QUEEN VICTORIA

What She Drinks and Why the Court Physician Recommended It.

The London World has been making an investigation of what the queen drinks and has ascertained definitely that, upon the advice of Sir William Joner, she drinks whiskey diluted n water. This is for the purpose of retaining her vigor, renewing her strength and prolonging her life. The whiskey which she drinks obtained from the distillery on her own Bal-moral estate, and of course is perfectly pure. Thus the World offers a valuable suggestion in this fact: England's Sovereign drinks whiskey under the recommendation of the court physician and on account of its medicinal properties, and she drinks it absolutely pure having it distilled upon her own estats. These facts prove two things: First, that all modern medical science demonstrates the superior value of whiskey for sustaining the health and prolonging the life; and second, that it must be absolutely pure. The leading American physicians and chemists have endorsed these views constantly and emphasized the necessity of whiskey that it is absolutely pure. The best medical and chemical taient in America has shown conclusively that no whiskey known in the market is so pure as Duffy's Malt. It is wholly free from fusel oil, it is antike all other so-called whiskies, and it is doing great things for the health of the community. So true is this, that while many prohibition people demonace whiskies and liquors in general, they acknowledge the superior merit of Duffy's Malt, and use it medicinally continually. Great care should be exercised, however, to secure no other, no teatter how hard a dealer may seek to seil you properties, and she drinks it absolutely pure

KILLED BY A VAMPIRE. A Sleeping Mexian Woman Expires by Her Husband's Side. The wife of Senor Gonzales, a prominent citizen of this place, was found dead in her bed one morning, says Mon-terey (Mex.) special to the Philadelphia Times, with a large bat of the vampire variety fastened in her hair. been sleeping by an open window, and the creature had flown in, and evidently killed her by sucking her blood, for two tiny wounds on her neck close to the jugular vein indicate the place it had punctured. Its escape had been pre-vented, though, by the hair of the victim, which was very long and abundant, and had so entangled the vampled in its mehes as to hold it until it could be killed. The death of Senora Gonzales is much regretted in the community, as she was a lady of amiable and benevolent charactea, as well as noted for her beauty.

The death inflicted by these bats is a very peaceful one, for while draining the blood they keep up a continuous gentle fanning of their wings, which soothes and lulls the sleeper until his slumbers glide impreceptibly into eteral rest. Senor Gonzales, who was asleep by his wife's side, says he was first awkened by the bat's frantic endeavor to free itself from its net of hair, and that he killed the gorged and imprisoned creature without difficulty, and could scarcely believe that his wife was dead, so placidly and naturally did she seem to sleep.

His Paper Was Read by Somebody, Years ago when Henry Grady was truggling to bring the Rome Commercial into front ranks, says the Romo (Ga.) Tribune, he called one day and asked the Rounsaville brothers for an advertisement. J. W. Rounsaville replied: "Why, Grady, nobody reads your paper; it is of no use to advertise it it." A happy thought suggested itself to Mr. Grady. He went to his office and wrote the following advertisement, which appeared next morning in the Commercial: Wanted, fifty cats. Liberal price for the same. Apply to Rounsaville Bros." Well, the picture that presented itself at Rounsaville's corner next morning beggars description. Boys of all ages and sizes-boys of all tints, from the fairhaired youth to the sable Ethiopianbare-foot boys and ragged boys-redheaded boys, freekled-faced boys-town boys and country boys—boys from all parts of Floyd county, blocked up the sidewalk, doorways and street with bags full of cats-cats of every description, name and order—house cats, yard cats—barn cats, church cats—fat cats and lean cats-honest cats and thievish cats. Well, to make a long story short, the Rounsaville told Mr. Grady to reserve a column for their advertisement as long as his paper continued; and that was just Lorillard's Fondness for the Turf.

It is amusing, says the New York World, to note the wrapt adoration of Pierre Lorillard for his old love, the turf. Once in a while the master of Rancocas writes a letter to the newspapers pro-testing that he does not bet more than $500 on a race, and doubtless this is true, but it should be remembered that Mr. Lorillard plays what are technically known as "short horses." A "short horse" always has a long price and $500 on a 15-to-1 horse is apt to produce a feeling of substantial satisfaction if the To Whom it may Concern: The co-partnershif heretofore existing between W. G. Albright and A. H. Cooley, under the firm name of W. G. Albright & Co., has this day been dissolved by mutual consent, and said firm have retired from business.

All unsettled matters of the firm have been placed in the hands of Mr. Arthur East, room 521 N. Y. Life Ins. Bidg., who is authorized to for yachting, and later on a complete absorption in Tuxedo, caused Mr. Lorillard some years ago to lose his faith in mankind in general and racing in par-ticular. He left the turf with as much precipitancy as he had gone on it, but it was impossible for him to keep entirely away from his old love. He is the popular ideal of a racing man-big, breezy. handsome, well dressed, friendly and strictly reliable. His stable has always been run on principles of absolute integrity. This year Mr. Lorillard has been on the track morning, noon and night. He talks horse until midnight and is the first man around the following morning. A good many men have tried to get away from the fascination of racing, but the majority of them do not make any more of a success than that which has distinguished Mr. Lorillard's recent
