BRILLIANT GAME THROUGHOUT

Walsh, Cleveland and Clarke Distinguish Themselves by Several Magnificent Plays-Leach and Blogg Released.

Didn't we kill 'em?

Well, Lguess yes.
It was a fine day for a ball game and the Des Moines team came here flushed with a string of victories over St. Paul and Minneapolis and confident of walloping the Black

But Dad Clarke was in the box once more and the Probibition sluggers could do nothing

In the absence of a regular umpire the local team had to submit to the selection of one of the visiting club, and Billy Hart was

No one could have done better. He was prompt in his decisions, thoroughly Impartial and invariably correct.

But, oh, my! what a game Cleveland and Walsh put up. They ate everything that came their way, making some of the most phenomenal stops and brilliant throws ever seen on the diamond. Just think of it-Walsh made two runs, a single and a double five put-outs and eight assists, with but a single error, and that was a pardonable one And Elmer made a nice hit and eight assists,

And Elmer made a nice fit and eight assists, without the faintest semblance of a mistake. That's playing ball.

However, none of the team must be over-looked, because they all did themselves proud, pounding the ball at will and fielding with a dush and spiender that could not be desired a victory. denied a victory.

The attendance was about 600, and what a noisy, happy, hilarious 600 it was.

It beat McAllister's 400 out of sight.

But the slaughter. Canavan hit a high one to old man Maculler and returned to the bench to commune with the gods of fortune. Walsh laced out one for a sack, and reliable Tommy Kearns a triple, and Joe came home with a big corn-fed run. Phalen, however could not keep up the lick, and fouled out to Traffley, while develand was attended to by Maculler. For the aqua pura fiends, Palton hit safe, but was forced at second by Brimblecom, who was treated in a like manner by Flanagan, for whom Traffley did the same.

Flanagan, for whom Traffley did the same.

No more scoring was done until the fifth,
when Des Moines tied the score.

Phelan, antiquated, fossilized Dickey, got his base on balls, but in trying to steal second he got tangled up with his feet and was easily thrown out. Walsh took care of Fusselback, but Clare made a two sacker and ran across the plate on Macullar's hit. Kearns captured Boschieles it and the accordance in an Roach's long fly and the agony came to an Patton, who had just eaten a couple of lales of hay before coming out, was feeling pretty well himself, so he proceeded to smash out a couple of bags.

Walsh's excusable error, made by reason of Patton's running between him and a hot grounder, gave Barleycorn, or Brimblecom, or whatever his name is, a life, while Oney known to third. Cleveland made a very Jerry powdany stop of Flanagan's bewhiskered endlender and threw him out at first, but on Y toot, then threw old Dickey out at first. How the 600 did cheer the boy with the Bunset curls!

And then the seventh inning rolled around, and with a mighty shout the Black Sox lifted their war clubs and went at Mr. Roach in a way that made the Hibernian twirler sea-

Andrews led off with a corking single. Roach's error put Willis on first, then Moran made a one-bagger, Clarke a three-base hit, Canavan a single, Walsh a two-bagger and kearns another one, and Phalen and Cleve-land singles, and when the smoke cleared away so that one could see the bulletin board a great big cyclopean figure "7" was seen pasted up where all could behold it. Then there was prolonged cheering. It was so nice to win a game once more,

Well, that knocked all the Worcester sauce and horseradish out of the game, for the Pro hibitionists knew that further effort was However, they got in one more tally, and that was in the eighth.

After Reach had been extinguished from Cleveland to Andrews, Oney Patton made his third safe hit, another two-sacker. Then Barleycorn retired to the champion middle three-timer, and Oney came in. Traffley went out from Walsh to Andrews.

This left the score 8 to 4, and thus it remarked as neither side was able to weight, but Flannagan swatted her for a ed, as neither side was able to do anything in the ninth. So give the boys a cheer-they have struck se Black Sox go to Missouri Valley today

Auburn Rises From Her Ashes. Aurora, Neb., June 12 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. |- Auburn is all excitement tonight over the successful organization of a $25,000 stock company, which will assist in the upbuilding of the burned district not already under contract. The incorporators are Mayor Kerns,

Thomas Crummel, J. G. Maclog, William

Horum, William Robinson, W. G. Swan, E. P. Dort, J. M. Darrah, Furlong & Eustice, F. E. Allen and Sheriff Calwell. All of these are reliable business men. The first move of the company was the purchase of two lots on which two store rooms will be erected, above which will be finished off an elegant opera house, 50x100 feet. Auburn will thus eventually profit by the late $50,000 fire.

Knox County's Finances.

NIOBRARA, Neb., June 12 .- [Special to THE BEE.]-The finance committee selected by the board of supervisors last November are about ready to make a report. When all the delinquent taxes are paid, or when it is found that they cannot be collected and are stricken from the list, it will leave Knox county in excellent shape.

The delinquency on personal tax for the county alone amounts to $9,595.28, not including 1889. It is estimated by H. Westermann, chairman of the committee, that about one-third of this can be collected; and aside from this the state comes in for a share, which will without doubt be credited. Distress warrants are being served on many who are perfectly able to pay. In regard to the how! that there is a big steal going on, it will now be shown that the greatest howlers are those who have several years' delinquent taxes to foot up.

When all the credits are given and the delinquents pulled in Knox county will be about $8,000 in debt, with a splendid lot of bridges across its numerous streams and not a bond

GREATLY EXAGGERATED. Sensational Reports About the Indian

Outbreak in Eastern Montana. HELENA, Mont., June 12 .- The reports of threatened Indian nostilities in eastern Montana are largely sensational. The account received here implicated the Cheyennes in depredations on cattle herds. The only murderons crime committed was the killing of Robert Ferguson, foreman for the Ramsey cattle company, May 6. The guilty Indians. were surrendered and jailed and are awaiting trial at Miles City. The recent movements of a band of Cheyenner led to the suspicion that they were making ready to go on the war-path and the military took prompt measures to check an outbreak, if meditated. The exto check an outbreak, if meditated. The exaggerated rumors scared a number of exposed settlers, and in response to representations of danger the governor dispatched to Miles City some arms and ammunition. Exaggerated stories have been wired east by sensational correspondents having very little of fact to sustain them.

Governor Toole said this afternoon that he had an officer at Miles City who didn't seem to share in the fears of trouble indulged by some people near the eastern Montana cattle There are soldiers enough to cope with any Indians meditating mischief in Ouster county.

The opinion here is that there will be no conflict and that the Cheyennes will be kept under control without bloodshed.

CANADA'S CROPS.

Reports from All Sections of the Country Most Encouraging. TORONTO, June 12 .- The crop reports from every section of the country are most encouraging. The outlook in Ontario is generally good, but much depends upon the weather during the next few weeks. Winter wheat suffered for the want of snow and an excess of rain, and in some places will not average over half a crop. Spring wheat looks vory well, particularly on high land. Corn is backward and the acreage barely below the average. Hay will be a magnificent crop in quantity, though a little poor in quality. In Que bec everything is backward. Manitoba takes a cheerful view of things and expects an immense wheat crop.

Rusk's Order Raises a Rumpus. New York, June 12 .- The stringent measures adopted by the secretary of agriculture to stamp out pleuro-pneumonia in cattle from the counties of Kings and Queens has created tremendous excitement and aroused dairymen into an attitude of armed rebellion. It is understood that Secretary Rusk has rently received private intimation that unless these diseases can be effectively exterminated a severe quarantine will be proclaimed by England against the exportation of American cattle.

TRAVELING MEN'S LAST REST

Amply Provided for in a Beautiful Lot in Forest Lawn.

BOB PEYTON'S NEW MADE GRAVE.

A Memorable Day in the History of Commercial Travelers-Touching Tributes and Bright Flowers.

Instead of a pauper's grave, amid the bar-cenness of the potter's field, Bob Peyton's omb will be one of the loveliest spots in all the bright, golden west.

A week or two ago there headed the Commercial Travelers' department of THE BEE an secount of the death, in the poorhouse of this county, of Robert S. J. Peyton, a brilliant fellow some forty-five years of age, who, but a few months ago, was a prince among the traveling men of this state. To speak candidly-as was his wont to speak-he by degrees, come completely under power of excesses, the which liquor was the worst. Within less than a year he went down so low in his own estimation that the shame which his weak nesses brought him resulted in his dropping ut of sight of his friends and away into a scarcely respectable quarter of this city, where he gave up all hope of redeeming himself, owing to his fatally shattered health, and simply waited for death, Next he found himself in the poor house, where he died about two weeks ago.

The first traveling man to notice the account was A. M. Lyneman, the very wel known representative of Romadka Brothers the great trunk and vallse manufacturers of Milwaukee. Mr. Lyneman had known "Bob" Peyton, as he was familiarly called, very well. He immediately recalled, as he afterwards informed a Bzz re-porter, that it was Peyton who but a year or two ago in a small western town had given $25 to help bury a fellow traveling man who had died in penury Without the loss of an hour Mr. Lyneman called at the undertaking establishment of M.
O. Maul in this city, and upon his own responsibility gave orders to have Peyton's body removed from the pauper grave, where it had been laid away, and to have it interre at Forest Lawn cemetery. Then he made a skirmish among the jobbers and visited wha traveling men there were in the city regarding the matter of removing the body. As result be gathered in, after but a few hours work, sufficient money not only to give Bol Peyton a proper burial but a great deal more Then a hasty consultation was held, the result of which was a decision to buy a large lot in that beautiful city of the dead—Forest Lawn. One sufficient to accommodate the consultation of the dead of the consultation of the co date thirty-six graves, and still leave roo for a monument and footpaths, was selected on the very crest of the highest elevation in the entire cemetery. The cemetery associa-tion gave a discount of about one-third, and in addition charged the boys nothing whatever for removing the remains. The lot was paid for in full, cash down, and a deed for the same was received then and there. The hitting upon and carrying out of this idea did not occupy more than a day and a half. As a result yesterday afternoon ten car riage loads of loyal—yes, and loving—travel-ing men followed to a thrice honored tomb among the best in the land the remains of the generous, noble hearted fellow who, when in life and prosperity, was always ready to share and share equally his last dollar with a friend.

The service at Forest Lawn yesterday afternoon was something more than the lay ing away of a brother traveling man wit nonor and respect. It was the holy dedica tion of a spot of earth on which for all time to come the tired traveler of the commercia paths of life-it matters not how poor he may be may lay him down in honor to rest until that great day when He who said "Let him who is without sin cast the first stone" shall come to judge the living and the dead. It was a plain, a simple service, and yet the slanting rays of a June sun or the brilliant flowers of an early summer time never witnessed one more beautiful.

Ere the body, in its handsome casket crowned with a rich floral tribute, was lowered into the grave, the Rev Charles W. Savidge, paster of the People's church in this city, and than whom no divine in all the west city, and than whom no divine in all the west takes a warmer interest in traveling men, stepped forward. In the kindly impressive manner with which so many of the boys of the road are well acquainted, the man of God read several passages from the scriptures. He closed with one of the most heartfelt and earnest of petitions to the throne of divine grace, asking that the All Wise Providence might, as the years go by, cause the generous act of Christian charity which that hour witnessed to cement in stronger ties than ever before the great brotherhood of commercial travelers there represented,

Brief but very affecting remarks touching upon the burial of Mr. Poyton and the dedication of the lot as a burial place for travel-ing men were then made by Messrs. C. O. Lobeck, A. M. Lyneman and G. H. Pugh. After these had spoken, Mr. Lyneman, who had previously been designated to have charge of the services, said that they would be incomplete without remarks from Mr Cressey, the member of The Bre staff to whom was due the credit of discovering the identity of Mr. Peyton and calling attention to the fact in that paper, and but for whom the project of a traveling men's burial ground would not have been originated and pushed o so early a completion.

Mr. Cressey responded that what he had done was simply his duty and a pleasure as a ewspaper man.

It was a noticeable fact that The Bee's efforts in this matter received the cordial and most hearty thanks of all the gentlemen who As the body was lowered into the tomb the evening wind, playing upon nature's harp in the woodland close at hand, seemed chanting requiem o'er the brother dead.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Jame Casey, P. B. Murphy, J. H. Pugh, G. H. Eastman, W. H. Hulsnizer, A. M. Lyneman B. R. Ball and C. H. Ingersoll. The committee having in charge the arrangements were A. M. Lyneman, Milwaukee; A. W. Pullen, Chicago: George Mitchell, Lincoln; C. O. Lobeck, Omaha, for the traveling men, and Thomas Swobe, Millard hotel; James Casey, Hotel Casey; E. K. Criley, Windsor hotel, Lincoln; W. H. Dillon, Bostwick hotel, Hastings; W. J. DROWNED IN THE NATATORIUM An Unknown Man Found Dead in Nine Feet of Water.

The Natatorium at 1313 Howard street claimed its first victim last night. Owing to the heated condition of the atmosphere, the place had had a heavy run all the evening and it was not until 10 o'clock that it was closed for the night. At that hour C. F. Catlin, the proprietor in going through the dressing rooms discov ered a suit of clothes in room No. 34, and at once concluded that some man had been drowned in the tank below. The police and coroner were at once notified and after fishing around in the tank until 1 o'clock the body of a young man about eigh depth of nine feet of water. The corpse was rigid and the coroner was of the opinion that it had been in the water from three to four hours. After being viewed by a number of persons, for the purpose of identification, the body was removed to Heafey's morgue, where an increst will be held at 2 o'clock this after Contrary to the usual custom Mr. Catili failed to have a tank watchman on duty las night, and as a result there was no intimation of the fatal accident until the clothing was discovered in the dressing room.

The Girls' Guild Entertainment. Sr. Petensucho, June 12.-The government The Girls' Guild of All Saints' church gave in entertainment at Washington hall last night for the benefit of the treasury of that society and also of the Guild of the Holy Cross and choir.

The entertainment consisted of tableaux musical numbers, etc. The children of the parish took part in the affair and acquitted ;

parts.

The rendition of the story of Cinderella is pantomime was one of the main features of the entertainment. The little folks carried their parts well and were rewarded with prolonged applause. The girls taking part were Hattle Cady, Mabel Pollard, Fannie Cole, Fay Cole, Josephine Drake, Bessie Brady, Belie Easson, Mona Martin, Georgie Chapman, Louise Morgan Simpson, who im-personated Cinderella in a charming manner, and little Edna Grant, who was an ideal fairy godmother. The boys were Charlie Moutgomery, who acted as the prince, Gray Montgomery, Charlie Pratt, Kay Hobbie, Bert Morse, Sam Morse, Arthur Carter, Lorin Drake, George Easson and Willard Barrows.

The crowning feature of the entertainment was a tambourine drill by sixteeu young la dies, led by Miss Loule Drake. The partici pants were attired in picturesque costumes, consisting of a plain white dress, over which was worn a bright red zuave jacket and sush, the whole surmounted by a red turban with a tassel. Tambourines gaily decked with ribbons completed the costume. The young la dies marched about the stage to the music a plane, executing a large number of very in-tricate movements with the accuracy and precision of veterans. During the entire drill, which lasted about fifteen minutes, not a single mistake was made. The movements were entirely new and novel. The excellence of the drill and its inception are due to Miss Gertrude Foote, who trained the young ladies in the maneuvers. Those taking part in this drill were Misses Louie Drake, Fay Cole, Hattle Cady, Bessie Hul-bert, Grace Blanchard, Madie Bothwell, Clyde Blanchard, Flora Patten, Beatrice Corbett, Elsie Howes, Edith Orcutt, Madeline Chapman, Georgie Chapman, Carter, Daisy Higgins and Myrtle John The rest of the programme included violin solos by Lovell Dunn and Charles Higgins, song by Daisy Higgins, piano solo by Sam Morse, song by Frank Manchester, song by Mr. Thomas Pennell and tableaux reprosenting various entertaining ideas.

The attendance was gratifying and the affair a great success.

Three Couples.

Yesterday Hymen stormed the town of Orcans in which his advance agent, Cupid, had been long and industriously working. The result was the sealing in weslock of six human lives, all being married at the same place and time by the president of the Hastings Presbytery college.

Edgar L. Mead president of the Bank of Orleans married Miss Jessie Banwell, daughter of Dr. W. H. Banwell who is well mown in that community.
This couple came to the city yesterday or eir way east and were shown to all place their way east and were shown to an places of interest through the kindness of Judge L.

H. Kent, who is now dividing his attention between Omaha and Orieans. They left last night for Chicago.
The other couples were Dr. S. E. Yoder and Miss Emma Snyder and W. E. Zollinger and Miss Eunice Robbins.

All these people have the heartiest and kindliest wishes of many friends for a happy future. An Interesting License Question. Lou Hioler, a saloon man at Fortieth and Leavenworth streets, was arrested yesteriny afternoon on the charge of having sold liquor without having obtained a license. The av-rest of Hibler is liable to bring up a very nice point of law. Early in the spring the liceuse board issued a license to Hibler, but a few board issued a license to Hibler, but a few weeks later it was revoked by the same board. Hibler continued to sell liquor, claim-ing that the board had no right to revoke his license without due process of law, in the nature of a suit brought for that purpose. No matter what the decision may be in the police court the case will be carried to the higher courts and the points at issue tested.

Entrance Examination for Princeton. A local examination for admission to Princeton was held under the direction of Mr. W. R. Henderson in THE BEE building yesterday. TEMPERANCE CONGRESS.

A Delegate Makes Some Remarks

Anna Morrell, Omaha.....

Not at All Pleasing. New York, June 12.—The national temperance congress this morning discussed the tonic. "Should there be a political party whose dominant idea is prohibition of the liquor traffic?" Rev. Dr. Carroll, editor of the Independent, took the ground that such a party was not needed. Prohibition is question that does not come within the scope of congress except in a very limited degree. Prohibition is evidently a state question. A national party, to live, must have a dominant national issue, and prohibition is not such an issue. "We would have more prohibition if we had fewer prohibition parties."

Rev. Dr. Bascom, late president of Wisconsin university, said printer republican party is now under a most unscrupulous leadership. It can't be trusted to secure prohibition, hence the necessity of a prohibition party."

Mr. Hiliard of Boston spoke in opposition to a prohibition party. He thought this was parties. to be a congress or conference, but it seemed to be only a caucus. At the afternoon session the principal topic discussed was, "To what causes is to be at-tributed the failure of the prohibition amendments in the late contests in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Rhode Island!' H. H. Faxon of Massachusetts attributed the defeat in his state to the fact that high license had been placed on the statutes a short time before the campaign and Boston was determined to get the $888,000 fees. He thought local option the best thing. 'The prohibition party,' he said, 'is exerting a healthful and restraining influence on the republican party. As for the democratic party, it cannot be trusted to do anything which will advance temperance and mor-

The attitude of labor unions toward the liquor traffic was also discussed. President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor said that as a rule the laboring men were in different to the temperance and prohibition movement. Underpaid laborers, unable to procure proper nourishment, sought relief in liquor and looked upon any attempt to deprive them of it as a movement to secure for the rich privileges they could not enjoy.

T. S. Wakeman said the present attitude of the prohibitionists was antagonistic to work ingmen. The prohibitionists should discard the religious fanaticism which seems to guide them at present. The prohibitionist must descend from his pedestal of holiness study of the working man, place himself on the same level and change his mode of pro-ceedure. Mr. Wakeman's little speech croated a great commotion, and the congress apparently did not like his unasked opinion of Chicago Man, Deserted by His Sweetheart, Kills Himself. CLEVELAND, O., June 12. - Special Telegram to THE BEE. - About three weeks ago, J. A. Vincent, chemist, and part owner of the Gerdon chemical works, Chicago, came to this city with a person known as Charlie O'Connor on a visit. Vincent was twentysix years of age. His companion was much younger, of slight, girlish figure, black, curly hair, blue eyes and a sweet, feminine voice. A few days since O'Connor went to his

some in Allegheny, Pa., and at noon today

Vincent committed suicide by jumping into the lake from the bluff west of the city. Edward Griffith, a boyhood friend of Vincent's, who knew him in Kansas City, saw him when he made the fatal plunge.

Vincent went to Griffith's house last night despondent and declared he would kill him-self. This morning, when Griffith arose, Vincent had disappeared leaving a note saying he had gone to drown himself in the lake. Hustily following him Griffith arrived at the lake shore just in time to see Vincent leap from the bluff. The body has not been recovered. Vincent left a letter saying he and killed himself because Charlie O'Connor had gone back on him.

Griffith says he thinks O'Connor was a girl. Vincent's father is an Episcopal ciergyman in Kansas City. A Northern Pacific Purchaser.
