ANNOUNCEMENTS.

The A. M. Palmer company arrived from the west last evening, and opened their engagement at the Boyd, presenting a grand double bill, opening the bill with the pretty little one-act sketch entitled "A Man of the World's and closing with "Aunt Jack." This afternoon "Jim, the Penman," will be played and "Saints and Sinners" this evening. Two of these plays are new here. The new dramas have passed the ordeal of the most exacting criticism in New York city, and have enjoyed long runs there. The Palmer company is one of the best known in America.

This morning at 9 o'clock seats for the engagement of Deaman Thompson's great play, "The Old Homestead," which opens a four-nights' engagement at the Boyd on Sunday night next, will be put on sale. The cast is a strong one and the great drama will be beautifully mounted.

The attractions at the Eden Musee this week are of the highest order. A refined parlor entertainment, in which there is enough comedy and mirth to cause an hour to speedily pass. The bill is the best yet appearing at that popular resort.

At popular prices, with reserved seats at 25, 35 and 50 cents, the audience should be large.

The Standard opera company, which will open an engagement of eight nights at the Grand tomorrow evening, is the same strong organization that has been presenting comic opera with success at Denver all summer. They have a large and talented company. The opera tomorrow evening will be "The Chimes of Normandy." A change of bill will be presented each evening. The prices will be popular, reserved seats being 25, 35 and 50 cents. The box sheet will open at 9 o'clock

THE PLATTE'S MARKSMEN.

Three of Them Stand Among the Leading Shots of the Army.

The telegraph brings the information that three men from this department have secured places on the rifle and carbine army teams, and one of these stands at the head of the former, which practically includes the leading marksmen of the army. The successful ones are as follows: Lieutenant Muir of the Seventeenth infantry, the leader of the team, whose four days' firing gave him nearly fifty points more than his leading competitor; Sergeant Davis of the Sixteenth infantry, who made a score of 534 and gains third place. Both of these are upon the rifle teams. Lieutenant H. H. Wright of the Ninth cavalry made a record of 431 and secures the tenth place on the carbine.

This is considered a remarkably fine record for this department and is the second occasion on which a soldier from the Platte has stood at the head of the marksmen of the army. The last to win this distinction was Lieutenant Merriam of the Fourth infantry. This gentleman is now awaiting retirement for disability, and recently returned home after a most fortunate speculation near Spokane Falls. Spokane Falls.

Lieutenant Muir is a young man, having been bern in Michigan, and entered the academy at West Point in July, 1881. He graduated June 14, 1885, and at that time was asigned to the regiment which is now proud if his achievements. Lieutenant Wright, Light Horse Harry as he is familiarly called, was born in 1850. He was appointed from civil life December 12, 1873. He was a member of the rifle team 12, 1872. He was a member of the rife team of the department of the Platte in 1888 as also of the carbine team of the department in 1889. He is stationed at Fort Robinson.

The telegraph also brings the report of the transfer of Major Vroom, inspector general of the department of the Platte to the department of the Missouri with headquartment at St. Louis.

Pintte to the department of the Missouri with headquarters at St. Louis.

The major has been in this department since August of 1889. He will be succeeded by Major John M. Bacon of the Seventh cavairy. This officer was born in Kentucky April 17, 1844. He was appointed from civil life as second licentenant in the Eleventh Kentucky and honor. life as second lieutenant in the Eleventh Kentucky cavalry September 22, 1862, and honorably mustered out November 4, of the same year. He became second lieutenant of the Fourth Kentucky cavalry November 5, 1862, and was promoted to first lieutenant February 1, 1863. He became captain of the same year on March 15, and major November 20, 1864. He was honorably mustered out August 21, 1865, and appointed captain of the Ninth cavalry July 28, 1866 and accepted January 14, 1867. He became major of the Seventh cavalry April 14, 1884. He was brevetted major for gallant services at Resuca, Ga., In the war of the rebellion, he served in the army of the west and participated in the Atlanta campaign of 1864. He served in the department of Texas until 1871 and was in Washington as a member of the staff of General Sherman until 1884. He served then eral Sherman until 1884. He served then with his regiment in the department of Da-kota till 1888 and in the department of Mis-souri until 1890. He is at present in Fort Riley, Kas. He is a man of medium height, stout build, well-known and appreciated by all his associates in the army.

It has not yet been decided when he will report at headquarters.

Major Vroom is now in Weshington where he is connected with the office of the inspector-general of the army. He is expected to return soon and make mynaration for his o return soon and make preparation for his leparture to the department of Missouri.

MUST REPORT DAILY.

Physicians to Be Compelled to Report Immediately All Deaths of Patients. City Physician Gapen was asked if he didn't think it would be much better to have the deaths of the city reported daily rather than by the month as is now the practice. In reply he said:

"I certainly do, and on April 25 I proposed and submitted an ordinance with reference to the matter. It provides that the physician report every death as soon as it occurs, just as he is now obliged to report contagious diseases.

"The simplest and most thorough method is to begin with the sexton at the cemetery and prohibit everyone from handling a body without a permit from the health depart-ment. A report of the death should come into the office first, before the body is allowed to be removed either for burial at home or abroad. This would necessitate an immedi-the doctor was asked.

"No, sir," was the reply. "We are not trying to do nearly so much as is being donenot 'trying' to be done—in other cities the same size of Omaha. It is a fact, however, that the board of health is attempting to do a great deal with very little funds. We ought to be quarantining these contagious diseases, to be quarantining these contagious diseases, of which there are forty five cases in Omaha today. We should be systematically inspecting the sanitary condition of the streets and alleys. We should have a searching and thorough inspection of milk. The garbage is not being attended to as it should. But the fact is that a sanitary system such as is importatively needed in our city today cannot be maintained for less than system such as is imporatively needed in our city today cannot be maintained for less than $10,000 or $40,000 a year. At least eight in spectors should be employed to keep it in order. And it is the most valuable, the most paying thing the city could possibly have. People won't come here to live as long as we are situated as we are. There is no better test of the enterprise and intelligence of a commanity than its sanitary condition. Intelligent people don't wait for sickness to come in and decimate them—they ward it off, they know how much better the ounce of preventive is than the pound of care. If our sanitary condition was what it is in other cities the size of Omaha, wewould escape attacks of certain kinds of sickness.

"As the case now stands, I don't think per-escape attacks of certain kinds of sickness.

"As the case now stands, I don't think perhaps that there's any blame to be laid at any one's door. The money isn't in the treasury to do more than we are doing. My ambition is simply to bring Omaha into line with the other cities of her size. I am not trying to put her ahead of them. Omaha has toe good a reputation for solid growth to lay behind any longer in a matter of vital importance.
