

IN THE FIELD OF SPORT.

A Move Looking to the Reorganization of the Western Association.

FRANCHISES ARE IN STRONG DEMAND.

Omaha Defeats the Mountaineers by a Score of Thirteen to Two—Milwaukee Shuts Out Minneapolis—Other Scores.

St. Paul, Minn., August 17.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—Correspondence has been going on the past fortnight, looking to the reorganization of the Western association for next year. Sioux City is being money right along, Lincoln is too small and merely an experiment, and Denver is too far away to make it a desirable member. Feelers have been thrown out to Chicago and St. Louis, looking to the placing of these places in the event of a break in the American association or Players' league, but it is probable that the teams will be placed in other cities. Detroit has already signified its desire to come into the league, and Grand Rapids has also indicated a wish to favor it. It has 100,000 people, and with a winning club could make money. The other club would doubtless be located in Indianapolis, moved from there to Chicago, and with a winning club in such a league. The organization as thus mapped out would be composed of the cities of Milwaukee, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Grand Rapids, Chicago, Detroit, Indianapolis and Lincoln, with an aggregate population of 1,200,000 people.

Table with columns: City, Wins, Losses, Pct. St. Paul, 11, 1, .917; Milwaukee, 10, 1, .909; Minneapolis, 8, 2, .800; Grand Rapids, 7, 3, .700; Chicago, 6, 4, .600; Detroit, 5, 5, .500; Indianapolis, 4, 6, .400; Lincoln, 3, 7, .300; St. Paul, 2, 8, .200.

Omaha 13, Denver 5.

Denver, Col., August 17.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—Following is the score of today's game:

Table with columns: Team, Score. Denver, 13; Omaha, 5.

Earned runs—Omaha 3. Two hits—Curtis, Walsh, Newman, Hamilton. Home runs—Curtis, Walsh, Newman, Hamilton.

St. Paul, Minn., August 17.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—Following is the score of today's game:

Table with columns: Team, Score. St. Paul, 11; Milwaukee, 2.

Earned runs—Milwaukee 1. Runs scored—Pomeroy, Welch, 2. Double plays—Thompson, Shock and Jarrett; Fry and Day. Bases on errors—2. Putouts—Welch. Struck out—by Thornton 4, by Killen 2. Time of game—One hour and thirty minutes. Umpires—Griffith and Foley.

Kansas City 3, Sioux City 2.

Kansas City, Mo., August 17.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—Following is the score of today's game:

Table with columns: Team, Score. Kansas City, 3; Sioux City, 2.

Earned runs—Kansas City 1. Runs scored—Pomeroy, Welch, 2. Double plays—Thompson, Shock and Jarrett; Fry and Day. Bases on errors—2. Putouts—Welch. Struck out—by Thornton 4, by Killen 2. Time of game—One hour and thirty minutes. Umpires—Griffith and Foley.

Chicago Stockyards Gossip.

Chicago, August 17.—The announcement that the new railway transfer yards on the Shiloh track are about ready for operation brought on a renewal of the gossip today regarding the failure of the English underwriters to float the securities of the proposed reorganized Union stockyards and transfer company. The opinion seemed to be that the competition of the new railway transfer yards would seriously interfere with the profits of the old corporation and that discussion of the new railway transfer yards would inevitably result in the Illinois stockyards. When found out, the changes of the stockyards company.

Thought to Have Been Murdered.

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich., August 17.—At 2:30 o'clock this morning the body of an unknown Finlander was found on the railroad track. His head was cut from his torso and the top of his head was cut in by an ax and the skull badly fractured. He was lying on the body was lying about ten feet from the track, and it is evident that he had been murdered. No other remains were found. It would lead to his identification. He was quite well dressed, of good appearance, about six feet tall and apparently thirty-six years of age.

Emperor William Welcomed at Revel.

REVAL, August 17.—Emperor William arrived here at noon today. The Russian squadron held salute in honor of the German emperor. The Russian admiral received the emperor on landing. The city was decorated and great enthusiasm was manifested by the immense crowds in the streets. The emperor was met by the Russian minister, Count Caprivi and suite, started for Narva at 3 o'clock.

Both May Die.

SORRENTO, Italy, August 17.—At Herma's salon, in Old Ripley, ten miles south of this place, yesterday, at a dance, "Bots" Coyne and Keyser, two toughs of that vicinity, got into a fight and used knives. Coyne was hit in several places, and his physician says he will not recover. Keyser was also injured, but the left leg that will probably prove fatal. Coyne has figured in several cutting scrapes heretofore.

Shot Through the Heart.

PITTSBURG, Tex., August 17.—News was received here today of the murder of a colored woman living near Leesburg, eight miles from St. Louis. When discovered she was lying in the yard with her right chest open. She had been shot through the heart with a bird shot. Full particulars of the crime cannot be learned.

The Fire Recul.

WENONA, Ill., August 17.—Eleven houses and stores were destroyed by fire today. The fire started in a house owned by Thomas M. Gray, the heaviest assessor in town.

New York, August 17.—The stables of the Lyon brewery, in Harlem, burned tonight. Loss, $75,000. Forty-five horses were burned to death.

Victims of Cholera.

CONSTANTINOPLE, August 17.—Thirty-four persons died from cholera in Mecca yesterday and twenty-eight died in Jeddah.

ANTI-LIQUOR LEGISLATION.

Why Massachusetts Rejected a Prohibitory Amendment in 1889.

FIGURES WHICH EXPLAIN THEMSELVES.

The Fallacy of Prohibition as a Means of Checking Drunkenness and the Evils That Follow It—A Warning to Nebraska.

Boston, Mass., August 15.—[Special to The Bee.]—When Massachusetts rejected a prohibitory amendment to its constitution in April, 1889, by a majority of over forty-two thousand in a total vote of about two hundred and twenty thousand she did it out of the fullness of her experience with that style of anti-liquor legislation. She gave prohibition a very fair trial for a half dozen years, from 1882 to 1875, and its results in that time were so unsatisfactory in every way that the state has had no desire to repeat the experiment. The fact that the law was repealed, and that the constitutional amendment was overwhelmingly defeated last year, in a community of such intelligence and inclined to Puritanic ideas as Massachusetts, is a point worthy noting by the eager prohibitionists of Nebraska.

The failure of prohibition as a means of checking drunkenness is irrefragably shown by figures collected by the state bureau of statistics of liquor under the direction of Carroll D. Wright, and by order of the legislature. All the figures which follow are official, and were collected simply for the sake of getting at the truth and not to serve an argument for one side or the other. In the table below are given the statistics of drunkenness for the entire state for ten years, from 1875 to 1884, and for each year during the first five years prohibition was in force, and in the last five a license system.

Table with columns: Year, Arrests reported, Convicted for liquor offenses, Sentences for drunkenness. 1875: 20,800, 19,200, 18,800; 1876: 20,500, 19,000, 18,500; 1877: 20,200, 18,800, 18,200; 1878: 20,000, 18,500, 18,000; 1879: 19,800, 18,200, 17,800; 1880: 19,600, 18,000, 17,600; 1881: 19,400, 17,800, 17,400; 1882: 19,200, 17,600, 17,200; 1883: 19,000, 17,400, 17,000; 1884: 18,800, 17,200, 16,800.

This little table tells the whole story of prohibition failure in Massachusetts. It shows that notwithstanding the increase of population in the last, or license, half of the decade over the first, or prohibition, half, there were 14,000 less arrests for drunkenness, 13,100 less convictions, and 11,600 less sentences. Comparing 1874, the last year of prohibition, with 1879, when the license system had been fully established again, it is seen that there were 5,277 fewer arrests in the latter year, 3,989 fewer convictions, and 4,641 fewer sentences.

The statistics by cities and towns are equally instructive. In the following table are given the number of arrests for drunkenness, the number of convictions, and the number of sentences, for each city and town, in 1874, 1879, and 1884, and in one of high license years, after that system had been in force five years. Of course there was a very large decrease in the number of arrests in 1879, but notwithstanding that it will be noticed that in most of the places there was a large decrease in the number of arrests in 1884, compared with 1879.

Table with columns: City, 1874, 1879, 1884. Adams: 1874-18, 1879-18, 1884-18; Boston: 1874-15, 1879-15, 1884-15; Cambridge: 1874-15, 1879-15, 1884-15; Chelsea: 1874-15, 1879-15, 1884-15; Lowell: 1874-15, 1879-15, 1884-15; Worcester: 1874-15, 1879-15, 1884-15.

A Ticket Agent Arrested.

CHICAGO, August 17.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—Railroad managers in this city are confident that B. B. Martin, general passenger and ticket agent of the "Big Four" who is charged with the sale of liquor tickets, was convicted of violating the interstate commerce law. The circumstances were that a large party of teachers were going on an excursion to the State of Iowa, and that three persons tickets in return for their influenza in securing the party for the "Big Four." In doing this it is claimed that these persons were given "kick-back" tickets, which could certainly have given a cash compensation for the service they rendered the company, and consequently the railroads are now seeking for a way to get them to pay for the service in tickets.

Chicago Stockyards Gossip.

Chicago, August 17.—The announcement that the new railway transfer yards on the Shiloh track are about ready for operation brought on a renewal of the gossip today regarding the failure of the English underwriters to float the securities of the proposed reorganized Union stockyards and transfer company. The opinion seemed to be that the competition of the new railway transfer yards would seriously interfere with the profits of the old corporation and that discussion of the new railway transfer yards would inevitably result in the Illinois stockyards. When found out, the changes of the stockyards company.

Thought to Have Been Murdered.

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich., August 17.—At 2:30 o'clock this morning the body of an unknown Finlander was found on the railroad track. His head was cut from his torso and the top of his head was cut in by an ax and the skull badly fractured. He was lying on the body was lying about ten feet from the track, and it is evident that he had been murdered. No other remains were found. It would lead to his identification. He was quite well dressed, of good appearance, about six feet tall and apparently thirty-six years of age.

Emperor William Welcomed at Revel.

REVAL, August 17.—Emperor William arrived here at noon today. The Russian squadron held salute in honor of the German emperor. The Russian admiral received the emperor on landing. The city was decorated and great enthusiasm was manifested by the immense crowds in the streets. The emperor was met by the Russian minister, Count Caprivi and suite, started for Narva at 3 o'clock.

Both May Die.

SORRENTO, Italy, August 17.—At Herma's salon, in Old Ripley, ten miles south of this place, yesterday, at a dance, "Bots" Coyne and Keyser, two toughs of that vicinity, got into a fight and used knives. Coyne was hit in several places, and his physician says he will not recover. Keyser was also injured, but the left leg that will probably prove fatal. Coyne has figured in several cutting scrapes heretofore.

Shot Through the Heart.

PITTSBURG, Tex., August 17.—News was received here today of the murder of a colored woman living near Leesburg, eight miles from St. Louis. When discovered she was lying in the yard with her right chest open. She had been shot through the heart with a bird shot. Full particulars of the crime cannot be learned.

The Fire Recul.

WENONA, Ill., August 17.—Eleven houses and stores were destroyed by fire today. The fire started in a house owned by Thomas M. Gray, the heaviest assessor in town.

New York, August 17.—The stables of the Lyon brewery, in Harlem, burned tonight. Loss, $75,000. Forty-five horses were burned to death.

Victims of Cholera.

CONSTANTINOPLE, August 17.—Thirty-four persons died from cholera in Mecca yesterday and twenty-eight died in Jeddah.

COMING WEEK IN CONGRESS.

Outline of the Business to be Considered in Both Branches.

WASHINGTON, August 17.—The programme for the rest of the session will be determined in the senate tomorrow if the present understanding is carried out. Quay will introduce his amended resolution tomorrow, which, under the rules, it is expected, will go over until Tuesday for action. It will not be referred to the committee on rules, but will be disposed of in the senate. When it comes up for consideration a motion will be made to include the federal election bill in the measure that shall be considered after the tariff bill is disposed of. This is expected to precipitate a debate of some length and considerable bitterness between the two wings of the republic.

DEATH BY DYNAMITE.

A Texas Fishing Party Meets With a Terrible Accident.

DALLAS, Tex., August 17.—The particulars of a horrible dynamite accident were received in this city today. Rev. Stemmans and a party of young men were on their way down to McCormick bluff, on the Trinity river yesterday on a fishing expedition. Stemmans has frequently "dynamited" the river for fish, although oftentimes warned against the practice. Yesterday he held two large dynamite cartridges in his hands and announced that he was going to use them. His companions shrunk back. Stemmans, however, only got a few feet from the stream, and a slight explosion followed. An instant later a second report fairly shook the surroundings and prostrated the entire party.

Farmers' and Laborers' Union.

SEDAWA, Mo., August 17.—The last day's proceedings of the Farmers' and Laborers' union did not end until 3:30 this morning. There was a protracted fight over the report of the committee on resolutions. The resolutions adopted declare that alien ownership of land should be forever prohibited; that all money necessary for the support of the government should be raised by a tax on the land and telegraph and railroad rates; that the national banking system be abolished; that option dealing or gambling in agricultural products be forever prohibited; that the tariff should be reduced; that the tariff should be reduced; that the tariff should be reduced.

Holston Taken to Portland.

DES MOINES, Ia., August 17.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—United States Officers Ethridge and Stedman started for Portland, Ore., this morning with Martin Holston, alias Olsson, the man arrested a few days ago for fraudulently obtaining and drawing a pension. The prisoner is very shrewd, speaks half a dozen different languages and will give the officers a deal of trouble. He is a native of Sweden and was taken to Keokuk to get the transfer papers from the federal court and tried every imaginable scheme to escape very nearly successfully. Such was not the case, however. Holston should be liberated upon bail at once arrested on the charge of bigamy, which he is charged with committing. He is already in jail for this crime. The state court convenes in September and the United States court in October; so he gets taken to the state penitentiary to get his punishment on that score first and settle with the government later. The wife in Charleston, Ill., has a similar paper prepared for him and is waiting for the opportunity to get away.

The Anti-Prohibition Car.

The anti-prohibition picnic held at Waterloo yesterday was a great success. The train, bearing 350 excursionists, left for the picnic grounds at 9 o'clock, and returning, it was met by a large number of speakers. Speeches were made by Messrs. Powers and R. A. Dick and were listened to with considerable satisfaction. The speeches seemed to make a good impression upon the Waterloolites, who were in attendance in large numbers.

A New York Banker Suicides.

NEW YORK, August 17.—Joseph A. Jameson, a millionaire employ and banker, who was stopping with his sister, Mrs. Anna Cotting, committed suicide last night by hanging. Jameson's family is out of town, and from what could be learned from friends temporary insanity was the cause of the tragedy. He was a very wealthy man, and his death is a great loss to the community.

Fatal Fight on a Train.

CINCINNATI, O., August 17.—A number of laborers employed by the Addison pipe company, located fifteen miles from this city, carried on a fight on a train yesterday, and on their return home on a train this morning, which carried a number of passengers, a general fight ensued. Revolvers were used, and when the smoke cleared away it was found that six persons had been shot, two fatally.

Thinks White is Alive.

A brother of Contractor White, who disappeared about the time of the Jefferson square fire and has not yet returned to his shop, is in the city for the purpose of learning the whereabouts of the missing man. He says that he has seen White, and that he is still alive, and that he is in the city for the purpose of learning the whereabouts of the missing man.

Officer Roughly Handled.

Officer Cox had a rough experience yesterday down on Tenth street near the Union depot. He attempted to arrest a couple of men who were fighting, but the crowd of toughs who stood about interfered in such a way as to give the officer a great deal of trouble. The men who indulged in the fight both escaped, but Officer Cox succeeded in arresting one of the men who made himself officious in assisting the pugilists to escape.

A CARAVAN OF PILGRIMS.

They Stop at the Oasis of Tangier for Rest and Refreshment.

A CORDIAL WELCOME EXTENDED.

New York City Nobles of the Mystic Shrine Hovely Entertained by Their Omaha Brethren Yesterday.

The caravan of Mecca pilgrims on their way home from San Francisco, arrived in this city last evening at 8 o'clock, having been delayed at Lincoln over three hours. The pilgrims were smiling under the treatment they had received at Lincoln, and some of the more outspoken ones of the party were not backward about expressing their displeasure. They stated that when they arrived at Lincoln they were induced to stop a short time to view the town, and as an additional inducement were shown an elaborate menu card, which told of the many good things they were to enjoy. On the strength of this the order for supper in the dining car was countermanded and the party entered carriages for a short drive. The short drive, so several of the travelers stated, extended over the entire section of country, and consumed three hours and a half, so that the pilgrims were compelled to return to their train without having had a bite to eat. Wherever they were exceedingly provoked.

The caravan of Mecca pilgrims on their way home from San Francisco, arrived in this city last evening at 8 o'clock, having been delayed at Lincoln over three hours. The pilgrims were smiling under the treatment they had received at Lincoln, and some of the more outspoken ones of the party were not backward about expressing their displeasure. They stated that when they arrived at Lincoln they were induced to stop a short time to view the town, and as an additional inducement were shown an elaborate menu card, which told of the many good things they were to enjoy. On the strength of this the order for supper in the dining car was countermanded and the party entered carriages for a short drive. The short drive, so several of the travelers stated, extended over the entire section of country, and consumed three hours and a half, so that the pilgrims were compelled to return to their train without having had a bite to eat. Wherever they were exceedingly provoked.

What a Give-Away!

When a crime is committed it is almost inevitable that the quest for the guilty party will be a long and arduous one. In the case of the robbery of the Mecca pilgrims, the quest for the guilty party will be a long and arduous one. In the case of the robbery of the Mecca pilgrims, the quest for the guilty party will be a long and arduous one.

Decorative on the Outside.

Why doesn't some chief or some artist in connection to the decorative possibilities of the watermelon? asks the New York Sun. Wonderful things could be done with its pink meat and delicate white green rind and polished black seeds. The woman has seen two simple but delicious watermelon plates, and she has the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a mouthful in each—and the rest of the French cutters that are used for potatoes, and these balls, with tiny, waxy leaves cut out of the green rind, were heaped like berries on crystal plates, and served with a sauce of the heart of the melon was cut out into tiny balls—just a