Marriage licenses were issued vesterilay to James P. Cowan of Harrison county and Mary Addison of Hinwatha, Kan., and to A. Buchanan and Lou Ousley of this city.

David Lawler, aged seventy-three, died at his residence in Boomer township yesterday. and will be buried this afternoon from the old Honey creek, north of Crescent. Old age was the cause of death.

The New Pacific hotel is making some very desirable improvements by the addition of new tollet rooms and modern closets. The old wash room has been torn away and the new additions will be built on the site of it.

A petition for divorce was filed in the dis-trict court resterday by W. A. Coulter, ask-ing to be relieved from the marital obliga-tions he had pledged to Mary Coulter several years ago. The grounds upon which the action was brought were desertion and cruelty.

In the district court yesterday the divorce case of Mrs. Casady against Judge J. P. Casady was called. A motion for continuance was made by the defendant. The request for postponement was based upon affidavits show-ing that the health of the defendant was very frail and that he was utterly unable to ap-pear in court and defend the suit. The continuance was granted.

The Council Bluffs policemen are making ready for the cold waves. Arrangements have been made with an Omaha house to farnish them with winter overcoats. The Bluffs merchants, who are expected to buy tickets for every ball and keep up their full payment of taxes besides, are naturally grumbling a little, especially as they claim that they had no opportunity to bid on the job.

Colonel Reed of the Manawa motor line is very much lickled over an exceedingly origin al expression that was made to him on Sunday by a tall, pompous looking individual. The man came into his office at the lake, and thrusting his thumbs into the armholes of his vest remarked: "Say, Cap, canyou tell me who is the chief guy of this fake!" The good-natured colonel forgave the man the personal thrust on account of its originality.

Jimmie Davis, the legless boy hero who has saved the lives of several people at Lake Manawa during the past two years who would have drowned but for his successful efforts to rescue them, has returned to Tabor Agenerous public in recognition of his heroism, has sent the little crippled boot black to the college to be educated, and he has already spent one year there. He is a bright and hard working student, and gives excellent promise for the future.

The funeral of little Harry Shugart will take place from the residence, 250 Washington avenue at 10:30 this morning, the Rev. D. C. Franklin officiating. Lest there should be some apprehension that there is danger of contagion the attending physician anthorizes the statement that death resulted from amenia, loss of blood. The child had the diphtheria several months ago and recovered from it. The friends of the family need fear no danger from attending the funeral.

Death released little Harry Shugart vesterday from long and patient suffering. The little fellow was the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Shugart of Shugart & Co., and he was one of the victims of diphtheria when the disease was so bad here a few weeks ago. Every one of Mr. Snugart's little family were stricken with the disease and it was thought that they had all recovered from its baleful effects, but the child continued to suffer, and gradually grew weaker and weaker until death came yesterday afternoon. Wherespon Judge Ransom Wheels Into Line and the Solitary Policeman Brings Up the Rear of the Procession.

With the exception of the council, Florence is today without a municipal government.

The common council of the town had a meetinglast sight, and when it adjourned any number of official heads rested in the basket.

MayorTracy, who is now in basiness in this city, was the first to put in an appear. ance at the council chamber.

He was mad. In fact, he was loaded for bear, and stated that the ice would be several inches thick throughout the region where his saturic majesty presides before he would resign. The mayor changed his mind, however.

All of the councilmen-Messrs. Walker, Reynolds, Brown and Lorson-were in attendance, and after Mayor Tracy had delivered hisspeech and vacated the hall President Walker called the meeting to order.

It was accepted by a unanimous vote. President Walker drew a paper from his pocket. This document was the resignation of Mayor Tracy, which was also accepted. The clerk took a turn at presented resigna-tions, and handed over one from Justice Ransom and one from William M. Tracy, a special policeman. These went the same way as the others.

way as the others. Justice Ransomasked for the floor, and as there was nothing small about the councilmen, he got whathe asked. There was trouble on theold man's mind.

He said that he had resigned and that The BEE hal "scooped" the council, as it had published the fact in advance of the official notice. He said he had not seen any hand writing on the wall, but had heard any num-ber of falsehoods. He said he would like to give the history of all cases he had passed upon. A member of the council stated that the body did not care to listen to a recitation of ancient history. This squelched the old man, but he got to the front and asked to withdraw his resigna-

President Walker told himit was too late.

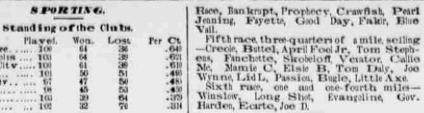

The judge was equal to the emergency, and, pulling a resolution from his pocket, he passed it up to the clerk with the request that it be read and adopted. It was to the effect that Ransom had attended to his duties, and that many of the statements regarding his official actions were false. "This is not signed," said President Walker. "I'll sign it," said Mr. Brown. The document was then made out in due form and to please the old gentlemin it was adopted, after which he stroked his hair and went out into the damp night, a private citizen, while the council divided the city into two wards and then adjourned.

The appeal was heard and the inter-shal directed not to interfere. The matter came up in the council at the meeting on Taesday night, when the ensurement and the structs reasserted the city's filled the stove and spilled a lot of gasoline on the floor while doing it, and without removing it or waiting for it to evaporate she lighted the stove. An explosion was the result, which ignited the fluid in the reservoir and set the woodwork of the kitchen on fire. Another girl or woman pickel up the stove and carried it into the yard where it burned itself out without doing any more damage.

In the meantime an alarm had been turned in from box 54, and in a few seconds the de partment was on the ground, and a small quantity of water doused the glimin the kitchen. The damage was confined almost exclusively to the gasoline stove, and will not exceed altogether $5. But the first departments suffered a serious loss. No. 3 hose cart, which old Pat takes so stardily to all the fires, was completely wrecked. Sanderson and Wicks were the wrecked. Sanderson and wrecks were the only firemen riding upon it, and when Broadway was reached and the wheels struck the motor tracks the jar broke the axie close to the hub of the right wheel. Sanderson was driving, and when the cart went down he was thrown is front of it and marrowly escaped death or serious injury. When the accident happened the intelligent old horse knew it was time to stop, and h stopped like an air brake, with Sanderson lying beneath the cart. Another foot fur the would have crushed him on the granit e pa axle and an old fracture at the point when break occurred. The cart was ruine and will be relegated to the junk shop. One great element of expenditure is pension legislation, which is not understood in New England, and the the grade and the fill that has caused them a great deal of damage and inconvenience and character of it is not fully appreciated. With us the soldner is comparatively content with what he has received and with what is promised him in the near future. But in the west there exists a different feeling. The are now watching a new fight the council has gotten into with some of the property owners who heretofore were inclined to be passive. The trouble is confined to the west side of the street on the block lying between Wash-

A MUSEM ENTS.

The Carleton opera company gave two performances yesterday, "The Brigands" at the matinee and "The Queen's Lace Handkerchief" last night. The audience was not as large vesterday afternoon as the excellence of the performance warranted. Last night, however, the house was comfortably filled and the second performance of "The Queen's Lace Handkerchief" was much stronger than on its first production. The principals were more at ease and the work of the chorus much more satisfactory.

Ollie Redpath has been having a fair measure of success this week at the Grana in her comparatively new play, "The Firemen's ward." With a little judicious culting the play could be made as strong and interesting as any of the modern metodramas now on the boards. Miss Redpath is a very bright little woman and has received many complime here for hergenerally acceptable work. The engagement closes tonight. Mrs. Wiaslow's Soothing Syprap reduces inflammation, while children are teething 25 cents a bottle.

RAIDED THE GAM BLERS.

Eighteen Knights of the Green Cloth Taken from the Turf.

Rochester.....4 0 0 1 0 1 1 0 *-7 Hits-Columbus 8, Rochester 9. Errors-Columbus 1, Rochester 3, Batteries-Knauss The police made a very successful raid last night upon a bevy of gamplers over the Turf Exchange saloon at 1306 Douglas street. Suspicious movements had been noticed the room over the Turf on Tuesday night, so Chief Seavey had a search warrant issued yesterday, and last night about 10:30 Officers Horrigan, Bloom, Cullen, Graves, O'Gorman and Mostyn went to the place, and after guarding every possible means of escape, they went up the stairs and found the door locked and heavily barred. Through the "look out" they could see the crowd inside around the gambling tables. With a heavy crowbar Officers Bloom and Mostyn battered down the door and captured the entire crowd, eighteen in number. Three of the men made an attempt to escape by going up to the third floor and out on the roof, but the officers stationed on the utside drove them back. The men were evidently having an evening active operation with the chips, as they all had money and were supplied with the necessary devices for fare and poker. They had two faro tables, two poker tables, a largequantity of chips and some cards and

The patrol wagon conveyed the gamblers The patrol wagon conveyed the rambiers in two squads to the police station and then the gambling furniture and devices were taken to the sta-tion and put in a place of safety. There is a large safe in the room where the gamblers were caught and it is more than likely that some of the chips cards, etc., erethrown into it before the officers got nto the room.

As usual, no one could be found in the or managed any of the gambling devices or had anything to do with therenting devices of room. Most of the men are old-timers, but a few are evidently teaderfeet, having drifted in with the fair. When the crowd had their pockets
