The salvation warriors will entertain an ice cream social this evening at the Bryant street barracks. A marriage license was issued yesterday to Hans Anderson and Miss Anna C. Hansen, both of this city.

Mrs. S. C. Brown of Dunlap has commenced suit against Chas. A. Heiser, asking $10,000 damages for slander. Today will be the last day of civil business at this term of the district court, as the criminal docket will be opened Monday.

John C. Sines of Omaha will address the Brotherhood of United Labor of this city at Marcus hall at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening. Ed. Schlekotanz has moved his barber shop to No. 229 Main street, which he has fitted up in a very attractive and convenient manner.

The Dunlap Reporter says that "Tom Bowman of Council Bluffs, is a candidate for state treasurer on the democratic ticket. A former hope, old boy!" The defendant in the murder case of State vs. William Boartz filed a motion in the district court yesterday morning for a continuance until next term.

Missouri Valley has lost its local daily, its publication having ceased. An original package house is being made ready, however, and the little city will not be without consolation. Freddie, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Carter, died Thursday night of diphtheria. The funeral took place at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the residence on Benton street.

A free exhibition of rope walking will be given at 8 o'clock this afternoon at the corner of Scott and Broadway by Prof. Frank Stookoy. The rope will be stretched between the Sapp and Nonpareil buildings. A petition has been circulated and signed by every attorney in the county with one or two exceptions, favoring Walter I. Smith, esq., for the district bench to succeed Judge Carson, whose term expires this fall.

The funeral of little Donald, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace, took place yesterday. The services were held in Fairview cemetery, Rev. G. W. Crofts officiating. A large number of friends attended. Mrs. Annie M. Nelson died yesterday at her home, No. 108 Fifth avenue, and twenty-two years. The funeral will take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the residence. Interment will be made at Fairview.

The fracture was reduced by Dr. Seybert and the little fellow is getting along nicely. The Unity Guild social in Hughes' hall last evening was very largely attended and was an unequalled success. A pleasing program was rendered and the young ladies of the guild netted quite a sum for their treasury as the result of their labors.

Hon. W. H. M. Pusey received a letter yesterday morning from Hon. J. Sterling Morton stating that he would be unable to believe this evening and fill his engagement to address the tariff reform league, but will be here next Saturday evening. He is suffering from a severe cold and his hoarseness will not permit him to talk. L. H. Frazier was before Judge McGee yesterday charged with insulting a juror. It was admitted by the prosecuting witness that he did not insult anyone, but was merely drunk and disturbing the peace, and he was fined accordingly. B. Johnson was charged with interfering with the officer who made the arrest, but he was granted a continuance, and has employed an attorney to fight the case.

A decided improvement at Manhattan, and one that will be appreciated by visitors, has just been completed by J. J. Maloney, proprietor of the Manhattan beach bath houses. He has cut down the bank of the lake a distance of 150 feet between the bath houses and the hotel, and covered it with blue grass sod, which greatly improves the appearance of the entire north shore. Marshal Templeton yesterday dispatched his first consignment of unlicensed canines to dog heaven. The path led through a hoghead of the western kind of water. A rope passed through a ring in the bottom of the barrel was tied about the neck of the shivering, frightened animal, and before he had an opportunity to enter any protest he was jerked to McEnty.

Colonel D. B. Dailey has filed notice in the district court that he will appeal to the supreme court to release Thomas Brooks from the penitentiary, where he is now serving a life sentence for the murder of Frank De Goode over a year ago. The clerk of the court has been ordered to prepare a transcript of the papers in the case, so that the showing before the higher court may be made next month. The school board meets this evening to inspect plans for the new school building to be erected on the Cochran tract. Nearly a dozen sets of plans have been submitted by local and outside architects. The question of heating the building will also be discussed. Messrs. Wells and Waite were unable to make arrangements to examine the Sargent apparatus at Toledo, so will have no report to make on the matter.

A buggy and express wagon, going in opposite directions, collided at the corner of Broadway and Pearl yesterday afternoon. The horse attached to the heavier vehicle immediately began to plunge and took the buggy, horse and all, down Broadway backward for a distance of nearly one hundred feet. The prospect for a serious accident to the driver of the buggy was very good for a few seconds, and considerable excitement was occasioned, but a spectator rushed into the street and seized the front of the horse by the head, and the trouble was over. The buggy was damaged to the amount of several dollars.

Automatons in Blue Coats. Some of the policemen are complaining about the rules under which they are expected to do their work. The sum and substance of these complaints is that the powers that be order the patrolmen to be simply walking machines, with no power to speak to any one on the street or to use any judgment whatever in directing their steps. They must keep walking for twelve straight hours. They claim that this is more arduous and more stupid work than is required in any other city. Another cause of complaint is that they are kept in profound ignorance as to any information or rewards offered for the capture of criminals wanted elsewhere. They say they might frequently arrest criminals if they only knew the description of the men who were wanted, but all such information is kept a secret. Their salaries are deemed meager, and yet they get no chance to place out by an occasional reward. There are many cross other complaints which have been brooded over until it was decided to formulate them into a petition to the mayor and council. Assurance was given by some of the city officials that such a petition would be respectfully considered and the alleged grievances looked into with a view of having the rules modified. During the past few days such a petition has been prepared and a number of the men signed it. Some one informed the chief what was going on, and soon it was whispered among the men that if the petition was carried any further every man who had signed it would be discharged forthwith, and new men put in their places. This caused the number of them to weaken. The prospect of losing even an undesirable job was not pleasant, especially when no other job was in sight. The petition will probably be smothered, and the men will fall into line.

The petition, which all of the patrolmen with one exception signed, after stating the grievances set forth above, closes with the following plea to the council: "We instance these only a few of the matters to which you should give your attention, and we would respectfully request that you investigate the present working of the force and take such measures as will result in the most efficient and a fair treatment of those who by serving as policemen are not supposed to surrender their manhood or individuality to the whims of a few men." When Chief Cary heard of the move yesterday morning he promptly gave it out that if the petition was circulated and signed by the men it would be charged every one of them last night, and get a new force. As soon as this report was circulated among the men it created more or less consternation, and some of them withdrew, and concluded that the best thing for them to do was to pull in their horns. A few still felt rebellious, and declared they would secure what they deemed their rights, and would be discharged. The other thought they could hardly afford to lose their jobs, and the embryo strike was at an end.

Desirable dwellings located in all parts of the city, for rent by E. H. Sheafe & Co., Broadway and Main st., up stairs. Scheming for Factories. A scheme for securing additional factories for Council Bluffs is being agitated with good prospects of success. Those who are at work on the plan propose to organize a company with $100,000 capital, the shares to be each $1.00. The capital stock to be used in putting up buildings, providing grounds, etc., for factories desiring to locate here. The shares are to be assessed only so far as there open chances to secure desirable factories, and only a portion is to be used to secure any one factory. It is believed that by the time the whole $100,000 is properly placed there will be thus secured for Council Bluffs $50,000 of investments in manufacturing. If this could be obtained any one subscribing for a share could easily pay for it from the profits of increased business of the city. If the factory owners are not thus secured, the shareholders would not have to pay in their cash. It is argued that by thus distributing the capital among different factories there would be better chances for profitable investment, and better results secured. If five factories were thus started the association would have an average $20,000 in each. It is hardly probable that more than one out of five would prove unprofitable, and the success of the other four would make up for any such like one. It is also urged that the individual shareholder would have little at stake under such an arrangement. He would have an average of only $200 invested in any such factory. On the other hand the association, having in all $20,000, would be warranted in keeping close track of the business and guarding its interests. In doing so it would consequently look after the interests of each one who had but $200 invested. There is some discussion as to the best methods of arranging the investments. Some are arguing that the capital thus raised should be given out in the form of real estate, as an investment. Others suggest that the association put up buildings and buy grounds, and then arrange with manufacturers to occupy them, the factory pay for the use of such per cent of the profits as would be equitable. Thus if the factory made money it could pay something to the association, but if not it would be running at a real expense. Those favoring this plan propose that the factory people should have the right to buy the buildings and grounds at cost at any time when they desire, and in the meantime to take only such rental as the factory could easily afford to pay.

We want you to list your rental property with us and we will secure you good, reliable tenants. Rents collected and special attention given to care of property. E. H. Sheafe & Co., Broadway and Main st., up stairs. Work of an Artisan. About 1 o'clock yesterday morning the barn of Elsie Perkins, in Silver Creek precinct, together with six head of horses, 3,000 bushels of corn and a lot of farm machinery was destroyed by fire. There were seven horses in the barn, but one of them was stolen, presumably by the incendiary, as the barn was undoubtedly set on fire. The loss is about $3,000, and it is believed that there is no clue to the perpetrator. The loss is a heavy one and will be severely felt by Mr. Perkins, who is well known throughout the county.

Killed by a Colt. William Roberts, a farm hand employed by George Hanley of Keok, Creek, died Thursday from a kick received two days before when he went to the stable and a colt kicked him in the forehead. Roberts had worked there but a week and nothing is known about him, except that he came from England six years ago and resided in Chicago before coming west. He said nothing about his relatives and there is nothing among his effects to give the slightest information on the subject. The body was brought to this city yesterday and buried in Fairview cemetery.

Working Hard for the Proposed New Fair Grounds. The promoters of the proposed new fair grounds on Q street west of South Omaha, are in earnest in regard to the enterprise, and are pushing it with vigor. They held another meeting Wednesday, and satisfactory progress was reported. One hundred acres have been secured at a price of $200 an acre. A mile track will be one of the features of the enterprise. Solicitors for subscribers to the stock are canvassing and meeting with success. Effort will be made to interest Omaha capital in the affair. If it can be done it is confidently asserted the enterprise is an assured success. Two weeks went by in the meantime. Garneau's Bad Break. Louis Garneau and his wife left just across the Sargy county line. A short time ago Garneau requested Mrs. Clara Egan to pay them a friendly visit and Mrs. Egan accepted the invitation. Two weeks went by in the meantime. Garneau commenced to suspect that Mrs. Egan was off color and that she was leading Mrs. Garneau from virtue's path. So he got mad, did Louis. Thursday he tried to entrap them by taking them to Omaha and following them around in the hopes of catching them in a stolen assignment. It didn't work and when the trio returned to the Garneau home Louis was absolutely drunk. He ordered Mrs. Egan to leave his house. In company with Mrs. Garneau she came to South Omaha. On the dummy train up from Albright Garneau called on Mrs. Egan and Mrs. Egan named that she not enduring. He pursued them through the streets of South Omaha and applied the vilest sort of epithets. Captain McMahon came to the rescue of the ladies and locked Garneau up. Notes and Personals. Colonel E. P. Savage and Ed Johnston and wife have returned from Chicago. A half dozen vagrants were disposed of by Judge King yesterday morning. Most of them were ordered out of town. Mrs. John Robinson will return from Detroit next week. Samples free at Kuhn & Co.'s 15th and Douglas. DAMIEN DEFEDED. A Letter From Robert Louis Stevenson. Robert Louis Stevenson, in a letter addressed to Rev. Mr. Hyde of Honolulu, enters an energetic defense of the late Rev. Father Damien, the famous missionary among the lepers of the Sandwich islands, against Mr. Hyde's declaration that the leprosy of which Father Damien died was due to his vices and his personal uncleanness, says a London dispatch to the San Francisco Chronicle. Stevenson not only defends Damien's character from the aspersions of Hyde, but attacks Hyde's character and conduct, and charges him with living a life of elegant ease as a "swell" missionary, occupying a fine house with the most luxurious surroundings available, and keeping safely away from the lepers and diseased poor, while Father Damien renounced all the comforts of life and was crowned with the glory of saintly self-sacrifice while working in the midst of horrors and surrounded by the worst forms of human misery. Stevenson, although he is himself a Presbyterian, goes so far as to denounce the Presbyterian missionaries generally for, as he alleges, their avoidance of anything like self-sacrifice in their labors. He declares that Damien was a man of pure and blameless life, and that Hyde's charges are based on the open slanders and obscene gossip of the drinking houses of Aia and Honolulu. The letter is a model of Stevenson's incisive style. Pozzoni's Complexion Powder produces a soft and beautiful skin; it combines every element of beauty and purity. Ducks. There are more poultry keepers and farmers interested in ducks than formerly. Many supposed they didn't have the proper facilities in the way of a pond for them to swim in, but as this is not essential to successful duck culture they are now taking up the matter, says the Kansas Farmer. Duck eggs should be hatched under hens and the ducks kept laying continually. If they show signs of sitting pen them up with a vigorous drake, and they will soon be cured and return to laying. The Aylesbury ducks are special favorites, the Pekin perhaps have the first preference in a close call. 1602. Sixteenth and Farnam streets is the new Rock Island ticket office.
