THE appearance of Roger Quander Mills in Wisconsin foreshadows an increased republican majority.

SIX distinct shocks of earthquake have been experienced in the capital of South Carolina.

DEFEATED for renomination and his vitriol speech expunged from the Record, Congressman Kennedy may be pardoned for exclaiming, in tones of anguish, "Is life worth living?"

BRAZIL, Salvador, Guatemala and Switzerland successfully weathered revolutions within a year, yet Mexico continues plodding along in a weary, peace-ful way.

THE democrats of Maine relied upon Reed's record as speaker to carry the late election.

MONTANA insists on moving the Cheyennes to South Dakota and the latter vigorously resent the bloodthirsty suggestion.

INTEREST in Wyoming politics has abated in a measure, though the election of a United States senator by the legislature engrosses the attention of very many aspirants.

ONE of the independent candidates for congress over in Iowa stands upon a platform of his own construction.

SEVERAL democratic newspapers in the state appear to be fearful that Mr. Walquist's name and candidacy will be lost in the shuffle of the campaign.

While the general sentiment of the country is opposed to the payment of ship subsidies, the proposition for the payment of liberal sums for the transmission of the mails is very generally approved.

IT NEVER rains but it pours, the Hon. Jerry Murphy of Hennipen canal fame has lived to see the signature of the president of the United States attached to a bill which makes his canal scheme a law.

ALLAN ROOT evinces a premature weakness for Crow. Perhaps the necessities of the early future suggest the wisdom of providing for the political rainy day.

MR. POWDERLY derives comfort from the belief that the recent strike cost the New York Central company twenty million dollars.

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1900.

corrupt stores of the Vanderbilts. How is it with the unfortunate victims of the strike? Led into the difficulty by assurances of support and success, they were deserted in the end and heartlessly told, "Let every man look out for himself."

An Iowa mayor has forbidden baby carriages on the sidewalks.

ARKANSAS CULT.

Crabapple culture is said to be an important industry in some parts of Arkansas.

LEWIS NUTSHELL.

All the figuring which is being made on the chances in the presidential race of 1901 revolves into this: In order to win the republicans need but one of the debatable states, while the democrats would need all of them.

A QUESTION FOR FARMERS.

Powers is as much out of the race for governor as though he had never been nominated.

HOPE FOR THE AMERICAN FLAG.

A report comes from Berlin that Emperor William will visit America in 1898.

DEMOCRATIC "SYMPATHY."

The Adams county democrats were never so enthusiastic as when the long procession of alliance people moved down the streets of Hastings.

POOR ECONOMY.

The relief given to Ward street was not permanent.

BENNETT'S CHARGES AGAINST McKEIGHAN.

The letter of L. C. Bennett of Cowles, Neb., to The Bee, is going the rounds of the press.

DISGRACE TO LEADERS.

If Nebraska were dependent for her development and success upon such men as are the leaders in the independent movement of the condition of all, and especially the farmers, would be much worse than imagination could picture.
