The parade by the Omnha wheel dub last hight as the in augural demonstration to the tournament which opens at the fair grounds today, was a beautiful and impressive affair

There were just 132 wheels in line, the majority of them elaborately decorated. The versi-colored lasterns carried by the riders made a fine effect, and at frequent intervals along the line of march the boys were greeted by the hearty cheers of the speciotors. The parade was indeed a most creditable affair, and the wheel dub is to be congratulated upon their elegant riding and handsome appearance. There were many visiting wheelmen in line, and they were manimous in the declaration that it was the grandest paradein which they ever participated Cheyenne Races.

CHITENNE, Wyo, Sept 18.-[Special Telegram to Tag Egg.]-The most exciting event of today's racing at the fair was the hundle. The race was for a beautiful silver con offered by the Wroming association, restricted to horses owned in Colorado or Wyoming three months previous to the race. The distance was a mile and the number of urdles five. There were seven entries, Adam, a Denver horse, selling a hot favorite a the pools. The horses get a good start, but in going over the first hurdle Bedauin's rider failed to pull his horse together in good shape for the rise. The horse consequently came down stif-legged and the rider, John McCormick, was flung iolently to the ground. Ariosa was at edouin's heels when he made the lap, and consequently larded upon Belouin's riter with fearful force. Both horses and men were mixed up in terrible confusion for a few ninutes. The men were soon picked up and arried from the track. McCornick's main njuries were received in the small of his ack. The extent of them cannot be fore-old, but it is believed he received internal lajuries. He is now in the hards of a physician. The other rider, Pearce, escaped with a badly bruised leg. Two other horses, Adam and Polk, bolted the track. Cocottewonthe race, Banta second and Royal third. Time-212.

The polo poor rate was an exceedingly protty affair. It was confined to gentlemen riders and consisted of a half mile dash. Vis-count, ridden by Mr. Iselin, won, Margaret socoad and Wyoming third. Time-3. In the three-quarter mile dash Miss Dolores won, Mart Walden second, Gypsy Baron

IMPORTANT RAILROAD DEAL.

The Santa Fe Secures the Option on the Rio Grande Western.

DESVER, Colo., Sept. 18.-[Special Tele gram to Tan Ban.]-Your correspondent today saw acopy of a cablegram to General Manager Douge of the Rio Grande Western, in which the fact was announced that the SantaFe had secured the option on the Rio Rrande Western line, but when it was at tempted to interview him he declined to talk. There is nodoubt that the Rio Grande West ern is involved in the Midland deal. Manager Collbran of the Midland talked freely about the sale of the line, and says he wonders that it was not made public some days ago. The Aspen and all western Colorado, and gives them a through route from Chicago to Ogden. The effects on Colorado and transcontinental traffic are yet to be realized. They will certainly be far reaching. If the Rio Grande Western option is consummated, the Deriver and Rio Grande, which has always had the Western or connection at Grand Junction, will cease to be a through line and both the Burlington and Rock Island will fail to reap the advantages they expected from the new broad gauge down the Grand river, only thirteen miles of which remains to be completed. With the Midland and Rio Grande Western the Santa Fe becomes a factor in Colorado raffic, whose importance cannot be ignored Illinois Central Stockholders. HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 18 .- A meeting of he dissatisfied stockholders of the Illinois Central road here today was largely attended. Francis B. Cooley, ex-president of the Ex-change National bank, James G. Batterson, president of the Travelers insurance company, and James N. Nichols, president of the National fire insurance company, were appointed a committee to represent the Hariford stockholders and others who may send proxies. The object is to oppose an increase in the capital secure home management, economy in the conduct of the road

MET DEATH ON THE TRACK.

The Body of a Woman Found on a Bridge Near Valparaiso.

THE CIRCUMSTANCES ENTIRELY UNKNOWN .

Yesterday's Proceediags of the North Nebraska Conference-The State Tennis Tournament - Other State News.

VALPARAISO, Neb., Sept. 18.- [Special Telergam to THE BRE.]-The trainmen passenger train No. 43, from the east, at 1:15 this afternoon, reported that the body of a woman was found on the track about eight miles cast, but as she had evidently been killed by some of the earlier trains the body was left as they found it. On treaching this place word was immediately telographed to the coroner. Justice Bays and L. W. Cramer took the outgoing passenger, which was ready to start, and on reaching the spot found the oody of a woman of forty-five or fifty years of age lying upon a bridge. Bays and Cramer, with the help of the conductor and brakeman, lifted the remains and laying them on a board placed it in the _bagg age car and took them to Weston, where they left it in the freight room to await the arrival of the coroner. After the arrival of the body at Weston hundreds of people viewed it and no one recognized it in any way, but it was sup-posed to be a woman who was brinzing din-ner to her husband, who was working in town. It is supposed that she was killed early in the day before the rain, as the blood had washed away. From the direction which the woman was dragged, it is believed that she was struck by the switch engine, which backed from here over to Weston this morning, but not a shreed of anything appears morning, but not a shred of anything appears on the trucks or brake heams of the engine to indicate that such was the case. Altogether it is a mystery which only the closest investigation will solve.

Methodist Conference at Wayne.

WAYNE, Neb. Sept. 18,- Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-At the forenoon session of the Methodist conference the first thing attended to was the reading of the minutes of yesterday's session and the approval of the journal, which made apparent the progress of the business of the session. Dr. J. B. Maxfield, presiding elder of the Norfolk district, read a very carefully prepared report of each charge in his field, altogether showing a great internal growth by additions to the membership and the building of new houses of wor-ship and new parsonages. He also stated that several new preaching places must be occupied and organized, giving the people pastoral service at once. Rev. A. Hodgetts, president of the Elkhorn Valley district, pre-sented and read a preset. Likewise making ented and read a report, likewise making plain the progress of the work in this com-paratively new region, giving some idea of the sacrifices and toll of the heroic men who are building up the frontier moral and re-are building up the frontier moral and re-ligious garrisons. The question, "Who Are the Super-annuates?" was asked, and it was noticeable with what feeling and sympathy mention was made of the infirm preachers who have arrived at the age where they are no longer able to do effective ser-vice in the ministry, many of whom are now really needy. A collection was taken among the preachers to provide present relief for one of such. The young preachers who are undergraduates, but licentiates, were reported as to the thoroughness acquired in their studies, most of whom did themselves credit as to their ap-plication. Neither iffiterate nor lazy young men can find a place in a Methodist field of labor any longer. The place for holding the next session of the annual conference was, on motion, brought before the body for settlement. An animated discussion was participated in by several preachers. Two places were put in nomina-tion-First church, Omaha, and Grand Island, Finally the vote was made unani-mous in favor of Omaha, Preliminary to the session of the conference a reception was held at the Methodist church last evening to welcome the preachers to the hospitality of the homes of the people of this theriving little city. In behalf of the of the church the welcoming address was made by Mr. D. C. Main, who very felicit-ously alluded to the little city and small aud-ience room of the church, both of which on ordinary occasions served their purposes well, but on an extraordinary occasion, like the meeting of an annual conference, there is required on the part of the visitors a willing ness to be crowded a little, and that the citizens were glad to see them and would spare no pains to make the stay of the preachers Hon. Frank Fuller, state senator, made an address in behalf of the city. He alluded to the potency of the ministry in moulding pub the sentiment in favor of morality and virtue; they lead all moral reforms and are in the forefront in antagonizing everything in the way of an elightened civilization. He said he thought there should be more politics in our religion and more religion in our politics. Dr. J. B. Maxfield replied on the part of the on fermice to these very cordial words of wel-come. The doctor was in a mood to be funny and kept the audience in a cheerful spirit mest of the time. He said that if the keys of the homes of the city were given us, as the first speaker in timated, we will indulgo in the mod things of their larders. good things of their larders. McKeighan's Standing in Clay County CLAT CENTER, Neb., Sept. 18.-[Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-In this county, where the alliance is over one thousand strong, and where the question of McKeighan's record has figured quite prominently of late, THE BEE correspondent took occasion to invoice McKeighan's strength today among the alliance farmers who are attend-ing the county fair. In the first place it was ascertained that democrats in the alliance are still democrats and are red-hot for Mc-Keighan. Among the republican members, however, it is the opposite. They were dis-satisfied from the beginning at his nomination, and since the charges of embezzlement and drunkenness have been made and proven against hum there has been a rapid falling away from his standing. In several precincts he will get only one to five republican votes. His refusal at Suiton and Fairbury to an-swer the charge of embezzlement is only equaled by the impadence of the man who said, "The public be—" Delegates are going every week to see McKeighan's record at Red Cloud.

Dill, "The Thrilling Orator of Kansas," "The Favorite of the Women's Christian Temperance Union," The Parents' Hope and the Children's Friend," with the mottoon his posters, "The World for Christ," has been holding prohibition meetings here for a week or more in a tent. At the first meeting he invited all the young ladies who were singers to come up on the platform. Among the number was a Miss Underwood, Among the number was a Miss Underwood, who is very pretty and a lady. But Dill seemed to think he could "make a mash" and invited her to go to Gibbon and stay all night there, as he was to deliver a lecture in that town in the evening. She refused his offer and told her father. On Dill's return to Shalton Mr Ludenmond demonded on one Shelton, Mr. Underwood demanded an explanation. Dill said the lady lied. Her father thereupon seized the prohibition ranter and "pasted him one," and probably would have given him a good dressing but some one interfered. After Dill had agreed to apologize Mr. Underwood let him off, but demanded and received awritten apology. Dill has made more friends for license than for prohibition. He is a married man with rram to THE BEE.]-The most prominent feature of the four days' meeting of the Holt county veterans was the address, last evening, of Tom Majors, republican candidate ror lieutenant governor. The Nemaha orator was received with open arms by all the old soldiers, and he made them a speech that went to their hearts and fired their enthusiasm to a greater degree, probably, than for years. County Judge Lowe and others made short and entertaining addresses. Today's programme opened with a court martial, at 10 a. m. of two deserting soldiers, who were found guilty and sentenced to be shot at sunrise tomorrow morning. On account of the prevailing high wind this afternoon, the re maining exercises were adjourned to the rink, where President Coppic, Colonel John-son, Rev. Bssweil and W. E. Scott made son, Rev. baswen and W. E. Scott made short and entertaining speeches, interspersed with music. Tomorrow closes the most suc-cessful reunion ever held in Holt county, notwithstanding the strong winds prevailing.

An Alliance Picnic.

FREMONT, Neb., Sept. 18.-[Special to THE BEE.]-The alliance of Dodge county held a political rally vesterday at Centerville, in the central part of the county. There was a large attendance of farmers and a big procession of eams. The speakers were Kem, Deach and Edgerton, each of whom regaled their hearers for about two hours, principally with gree ackdoctrne. A largenumber of hide-bound Fremont democrats attended in carriages with flaming banners. This contribution of emocrats to the success of the demonstration by an opposing political party has been an object lesson to many of the republican members of the alliance. They are naturally ask-ing why this solicitude of the democrats for the independent movement!

The Fillmore County Fair.

GENEVA, Neb., Sept. 18 .- Special Tele gram to Tan Bue.]-The third day of the fair opened in elegant shape this morning after a light rain last night and the attend ance was larger this afternoon than at any previous time in the history of the associaion, there being fully eight thousand people on the grounds. A great many eight thousand people on the grounds. A great many alliance peo-ple were present to hear McKeighan and Powers, but the dust of the afternoon changed everything and made one of the most disagreeable days this fall. Owing to the wind it was impossible to hear the speeches, much less catch any of their argu-ments. The racing was good and closely con-tested. Grafton bested Geneva in a vellplayed game of ball-score, 7 to 6.

As to Wills.

Even a man as wise and far-seeing as Benjamin Franklin tied up some of the money left by his will in such a way that it failed to produce the results he antieipated, says the Philadelphia Ledger. The £1,000 he left to be lent from time to time to young married artificers was tied up by such conditions that, under changed conditions of the industrial world, there was scarcely a demand for it, Instead of increasing to £131,000, as Franklin thought it might in 100 years, it did very little good, and does not now amount to more than a fifth of the estimated sum. It is another lesson, re peated so often, that men should either give their money to charities while they live and are able to superintend the uses to be made of their gifts, or should leave their executors a good deal of lattitude as to the way in which their money shall be expended for a definite purpose. Samuel J. Tilden made a very sensible will of this kind, but it was so sensible that the New York courts ruled it could not stand in law-it was too indefinite. cause the court could not find exactly what he wanted done with the money. was determined to do with it exactly what everybody knew he did not want done with it. Altogether, it is much safer and better to make charitable gifts during one's lifetime.

NORTHERN ENTERPRISE.

It is Rapidly Developing the Resources of the South.

Mr. L. H. Tower has just returned from a trip to Tennessce. He spent considerable time at Chottanooga, where he says the mining and manufacturing industries are increasing at a worderful rate. Chattanooga is now a city of about fifty-five thousand, and has 185 manu facturing establishments.

"In my opinion," said Mr. Tower, "the south is the place where the most remarkable development is going to take place in the next ten years. Just think of the resources of such a city as Chattanooza, for instance. It has coal in abundance, iron ore in un-limited quantities, and the finest timber in the country. Under such circumstances a city must certainly flourish, and it only re-quires the men and means to develop the material at nome to make it a wealthy manufacturing center." "What is the feeling in the south about the Force bill ! "

"There is but very little talk concerning it.

The southern people, without regard to poli-tics, are opposed to it, but they never open the argument until some one stands in with that line. The southern people are very anxious to have northern and of means and energy go into the south, and sectionalism is rapidly being wiped out. The southern peo-ple are fully awake to the fact that in enterprise and business activity they are behind the north, and they are anxious to catch up."
