QUAY'S INFLUENCE WANING.

The Senatorial Caucus Takes a Seat on the Pennsylvanian.

THE CHARGES AGAINST GENERAL RAUM.

They Amount to Nepotism and the selling of His Influence-Discharged Employes Inspire Them-A Bold Attack.

WASHINGTON BUREAU THE OMARA BEE.

513 FOURTHENTH STREET, WASHINGTON, D. C., June 11. Mr. Quay did not make his appearance in the senate today and the multitude of Pennsylvania politicians who come daily to see him, after hunting the capitol over started in the direction of his house, which stands at the corner of Nineteenth and I streets. He was very badly sat upon at the caucus last night and it will be a long time before he asks any favors of his fellow senators. Mr. Quay's pull in politics in Pennsylvania and in the republican committee, his influence at the executive mansion, and the part he took in the organization of the house last fall have naturally increased his autocratic tendencies and he has expected to receive everything he asked for. He elected Reed speaker of the house, or to speak more accurately, Reed would not have been elected without his assistance, not have been elected without his assistance, and he made McPherson clerk, but he can not exercise the same power and authority in the body of which he is a member. On the con-trary the senate is pretty ant to reject any proposition Quay offers because so much has been said about his "bossing" things. His colleagues stand up so straight that they lean over backwards; but at the same time Quay is popular. He is well liked in the senate and would have much more influence if there was not a superstition that he has more than he has. In the fight for sergeant-at-arms, in which he was expected to win, his candidate only got thirteen voices, a very unlucky number, out of a possible forty-seven, and several of them, particularly Farwell, Sherman, Plumb and Wolcott, voted for Bailey at the 'request of Senator Cameron, with whom they have very close personal relations. The thirteen was to be a close of the control of the con teen senators who voted for Quay's man were: Mesrs. Wolcott, Farwell, Davis, Sawyer, Spooner, Allan, Quay, Cameron, Mitchell, Blair, Dolph, Plu ub and Sherman. A BOLD ATTACK.

It is an established principle of railroading that two trains cannot pass upon the same track. One of them has to go back or switch off to avoid a collision, and that principle was on to avoid a consistent, and that principle was illustrated in the senate committee on com-merce this morning. That committee when it took up the river and harbor bill for con-sideration decided not to hear any arguments on any item connected with the bill except from members of the senate. The New York chamber of commerce, which is the largest, wealthiest and most influential commercial wealthiest and most influential commercial o ganization in this country, if not in the world desired to be heard in regard to the improvement of New York harbor and the Mississippi river in particular, and also upon the subject of public works in general. They intended to have Mr. Depew come over with them and make a speech, and wrote to the committee asking that a time be set to the committee asking that a time be set t hear them. Mr. Feve, the chairman, re-plied politely, explaining that the committee had made a rule not to hear anybody, and saying that, while Mr. Depew would no doubt be very entertaining and instructive, the committee could not fix a time for him to present his arguments. In the face of this nttee consisting twelve of the biggest men in New York, headed by Mr. Smith, the president of the chamber of comme cocame to Washington this morning and at 10 o'clock precisely knocket at the door of the committee room. They stated that they were citizens of the United States interested in legislation pending before congress and desired to exer eise the right of petition guaranteed them b the constitution. The committee opened the pied about half an hour in presenting thei views and explaining their wishes, then they thanked the committee for its attention and retired. It was the boldest attack that wa ideupon congress and will prove to be one of the most effective,

THE RAUM CHARGES. The charges against General Raum, the commissioner of pensions are: 1. That he has borrowed $25,000, or some large sum of money, from George E. Lemon a claim agent doing business before his office or upon his endorsements.

General Raum does not admit nor does he deny this charge, but it is probably true. He does assert, however, that his private busi ness relations with Captain Lemon have n influence whatever upon his official conduc and that Lemon has received no advantage in the pension office that are not enjoyed by r men in his profession.

He is charged with soliciting or allow ing others to solicit subscriptions from the clerks in his department to the steck of company of which he is president and one of the chief owners. This he absolutely denies and says that if any clerks in the pension office have bought stock in the corporation referred to, which is a refrigerator it has been done without his knowledge or ap

2. He is charged with having turned ove to his son, John Raum, the pension claims that were placed in his hands for prosecution having given these claims precedence over her cases pending before the office. This he absolutely denies and says that the his son brings to the office takes the sam course as the rest and is given no less and no greater advantages, but that all the grist that comes to the mills is treated alike.

4. He is charged with having made a con tract with W. L. Elisworth, the inventor o a smokeless powder, under which he is to re-ceive for his influence 20 per cent of all th profits derived from the sale of such powde to the government. To this he replies that while he was a private citizen and practice ing law he did make a contract or ment with Ellsworth under which the gave him a 20 per cent interest in his inven then to introduce it in the army and navy of the United States; that he has never been able to do anything for Ellsworth; that he had lost his confidence in the invention, and that he would be glad to be released from the

5, He is charged with having removed h dy clerk, who was a notary public, from the chief clerk's room, where she was able to make $15 or $20 a month in notary fees and make $15 or $20 a month in notary fees and with having secured the appointment of his son, Green B. Raum, jr., as a notary public, so that the latter might make all the perquisites the woman had been receiving.

There is a very slight foundation for this charge. There was a lady, a notary public, in the chief cleric's room who did make a fee in the chief clerk's room who did make a fo now and then for notarial services and in the shifting about of employes after General R w a came into the office she was transfer yell to another room. When visitors to the offic have inquired for a notory they have usually been sent to him and he is doing a considerable portion of the business that the woman did formerly, but there was no inten-tion of depriving her of the fees, and young Raum was not stationed there for that pur-

It is not known here who suggested the se-lection of Representative Butterworth of Ohio as secretary of the world's fair commis sion, but the suggestion is received with the great at favor and has been the principal f conversation in congressional circles Everybody says that he would be the he would accept. Some of his friends think h would make a better director general. He told me this morning that he did not know bow the idea started or who started it, but it occurred to him that he would like to be secretary and would rather have that office than be director general. No one with any authority had ever spoken or one with any authority had ever spoken or written to him on the subject, nor did he know that his name was being used in connection with the place until he saw the report in the morning papers. He did not now understand whether it was suggested to make him secretary of the national commission or secretary of the local organization, or what he had been proposed for, but he would be glad to do anything to make the fair a success.

THE UNIVERSAL PENSION. There is no doubt whatever that if the next house of representatives is republican a universal pension bill based on the per diem principle will be passed. There were two good reasons why it was thought such a measure could not be passed at this session of measure could not be passed at this session of congress. In the first place the pension disbursements will be increased about 35 per per cent or probably $40,000,000 a year by acts of this congress and the decrease in the incomes of the government by reason of the tariff revision will not admit of a greater pension list. In the second place it is believed by the most ardent friends of universal pensions that under the greater pension state under the greater pensions. versal pensions that under the circumstances the step from the present pension laws to a universal pension, including all the provis-ions of the bill which has been adopted, would be so far and the outlay so great that in all probability it would react against the pensioners, and in the event of a democratic victory in 1892 lead to the repeal of important, f not the most essential features of the pen-the American Company. Sr. Paul, Minn., June 11.- Special Tele gram to THE BEE, |-Tremendous opposition has sprung up here against the American book company, the school book trust recently formed. Six months ago Van Antwerp Bragg & Co., the Cincinnati publishers, entered into a contract with the St. Paul board of education to supply the 30,000 children of this city with books, and for several days an agent of the company has been here seeking to have the contract trans-ferred to the American, the Cincinnati firm having become a part of the latter. Outside firms not in the trust have made lower bids and the board of education claims the right to place the contract elsewhere. It is declared that the American book company is not a genuine concern but merely a combine whose capital stock is only $5,000, of which less than one-third is paid up. The St. Paul book and stationery company, which became a member of the trust and has the contract for supplying the state of Minnesota with books, is trying to draw out of the concern as the state made its contract with D. ## TRICKING A MURDERER.

Detectives Resort to a Subterfuge to Avoid Trouble.

[Copyright 1890 by James Gordon Bennett.] HAVANA, June 11.—[New York Herald Cable -Special to THE BEE. |- The situation of the affaire Gouffe remains unchanged. The morning papers say that Eyraud is unjustly treated, being innocent until he is proven guilty, yet he is treated like a man condemned before his trial begins. It is announced as a travesty on instice to set a death watch on a man not tried, however much the evidence may be against him.

Eyraud swears he is innocent of the actual killing of Gouffe and demands a trial. It has been decided to keep him in prison until just before the steamer sails on Mon-day morning, June 16, then heavily ironed he will be put in a carriage and told he is to be taken to court.

Instead of that he will be taken to the steamer Lafayette and delivered to M. Gillarde and Soudain, the detectives, under the French flag. Then the Spanish authorities will wash their hands of the responsibility and breathe more freely.

Eyraud's terror of returning to Paris amounts to a mania, and when he discovers amounts to a mania, and when he discovers the trick played on him his despair will be terrible, and all admit that from that moment he will try to destroy himself. The detec-tives, however, are confident they will land him safely in France. Meantime, waiting patiently, they are feted and dined by all Havana. Today they breakfasted with the civil governor. The French consul says he has received no offi-cial appeal from Eyraud through the Spanish government, and otherwise he cannot notice any communication without violating in-ternational courtesies.

When seen today Eyrand lay flat on the stone floor of his stone ceil face down, a pic-ture of despair and misery. He refused to speak. This is his condition while in ignorance of the presence of the French detectives What will it be when he learns the truth?

CHEYENNES ON THE RAMPAGE. Military Proceeds to Sweeney Creek,

the Center of the Trouble. St. Paul, Minn., June 11.- Special Tele gram to THE BEE.]-There is great commotion among the Cheyenne Indians along the ngue river in Montana, and General Ri today telegraphed from St. Paul to Fort Rearn ordering a detachment of one troop of the Eighth cavalry and three companies of the Twenty-second infantry to proceed to Sweeney creek, the center of the trouble. Governor Toole of Montana this morning received a dispatch at Helena, signed by ten prominent citizens of Miles City, requesting that he send 1,000 stands of arms and 10,000 rounds of ammunition to that point at once. In reply arms and ammunition were sent to night in charge of Colonel C. O. Curtis. The Cheyennes have left their regular camps and are agathering in small ones of from fifteen to twenty-five and are firing at settlers' houses and making the most threatening demonstrations. Ranchmen have been bringing their families into the settlement all lay. Cattle are being shot down by the Indians through pure malice, as no parts of the animals are used for beef. Eighteen cattle

A Presbyterian Church in Pennsyl vania Makes a Lucky Strike.

Peressuno, Pa., June 11.- [Special Tele gram to The Bee. |-The Forest Grove Presbyterian congregation is in luck and all its members promise to become rich through a strike in oil made on a few acres of ground surrounding the rickety old chapel called a church. The site is located about eleven miles from Pittsburg and is right in the center of the new Grove oil fields. For years Deacon Brown has been pastor of the congregation, and it took the combined receipts from a few acres of farming land, district school and the offerings of the small congregation to keep the good man alive. But by good for tune this is all changed. Three good produc ers have been struck in the past week, an average output of about one thousand bar-rels a day. This gives the church people a daily income of $125 from royalties in addition to ash bonus. Two new wells are being sunk, which will increase the church income to 7,500 a month. ## NERVE WRECKING. A System of Teaching at a Ladies Seminary Results Disastrously.

Boston, Mass ,June 11.- [Special Telegram to The Bee. |- The method of instruction known as "mind concentration" has pro voked serious results upon the nervous systems of two students at Lasell seminary. For a year past this kind of instruction has been practiced at Lasell seminary under the su-pervision of Miss Annie Call. She calls it nerve training, but there are those who think the method should be named "nerve wreek-ing." Early last December it was noticed that two members of the class living in New-ton were found to be seriously ill with ner-yous prostration, and after having been care-fully examined by their family physician and the circumstances of the instruction explained the circumstances of the instruction explained he pronounced it to be nervous prostration, brought about by the system of instruction given by Miss Call at the seminary. Rumored Blending of the Union Pacific and Northwestern Systems.

OFFICIALS OF THE LATTER RETICENT.

Reports of Intended Withdrawals From the Central Traffic Association Vigorously Denied-Strong

Feeling in Favor of Pooling. CHICAGO, June 11 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. !- A local news bureau says: "It is practically certain that after the next annual meeting of the Union Pacific the Vanderbilts will be in control, and that President Hughitt of the Northwestern will be president of the entire Union Pacific and Norshwestern system. "Little by little enough facts have leaked out to demonstrate this. The contract between the Union Pacific and Northwestern was a contract by a Vanderbilt with a Vanderbilt, and has been simply a test which has proved the two systems can be more economically operated as one. None of the Northwestern efficials will talk for publication on the subject, but it is manifest they all know the change which is coming.

"A remark made by one of them today, that "A remark made by one of them today, that competing roads could not object to their contract with the Union Pacific if it covered the operations of but one line, showed that the Vanderbilts have already completed a true transcontinental line reaching from New York to San Francisco and including the New York Central, Lake Shore, Micuican Central, Northwestern system, Union Pacific and the leased lines of the Southern Pacific to San Francisco." to San Francisco.

General Managers Meet.

CHICAGO, June 11.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—At today's meeting of the general managers of lines in the Interstate Commerce Railway association nothing was done besides allowing the Missouri Pacific to quote the East St. Louis rate on steel articles from Belleville, Ill. An informal discussion on the association itself developed a unanimous de-sire to reorganize under an agreement some-what similar to the one proposed for the west-ern associated railways, which it was pro-posed to form on the remains of the inter-

The hitch in the formation of this organization was the fear of offending the interstate commerce commission by advocating pool-ing. The general managers were today in receipt of news from Washington which made it practically certain that the senate ommittee on interstate commerce would recommittee on interstate commerce would report favorably on an amendment allowing railreads to pool traffic or earnings.

Under such an amendment, and in the present temper of western railroad officials, it would be perfectly feasible to form a strong association to take the place of the Interstate Commerce Railway association.

Chairman Walker thoroughly believes in pooling and has been urging it for a week on he senate committee. The boards of trade and prominent shippers are also unanimous in favor of pooling by railroads, the Chicago board having officially declared that it is the only certain means of securing reasonable and stable rates.

A New Railroad Project. CHEYENE, Wyo., June 11.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Wyoming & Eastern railroad company was held in this city teday. The trustees elected were Millard R. Jones, David McKenzie, E. H. Stone, T. W. Tomlinson and W. D. B. Jones. Mr. Jones was elected president, McKenzie vice president, Tomlinson secretary and Stone treasurer. The Wyoming and Pacific improvement company elected Wendell Goodwin president, E. E. Gedney vice president and Ames T. French secretary and treasurer. This com-pany has contracted to construct the Pacific they have sub-let the contract to Scullen & Tracey of St. Louis at a cost which is not stated, except that it will not exceed $20,000 a mile. Work is to be commenced on thirty days' notice. It will be commenced simultaneously at every point along the line touched by any other railroad.

At the present time there are 130 miles under construction in Nebraska, eighty of which have been completed and are now equipped. The road will be opened to O'Neill, Neb., on July 10. All the preliminary surveys have been made in Wyoming and it is claimed by the officers that $300,000 has already been expended. By the new road the istance between Sioux City and Ogden will be decreased about one hundred miles. A Prompt and Explicit Denial. CHICAGO, June 11.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Said President Blanchard of the Central Traffic association today: "I desire to say promptly and explicitly that aside from the fact that a correspondence has passed between the offices of the Chicago & Grand Trunk company and this office, which was on both sides courteous and friendly, no issue whatever exists between that company and this association. Moreover, I am advised by the Chicago & Grand Trunk company that it not considering a withdrawal from sociation nor does it contemplate or intend to give notice to that effect." Traffic Manager Reeves of the Grand Trunk is equally emphatic and exhaustive in his denial. The whole thing is an outgrowth of the war on differential rates which has just begun again between the Grand Trunk and its central traffic competitors. The Grand Trunk says it will under no circumtances give up its differential rates, while he Lake Shore has entered upon a campaign with the avowed object of knocking out every differential in the central traffic territory.

HER HUSBAND'S HEAD IN COURT. A Ghastly Bit of Evidence Introduced by a Youngstown Widow.

Youngstown, O., June 11,-Mrs. John Valentine has been defeated in her suit to recover $11,000 life insurance held by her husband, who died a year ago. The defense was that Valentine, who was a commercial travelor, had committed suicide by shooting himself in the head. To prove that he died from other causes the wife had her husband's body exhumed and the head cut off and brought into court, where it rested on her counsel's desk. The head showed many signs of decomposition and its production in court caused a marked stir.
