace-making in a race of this description is equivalent to fully stxty iniles better than that of the contestant who follows in the wake. This seems almost incredible, still it is true. If Prince had been compelled to have made his full share of the pace he would have been off his wheel forty-eight hours ago. The second man avoids the resistance of the atmosphere. He ides in a avenue created by mosphere. He rides in an avenue created by the man in the lead, and has nothing to distract his thoughts from the one object in view, ahead. He has, as a relief to the tension that is upon his mental faculties, the man before him to watch. He notes his every move, both of limb and machine, and thus avoids the necessity of counting the interminable hours that lie before him, as the leader is un-hours that lie before him, as the leader is un-ceasingly doing.

But the outcome of the great struggle.

What will it be! That's the question. If Prince is enabled to keep up with Reading for eight hours more the chances are that he will win the race, as the rider doesn't exist who can outspurt him for the fourth of a mile. Reading's salvation lies alone in the maintenance of such a gait today and tonight as will utterly drain his strategic rival. Read-ing will win the race if Prince is too exhausted tonight to make the final spurt. Such is the real status of the contest, figure t as you may.

But the crowd last night. You should have seen that. Not a soul less than four thous-and people sat breathlessly agape until the crack of the pistol proclaimed that for sixteen hours more the race was over. The final spurt was thrillingly electrifying. The soldier rode as though fresh from his trainng quarters. Prince evidently tried hard, but build not overhaul him, and for the fifth time he crossed the tape line a good leader. The people stood up and cheered until they were poarse, and for the space of two minutes the proar was deafening. So much for square

SPRINGFIELD, O., May 16.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—John S. Abell, business manager of the Springfield Democrat, was yesterday seized with a violent attack of frenzy while eating his lunch at his office. It required considerable force to hold him. Finally he fell in a semi-unconscious condi-tion. He had been bitten on the finger a day or two ago by his dog, which had apparently been ailing but was not supposed to have hydrophobia. Mr. Abell was much worried. The physicians say his case does not seem to be hydrophobia, but is rather due to mental worry about the supposed danger,

An Original Package Test Case. DES MOUNES, In., May 16.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—The first original package case of this city, entitled the state of Iowa vs. Terry Chambers and certain intoxicating liquors, was tried before Justice Ames yesterday. The case was tried on an agreed statement of facts, in which the defendant admitted that he owned and kept the liquor in controversy for the purpose of sale by the bottle, glass or in such quantities as his patrons might desire, but denied that under the recent decisions by the supreme court of the United States he was thereby violating any law of Iowa. The court, after hearing the argument of the counsel, took the natter under advisement, and this morning levided that the defendant had no right to sell except in the original packages in which the liquor was imported; that the liquor in controversy was kept for sale in violation of Lima, O., May 16.- [Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-James Maguire, a rich resident, was eleverly buncoed out of $5,000 by two well dressed strangers today. One pretended to be a bank cashier and the other to be drunk. The drunken man showed Maguire $20,000 in bills and Maguire and the alleged cashier tried to coax him to put it in the bank. The man assented, providing the cashier and Maguire would each put in $5,000. To humor him Maguire and the other stranger consented. The money was put in a tin box and Maguire took it to the bank to deposit. The tin box, of course, was empty and the two other strangers

Debate on the German Army Bill. BERLIN, May 16 .- In the debate on the army bill today Liebknecht declared that the nation would soon be ruined by the heavy burden of militarism. He blamed Bismarck's tendency to war. Bismarck, he aid, could have prevented the last Russo-Turkish war. Instead he supported in every way Russin's aggression. Karboff and Haemel replied, defending Bismarck. Kar-boff said the burden of taxation was exaggerated. It was balanced by twenty years of prosperity obtained through success in

The Profitable Holstein Cow. The productions of the Holstein cow are numerous and profitable to owner. She will produce cows which, if well fed, will weigh 900 to 1,100 pounds at twelve months old. If properly fed and cared for she will produce, yearly, from 8,000 to 12,000 pounds or more of good rich milk. The milk, if sold at re-ail in towns, would bring from $160 to $275. She will produce yearly 320 to 480 pounds or more of butter, which, at 25 ents per pound, the present price of choice butter at Chicago, would bring $80 to $120, says a writer in the Prairie Farmer. The skim milk from such a cow fed to pigs and calves will pay for keeping of cow. She will produce yearly 800 to 1,200 counds or more of the finest cheese. This cheese will sell for from $75 to $120. She will furnish an abundance of slop for ten pigs. She will raise three calve in good shape on her skim milk. She will produce yearly enough manure, if properly utilized, to enrich one acre of land, which will increase the crop yield from 20 to 30 per cent for three years. The Holstein cow is not only : producer, but also an economidal con-sumer and a lover of all kinds of whole-some food. She is a living milking mathine, and will consume with a relish all kinds of grass, hay, fodder, grain, roots, etc., all of which she will utilize in the production of milk to the best possible advantage. This is not all. She is also a beef producing machine. If you will a beef producing machine. dry her off and feed her liberally she will take on three to four pounds of flesh per day. Her male calves, if desired for ef, will make steers weighing 1,600 to 1,900 pounds at three years old. Such steers are not only liberal growers, but also economical beef producers, as many feeding tests prove.

Such are the natural and profitable productions of the Holstein cow, and they may be increased by liberal feeding and extra care. The owners of Holstein cows who are utilizing all the qualities to the best advantage have no cause to complain of hard times.

The Chicago university subscription grows each week. The sum of $50,000 is still needed. The Standard club subscription now exceeds $50,000. The national societies of the Baptist denomination meet in Chicago the last week in May. An earnest effort is being made to complete the university subscription before these anniversaries begin. It must be completed before June 1, and it ought to be ten days before that time.

DUN'S REVIEW OF THE WEEK

The Stock Market Rushes Ahead and Absorbs All Money in Reach.

SIGNS OF A REACTION APPEAR. Iron Weaker on Account of Increased

Production-The Condition of Business at Various Centers-Failures.

New York, May 16 .- | Special Telegram to THE BEE. |- R. G. Dunn & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: The stock market has rushed ahead until it has absorbed all the money in reach and now

some signs of a reaction appear, with a little selling by foreign holders. Substantially the same phenamena has been observed in the wheat and corn markets and in the market for pork products. Each has at hand a limited amount of money. When that supply is absorbed, whether by accumulation of stock carried or by advancing prices, a reaction is natural. The tendency of prices during the past week has been downward, wheat declining 2c on sales here of only 24,000,000 bushels. corn 1% c on sales of 12,500,000 bushels, white oats are steady. The trade begins to comprehend that inside of thirty days a new crop of wheat will begin to come into the market, and while winter wheat is certain to be short, the reports from spring wheat states indicate a great increase in acreage and good condition. The cotton market is sluggish. Oil is 3% c higher, without definable reason. The market for iron is weaker and the increased production is sufficient explanation. The Philadelphia market is "waiting," the Pittsburg market is less strong in tone and sales of southern iron continue to push down prices at New York. Steel rails have been held this week at $30.50 and $31 is freely M. N. Drake and C. W. Spencer of Louisquoted. The structural market shows no im-provement, but plates are in fair demand and bar iron is thought to be at the bottom. The key of the iron business is that railroad build-ing does not increase and the demand for bar iron is thought to be at the bottom structural iron is cut down by the concession of the eight-hour day to the building trade in many cities. Coal is still weak, but copper and tin firm and rising. The reports from other cities are almost uniformly encouraging. At Philadelphia in the leather and boot and shoe trades there is activity, while the wool manufacture is hindered by apprehension of higher Mrs. H. Gibbons and son of Kearney are wants only. This is true of Boston also At Chicago dry goods sales exceed last year's and payments are fair, but the clothing trule is dull, and the fact that bank clearings are larger than ever before finds explanation in speculative activity in the grain and pork markets. St. Louis reports good trade and supplies of money equal to the demand, white at Pittsburg trade is dull; at Cleveland fairly active, causing monetary stringency; at Mil waukee only fair; at St. Paul improved by recent rains in the northwest, where drought began to be feared; at Kansas City rather quiet, and at Omaha good, with easy money The monetary situation at New York has no been altogether satisfactory. The foreign trade of the port is more satisfactory than was expected, showing an increase over last year of $4,900,000 for half of May, more than 40 per cent.

The business failures occurring throughout the country during the past seven days num-ber 212, as compared with 200 last week. For the corresponding week of last year the fig ares were 242.
