In the petition she alleges that she and her husband attempted to borrow $9,000 on some Omaha property and that at the time of making the application she signed notes and mortgages to the amount of $450, which was in payment of the agent's commission. She now brings suit to have those notes can-

by the Seventh Ward Democrats. The Seventh ward democrats beat the tomtom loud and long in their wigwam Thursday. They gathered at Didam's hall. H. R. Newcomb presided and Charles Johnson was elected secretary. From the outset there were evidences of blood on the moon. Morearty had made a canvas of the ward for Morearty had made a canvas of the ward for his boom as delegate to the county conven-tion and longed for a prominent place on the primary licket. Then there was P. W. Birkhauser, a member of the democratic central committee, who expected an endorse-ment from his neighbors of the Seve ith to the extent of placing him on the ticket as a delegate to the county convention. But the patriots gathered there willed otherwise, When the ticket was announced it was found to be decidedly arginst the faction in which to be decidedly against the faction in which Morearty and Birkhauser are shining lights. Morearity and Birkhauser are shining lights. The former at once protested at the treat-ment accorded him, and said he understood that George Townsend, who had been named as a delegate, was not a resident of the Soventh ward. Then Townsend's turn came. He said a good many uncompli-mentary things of Morearty, and promised that he would encompass his defeat. Then Morearity declared that he would go out on the bywavs and highways and make another ticket which would test steel with the regular ticket in the Seventh at the primaries this afternoon. This ticket is made up as follows: J. B. Highes, W. R. Vaughn, M. Lanzdon, George Townsend, T. A. McGeath and H. B. Hall. Alternates, John Didam, Charles Johnson, J. M. McManus, W.J. Pickering, Sam Geeney and F. G. Hobden. The Morearty forces evidently thought better over their kick, after a night's rest, and today they refused to place an opposition licket in the field.

The Twenty-Eighters Declare For Mercer Only to Knife Him.

Reference has been made in these columns to the duplicity of the Twenty-eight club in connection with the candidacy of Dr. Mercer. A delegation from the club went down into Sarpy county the day of the primaries and did all in their power to defeat Mercer there. In this they were partially successful. Then the next day the Twenty-eight club met in Omaha by special call, fifty-three strong. They passed a resolution warmly endorsing Mercer for governor, and for the first time in the history of the cub the fact that the resolution was passed was carried around to the Omaha newspapers by certain devotees of the club. This act alone excited suspicion in THEBEE office, and the matter was treated accordingly in these columns. In the issue of Wednesday evening an interview was printed the effect of which was to caution Mercer's real friends against the expected treachery and duplicity against the expected treachery and duplicity of the delegation of Twenty-eighters which was booked to invade Lincoln Wednesday evening. This gang numbered about fifty political bushwhackers, led by Wheeler, Davis, Blumer, Joe Redman, Ed Cone, H. T. Clarke, John T. Clarke and others always found in their company. It was about the same old crowd that ate and drank at Lininger's board, swore by the elemal stars to support the latter for mayor, and then left his house only to betray him and sell out his friends. When they reached Lincoln they deployed to all the hotels and headquarters of the dif-ferent candidates. They announced openly that they were for Messer and the the theorem that they were for Mercer and that they were there to see that Omaha received proper ree source to see that Omana received proper res-condition. But all the while they were cir-culating among country delegates and quietly sinking the stilletto into Mercer's boom. To these delegates the Twenty-eighters repre-sented themselves to be regular members of the Douglas delegation and that they were for Moreor but consider title according to the Mercer, but, confidentially speaking, they know Mercer had no show on earth and they would advise the country delegate to jump to the winning man when the time came. This man they claimed would be McColl. Thus it will be seen that all this industry on the part of the Twenty-eighters was at the instance of the railrouds and Broatch followers who of course were dead against Mercer from the When the convention met the gang was tough. A short time ago he was in trouble over a girl and yesterday morning he was up on a charge of vagrancy. The judge told him to find work immediately or take the Rachel Gillette, a Frenchwoman, com-

Accumulations of odd Suit Pants are now on sale. This will be a picnic for all who need / pants, and for those who do not need them right away, as it always pays to buy our Suit Pants and put them away for future use. We had several sales of odd Suit Pants before, and our patrons know what bargains they are. This season we have not sold a single pair of these pants, but as fast as the coats and vests of a suit lot were closed out, the pants were put away, We reserved them all for the express purpose of making a grand sale in July. This is the month when extra pants are needed and our customers will appreciate the opportunity to get them at less than half what they are worth.

There are nearly fifteen hundred pair of these pants. We have placed them on separate tables and divided them up into four different lots from which you can take your pick.

Lot Number One we marked $1.90; not a pair in this lot but what is worth at least $3.00. Lot Number Two is $2.75; all very fine worsted and cassimere, in light and dark shades. The Omaha Law Class. County Attorney T. J. Mahoney delivered a very interesting lecture Thursday evening to the Omahalaw class upon"Triple Sovereignity -the Sovereignity of the Federal Government, the Sovereignity of the State and the Sovereignity of the Individual." Each of these several sovereignities, he held, was supreme in its respective sphere. The federal government exercises supreme sovereignits, which is delegated to it by the people of the several states and is exclusive. Any the several states and is exclusive. Any state laws inconsistent or concurrent with any constitutional powers granted to the fod-eral government are void. The state excr-cises within its jurisdiction powers as abso-late as those excretised by the czar of Russia or the mikade of Japan, pow-ers with which even the general government has no right to interfere. The rights of a state are inherent, and the nature of state constitutions is restrictive of those rights. The relation between a state and a municipal corporation is not analogous to that which corporation is not analogous to that which exists between the federal government and the state. The state can delegate certain of Its powers to cities, but the general govern-ment cannot delegate any of its powers to the states without violating the national com-pact. In his relative rights the individual is subject to the laws of the state and national government only so long as they subserve the purposes for which governments are estab-lished. In his absolute rights the individual recognizes no superior but God. The sov-creignty of the individual in cases of necessity rises superior to all human laws, statutes and constitutions. The divine right of revo-lution is man's great bulwark of civil liberty. By nature every man is born as free as

It was like getting back from a vacation to the police reporters when Judge Heisley rapped the mongrel crowd in the police court to order yesterday and told Court Officer Kyser to "bring up the boys."

Thursday was a holiday in police circles. The officers and patrolmen of the force were picnicing at Arlington and Judge Helsley was talking politics down at Lincoln. As a result there were no arrests made and no police court held.

Clerk Long and the reporters sat around all day and told lies which they fondly believed the others considered true. Workmen took advantage of the interim in the busi-ness of the court to plaster a ness of the court to plaster a lot of red and yellow paper over the bare spot that has long been an eyesore back of the judge's desk. It is more of an eyesore than
