OMAHA SECURES THE CONFERENCE.

The next annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, in 1892, will be held in Omaha. When the commission appointed to make a selection from among the several cities that were candidates for the conference came here last Saturday the chances were not altogether favorable to Omaha.

It is exceedingly complimentary to Omaha, and those who so well provided for the entertainment of the commission, that a sojourn of forty-eight hours removed whatever unfavorable impression the visitors brought with them.

George H. Tschuck, secretary of the Bee Publishing Company, has been selected as the representative of Omaha for the week ending June 15, 1898, as follows: Sunday, June 13, 1898, 2,200 copies; Monday, June 14, 1898, 1,950 copies; Tuesday, June 15, 1898, 1,950 copies; Wednesday, June 16, 1898, 1,950 copies; Thursday, June 17, 1898, 1,950 copies; Friday, June 18, 1898, 1,950 copies; Saturday, June 19, 1898, 1,950 copies.

ter, is fully justified and vindicated by the report and conclusions of the interstate commerce commission, and the way is made clear for compelling the railroads to reduce rates to the figures named by the commission.

ACCORDING to Chairman Balcombe it will take at least twenty-five hundred dollars to repair the damages to paving caused by the recent rains. This is largely due to the fact that newly graded streets were in scores of instances before gas, water and sewer trenches were properly packed.

IN THE matter of financial and realty transactions, Omaha maintains an aggressive pace. Clearing house reports show that the city not only holds its own, but is far in advance of boom towns and western cities claiming greater population and commercial prosperity.

THE pole evil is epidemic in the city. The telegraph, telephone and electric light companies are not content with the privilege of uprooting sidewalks and planting masts wherever and whenever they choose, but supplement them with ungainly braces at street corners.

THE Omaha postoffice building is an institution of great usefulness and activity. Although originally intended for judicial and postal purposes, it has broadened its scope, and become a distributing center for municipal grading and paving jobs and the lodge-room where combines are formed to fleece the public.

THE prompt and liberal response to Bradshaw's appeal for assistance is a credit to the generous people of the state. Let the good work go on until the victims of the storms are sheltered and clothed and provided with sufficient food to remove the danger of want.

THE acceptance of the county hospital job removes from the curb house, temporarily at least, a fruitful source of contention and discord. The question now is, what will they do with the elephant?

ONE mystery will be solved by the combine bill suits. We shall presently know how it is possible for councilmen to live, thrive and grow fat on a salary of six hundred a year.

THE democratic members of the council combine evidently did not join the Doolin gang solely for their health. CITIZENS desiring favors at the hands of the council should consult the Omaha postmaster as to ways and means.

IT is pertinent to inquire by what authority the Omaha postoffice was made a municipal brokerage office.

Wise be invested in brick and mortar, and in real estate will stay idle in the hands of bankers, or be temporarily placed in low interest bearing and readily convertible securities.

Emerson is to have a new bank. An Alliance store is in successful operation near Earl, in Frontier county. The Kearney baseball club has disbanded and the players have left town.

Three residents of Harrison smoked out a mountain lion den and succeeded in killing the six best and nine cubs. The sire was not of course the same as the one who was shot and killed.

Three weeks ago a boy about sixteen years of age rode a horse into a livery barn at Ashland and said he wanted to leave it there while he went in search of work. Since that time nothing has been heard of the lad.

THE Davenport Democrat thinks an onion patch would be the proper thing for Scott county, and the onion crop in that county this season will be enormous.

THE Otono leader tells of a farmer named Decker that lost his wife and fell a victim to fruit tree swindlers. A few weeks ago he owned a farm, but now he is a renter. The swindlers got hold of him and sold him a large number of fruit trees, and finally he signed a statement of what he was worth liable to execution.

THE only case filed in the supreme court this morning was that of Samuel R. Smith vs. Mary Ellen Smith, on the collection of a note. The case is from Red Willow county.

THE class day exercises of the senior class of the state university occurs at 10 a. m. tomorrow in the university chapel. These exercises are always most interesting and the commencement program and the chapel will doubtless be packed. The following is the program for the day:

Today to be examined as to his eligibility for the position of Governor. The case of William Middleton was decided by the judge giving his decision in favor of Middleton. The plaintiff, Middleton, was a poor married man and Dr. Latta claimed to be a big business man for over $100.

THE Knights of Pythias celebrated Decoration day yesterday in an appropriate manner. The exercises were held at the Masonic temple and the knights appeared in full uniform. Rev. E. R. Ralston delivered the address of the occasion. At the close of the exercises the knights went to Wyka cemetery and decorated the graves of deceased brethren.

ARRANGEMENTS are being made for the traveling men of Lincoln to attend the national convention of the Traveling Men's Protective association to be held in Denver, June 23. The convention will be held at the Hotel Lincoln and the major part of Lincoln's couriers of commerce will attend the convention.

THE formation of a gigantic beef trust indicates that the west proposes to bring some of the fat of the land.

THE discovery of natural gas and the reorganization of political parties are significant results of the boom in Salt Lake City.

IT is not a difficult matter to account for R. B. Hynes' fortune, now estimated at two million dollars. The ex-president invested largely in Omaha real estate.

WITH a woolen mill in Nebraska City, sugar mills at Grand Island and wind mills everywhere, Nebraska is plunging to the front as a state of rich and varied industries.

THE proposed establishment of a large distillery in Kansas City shows the determination of enterprising men to soothe the burning thirst of Kansas prohibitionists.

BROOKLYN aldermen deck themselves with gold badges costing thirty dollars each. In this action the badge is not deemed necessary. There is a surplus of brass in the combine.

THE effect of the three cornered campaign is already noticeable in South Dakota. The old parties are grooming the strongest and most popular men for state and federal offices.

GENERAL CLARKSON'S promised retirement from the postoffice department is a source of jubilation among democrats—especially among those whose tenure of office is decidedly insecure.

THE admirers of the Big Muddy demand twelve hundred thousand dollars to improve the northern end of the stream. An alarming growth of snags in that section threatens to impair political navigation in the surrounding states.

SEVEN and a half years at hard labor is a trifling rebuke for financial Napoleonism in New York, but when the quality of justice dispensed there is taken into account the victims of bank wrecker Pull will derive some consolation from the sentence.

THE flood of idiotic bills in congress shows no abatement. Besides the various schemes to turn the treasury into a pawnbroker's shop, a Kansas congressman has introduced a bill to pay every ex-slave now living one dollar a day from the date of his birth to the date of the emancipation proclamation.

THE agitation for an import duty on American beef is spreading throughout the British Isles. There is no doubt that American competition has made serious inroads in the cattle industry of Great Britain, both in production and price.

DEMOCRATIC papers are struggling manfully to extract a moiety of comfort from the Oregon election returns. The significance of the vote for the republican candidate for congress is shown in a majority of nine thousand, nearly two thousand more than was cast at the state and presidential elections in 1888.

REPORTS from the national capital convey the cheerful intelligence, as evidence of coming good times, that congressmen are speculating in various public and private enterprises. "There are a dozen or more combinations in the senate alone," we are told, "whereby railroad, real estate and stock pools are formed. A number of railroads are under construction at the hands of senators and representatives, while a large number of cities are to be built by their enterprise." And this fact is considered proof of coming prosperity.

And this fact is considered proof of coming prosperity.

REPORTS from the national capital convey the cheerful intelligence, as evidence of coming good times, that congressmen are speculating in various public and private enterprises. "There are a dozen or more combinations in the senate alone," we are told, "whereby railroad, real estate and stock pools are formed. A number of railroads are under construction at the hands of senators and representatives, while a large number of cities are to be built by their enterprise." And this fact is considered proof of coming prosperity.
