The barbers' war is practically ended and all the shops will be open today.

J. C. DeHaas took out a building permit yesterday for the erection of a $2,000 residence at 14th and Clay.

A harmless little wafel died at the home of the intercessors yesterday and will be buried this afternoon at Fairview cemetery.

The Shubert quartette arrived at the Chautauqua grounds last evening and will appear this afternoon in one of their splendid concerts.

A case of diphtheria was reported to the board of health yesterday. The victim is Edith Gandy, the eleven-year-old son of O. W. Gandy, on Avenue F.

Robert Russel, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lanterman, died yesterday afternoon. The funeral will take place at 4 o'clock today from the residence, 105 North Eighth street.

Two of the inmates of a beagle received the attention of Judge Schurz court yesterday morning. They were Bella Clever and Minnie Lee, and the former had the latter arrested for stealing a lot of baby clothes.

There will be a large band of orphans introduced in the council at the meeting Monday night. It is reported that each member will receive a small amount of money as a ready for every little evil that comes up is having the effect of handing down the legal machinery of the city and making the ordinances look ponderous for common use.

A large heavy team attached to a heavy wagon loaded with supplies for the poor passed through the possession of Bryanwood between Sixth and Seventh streets, yesterday afternoon. The wagon was badly broken up and the coke was scattered over the street, about forty bushels of it being deposited on the motor track, causing a slight interruption of the traffic and a good deal of work for the contractors, who had to sweep off with their hands.

Judge Carson concluded his trial the other day, Johnie Hooker, who was brought up from Glenwood to Friday, to the state reform school. The facts of the case as presented to the court indicated that Hooker's name is his man and that he is a persistent but very skilful pilferer. The father tried hard to save the boy from the reform school, and was anxious to have him consigned to the institute for the foolish, claiming that the boy was not responsible for his actions, and that his weakness of mind was the cause of his shortcomings.

The saloon kept by John Dunn sexto to the Revere house was closed by the police last night. The proprietor and his son were arrested and bound at the central station court, and will be tried to-day.

All the furniture and bar fixtures were also taken out and stored by police orders. The cause of the raid was not so much for the reason that Dunn was selling intoxicating liquors as it was for the fact that he has persistently refused to pay his taxes.

The conclusion requiring the payment of a monthly sum. A satisfactory bond was given and Dunn and his boy were permitted to go home and appear for trial tomorrow morning.

One of the finest corners of Vine street, which has become one of the best residence streets in the city, has located upon it a number of illustrious persons. The place has most noted of its kind in the city and has been the scene of murders and suicides, and every degree of crime. The property owner living near it have made many efforts to have it closed, and various city administrators have come to the conclusion that the statement of the nuisance has been only temporary. There is a prospect now that something will be done for its suppression, for the ladies residing on the street and adjoining streets in the vicinity have undertaken a crusade against it. A bill will be introduced in the council tomorrow evening that will present a petition asking for its suppression. If the council does not act favorably upon it, the ladies will add another name and present it again at the next meeting, and will continue to do until the council is compelled to order the closing of the obnoxious place.

DON'T KNOW HOW TO COUNT.

Census Supervisor Hight and the Board of Trade Men Can't Agree.

THE RESIGNATION OF DR. COOLEY.

The Wigwam Builders Too Slow—Enlarging the Patrol House—ABurg—Dr. Caught—Where to Work—ship—General Notes.

The board of trade at its meeting on Friday night cooked up a dose for Census Supervisor Hight that was scalding hot. There were present fifteen or twenty of the leading business men of the city, and they made him take the entire dose at one gulp. It was a potion that would remove the cuticle from the mouth of a chinchorre and it literally stayed the neck and tender epidermis. Here is what they gave him for his breakfast yesterday morning.
