Death of Mrs. Horace Evans.

The announcement of the death of Mrs.

Nelly Chapman-Evans carries a sad shock to the hearts of a large circle of friends, many cause of her death, which occurred about 11

from Kenosha, Wis., by telegram. Mrs. Evans was aged twenty-five years, and was the daughter of Mrs. J. W. Chapman. In May, 1887, she was married to Horace J. Evans of this city, and thus has continued among the old friends of her girlhood. She was a member of the P. E. O. society, which was so recently called upon to mourn the de parture of another of its choicest members. She was also a member of St. Paul's Episcopal church. The arrangements for the fine all have not been completed, and Mrs. McLaughlin Heard From Again. George Smithson appeared at police headquarters yesterday morning in anything but an amiable frame of mind and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. McLaughlin for disturbing the peace and using profane, obscene and boisterous language. A few days ago Smithson had Mrs. McLaughlin's son arrested for beating his little girl, and the youngster is in jail with the prospect of ultimately being sent to the reform school. It was this action on Smithson's part that angered Mrs. McLaughlin, and she invaded the Smithson domicile with a stock of wrath that filled the little building to the caves and cozed through the shingles. She called Mr. Smithson some names that would not look well in print and caused his wife to look upon him with suspicion and surprise. He ordered the visitor off the place, but she would not go until she had caused quite a commotion in the vicinity of Thirteenth street and Second avenue. She was arrested by Deputy Mar-shal White and the case set for hearing at five o'clock last evening.

"The general impression is that it was a cyclone that blew over the chimney and wrecked a part of the and clows, preparatory to giving vent to a defiant yell. It was only preparatory, howbuilding, but it did not. It was undoubtedly a cyclone, and the tall smoke stack happened to stand directly in the vortex, but it did not blow it over. It took off a section of about ever, for the yell died a bornin'. Just as he opened his mouth the officer smashed him, and a sadly tangled up mixture of bloody ten feet of the top and carried it apparently to a great height, and then dropped it straight down like a pile driver. It came down with such crushing force that it cut its way from the roof to the basement. Directly beneath it were two beds on the first and second floors in which were sleeping two of the inmates, and these were the children who were killed instantly and their bodies mangled beyond recognition. SANGUINE BISMARCK.

Not a War Cloud on Europe's Horizon to Worry About.

Loxnox, June 11.—The Telegraph yesterday continued the report of the interview with Bismarck. "Nobody," he said, "was more earnest for peace than Emperor William, who, bent upon internal reforms, had no idea of aggression." Asked whether it was possible to extinguish the French grievgrievances by the restoration of her prov inces, he declared such restoration atterly impossible, and that it must be left to time to remove their resentment. The relations with Russia, he said, were good, and she certainly would not attack Germany. The czar was averse to conquest and disliked physical exertion, a point that was not without importance to the peace of Europe. The triple alliance, Bis-marck said, was certain to endure. Only the most unforeseen accident could disturb European peace. He thought it impossible that England and Germany should ever go to war. If they did quarrel it might lead to a continental conflict, even if England abstained from fighting. This, however, was a wild and improbable contingency. The African dispute, Bismarck said, was a trifling matter and he believed Lord Salisbury's temperate words were more to England's taste than Stanley's fierce ones.

In conclusion Bismarck spoke in the highest praise of the late Emperor Frederick, saying that had he fived he would have astonished the world by the vigor of his personality and rule.

Wall Street Rumors. New York, June 10 .- A report is current on Wall street today that the Richmond terminal company was the real purchaser of the city of Baltimore's Baltimore & Obic stock. It is also reported that the Northern was in with the deal and would use the Baltimore & Ohio as an eastern connec tion. The deal is also said to include a provision for an arrangement by which the Pacific Mail steamship line will make Tacoma a terminal point and give the Northern Pacific a trans-Pacific service. John B. Inman of the Richmond terminal and B. Ithaan of the Richmond terminal today said: "Nothing definite has been agreed upon, as part of the Richmond ter-minal will play in the transaction. Naturally enough we desire an outlet for our trade at New York and the necessity for purchasing the Baltimore & Ohio stock will be apparent

"Nero" is the sensation of the age. CLOSING THE DEAL.

The Sac and Fox Indians About Ready to Sign. St. Louis, Mo., June 10 .- A Sac and Fox agency special says: The Cherokee commissioners believe tomorrow will end the work of arranging the final details in connection with the deal made Saturday for the cession of all lands belonging to the Sac and Fox Indians. The Indians are in high glee over the prospects of securing big payments soon and seem to realize that they have the best end of the deal. The rich est one in the tribe is H. C. Jones, who be comes the owner of 1,900 acres of land besides receiving $12,000 in money. Other Indians become rich in proportion. Several boomers wagons loaded with tents and other necessi ties were discovered last evening making for the lowa country to wait for the opening, which is expected soon. Puddlers Want a Raise. Pittsbung, June 10. At today's session of the Amalgamated association it was decided that the price for puddling iron in the eastern district (east of the Alleghenies) should be $4 per ton. This means the eastern workers will demand an increase of pay all around ap-proximating 15 per cent. This move may be looked upon as throwing down the gauntlet, and there is every indication that the manu-facturers will not hesitate to express their readiness to take it up. Sarah Althea Sharon Beaten. San Francisco, Cal., June 10.—The supreme court of California today rendered a decision reversing the judgment of the lower ourt granting alimony and counsel fees to Sarah Altuca Sharon in her divorce case against William Sharon. The alleged contract of marriage on which she based her claims was declared by the United States circuit court in 1886 to be a forgery, and, therefore, null and void.

A Compromise Federal Election Bill. Washington, June 10 .- For the fourth time the republican representatives were in caucus tonight upon the subject of the national election law, the Lodge and Rowell bills being up. The preference of southern republicans was for the Lodge plan. Finally Speaker Reed pointed out how the differences between the adherents of the two bills could be adjusted by a combination of the features or principles of each which were unobjected to. His proposition was unanimously acto. His proposition was unanimously accepted and Rowell and Lodge were instructed to formulate a compromise bill.

Reformed Presbyterians. NEW YORK, June 10 .- In the Reformed Presbyterian synod this morning the committee on the Chinese question denounced the restriction laws. The report was adopted and a copy was sent to President Harrison. At the afternoon session a discussion was begun of the report on the subject of union with the general synod. A large number of the members spoke against union and three for it. The matter went over until tomorrow.

A Priest Indicted.

Toleno, O., June 10 .- Rev. Father Quigley, nastor of St. Francis de Sales Catholic church, was today indicted by the grand jury for misdemeanor or for neglecting to repor pupils to the board of education," as provided by the law passed last year. It is understood that he refused to do so under advice of counsel that the law was unconstitutional Urging Governor Fifer. Springfield, Ill., June 10 .- A number of world's fair officials from Chicago called on the governor today and requested him to issue a call for a special session of the legis-lature to authorize Chicago to issue $5,000,000 in bonds in aid of the fair. The governor said he would announce his decision in the matter tomorrow.

Very Liberal Contributions. Assury Park, N. J., June 10.—The general synod of the Reformed church in America adopted the report of the committee on foreign missions. The contributions have been so liberal this year that the debt has been greatly reduced, and the prospect that the hurch will be obliged to relinquish one of its ields is now averted.
