SAD STORY OF A MISLED GIRL

At Death's Door She Desires to Die in Re-

SHARP SCHEME TO COLLECT A BILL.

A Case Which is Attracting Attention in the Lancaster County Court-State House Gossip-The City in Brief.

DLINCOLN, Neb., June 7 .- Special to THE BEE.]-A pathetic story was listened to by the police this morning at the station. A wayward girl, a mere child seacely sixteen years old, has been for a few weeks the inmate of a den of shame run by the notorious colored woman, Belle McGuigen. The girl is known by the name of Cora Pearl, but her real name is said to be Minute Wheeler. Her home is in the town of Junction City, Kan., and only a little over a year ago she was betrayed by a young man with whom she was in love. After accomplishing her ruin under the promise of marriage he de-serted her. She felt her disgrace and left home to commence a life of shame. Her descent in sin has been swift. Weakened in body and having probatly only a few months to live, she now desires to pass the remainder of her days among moral surroundings. She is anxious to go to the home for fallen women at Milford. The physician in charge of her case says that only the best of care will save her life. She is of respectable parents and of mmon beauty. ALLEGED EVASION OF THE LAW. A sharp plan to force a hard working man, with a wife and five children, to pay a bill came to light today in the county court. william Middleton is the victim and he has been for some time in the employ of the B. & M., his home being in Holdrege, W. S. Latta, a physician in Lincoln, claims to hold a bill for $114.78 against him. Middleton says that he was not aware that Latta had any such bill has be never apprized him of bill, as he never apprised him of the fact. As Middleton is a pen-niless man the amount could not be collected in Nebraska, according to the garnishment laws of this state, but Latta has gone throught the form of selling the ac-count to a lawyer named D. M. West in Council Biuffs. The laws of Iowa are such that any man's wages can be garnisheed, no matter how poor he may be or how large his family is. This lawyer therefore has brought suit against Middleton for the full amount. The case is attracting a great deal of atten-tion, as both creditors and debtors are anx-ious to know if the Nebraska statutes can be evaded in such an ingentous manner.

The entire day was consumed in the county court in listening to the case.

Judge Stewart has decided that the will of John Tracy, who cut his wife and two chi dren off with 23% cents each cannot stand. The deceased applied for a divorce from his wife about two months ago and five weeks later he died. On his death bed he made up his mind that neither his wife nor two children who stood by her should have any of his money. He therefore willed all his property to his remaining three children. As no divorce had been granted Mrs. Tracy claims her right to over a third of the property and Judge Stewart acknowledged her privilege to

A BELT LINE. The proposed B. & M. belt line is said to be an assured fact. Most of the deeds to the right-of-way have been secured and are in the hands of the company. The proposed route is from Havelock, the future site of the B. & M. shops, to West Lincoln, thence southeast to the asylum and penitentiary, where the B. & M. tracks will be joined and trains run into the union depot over the tracks from that point. As soon as the deeds are all in and plans for the best route definitely settled the new tracks will be laid.

L. Saxton, who represents over two hundred persons in and about Armada, has presented a petition to the state board of trans-portation asking that the Kearney & Black Hills railway company be held to the fulfill-ment of its promise to put a depot at or near that town. Mr. Saxton says in his petition that the citizens of Armada township voted $4,500 bonds on condition that the road be built on the north side of the Wood river and a depot built at Armada. At present the company is engaged in constructing the road and instead of building north of the river where the town lies, is building it three-quarters of a mile south of the stream and has laid out a new town and depot at that point which is to be called Hancock. The people of Armada object to being first robbed of their money and then ruined by a few speculators who own the land on the stie of the new town of Hancock.

THE GLUCOSE ENTERPRISE. The glucose factory is said to be a settled The work of preparing articles of incorporation is about complete, and the only thing now to be settled is the question as thing now to be settled is the question as to where it shall be located. Every real estate man in the city of course wants it in his addition and the members of the newly organized company are waiting to receive propositions from the various property owners. The work on the new building is to be commenced as soon as the city of the commenced as soon as the site is chosen. The enterprise will be a great help to Lincoln. The building will cost $105,000, and it will consume over one thousand bushels of corn per day.

A VERDICT FOR ONE DOLLAR. Outcome of the Suit of Lucien Woo dworth Against F. L. Thompson

NOT ACCORDING TO INSTRUCTIONS.

Police Officer Commences Action for Libel, Claiming He Was Damaged Fifteen Thousand Dollars' Worth.

Some interest was created yesterday in Judge Doane's department of the district court when the jury in the case of Lucien Woolworth vs F. L. Thompson, claiming $1,150 for rent of the Globe hotel, returned a verdict of $1 for plaintiff. The judge had instructed that if plaintiff was entitled to anything at all it should not be less than $1,000. The defense had set up a bill for improvements as an offset to plaintiff's rent bill. Testimony showed that the plaintiff never had consulted as to the improvements, and that they had been made contrary to bis will. Judge Doane ordered the verdict set aside as soon as it had been read, and said that he considered it a contempt to the court.

An important decision was rendered by Judge Clarkson in an action brought by the Union National bank in which it sought to at-tach money due J. G. Weitzel from the govthe money due 3. G. Weltzel from the government for a part of the new postoffice site, the money being in the United States National bank, which is the government repository for this city. Defense held that while the money remained in the repository it belonged to the government. They also claimed that the case was the same as where money was appropriated to pay pension claims, and that that money was no more subject to an attachment than a pension appropriation would be Counsel for the Union National bank claimed that as soon as Judge Dundy gave Weitzel an order on the bank for the amount of his award, the money in the bank became Weitzel's projectly and was subject to attach-ment by the state court. Judge Clarkson sustained the latter view of the case and over ruled the motion to dissolve the attachment from which decision an appeal will be taken In the case of Woodman et al. vs. Coliseum association wherein a receiver was asked for by plaintiffs, who are stockholders, Judge Wakeley decided that it was a first-class business manager instead of a receiver that was wanted, and he denied the prayer of ap-

GRADUATES REJOICING.

A Most Delightful Evening at the High School on Friday. It was an unusual sight presented on Friday evening to see the old high school build ing ablaze with light, and teacher and scholar meeting to enjoy a pleasant evening. Dancing formed the main part of the programme, excellent music being furnished by the Musical Union orchestra and the broad corridors of the third floor furnishing space for the dancers There are sixty-six members of the seniclass, who, with as many friends and the members of the school board, filled the halls and stairways and enlivened the classic precincts with unwonted sounds. Bountiful refreshments had been prepared and were served in one of the school rooms which had been decorated for the occasion A large center table was covered with simi-lax and roses, and in the four corners were other tables also handsomely decorated. One especially worthy of notice was buried in a pank of magnificent ferns.

Near the close the teachers were thanked for the entertainment by Class President Charles Hungate, after which both teachers and scholars joined in a Virginia reel, and from the joyful sounds which filled the halls it was evident that all appreciated and en-joyed one of the most pleasant evenings in he history of the Omaha High school.

NEBRASKA'S RESOURCES.

They Should be Properly Represented at the World's Fair. FARBURY, Neb., June 5 .- To the Editor of THE BEE: As the world's fair is now an assured fact, it becomes necessary for Nebrask to begin to make preparations for an exhibit in 1893 of which she can be proud. It will be an opportunity for an advertisement which will never come again. There we can show to all the world what the resources of the great state of Nebraska are, and if we make the proper effort, make the display that we ought, the state will be more than repaid for the time and money expended.

Our agricultural products, our cattle, swine. horses, fish, sugar, as well as our manufa horses, fish, sugar, as well as our manufac-turing industries, together with everything that will help to show up the state in its best, should be properly exhibited. I would like to hear from The Bee as to what would be the best way to proceed to accomplish this end. I see by the press that in some of the states they are organizing for that purpose. I hope The Bee and the state press will take this matter up at once and all give their united aid in this direction. No doubt if the molder of public opinion, the press, will take molder of public opinion, the press, will take this matter up we can make a showing second to none. Respectfully yours,

Mrs. Dr. Solomon's Statement. To the Editor of THE BEE: Will you please have the kindness to correct a statement that appeared in Friday's BEE in regard to my trying to get a diploma from Dr. Cowperth waite of the Iowa City college without being a graduate of a medical college. This statement is absolutely false, and Drs. Cowperth waite, Hanchett and Dinsmore know it to be so. A letter was written to this Iowa college asking if a committee could be appointed in this city by that college to examine me for a diploma without my going to Iowa City and asking what the examination fee would be it such a committee could be legally appointed. Was there anything wrong in asking these questions? We have an examining committee questions? We have an examining committee for our city school teachers. Is the body any more precious than the mind and heart? But It is scarcely necess ry for me to correct thi statement, for anyone knowing me personally knows that I would not practice under a bogus diploma, but it is putting me in a false ight before the public.

I think it a great in justice to the lady, and merely wish to say in behalf of a friend that I knew at the time the contents of a letter written to the president of the medical college and know it only asked for information concerning whether a con mittee could not be appointed in this city t examine her, and asking the charges for such examination.
