A WELL DESERVED TRIBUTE.

The Virtues of the Farmer Extolled in a Baccalaureate Sermon.

AMERICAN TILLERS OF THE SOIL.

They Sustained the Nation's Credit with Their Hard Earned Dollars and Defended the Stars and Stripes.

AMBERST, Mass., Jue 15.—The baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class at the Massachusetts agricultural college was delivered today by Prof. C. S. Walker, His topic was: "Duty of the Educated Farmer." Prof. Walker said: "Heretofore, in all parts of the world, the farmer has been no matel for his adversary. He never held his own against soldier or priest, against politician or statesman. In ancient times he was a slave; in the middle ages a serf. In the nineteenth" century he is slave, serf, peasant or proprietor, according to location. American farmers, as a class, are face to face with a crisis. They have subdued a continent and furnished raw material for our factories, furnished raw material for our factories, bread for the operatives and manhood for our civilization. They sustained the nation's credit with their hard earned dollars, rescued endangered liberty with their conscientious ballots and defended time and again the stars and stripes with their loyal blood. Vigorous in body, strong in character, striking in individuality loyars of home massive in common uality, lovers of home, massive in common sense, fertile in resources, devout believers in Providence, the farmers of America will never allow themselves to be overwhelmed by the fate that sunk the tillers of the soil in India, in Egypt, in Europe. From all parts of this land the farmers are coming together. Organization and co-opera-tion are wonderful ideas that have nwakened them as never before. They are grasping hands with a grip that means some thing, comparing ways and means, unitin upon ends to be gained. They demand for themselves and children an education equa to the best. They insist upon a fair share o the profits of American industry, claiming the profits of American industry, claiming that no state can exist in which tillers of the soil bear the most of the burdens and share the least of the blessings of advanced civilization. But they are in danger of making mistakes in the struggle that will turn back the progress of the movement. They demand leaders. To supply this demand is the imperative duty of every educated farmer. Whatsoever of bodily vigor, mental power and moral heroism the educated farmer may have acquired from aneducated farmer may have acquired from an cestors, college or university, he will need that he may consecrate it to the great work o strengthening his brother farmers of America, so that they shall ever remain the im movable foundation of this the only republi whose empire has not been rapidly under

Under the impetus consequent upon the building of this read, the first to enter the Hills proper, new industries are being contemplated, and those already inaugurated are being materially stimulated. At no place in the Hills is this impetus being more strongly felt than at Custer City, to which point the read is expected to be completed within the next sixty days.

Custer City is situated upon the great tin beit, which, after the most rigid and thorough investigation by the most recovered experts

The Harney Peak consolidated tin com-pany, a powerful corporation, whose holdings comprise no less than five hundred claims, many of which lie in this immediate vicinity, is now pushing their development with in-creased vigor and with results of the most

The company has at this—time—about three hundred men in its employ who are actively engaged in the development of its properties, and it is confidently believed that when the

Custer City, by reason of her favorable le

DES MOINES, Ia., June 15 .- [Special to THE BRE. |-It is currently reported that Hon. Ed Hunter is going to Nebraska. He has long been manager for the lowa democracy in the interest of the railroads, and it is said that he will be needed further west the coming winter to take care of railroad interests for the Burlington route while the Nebraska legislature is in session. His experience at Des Moines will enable him to do good work for the corporations at Lincoln.

Rumor says that Governor J. B. Weaver is to be a candidate for congress in this district on a fusion democratic greenback labor ticket. He is an indomitable worker, an able debater, and where he is a candidate the canvass will not be a tame one

Even though it cannot be considered in the canvass of this year, unmistakable mutterings indicate that prohibition and high license will enter into the discussions as party measures and the fitness of each party to govern the state be discussed from that standpoint.

In the Fifth district the members of the farmers' alliance have put forward William Battin of Marshall county as a republican candidate for congress. As the present incumbent, Daniel Kerr, declines to be considered a candidate, Mr. Battin will have an even chance with other new aspirants. President Furrow of the state farmers' alliance regards Judge Battin as an exceptionally strong man. The alliance in this state is making its efforts through existing parties and for that reason candidates brought before the republican conventions by the farmers will have many points in favor of their nomination and election. The Homestead and other leading alliance papers advises the members of the alliance to work for reforms through the old parties.

Indications point to the nomination of Captain J. A. T. Hull for congressman from this district without opposition. He is one of Iowa's most popular republicans and was fairly entitled to the nomination for governor last year, having served two terms as lieutenant governor.

The railroad organs are raising objections to John Mahin of Muscatine for railroad commissioner because he is a newspaper man. The Des Moines Leader editorially endorses a letter published by L. C. Teed, ex-republia letter published by L. C. Teed, ex-republi-can postmaster at Creston, in which he con-demas the failure of the republican party in its pension legislation. receive Mr. Teed and all who are equally dis-satisfied." What can democracy promise Mr. Teed in the way of pension legislation with Cleveland, the vetoer, at its head? The most ardent lowa prohibitionists do not claim that the prohibitory law, or senti-ment, is gaining favor in the cities of that state. This may not be true of the rural dis-tricts, but it certainly is of Burlington, Sioux City, Council Bluffs, Davenport, Dubuque, Krokuk, Des Moines and other cities. This failure to enforce the law in the cities, where its enforcement is most needed, and where its enforcement is most needed, and the fact that they have never believed it possible to enforce the law there, constitute the basis from which anti-prohibition republicans argue for a modification of the law. the state and will figure largely in the state election of 1891. Should the anti-prohibition republicans be permitted to lead in the can-vass, as now seems probable, the law will at least be modified if not overthrown. It is quite fortunate for the state that pro-hibition is not in its constitution for the law will continue to grow nore unpopular, es pecially in the cities, and as it is only a stat-ute law a majority of both houses, by the approval of the governor, may modify or repeal Protests Made Against Erecting an Underground Raifway Near it.

[Copyright 1890 by James Gordon Bennett.] LONDON, June 15.--[New York Herald Cable—Special to The Bre. | - Great fears are entertained for the safety of St. Paul's cathedral in consequence of the new underground railroad to be constructed within a few hundred yards of the building.

Christopher Wren left a memorandum to the effect that the foundations were net so good as he could wish, consequently it is feared that the vibration caused by trains will endanger the dome, even if the preliminary work did not imperil the entire fabric. Promoters of the line se be underground railway near Westminsto. Abbey is not felt. A Herald reporter was in , med on the best authority that in reality "V trains shake the building considerably, but the foundation being exceedingly good no damage is done. Different conditions exist at St. Paul's. The water courses render the ground uncersurrounding localities, and some shifting o soil in digging out for the railway is inevitable. Dean and chapter are in a great state of alarm and will endeavor to induce the house of lords to throw out the bill authorizing the line.

Before the royal commission of inquiry into the question providing additional space for interment of distinguished men in Westminister abbey, some curious facts are coming out. The space beneath the abber in many parts s filled up with a concrete of very ancient date, sometimes rendering it necessary to hollow out room for the coffin. Upwards of fourteen hundred bodies are known to have been buried in the abbey itself and many more in the cloister.

The evening programme included a military concert, popular sports, fireworks, supper and a ball. Speaking at the banquet in reply to a toast to the American visitors, Mr. Schneider of New York said that the toast to the emperor and the empire, proposed by Mr. Hauschild, president o the Bremen Schutzenverein, found a joyful echo in the hearts of Ger-man-Americans. Only since Germany had been united had the Germans in America become prominent and respected. What the Germans liked about America was the gen-

They were licked before a ball was pitched and went about their work as if they felt that it was useless to hustle.

Young Clare was in the box for Des Moines and he was lambasted unmercifully in every inning but the first. Everybody hit him.

Old Tom Dolan, who is so aged that the memory of man runneth not back to the time of his birth, was behind him, and despite the fact that he indulged in several maps during the progress of the struggle, he managed to catch a creditable game.

Dad Clarke did the twirling for the Black

Committee. Boston, Mass., June 15 .- A memorial in favor of free wool has been sent to the finance committee by the Wool Consumers' association. It closes thus: "As all the wool grown in the world is now wanted, the American grower could hardly be injured by a adjustment of values. If, at worst, his product should fall slightly in price he would be compensated soon by a larger and more certain demand from stimulated and increased manufacture. The half-bred mutton sheep wool in warp works admirably with rejecter wools fibres and montevideo fleeces in fill ing. Thus mutton flocks would be stimulated through the importation of free raw materials and the American consumer of voolens and worsteds would get better

WILL BE AN UP HILL BATTLE

Representative McKinley's District Gerrymandered by the Democrats.

A HOT FIGHT THE MAJOR'S DELIGHT.

Not Discouraged by the Odds Rec ceiver Hall Confirmed-Why Mills Refused to Serve on the Committee on Rules.

WASHINGTON BUREAU THE OMARA BEE, 1 513 FOURTEENTH STREET, WASHINGTON, D. C., June 15.

Representative McKinley, having determined to accept the race for re-election in a district intended to give 2,500 democratic majority, his approaching campaign will be watched with national interest. Major Mc-Kinley has always been stronger than his party and has been able to pull through campaigns where the general republican ticket suffered defeat, but when the democratic legislature of Ohio gerrymandered his district the past winter it did so with a view to retiring him from congress beyond any question of doubt, yet the major says he does not believe in descriing a fight, even though the odds are against him.

The major is forty-six years old and is serving his seventh term in congress. If he is successful it will make him as strong in his party as Governor Campbell is with the democratic organization in Ohio, and it is believed it will make him the republican candidate for governor next year-unless Congressman Morey of Hamilton is selected, Colonel Morey, like Major McKinley, never loses a campaign and is stronger than his party. He lives in the same city as the govcrnor of Ohio; is a member of the same family, is also a young man, one of the boys; was a good soldier, and would arouse in the republican ranks the same enthusiasm that Governor Campbell's name creates in the opposite party.

MILLS' REASON.

It is stated that the real reason that Mr. Mills of Texas did not accept the appointment on the committee on rules last week was that he is jealous of Messys Carlisle, Blount and others who have been recognized by Speaker Reed in the formation of that and other committees. Mr. Mills thought that he ought to have been placed upon the committee at the beginning of this session, and regards the act of being passed over when Mr. Blount of Goorgia was appointed to fill the vacancy made by the death of Mr. Randall as a first-class affront. He does not like Mr. Reed either, and says that he never could get along with him. The democrats in the house are MILLS' REASON. with him. The democrats in the house are without a leader now, and all of the aspirants to the leadership are jealous of each other.

NO SUNDAY BALL OR BEER, At the Atlantic baseball park there was the utmost quietude this afternoon. Sunday baseball in Washington is a thing of the past The district commissioners have put a stop to it under the law against Sunday desceration, President Hewitt was given notice yesterday that if he attempted a game on Sunday he would be arrested. At the hour for the game to open there were policemen at the gate instead of ticket takers. Lovers of the game were, however, taken to the Gentlemen's driving park, nearly a four-nile run, between the city and Alexanderia, Va., outside of the jurisdiction of the district commissioners. The saloons are also closed on Sundays.

It is not likely that there will be much more general legislation at this session of congress. The silver, tariff, federal election and statehood bills will occupy nearly all of the time which will not be consumed by the general appropriation and private pension bills. e is an enorm islation on the calendars of the two ho and a much greater amount in committees, which will nover be reported. It is believed that congress will adjourn within ten days after the taciff bill is finally adopted, and possibly within a week. Those who are in-terested in pending legislation can have a pretty good idea as to when congress will cease its labors by keeping their eyes upon the tariff bill.

KEEPING UP A QUORUM. Speaker Reed finds a good deal of trouble in keeping a sufficient number of republican members of the house in the city to offset the votes of the democrats. The former are anxious to get into their districts to enter the campaign, but the latter, coming mostly from the south, where men are elected on traditions and are sent here as antiquities, have very little concern about the campaign. The speaker has been able to keep a good many members here by refusing to recognize them for the consideration of public buildings and other measures till important legislation is out of the way, and he has in most instances refused to recognize substitutes or members representing other members in calling up individual legislation. If it were not for this it would be extremely difficult to keep more republicans in the house than there are democrats, and the house would be often without a. quorum and the proceedings would be at a standstill. The democrats, with their usual disposition to filibuster and by unreasoning partisanship, seldom permit a bill to get through without there are enough republicans to out-vote the minority MISCELLANEOUS. The nomination of Receiver Hall of the Grand Island land office has been confirmed by the senate.

The contracts for surveying that portion of the Sioux Indian reservation lying in northern Nebraska has been awarded to Robert Harvey and N. J. Paul of Nebraska. The work has been taken out of the control of Surveyor General Sullivan of South Dakata and placed where it belongs.

Mr. Ingalis has presented in the senate the petition of Grand Army of the Republic post No. 7 of Nebraska, praying for the passage of the senate bill to remove the limitation in the uct granting arrears of pensions.

Senator Morrill is seriously afraid that the oill to purchase the square opposite the new library for the site of a supreme court build-ing will have to go over for the session. Ho thinks that the house is to blame for the lelay, but as a matter of fact most of the judges of the supreme court and all the sena-tors who practice before that court are averse to leaving the capitol.
