

THE CITY.

The bank clearings yesterday were $69,793.78. J. A. McGilhen was arrested yesterday for petit larceny. Judge Winkley is preparing to hand down a number of decisions on Saturday. A meeting of the Seventh Ward Anti-Prohibition club was announced for last night at Twenty-sixth and Walnut streets, but the members did not materialize and no meeting was held.

Went West. "Commodore" Wood was found with a large loaded gun in his pocket and was arrested. He said he was going out into the wild and wooty west and was to "kick." Judge Hensley confiscated the weapon and told the young man to go west, and to do so quickly. When last seen he was climbing the western hills.

Major Wilcox Arraigned. J. C. Wilcox, the owner of the dead Republican, was arraigned in the police court on the charges of perjury preferred by his late employees. All the complaints are of the same kind and one was taken in which to make a test. The major pleaded not guilty. His bonds were fixed at $1,500 and his own recognizance taken. The case will be tried next Wednesday afternoon.

Announcement. C. B. Moore & Co. have been appointed wholesale agents for the bottled waters of Excelsior Springs, Missouri.

He's a Clown Now. Ed DeLong is a clown in a 10-cent show and the police believe that he is crooked.

Two years ago he was run out of this city and he was charged with procuring young girls for immoral purposes. He resided here for a number of months at that time and made his headquarters on Ninth street. Once Captain Green went to arrest him for some offense, but the fellow jumped from a two-story window and escaped.

The judge warned him that he would have to conduct himself straight while in Omaha and allowed him to go back to the circus.

They speedily cure biliousness, bad taste, torpid liver, piles and constipation. Splendid for men, women and children. Smallest, mildest, sweetest, 30 doses for 25 cents. Samples free at Kuhn & Co.'s 15th and Douglas.

Threatening a Debtor. A complaint has been filed in the police court by Mrs. Edith Carter against R. R. Hodgins, G. H. Webster and A. M. Smith, charging them with sending threatening matter through the mails in an endeavor to extort money.

Mrs. Carter charges that these men sent her a circular which stated that unless she would at once make arrangements to pay an account against her which they held for collection, they would publish the bill in the "for sale" list and thereby injure her credit. The circular was signed "The Commercial Directory Company."

The only complexion powder in the world that is without vulgarity, without injury to the user, and without doubt a beautifier, is Pizzoni's.

Missouri Pacific Cut Rates. A very unexpected turn was taken in the east bound cheap rate business yesterday. Instead of a reduction from $31.15 to $27.60 on the Boston tickets as had been expected, one read cut loose on a rate outside of the G. A. Agreement, which would result in a reduction of the Missouri Pacific received a telegram from headquarters to commence selling New York tickets without reference to Boston at the same price, $15, for round trip, and under the same restrictions regarding time, as governed the G. A. R. rate.

The Boston tickets are sold to return by way of New York with stop-off privileges, but $6 are added to the $15 to cover the fare between New York and Boston. Besides, the holder must hunt up an agent in Boston and get his ticket stamped. When the fact became known that Mr. Godfrey had such orders as these from St. Louis, it threw all the other agents into a state of excitement. They hurried the wires with sensational messages to their various bosses in Chicago.

Park Avenue Pavement. The property owners on Park avenue are not particularly pleased with the present condition of the pavement that was laid on that street two years ago. The avenue is in a wretched condition, the blocks having rotted away, leaving nothing but a forest of stumps imbedded in a cement base. Some of the people are inclined to blame the members of the board of public works for the short life of the pavement. They complain and back and laugh at the complaint, and when the matter becomes too serious, they flash a couple of petitions.

The petitions, or rather the first petition, convey the idea that the property owners asked for cedar blocks, but the contract was let changed their minds, rescinded their action and requested express blocks. Express blocks they do not want, they say, they want the material used to asphaltum. This met with some opposition as a number of the property owners object to paying for another pavement before the guaranteed period had expired. This called a halt on all proceedings and since that time nothing has been doing.

A Choice List of Summer Resorts. In the lake regions of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and the two Dakotas, there are hundreds of charming localities eminently fitted for summer homes. Among the following selected list are names familiar to many of our readers as the perfection of northern summer resorts. Nearly all of the Wisconsin points of interest are within a short distance from Chicago or Milwaukee, and many of them are so far away from the "busy marts of civilization" that they cannot be reached in a few hours of travel, by frequent trains, over the finest road in the north-west—the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway:

SILOMAN'S "OFFICERS."

Three of Them Deny Connection With His Investment Company. The actions instituted in the district court Wednesday against the so-called United States loan and investment company has caused quite a stir among certain well-known citizens mentioned as officers and stockholders. They say they never knew anything about the company, never attended any of its meetings, if it ever held any. In fact, most of them notified Mr. Siloman, the so-called manager, when they heard that their names were connected with the concern, that they would have nothing to do with it. They say that so far as they know, Morris H. Siloman, in Danvers, Mass., located the other by himself and organized a company, elected its directors and officers and started out on a population of 15,000, and let it out on a wild sea of business.

Max Meyer, posted as president of this concern, was indignant that his name should have been in connection with it, and says that when he heard about the matter he notified Siloman that he would not have anything whatever to do with the so-called company. Siloman later said, "All right, we will call another meeting and elect a new president."

That meeting, it is said, never materialized. Finally, Mr. Meyer wrote the following letter, which explains itself: OMAHA, Neb., August 2, 1896.—To the managers of the United States Loan and Investment Co., Omaha, Neb.: Being suddenly called last night by wire, and not knowing where I will return, I hereby tender my resignation as president of the U. S. Loan and Investment company, and I am glad to do so. My business requires my undivided attention and it is impossible for me to further continue in connection with this company and the office justly.

It is not wish this action understood as implying any lack of confidence in the company or its ultimate success. It is due simply to force of circumstances. Yours very truly, MORRIS H. SILOMAN.

Mr. Charles Offitt is now out of the city, but Mr. Gould, who was his law partner at the time the so-called company was known to be in its swaddling clothes, says he knows personally that Mr. Offitt never had anything to do with Siloman in this investment business, and was greatly annoyed and incensed because his name was mentioned in connection therewith. This is corroborated by a letter written by Mr. Offitt to Max Meyer, dated August 2, 1896. Therein he says that he had received a communication from Talbot & Bryan, attorneys, Lincoln, regarding some transactions in the United States loan and investment company.

He stated that this was only one of several letters he had received regarding this company, and inasmuch as he never had anything to do with the business, he did not propose to have a continuing connection with it. Mr. Offitt says, he frequently informed Siloman that he would not act as attorney for the company, and that the use of his name was an attempt to defraud the public.

On Mr. Meyer's return from New York he announced that he intended to resign his position as president of the company, and that he had received a communication from Talbot & Bryan, attorneys, Lincoln, regarding some transactions in the United States loan and investment company.

Mr. F. B. Johnson, named as treasurer, also denied that he ever had anything whatever to do with the company, and the statement that he ever had anything to do with it is all a falsehood in every sense of the word, and that consequently he could not have turned over to the company the money which the petition claims he did.

Thus ends another chapter in the career of "Golden Age" character of the United States loan and investment company.

The Great Benefit. Which people in run down state of health desire to know. Sarsaparilla is the only medicine that makes the wear strong. It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength, but Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up in a permanent way all the weakened parts, purifies the blood and assists to healthy action those important organs, the kidneys and liver.

THE SUICIDE UNKNOWN. "George Harris," Therefore, Finds Sepulchre in the County's Plot. The body of George Harris, the colored man who suicided near Elkhorn Wednesday morning, was brought to the city and taken to Healey's undertaking rooms.

A number of colored hatters were called in to identify the remains, but no one was able to do so. The body was that of a man of medium height, spare build, sharp-featured and of a ruddy complexion. He was dressed in a pair of brown-striped trousers, dark-blue coat, light hat and was wearing a pair of flannel shirts. A pull-out receipt dated August 4, 1896, was found in his pocket, stating that George Harris had performed $3 worth of labor for the day.

The pawnbroker's ticket in his pocket was issued by S. Brodsky, 423 South Tenth street, and showed that $3 had been advanced on three pairs of trousers, 2 pairs of shirts, a pair of clippers and one duster. The ticket was dated August 4, and was payable August 18.

The body was turned over to the county for burial, it being finally concluded that the man was a stranger in these parts.

A Sensible Precaution. Though disease cannot always be conquered, its first approach can be checked. But not only in the use of a medicine, but in the use of a remedy, it is recommended on the first appearance of a malady, but a wise discrimination should be exercised in the choice of a remedy.

For thirty years or more Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has been the reigning specific for dyspepsia, fever and ague, a loss of physical strength, liver, stomach and other disorders, and has been most emphatically endorsed by medical men as a health and strength restorative. It is indeed a wise precaution to use this sovereign remedy at the first signs of the early stages of disease, for it effectually counteracts it if the malady belongs to that large class to which this sterling medicine is adapted. Not only is it efficacious, but pure and harmless.

BROKE DOWN THE DOOR. Then Officer Keyser Arrested a Cowly-Headed Wife-Beater. Some time ago Mrs. N. H. Edwards secured a divorce from her husband, an engineer, on the ground of abuse and was given the possession of her children and certain property on Vinton street.

Since that time her divorced husband has not been inclined to let her alone. Whenever an occasion has presented itself he has acceded to the opportunity to threaten and abuse her.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Edwards alleges that he came to her home and assaulted her with bricks and stones, and compelled her to flee from the place with her children, and seek refuge in the home of a friend on Sixteenth street.

After she had recovered from the nervousness occasioned by this attack, she made complaint against Edwards at the police station charging him with disturbing the peace. A warrant for the man's arrest was given Officer Keyser and, going to the house on Vinton street, the policeman found Edwards with all the doors barricaded. Keyser forced an ax and broke in a door and secured his man and took him to jail.

Edwards was arraigned and pleaded not guilty. The case was set for hearing today.

ANOTHER ELEVATOR WANTED

And B. & M. Grain Merchants Talk of Building It.

NEED OF AN OMAHA GRAIN MARKET.

Ed D. Wirt, a Carpenter, Falls From a Scaffold and Sustains Injuries—Other Local News.

Some years ago the board of trade formed an elaborate set of rules for the government of the open board, which it attempted to establish after it had thrown open the chamber of commerce.

The open board was not a success. A number of grain dealers from all parts of the state attended several of the sessions. They held, however, that it would be futile to attempt to establish a grain market here without elevators in which to store the grain that might be demanded in the future.

Some time ago the subject of erecting another elevator in this city was laid before the directors of the Union Stock Yards company, and that body offered to donate, in South Omaha, a site for the proposed structure.

Nothing further, however, was done in the matter, but it is now being considered, and the subject has been receiving attention in other sections.

Joseph Connor of Plattsmouth, one of the leading men of the state, said yesterday that he intended before long to remove to this city, because he was compelled to come here nearly every day to watch the eastern market.

He stated further that an elevator would have to be built here, if for no other purpose than to accommodate the grain men on the B. & M. These men, he thought, would in which to store their grain in large quantities, and, as a consequence, suffered in comparison with those situated along the line of the Union Pacific.

The two elevators here, however, were not large enough to accommodate all the grain that would be shipped to Omaha.

The question of erecting another elevator, was being considered and D. & M. shippers were deeply interested in the matter and before long, he thought, would supply a long felt want.

If another elevator of large dimensions should be erected and run in the interests of the city, a first-class market would be established here as has already been established in live stock.

FELL THIRTY FEET. Remarkable Escape of a Carpenter on Cass Street.

Ed D. Wirt, a carpenter employed on Henry C. Clarke's new house at Twenty-fifth and Cass streets, fell from a scaffolding a distance of about thirty feet and sustained a fracture of the left arm above the elbow and both bones of the right wrist.

He was severely bruised about the hips, but in the opinion of the attending physician was not injured internally.

The patrol wagon was called and the injured man conveyed to his home at Twenty-seventh and Wirt streets, where, at last accounts, he was resting comfortably under the care of a surgeon.

ATHLETES FROM ABROAD. How They Are to be Entertained by the Bohemians of Omaha.

Next Sunday will be a gala day for the Bohemian citizens of Omaha. The formation of the western district of the National Union of Bohemian Turners will take place at Kuser's park.

This exhibition will be an event of no small importance. Fifty athletes from different parts of the west will compete for supremacy, and there will be gymnastics of a high order, such as have never been seen in the west. All the railroads containing here have reduced the round-trip rates to a fare and one-third to all who receive a certificate from the ticket agent at the starting point and have the same endorsed by the secretary of the union, Mr. J. A. Hospolsky, 1211 South Tenth street.

The greatest interest has been aroused by the announcement of this tournament and several hundred visitors from Nebraska and Iowa, principally from Council Bluffs, Saylor, Walcott, Morse Bluffs, Lincoln and other points are expected.

The best line will furnish two extra trains to take the visitors to the city. The first train, which will leave the Webster street depot at 9:30 a. m., will convey the members of said association, which will accompany them. The procession will be a large one, nearly all the Bohemian societies in the city having volunteered to take part in it.

A second train will leave at 12:45 p. m. At the park, two bands will discourse music. One will accompany the gymnasts while the other will supply dancers with choicest movements.

On Monday next the distinguished visitors will be shown around town and the festivities will close with a ball at Simunek's hall.

One or more of the Chicago contesting teams will probably visit Wilber and give an exhibition of their skill and strength.

His Accounts are Straight. An item has appeared in many state papers alleging that J. W. Holenbeck, manager of the farmers' elevator at Elmwood, is short in his accounts. In reference to this allegation the following has been received by Tim Ber:

To whom it may concern: In reference to the manner in which J. W. Holenbeck, shipping agent of the Elmwood farmers' alliance, has conducted the business of said organization, we would say that Mr. Holenbeck's dealings with the American Exchange bank of Elmwood, Neb., has been satisfactory as far as the bank is concerned, and we further state the said bank has no occasion to find fault with Mr. Holenbeck in his own private dealings as an agent of the Elmwood farmers' alliance with the bank.

AMERICAN EXCHANGE BANK, W. S. WATERS, Cashier.

To Whom it may concern: We, the undersigned members of the board of directors of the Elmwood farmers' alliance business association, desire to state that we have examined the books of J. W. Holenbeck, business manager of said association, and we found the books all right with the exception of a few clerical errors, which have been made made satisfactory to all parties concerned. We desire to state further that the reports of J. W. Holenbeck were short in his accounts with the above association are false and without foundation.

A Prohibition on the Voice. ASHPORE, Neb., August 7.—To the Editor of The Bee: The New York Voice doesn't seem to have the downy united approval of all prohibition workers. I have been a prohibition worker and my sympathies are still in that direction, but I do not believe in any agent for a moral cause debasing itself by stooping to the disreputable work practiced by the Turner lump of corruption. What possible good can be accomplished by this underhanded work? Men who were reluctant prior to the Voice's attempted exposure are now against the cause which the Voice claims to promote. The writer does not surrender principle because one person has transgressed, but if the prohibition party continues to recognize the Voice as its official organ of all honest and conscientious prohibitionists will renounce allegiance to the party. No moral party can have for its official organ a sheet that will stoop to such a course. The work of securing the business confidence of a person, then take advantage of that confidence and make it public. Betrayal of a confidence is about the worst thing a man can do. The publishing of business letters written in confidence is betrayal.

To Whom it may concern: We, the undersigned members of the board of directors of the Elmwood farmers' alliance business association, desire to state that we have examined the books of J. W. Holenbeck, business manager of said association, and we found the books all right with the exception of a few clerical errors, which have been made made satisfactory to all parties concerned. We desire to state further that the reports of J. W. Holenbeck were short in his accounts with the above association are false and without foundation.
