

THE OMAHA BEE
COUNCIL BLUFFS.
OFFICE, NO. 12 PEARL ST.
Delivered by Carrier in any part of the city.

MINOR MENTION.
N. Y. P. Co.
Council Bluffs Lumber Co.
Born, to Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wahl.

The Benton street war has assumed a new phase. The rains have settled the grades down, and the bricklayers have dried their tears until next election day.

The Shuett block is to be greatly improved. Another story will be added, elevators will be installed, and the building given every respect provided with the latest conveniences and appointments.

Phillip Lahr, the saloonkeeper charged by Harry Green with having sold a glass of beer to the father of John Jones, appeared before Justice Barrett for trial.

One of the latestest days in the history of the police department. There was not a call for an officer during the entire day. The patrolmen walked their beats idly, and the streets were as quiet as a convent.

The Models of this city and the South Omaha played ball at Manawa park yesterday afternoon. The Models played the best game of the season, and easily won a comfortable victory by sweeping up the earth with the oak leaves.

The jury in the case of the wife of Ben Brechler, the Omaha Hansom parker, returned a verdict of guilty to the charge of bigamy.

The unfortunate young girl, Berta Dezel, who came from Hastings, Ia., on the late train Saturday evening, was miserably cared for as possible at the city jail during the night and yesterday was taken to the Open House in Omaha where she will be cared for.

It has not been learned definitely that she was formerly an inmate of the institution for the feeble minded at Glenwood, but she was recognized by one Council Bluffs citizen who frequently does work at the institution as a former inmate.

SHE VAXQ GRASH THE WOLF. Strategy helps a Maine woman out of a perilous predicament.

One day Uncle Jones' two cows disappeared from the opening in the woods about his lonely home.

The sun was fast sinking when to her great joy she discovered the lost cow quietly grazing on a small grassy plot.

When near what is now known as the Pine house, on a ridge covered by a heavy growth of brush and small trees.

Snatching her terrified shawl from her head, with a desperate leap she threw it over the head of the wolf.

The "Beau Brummel" is the gown of the hour, says the New York World. Modistes are sent to the play in flocks to copy the long, lovely dresses displayed in the window.

The "Beau Brummel" is remarkable in more ways than one. In the first place, it requires a special kind of expression, a dancing-master, a Delsartian or, as Farrugus puts it, a "professor of music, dancing and etiquette."

Every one knows that cats can see in the dark, and the reason they can do so is because of the peculiar construction of their eyes.

THE WIND CAVE. A Recent Visitor Tells About a Black Hills Wonder. H. B. Swain of Marquette, one of the best known mining men of Upper Michigan, was in Milwaukee the other evening, on his return to the Black Hills, where he intends to settle.

Guides are necessary to any one exploring the cave. "The entrance," said Mr. Swain, "is marked by a monument of limestone about twelve feet high and twelve feet at the base.

Proceeding into the cavity I saw a number of large passages and grottoes, all decorated with stalactite formations.
