Jacob Young's Affairs Said to Be in a Very Bad Shape.

Jacob Young, who formerly operated a saloon at 111 North Sixteenth street, is mysteriously missing, and it is believed that his business affairs have been left in a very unsatisfactory condition.

Shortly after this event the Omaha fire insurance company closed the saloon by attaching the stock and fixtures to the saloon.

Thomas Stoecker, the cigar dealer, a Chicago wholesale liquor house, and a local abstract firm have since filed attachments of the stock and fixtures to the saloon.

Stoecker & Herrefuse to make any statement as to the amount or character of the paper held by them, although it is not denied that the firm has a claim against the saloon.
