Storewell of Cattlesburg, Ky., a heavy stockholder in the Carter white lead works is in the city examining into the details of the damage done by the fire last Saturday night. The coffin factory near the Belt line was the scene of wild excitement for a time yesterday afternoon. A blue in the back end of the boiler blew out, and for a time the explosion was thought an explosion would follow. James Sparks, the colored dog catcher who has been wanted by the police for some weeks, was arrested on Saturday and coming by Officer O'Gorman. He was given twenty days in the county jail for assaulting an old colored man known as Colven Simey.

PUBLIC SCHOOL ARTISTS.

Another Visit to Their Display in The Bee Building. The display of the handicrafts of the pupils of the city schools in the Bee building attracted a large crowd of visitors yesterday. The five rooms in which the exhibit is displayed were more than comfortably filled all day. The exhibition of free-hand drawing by the students of the high school, is by no means the only interesting feature of the display. There is the table bearing the handicrafts of the manual training classes which is worthy the highest commendation. This exhibit consists of carpentry, wood-turning and wood carving. Bert Billings, George Seligson, Charles Thompson, Oscar Engler and Arthur Ancell have card-receivers made of different kinds of wood glued together and very highly finished. Otis Whipple, Herbert Hopper, August Peterson, Lynn Charles, George Christianson and Peter Skudlarek have produced the workmanship of which would do credit to any mechanic. In carving, the best work has been done by Charles Scott, Bert Billings, Bert Morse and Frank McCune. The following are also worthy of mention: Charles Scott, stocking darning and gate; Lawrence O'Toole, stocking darning; Francis Shelby and Herbert Hopper, small table; Otis Whipple, T square, made of cedar, holly and walnut; Chester Betty, Antonio Novak, Frank Gramer, Frank Kelly, Bert Butler, Chauncey Mahannah and Willie Frank, glued vases; Wirt Thompson, chisel handles, mallet and mallet safe. The exhibits include work from the beginning of the course to the end. The idea has been to show some of each pupil's work, and although all are not equally good, yet the large majority have had creditable work in the display. If all the hours the pupils have spent in the school were added together, they would be equivalent to twenty-four days of eight hours each. When they began many of them did not know the names of the tools, but now they are able to use them well and produce work that any one might be proud of. The system used is one that is followed in the St. Louis, Chicago, Toledo and the best of the leading schools in the United States. The steps are gradual, leading up from the simplest to finished pieces of work. A. M. Bunnam is the professor in charge. The grand lodge yesterday, is in a place beside that of the grand institution on Capitol Hill. Here is an exhibit that tells of much patient toil upon the part of the pupils and their teachers. The display of free-hand drawing approaches very nearly the degree of excellence attained by the pupils of the high school. The exhibits are from the oldest and some of them are really excellent. Notable among the latter are the following: Jenny Berry, a broom-corn and sawer; pots and tin; table and chair; John DeWitt, a Bait, piano, tub and boiler; John Newton, sewing machine, a particularly difficult study; Claude Foster, shoes; John Saville, a hat; Charles Amberg, a hat; Katie Swartzlander, vegetables; Margaret Lewis, pincer and lemons; Mabel Owens, packages; May Gray, a hat and a chair; In a study of a basket, Salome Bringer has distinguished herself by some very delicate shading. There is another work in this school that is very highly commendable. The exhibits in paper folding and cut work is of a very superior order. Some drawings are from a novel by Mrs. M. C. Waterman, distinguished herself in the miscellaneous work in this department. In the sixth grade Ada Yule has done extremely well in a study of snowballs. The exhibit of penmanship is of particular excellence. The comparative work in this department shows a marvelous improvement of the pupils during the school year. The work in day of the first and second grades constitutes a highly attractive feature in the exhibit. The Park school comes next and is on a par with the high school and the Long. A new feature here are folios in literature. The pupils have clipped from magazines and other publications, portraits of artists, pictures of homes and illustrations of their work and then in pen and ink have written selections from their publications or their autobiographies. In this work a. M. Waterman has distinguished herself by some very delicate shading. The drawings of maps by the sixth grade are worthy of more than passing examination. In this work the pupils have given much attention to the miniature and the work evinces much patient toil as well as real talent. There is some work in carving, also that is very meritorious. Claude Cunningham has in this department a chest of miniature tools that are very good. The work in paper-folding and cut-outting is in keeping with the excellence of the remainder of the display. The free-hand drawing exhibited by the pupils of this school is particularly praiseworthy. Flora Koster has on exhibition a study in crayon that is of a higher order than any similar exhibit in the school. It is a study of a tree and it is a work of extraordinary merit. The works calling for particular attention are as follows: Frank Ferguson, a lamp and oil can; Myra M. Mitchell, a hat; Edith Wheeler, Room 1, Creighton block, before noon today. which have been neglected by my predecessors. Councilman O'Connor, who is chairman of the committee to investigate the charges made for fitting up the new police headquarters, got the bills for the work from the comptroller yesterday and upon solicitation permitted a Bee man to see them. They are as follows: John Schroeder, one bill of $175.25 for brick work and $80 for brick, cement and drainage. C. J. Johnson, $60.96, papering and kalsomining. J. A. Wakefield, $305.99, for lumber. M. E. Free, plumbing and material, $727.85. Omaha Safe and Iron Works Co., for cells, etc., $552.45. E. J. Davis, moving safes, $20. E. T. Duke, locks, nails and bolts, $43.75. John Grant, slating work, $442.50. The total amounts to $2,305.51. "I will begin the work of going over these," said Mr. O'Connor, "just as soon as I can get the other members of the committee together. What the investigation will amount to I can't say. They have used nearly enough lumber to build the entire Gove hotel and then look at that plumbing bill. Of course, most of that work is under ground and it will be difficult to tell just how much it is worth, but over $200 dollars seems to be a good deal to pay for the plumbing done in a small establishment like the police headquarters." John Schroeder, one of the contractors, called on Mr. O'Connor yesterday and demanded his money. "Go to Davis," said O'Connor. "I won't," replied Schroeder. "I was down there before the bid was opened by democratic friend, Ed. O'Connor, and here I am and want my money?" When informed that the councilman could do nothing for him, Schroeder turned loose and "roasted" Mr. O'Connor very systematically. "Nice!" Free, who got the plumbing work as a resident of Davis' ward and a political friend of that councilman. For Nervous Exhaustion. Use Horsford's Acid Phosphate. Dr. H. C. McCoy, Algona, Ia., says: "I have used it in cases of dyspepsia, nervous exhaustion and weakness, with pleasant results. Also think of great service in a dejected condition of the system resulting from biliary derangement." CITY HALL CORNER-STONE. It Will be Laid Today by the Masonic Grand Master. Everything is now in readiness for laying the corner-stone of the new city hall this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Superintendent Coats has seen to it that every precaution against an accident, however slight, to those who attend the ceremony. A substantial board flooring has been laid and covers nearly the entire area of the building. The uncovered portion has been securely guarded so that accident will be almost impossible. The stone will be laid on the northeast corner, this being the only location ever obliterated by the Masonic order. The programme for the laying of the corner stone of the city hall, as arranged by the grand lodge yesterday, is as follows: The grand lodge and visiting brethren will meet at Masonic hall at 2 o'clock this afternoon and form in procession on Capitol avenue, and proceed by the hand will march from thence east on Capitol avenue to Fifteenth street, south to Douglas, east to Fourteenth street, south to Farnam, thence west to Eighteenth to the city hall. Those who have been invited to lay the corner stone will be met at the city hall the mayor will receive the grand master and officially request the grand master to lay the corner stone of the new city hall with appropriate ceremonies. The grand master will respond to the address of the mayor, and the corner stone will be set in place with appropriate Masonic ceremonies. After the ceremonies are concluded the procession will reform on Farnam street and proceed west to Sixth street, east to Fourteenth street, north to Capitol avenue, where the procession will disband. Badges will be furnished all who join in the procession. All deposits that are to be placed in the corner stone of the city hall should be left at the office of Daniel H. Wheeler, Room 1, Creighton block, before noon today. Articles should take up as little room as possible and be accompanied with a list of the articles. Cholera in Michigan. Dr. F. D. Larke of Rogers City, Mich., says the epidemic of the summer of 1888, in Presque Isle county, in which so many perished, their lives, was due to cholera, instead of cholera, as first reported. He used Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhea remedy and says it succeeded where all other remedies failed. Not a single case was lost in which it was used. This is the most reliable and most successful medicine known for cholera, cholera morbus, dysentery, cholera infantum, etc. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by all druggists.
