THE BOHEMIAN TURNFEST.

An Excellent Showing Made by Home and Visiting Teams.

INTEREST AMONG THE SPECTATORS.

Early in the morning Lutofsky's band marched to the hall of the Knights of St. Georgeon Williams street between Fourteenth and Fifteenth where they met that organization. With them, they proceeded to Kaspar's hall where they met two lodges of the C. S. P. S. The line then proceeded to Simunck where it found the Turners in waiting. The procession therefore comprised the following: The band, the visiting Turners the Knights of St. George twenty strong with gorgeous uniforms, plumed hamlets and drawn sabres; Pelacky lodge C. S. P. S. forty strong from Omaha; Omaha lodge of the same order, thirty strong, each of the latter two wearing red sashes triamed with white and silver; South Omaha lodge C. S. P. S. comprising twenty-five men with red regalia trimmed like that of their brethren from Omahn: South Omaha Turners twenty-five strong together with the Omaha Turners who numbered about seventy-five.

The procession marched from Simanek's hall on Thirteenth street to Douglas, thence to Fifteenth and thence to the depot, where the first train was taken for the grounds, leaving there at 10:15 a. m. The train was loaded with excursionists, as was also the second one, which left the depot shortly after noon.

Ruser's park was crowded with the excursionists and nothing had been omitted which might in an innocent manner contribute to the pleasure of the people. The came fakir was on hand, as were also the darkey, who bared his head in a tempting manner to induce unsteady marksmen to aim antique eggs at his curly pate; Helen's babies in black;

Joseph Pecival.

All of these men did excellent work, making a most imposing appearance and impressing everybody with their gentlemanly demeanor and their remarkable skill in their movements upon the bars and horses. It may well be doubted if a finer class of young athletes ever appeared upon any ground. They were all young, with handsome faces and muscles of steel, which served them well throughout the excessive heat which beat down upon them with unrelenting fierceness. Each Turner was attired in a white rimmed with red, and tight-fitting grey pantations, with light slippers. The work of some of the young men equalist, if it not excelled, that of any kind ever seen is this city before. This was particularly noticeable on the parallel bars, on which the talent and acquired ability of the Turners both from home and abroad was admirably tested.

The Chicago team was, of course, the most distinguished, but the home lads pressed them warmly on many an important point. The class from the former city was composed of young men of the second division. of young men of the second division.

Being asked whether he thought it would pass or be neived, he most emphatically assured me that its becoming a law was a certainty. "At one moment," he said, "I was doubtful as to whether the bill would ver become law, but now I am quite certain that it will pass, but in a modified form that is, on lines formulated by Blaine of velprocity with Southern American states, The United States say, you take our corn and berland we will take your sugar, but that modification won't affect people overhere, who are clamering about their silks, and yelvets. DANISH ANTI- PROHIBITIONISTS. They Propose to Make Their Power

Felt in the Present Campaign. The second meeting of the Danish antiprohibition club was held vesterday afternoon at Wolff's hall, Twenty-second and Cuming streets. The attendance was very large and the proceedings excited the liveliest interest. All present were Danes, and the business of the meeting was transacted in the native language of the participants.

The executive committee reported that a meeting had been held last Wednesday evening, and the following committees appointed: Finance, William Neve, Christ Hansen, James Henricksen: printing, S. Gorgensen, S. Mathiesen, P. P. Schmidt; state organization, William Neve, H. Theilzard, A. Norgard; naturalization, R. Peterson, William Nove, S. Mathiesen; speakers, H. Thielzard, A. Norgard, William Neve.
The executive committee also reported a constitution which had been adopted for the government of the club. The constitution was short and to the point. The first section provided that every member should agree to vote and work against the prohibition amendment, and to vote and work for the high lisense amendment. The second section pro-rided that a written piedge should be required from candidates for governer, lieuten-ant governor and the legislature regarding heir stand on these amendments. In the third section it was agreed that all members should vote and work against all candidates who were not opposed to prohibition. The fourth and last section invited all Danish cit-izens to join in the movement.

The action of the executive committee was cartily approved, after which a short recess was taken in order to allow the members to ign the constitution. One hundred and wenty-two new members came forward to oin with the original 200. When the meeting was again called to order tirring speeches were made by H. Schoube C. Jacobson, William Neve, and several others. The speeches were all against prohibition and voiced the sentiment of the Danes, who were bitterly opposed to "bootlegging:" they wanted the saloons run open and abo board and not in a sneaking manner. All of the speeches were loudly applauded. The club has ordered 10,000 copies of the above constitution printed, and these will be distributed among the Danes in the state. It is also proposed to send three men through the state to work up clubs in all the towns and seitlements, and it is the intention, as expressed in the meeting yesterday, not to stop until at least 10,000 members are secured, and prohibition defeated.

Another meeting will be held next Sunday 13 p. m. at Washington hall, to which all Danish citizens are invited.

Army Orders.

Leave of absence for fifteen days has been granted Lieutenant Edward Anderson of the First cavalry.

A board of survey has been appointed to meet at Omaha, 10 o'clock a. m., on Tuesday, to examine into, report upon and fix the responsibility for the loss of 200 cases of maeral oil shipped from Omaha, Neb., to Ogder, Utah, on bill of lading No. 91, dated July 9, 1890, for which Captain John Simpson, assistant quartermaster, United States army is responsible. Captain James C. Ayres, ordnance department; Captain Douglas M. Scott, commissioner of subsistence, and First Lieutenant Charles M. Truitt, Twenty-first infantry, aid-de-camp, have been detailed for the board.

Did It Just for Fun.

A. J. Mack, the South Omaha tobacconist, called at THE BEE office with his wife yesterday, and wished the article referring to his escapade Friday night corrected. He stated that he had bought a revolver for his wife to use on account of the number of tramps, etc., which infested the neighborhood, but he kept the weapon in his pocket for safety. Friday night he pulled the gun from his Friday night he puned the suife, "just for packet and pointed it at his wife, "just for fun," as he expressed it. She was frightened and ran away. He claimed that he was drung, and said he had extinguished the fire himself before the department arrived.

Michigan Press Excursion.

The Michigan press excursion will arrive in the city this evening from Denver over the Union Pacific. There are fifty-four persons n the party. It is intended to drive the guests about the city, showing them the various points of interest, with possibly a trip to the South Omahn stock yards.

Personal Rights League.

Another branch of the Personal Rights ague was organized yesterday at Miliard, with a membership of nearly 200. P. J. Lund, president, and John Baumer, wice president of the local branch, and Charles Herbertz, member of the state executive comnittee from this county, were present from this city and assisted in organizing the new branch. The majority of the members of the Millard league are farmers, who represent the public sentiment of that part of the Funeral of H. B. Welsh.

The funeral of H. B. Welsh took place at 4:30 yesterday afternoon from the residence of his son, W. L. Welsh, 607 South Twentyminth street. Rev. J. M. Wilson, paster of the Castellar Presbyterian church, officiated. A large number of the friends of the deceased were present and contributed many beautiful floral offerings. The remains were taken to Dubaque, Ia., for interment.

The Damage Was Slight.

A blaze in M. Toft's row of one-story frame stores on Park avenue, between Poppleton and Woolworth avenues, called out the fire department about 3 o'clock yesterday after-noon. The rooms in which the fire was located were unoccupied, and the orgin of the blaze is a mystery. The damage will not blaze is a mystery. The amount to more than $50.

MOST OF THEIR CANDIDATES UNKNOWN.

It Is Freely Predicted That lown Will Roll Up One of Her Old Time Majorities Again This Fall.

Drs Moines, Ia., August 10 .- Special to FIRE BEE. -The ticket nominated by the procrats at Cedar Rupids hast week is remarkable only for its weakness. Only three of the nominees, so far as I have been able to discover, were ever heard of outside of their own precincts. The head of the ticket, W. H. Chamberlain of Independence, for secre tary of state, has been a member of the lower house of the legislature for the last three ses tions, and has no record of note. His chief use in the legislature seemed to be to secure an appropriation for the Independence asylum, which he accomplished by logrofling methods. He is a general merchant, and has been fairly successful in business, but as a speaker or intelligent politician will be no match for his republican opponent, Hon. W. M. McFurland, Cyrus H. Mackey, for atterney general, is a bourbon of the old school, and is really astrong than and would make a good official, but he can hardly hope to carry the day against so shrewd a politician and good lawyer as Attorney General Stone. The chief contest will be between Hon. Peter A. Dey, present railway commissioner, and Captain Luke, his republican opponent. Mr. Dev has been a member of the board since its organization, and has always been directs organization, and regarded as the strongest member. There would be little surprise if his personal population to the personal population of the personal population of the personal properties him. So larity should succeed in re-electing him. So far as the balance of the ticket is concerned, however, the general opinion seems to be that there is hardly the ghost of a show. It is freely predicted that Iowa will roll up one of her old time majorities again this fall.

The nominaton of Hon. George R. Struble in the Fifth district to succeed Congressman Keer, seems to have been an especially good one, and the republicans all over the district are sending congratulations. He was born in New Jersey fifty-three years ago, and came to Iowa in 1836, first making his home at Iowa City, but in 1857 removing to his present home at Toledo. He has been a lawyereversince 1800, a portion of the time on the circuit bench. He represented Tama county in the Eighteenth and Nineteenth general assemblies, being speaker of the lat-ter. The democrats talk strongly of nomi-nating Speaker Hamilton of the last legisla-ture to ran against him. The district has about two thousand republican majority. The nomination of Senator Barnett of War-on county by the farmers' alliance and other abor elements in the Seventh district for congress, probably pits one of the strongest opposition leaders in the district against Capcain Hull. There is still doubt that the demo-grats will endorse him, as it is anything with them to beat the republicans. Colonel Budd, the disgrunted Marion county republican, still poses as an independent cardidate, but tain Hull. There is still doubt that the demostill poses as an independent cardidate, but the will do little harm. Withnearly three housand majority at his back, Captain Hull

General J. B. Weaver will undoubtedly be the democratic and combined opposition can-didate against Major Lacy in the Sixth dis-trict, and the fur will fly this fall. Major sacy has made a good record in congress, but the Sixth district is exceedingly doubtful nd may go against the republicans this Took Snap Judgment. RED OAK, In., August 10 .- [Special to THE BEE.]-At the close of the republican county convention here yesterday, and after at least two-thirds of all the delegates had left the hall, a motion was put and carried endersing Silas Wisson for congress, and instructing the congressional delegation to support him. However, as the county is strongly for Judge Reed, the instructions will be ignored, even on the first ballot, as the Reed men think snap judgment was taken and the delegation is a strong Reed delegation.

District Turners at Fremont.

FREMONT, Neb., August 10. - [Special to THE Bee.] -- The active turners of the Nebraska district held their regular quarterly "turn day" exercises here today. The gathering was held in Pierce's grove, adjoining the city on the west. Owing to many similar gatherings being in session elsewhere the attendance today was not so large as expected. Active turners from other cities present and participating in the exercises were as follows:

Omaha-C. Bucchner, F. Frenhauf, G. Blattert, H. Rix, C. Rehschuh, G. Stangel, J. Lincoln -Lou Hasse, Charles Schwartz, A.

Esner, O. Junge. Stoux City Eiche—R. Schneider, A. Haupt, Monasch, H. Metz. South Omahu—Frank Henri. West Point-William Berehns, William Malchow, jr., Martin Kerl, M. O. Gentzke. This forenoon these classes did a little preliminary practicing at Turnor hall. At 1 o'clock this afternoon the exercises were opened at the grove and there were hundreds of citizens present to enjoy the festivities. The turning was done under the instruction f Prof. Kostlan of Frement, who put his apils through many new exercises and inspired them with new zeal in the matter of vsical culture. The weather was all that could be desired, and the occasion was a happy one in every particular. A large deacing payillon was constructed, and the gay crowd tripped the light fantastic until late this evening.

A New Hog Complaint. BESTRICE, Neb., August 10.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—A report comes from the southwestern part of the county of a mysterious and peculiarly fatal disease among the hogs in that section. Railroad Rumors at Beatrice.

BEATRICE, August 10 .- [Special to The Bas.]-Union depot remors are again current and the subject now seems to have reached a culminating point. It has been practically agreed between the Burlington and Union Pacific to unite in this matter and they now await the entry of the Rock Island into the compact to begin work on the structure.

The well-knows lack of perfect harmony between the Rock Island and Burlington leads, however to the presumption that the former road is not especially solicitous to enter into any social combine with that road, especially in view of the fact that the Rock Island already has a handsome passenger depot of its own in easy access to the basineas heart of the city.

A Timely Rain. ORD., Neb., August 10 .- [Special to THE Brg.]-The long continued drought that has afflicted this section of the state has been broken here by a gentle but copious rain. This means a large addition to the wealth of the county, as so poor was the prospect of a sorn crop that provident farmers were ing up what little old corn was to be found in the county at 50 cents a bushel. Hay has ocen selling on the street at $5 a tor ruin is yet in time to save a large portion of the corn and also supply a crop of late hay. Good judges look for three-fourths of an average corn crop.

A Sewing-Machine Agent Meets With a Terrible Accident. LEXINGTON, Mo., August 10.- The body of urance.

Scott Coulter, as it was brought into this city this evening, presented a horrible sight. His legs and arms were all drawn up and his head looked as if it were a solid mass of blood. He had met his death at the Little Sni creek, several miles west of this city hast nightduring the severe buil storm H vas a sewing machine agent and had len Wellington in a spring wagon at about dark to come to his home scar this city. He reached the Sai bridge, a covered one, it is supposed he was overtaken by the heavy hall storm and sound refuge in the bridge. His horses became scared at the noise made by the hall falling on the bridge and ran away. The darkness was intens. Notice away. The darkness was latence. Neither he nor the horses could see where they were going. They left the mad, turning southward and going up to the banks of the creek They soon came to a place where the bluff They show came to a place where the bluffs along the creek were about fifty feet high over this the horses, driver and all went head-long into the creek. Coulter was evidently instantly killed. One of the horses remained in the creek all night and was taken out by the persons finding Coulter. The other horse regains a ground for mished the cleek that led to graing around furnished the clew that led to the horrible discovery. He leaves a wife and three children.

HEALING WATERS OF HOT SPRINGS.

Their Efficacy Proven by Many Well Attested Cases - The Wild and Beautiful Scenery in Which This Region Abounds.

Hor Spunes, S. D., August S. - Special to HEBER .- Much has been said and written bout the waters here that it seems almost like rounnee, certainly like consequention, but a short sejourn at this beautiful spot of rature's peculiar framing will convert the mos skeptions, especially so if they are rhuematic invalids, of the merits of these waters. The THE BEE. |-The Webster county teachers' are different from any others in America, no only in their ingredients, but also in the fact that the cures that have been effected are entirely without the aid of medicine or the as stance of physicians. The marvelom curs had have been performed, and corroborated by hundreds of persons of traquestioned were acity, and certified to by emisent physicians comfike fairy tales. The chemical combi nation is so perfect, that not with standing the great specific gravity, the water is as clear as crystal, through which the smallest object can be seen at a great dopth. The natural temperature of the water is 35 degrees and they are a specific for rhounatism, nervous, liver, is daey and storned diseases and have given relief in many others. Two railroads are vicing with each other to reach the springs and two first-class stage lines have all ther can do, besides ranning extras daily, to handle all the travel coming here from each of the railwads. In a few weeks, however, the latter will be completed and staging will be a thing of the past. About half a mile due west of the Minnekatta hotel on an elevated plateau that com-mands the situation for niles around and is seen for miles from the stage coach, rises the imposing structure of the solders home, conceded to be one of the first buildings of the kind in the west. It is built of cut sandstone in which the vicinity abounds. It is 132 feet long by 38 feet wide with four tower 56 feet high. The location is lovely, it stands in the midst of a grove of native pine timber overlooking the city. Battle Mounaim is in the distance, with the dark foliage of the pine backed and blended the red cliffs of gypsum proverbial to the foot hills of this vicinity, and beyond the vast ocean of prairie stretching into the diffunce until it seems to losse itself in the blue, unclouded sky. Here in this valley of the springs the panoramic view is an Eden. From Bradley's flats to the west and Mar-tin's valley to the east, nature seems to have absolutely lost itself in loveliness

No wonder that the redman for ages past elled in the pure air, but hed and found panacea for all his aliments in their boating waters, and battled for their rights with tribal foes as the fortifications that still exist on Battle mountain testify. The Seventh United States cavalry opened to the pale face a new Eldorado, Inyim Kara Butte and the dark granite crestof Harrey looked down in grin and lifest won-er on the during intruders, and thus the imagic tread of civilization opened to the western hemisphere an oasls in what was known prior to 1871 as the "Great American Desert."

No name is dearer or more revered by the Black Hills pioneers than George A. Custer's Black Hills pioneers than George A. Custer's. A prominent peak and the dirsteity on iit in the hills were named after the chivalric commander of the Seventh cavalry. The city is thirty miles north of here and will be reached in a few weeks by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad. It is the oldest and most picturesque city and of a higher aithade than any other in the Binck Hills, it was selected by Custer in July, 1874, for his cavalry carfp. There are many reminiscences of this daring trooper among the mitural avenues that lay to the cast and north of the city. Among others is his name, carved the dity. Among others is his name, carried by himself in roman characters (discovered by the writer in the winter of 1874), on one of the granite planners of Harney's peak, about seven miles from the city.

The climate of the Hot Springs rivals southern California or Colorado for nature generously fixed the barriers against the storms and blizzards in this favored valley that are proverbial in other parts of the two Dakotas. Gently undulating mountains and hills protect the valley from the winds from all directions. While the water is not so warm as the Carlsbad springs of Germany, et a comparison of the two waters shows : striking similarity, and it is believed that the main reservoir or basin, located in Stewart's addition a few humired yards from the addition a few hundred yards from the springs, that now supplies the various melicinal baths, and from which all the hot water rises, when tapped will supply water of a much higher temperature. For this purpose a company is now being formed to run a tunnel into the hill directly west of the post-office to tap this basin. The hotel accommodations of the springs will compare creditably with any in the country. They are Minneskata, Gillesnie, Stratton, Catholican, Avery and Ferguson. The two former cannot be excelled anywhere in the west. The excelled anywhere in the west. The Catholican is situated a short distance below the city. The twenty bath tubs in the busement are supplied from a spring that has the distinction of being the only one in the world containing pherphoros insolution. Lenerd & Avery, the present lesses, have performed some remurkable lessees, have performed some remarkable cares of catarrh, rheumatism and other diseases. The hot springs of South Dakota were located in 1881, when this region was a comparative wilderness. Now all branches of business are fully represented. A Methodist college, built of native sandstone, four dist college, built of native sandstone, four stories high, will be opened for occupancy in September. A Catholic college will also be under construction. Three builts are in operation. The First National was incorporated June 10. Two of the greatest trunk lines west of Chicago will soon be running into the springs—the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and the Freemont & Missouri Valley, a branch of the chicago, & Nasinwest. The a branch of the Chicago & Northwest. The route of the former incewil swal in servic grandeur the Denver & Rio Grande, or any grandear the Denver & Rio Grande, or any other picturesque route in America. It rams directly through the ecuter of the Black Hills, taking in the great fir districts of Cus-ter and Hill City, and following the great bonama belt of Lawrence county until it reaches Deadwood, the metropolis. THEY DON'T UNITE.

Iwo Independent Candidates Who

Fail to Agree on the Tariff. O'NEILL Neb., August 8 .- To the Editor of THE BEE: O. M. Kern and J. H. Powers independent candidates for congressman and governor, addressed a small audience at Atkinson yesterday. Many were drawn by cariosity to lears what these gentlemen had to offer by way of a remedy for the evils of which they complain One of the repedies suggested by Mr. Ken was to tax every man after he incommitted $50,000 so high as to make it uncomfortable. He said the actual cost of building the Union Pacific radioad was $20,000 per mile, whereas it is watered up to $100,000 per mile and then added: "We are in favor est rectaring this, and if we can it will rectar the coar of transportation one-half, and if we can out down the stockto its act all cost of $25,000 per mile transportation can be reduced to one-fifth what it is now."

He spoke at length on the cylls of the pres-cat system of taxation and claimed that a re-risten of the taxif would tend to remedy this. He expanded on the taxiff for some line.

Mr. Powers then took the from and said h much feared that his friend Ken intended t drag out the old corpse, the tariff issue, which before the people by politicians for politic If these gentlemen are going to stump the state together it would be wise for them to united little more closely on the tariff ques-tion, so that each would not make the other Mr. Powers is quite a pleasant speaker are makes each point very clear to his audience but some of his ideas appear very visionary He advocated slaw compelling banks to loss government money to the people at 1 per com

The United States Consular Convention a Success.

[Copyright 180 by derive Gordon Bennett.]
Pants, August 10.—[New York Herald Cable-Special to The Bee. Dr. St. Clair. who presided over the sittings of the United States consular convention held last week, was found by the Herald correspondent, who called upon him today, lying on a bed of sickness with a complaint of a paralytic character and hereditary, having already proved fatal to several members of his family. St. Clair was, however, much better this evening, and there is every probabability that tomorrow will see his complete recovery, though suffernur acutely. St. Clair was good enough to inform the correspondent that the immediate outcome of the convention was the appointment of a committee, which will meet at Frankfort August 20 to digest and formulate a specific report of the labors the last week, This report win be submitted to St. Clair, who will transmit it to headquartees at Washington. This special committee is to be composed of the following gentlemen: St. Clair, A. K. Tingle, supervising agent of treasury; Colonel O'Neill Hull, of the same department, Consul General Edwards of Berlin, Captain Frank Masen, consul general at Frankfort, and Dr. Crawford, onsal general to Petersburg We learn from an exceptional source that revious to adjourning the convenion drew up and unantimously approved a resolution commutating forisil General Rathbone of Paris on the high efficiency displayed by him in the exerise of his official daties, and thanking him or the pains taken to make the stay in Paris f the members of the convention comfortade. Speeches to the same effect vore made by several members, and among the number the president, who referred to Rathbone's high standing at he consular department and characterized is retirement as a public loss,

The convention was the direct outcome of databone's effort and suggestions to the state department and that its results are onsidered eminently satisfactory.

BEATTHE PRESCHER.

Father Saponara Loses $3,000 to New York Confidence Men. New York, August 10.- Rev. Peter Saponf the Italian Roman Catholic church of Our Lady of Mount Carnel in North Eighth street, Williamsburg, is looking for three swindlers, two of whom captured $3,000 of his money very easily last Wednesday. He is a comparatively young man who has been working very hard in Williamsburg. He de-posited his savings for the last fifteen years, amounting to $1,000, in the Emigrant Indus trial Savings bank in Chambers street, in this city. About six weeks ago a man called on him at his home in Havemyer street, was well dressed and a good talker. He lected to tell Father Superara his name. He neg-"I non a resident of Williamsburg," he said, and I am perfectly familiar with your name and your good work there. I want you to take charge of an orphia nephew of mine. His father was a wealthy man in Louisville, Ky."

To Police Captain Short of the Bedford street station the priest told this story;
"Some time are I get acquainted with an old man who wished me to take care of and educate his boy. He visited no several times cate his boy. He visited me several times, finally as came and said the boy had sickened and died. Several times thereafter he called on me and gave me to tradustand that he would give me $10,000 to help me in the church and build a house adjoining it for my occupancy. I had often explained to him the condition of my affairs and I believed everything he tolding. He said he would send condition of my affairs and I believed every-ting he told uo. He said he would send over forme some day, and he did so. I went over on Thursday, and as I was passing Breadway and Twenty-third street three men met me. They said they were enveys from the old gentleman and had his gift for me in a tin box, and I saw what I hought was a raid of groupy. They said it was $10.000. was a roll of money. They said it was $10,000. After handing metho box, one of the men said I ought to give some security, and they spoke of the money I had in the bank. I then went with them to the bank and drew the money out, $5,000, and gave it to them. They told me that when the old gentleman got the money he would know that they had delivered his gift to me, and that he would be over with the money I gave them in a few days. When I got home and epened the box all I found were these rolls of worth-

ess paper. 15 Captain Short notified the police of this city, giving a description of the men, includ-ing the old man, as furnished by Father
