CHAIS WITH THE CROOK CATCHERS.

Yest rday's Proceedings is the District Court - Blacks Prevents a Wedding-Young Democrats Organize Personals.

Yesterday was what is known as Recognition day at the Chautauqua. The morning entertainment consisted of an address by ex-Congressman Horr of Michigan, who spoke upon the labor question. Mr. Horr has a quaint way of dealing with questions, which, in the hands of others of no less ability, are often made very dry and uninteresting. No one will forget the inimatable way in which, after stating a proposition to which he takes exceptions, he puts on that peculiar facual expression and says: There's one trouble with that statement. The trouble is it isn't true," Then every bely laughs, and everybody wonders why they laugh. Then he goes on, using homely illustrations, which make his meaning as plain as daylight. He entertains, but he does more than that. No one can hear Mr. Horn without carrying away many things which he says. He teaches as well as talks. It is a matter of congratulation that the manage-ment has secured him to deliver today his celebrated peture of "Are Babboons Our Carrier March 1981". The Schubert quartette gave some more of their excellent music yesterday.

Another most commendable feature of the programme vesterday was the lecture by Prof. De Motte, on "Sounds." His lectures, though scientific, are brought down to the understanding of the hearer of ordinary intelligence, and made very interesting, even fascinating, by the experiments and illustrations which accompany them. He lectures again this evening, his subject being no less attractive than the one on which he spoke Chars With Craok Catchers.

"Who do you suppose I saw in town the other day?" asked Jack Cusick yesterday. Jack knows more crooks than almost any man in the city, his long service on the police force having given him a peop at many of them. So it was not much of a surprise when he said, "Jack Roach." It will be remembered that there was a time when everbody was very anxious to see Jack Roach in Conncil Bluffs. "Three-Fingered Jack," as he is caded, on account of a deformity in one hand, was badly mixed up in the affair at the old Union Avenue hotel, when Major Williams shot and killed a fellow named Hughes, There was a lively search for Williams, Roach and Matt Carroll, who were said to have been the trio who shured in the affair. They were caught at Blair, but Roach made sensational jump from the second story of the hotel and made good his escape. Carroll also got away, and Williams, on being tried, was acquitted for lack of witnesses, only to be afterwards tried and sent to the penitentiary in New York for killing a man there.

Roach has been shady until the affair having blown over it is now safe for him to show

That reminded Sheriff O'Neill. "Do you remember a fellow named Maker, who was sentenced a few terms ago for turning a con-fidence game here! Well, when I was bringing him from the court room to the jail, one day during his trial, he was kicking, as he always was I asked him what he about, ry has 'Well,' kleking that he, that jury has ne bus-ness to find me guilty. It don't make any difference whether I turned that trick or not, they haven't got the evidence and they oughtn't to convict me.' Then I asked him what difference it made to him whether they convicted him or not? 'That's a funny ques-tion to ask me; what do you mean?' 'I mean just this: It is a good deal better for you to be tried for larceny than to be tried for mur-der, Matt.' He looked all broke up when I called him 'Matt.' Then says I: 'I know you, Matt Carroll; I know your folks, too. They are nice, respectable folks. They live in Dubuque, and are well fixed and well edu-cated.' He denied at first that he was Matt Carroll, but he was, just the same. He is serving a term now in the pen. Right after the shooting he skipped out, and he went to Europe and traveled all over. He couldn't keep away, though, and coming back here he got pinched. Those three were the fellows who killed Hughes; that's sure; though it couldn't be proved as to which fired the shots.'"

Extensive arrangements were made for the marriage of Miss Crane and Mr. Cunning, at the home of the brides' parents, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Crane, vesterday afternoon. The guests had began assembling, the clergyman, Rev. Mr. Crofts, was on hand to perform the ceremony, when the expectant bride was taken so seriously ill as to make it necessary to postpone the event until some indefinite time in the future. Miss Crane has been in very poor health for two weeks or more, but the day preceding that set for the cereanony it was thought that with care she would be able to go through the ceremony. In order to husband her strenghth she rested throughout the day, avoiding all possible excitement, until evening, when she joined with her bridesimald in making some necessary arrangements for the next day. She appeared to be feeling much better, and it is thought that she overexerted, for when morning the state of ing came she was unable to rise from her bed. Her physician still thought that by afternoon she would have recovered sufficient strength for the ceremony, but when the hour came it was impossible, and the event had to be post-It was a disappointment to all concerned, and there are heard many anxio wishes that her condition may be rapid be rapidly bettered. Mr. Canning is from Indianapolis and is accompanied by several of his gentle-men friends. Miss Crane was somewhat easier last evening, but her condition is still so serious that no probable time can be named for the ceremony.

The Young Democrats to Organize. There was an attendance of about fifty young democrats at the adjourned meeting of the young democrats' club at Marcus hall Tuesday evening. The committee on organization reported in favor of Emmett Tinley for temporary chairman and Nick O'Brien for temporary secretary, and the report was adopted and the persons named took their places. Tintey in taking the chair made a few remarks to the effect that he was very much surprised at being chosen and O'Brien did not say anything. A committee consist-ing of Shea, Whittlesey and Cooper was ap-pointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws, in lieu of a committee formerly ap-pointed which was not there to report. After speeches by John Ahles, J. J. Shea and J. J. Fraincy the meeting adjourned to meet in one week at the same place and the executive committee appointed at a former meeting was instructed to see what could be done towards procuring a permanent place for the meeting of the club.

Too Much Joskey Work.

Carcago, July 16, - Special Telegram to Tag Bas. |—The Washington Park races are coming into disrepute. "We are getting tired of this sort of business, Mr. Hankins. This in and out running of the Chicago stables cannot continue. It harts the reputation of the Washington Park association, and it has got to be stepped."

The remark was made in the most direct and emphatic way by a leading executive official at Washington Park to the owner of Santolene, after the great golding had been prevented from winning the last race of Washington Park yesterday. It was not evident that the horse had been pulled—he had simply been "jockeyed" in the interest of his controllers and had made an elegant second. He had also made the public mad, and likewise the judges, and the talk, which is selden complimentary to the Chiengo stable's ways, was pretty hot against George V. Haukins. Through ring, grand stand and club grounds the expression was all the same. Even in the judges stand the wave of indignation was rampant. There was not a horse in the crowd that could "hold a candle" to Santalese. He had started at 5 to 3 on, and five out of every six betting men at the track had laid the odds on his charces. Everyone knows the result. He lost the race. He was not pulled neither was he ridden. He just gave a present of the race to Atticus, a horse whose recent performances had evidenced all the characteristics of a "plater." Atticus was a 10 to 1 shot and the race was simply given to him.

T., July 16.- [Special Telegram to Tar BEL ]-Information was received here last night of the discovery of the dead body of Edward Baker at his cabia in the Sierra Ancha mountains, forty miles north of Globe, supposed to have been murdered on July 14. Some doubts are expressed as to whether the deed was committed by Apaches or white rustlers, but the fact that the body had been mutilated about the head points to killing by Apaches. A number of horses was stolen and the cabin losted. Citizens from Sait river and Sheriff Thompson with a posse left yesterday for the some of the tracedy. Troops and scouts from San Carlos and surrounding posts are also enroute.

An Inter s in Problem. DES MOINES, Ia., July 16.-[Special Telegram to Taz Bzz. ] -The bright officials in the governor's department are in a quandary. Each has tried a problem with varying rerults. A convict was committed to the penitentiary at Fort Madison on December 7, 1875, for a term of six years. Under the law at that time for the first year he received fifty days "good time," and each succeeding year sixty days. The new law went into effect July 4, 1890, and allows one month "good time" for the first year, two months for the second, three months for the third, four months for the feurth, and six months for the sixth. Three officials have figured for the date of the expiration of the convict's sentence. One fixes the date the latter part of November, another some time in August, and November, another some time in August, and the third would have discharged the prisoner eight days ago. Governor Boies has not yet passed upon the question.

Severe Storms in Minnesota.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 16 .- Very severe storms throughout the southeastern portion of Minnesota tonight prostrated wires and cut off communication with many points. The Nachrichten denies that Bismarck initiated Nachrichten denies that Bismarck initiated the international labor conference. He considered the international protection of labor a chimera. The Behring S-a Policy. LONDON, July 16.—[Special Cublerram to THE BEE.]—The Times says: "The United States government displays the dignity and good sense to be expected from it by reverting to its Behring sea policy of 1888. It would be absurd to involve two great and friendly nations in a course of petty reprisals in a sordid dispute. It may be hoped that America will tacitly recognize that no nation ossesses the right to extend its jurisdiction by a municipal enactment over hundreds of miles of open sea."
