HARLAN FOR CONGRESSMAN.

Second District Republican Congressional Convention at Hastings.

THE RESULT GENERALLY ANTICIPATED.

Laws' Name Was Not Mentioned-The Platform Included the One Adopted by the State Convention.

HASTINGS, Neb., July 30 .- (Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-The republican convention of the Second congressional district met at 9 o'clock. The Kerr opera house was filled with spectators and delegates. They were noisy, but even in all their abandon furnished as example that the people's convention in Lincoln yesterday might have followed. The call of McKeighan met with hisses and, of course, the gentleman's friends did not appear.

John Dillworth tried tosing "John Brown" but Bostwick choked him off.

At a few minutes to 9 Bostwick called the convention to order.

The delegates' names which appear in another column, were accepted. Steele nominated Captain J. H. Stieldes of Filmore to be chairman of the convention; which was carried, and Steele of Butler and Lyman of Adams escorted him to the chair. This was quite an inovation, as Stickles had once ran against Laird for congress. Stickles said that his selection for the chair imposed a task and conferred an honor.

A. F. White of Gosper county was declared secretary of the convention. Two assistant secretaries were appointed by the chair, J. B. Jennings of McCook and Judge G. H. Rhea of Phelps.

Pheips. A committee on resolutions was appointed. W. Small of New York moved that a com-mittee be not appointed and that the platform of this convention be the same as the state convention. The platform by the state con-vention failed to adopt the following plank: We condemn the practice in this state of re-moving cases from the federal courts upon the pretense of local projudice, but in reality for the sole purpose of enabling the parties ask-ing the removal to receive attorneys' fees which could not be recovered in the state fourts, and we urge upon congress the conact-ment of such amendments to the present law as will prevent such abase. The following resolution was adopted, Resolved. That we heartily endorse the Hale amendment to the McKinloy bill em-bodying the idea of Hon. James G. Blaine as to reciprocity among the American nations. Voting for congressman commenced at 9:20.

The informal ballot resulted as follows: Har-lan 136, Bostwick 31, Newton 65,

Governor Thayer appeared on the stage at this time and cheers were wild and many, but he did not respond. A formal ballot was called, and ordered the number of delegates, 246, and a vote was taken. When the formal ballot was taken Adams rounty started off with 14 votes for Harlan, descriing Bostwick. All the glory that Bost-wick got out of the light this fall was that he pounded Fred Olmstead into the broad and flat earth's surface. Harlan was the unanimous choice of the convention, receiving 246, 1 for Bostwick and for Nettleton, and the convention called for
