THE TRANS-MISSOURI ASSOCIATION.

Jessup Secures a Judgment Against the Illinois Central-The Rock Island Bridge Case-The Southwestern Chairmanship.

DESVER, Colo., Oct. 6. - Special Telegram to THE BEE. 1-There is a hitch somewhere in the Sante Pe-Midland deal. The Midland was to have been turned over to the Sante Fetomorrow, and a meeting of the Midland was to have been held at Colorado Springs for that purpose, It was learned today that the road will not be turned over until November 15, and that the directers will meet tomorrow and adjourn until the date named. The trouble is supposed to be in some of the Midiand traffic contracts, but just what it really is remains unknown. There is evidently to be a round up of the different interests in New York.

President Moffat of the Denver & Rio Grande left for New Yorkeity last week. General Manager Collbran of the Micland starts tomorrow, and General Manager Dodge of the Rio Grande Western is going tomor

The Trans-Missouri Continued. CRICAGO, Oct. 6. - | Special Telegram to THE Ber. 1-The Trans-Missouri association, contrary to expectation, will probably be continued. It was taken for granted on all sides, when Chairman Finley accepted the Western Passengerussociation chairman ship, that the freight department of the Trans-Missouri would be merged into the Western freight. This plan had been adopted with the passenger department by merging it into the Western passenger. A meeting of the Trans-Missouri will be held tomorrow in Kansas be held tomorrow in Kansas City and a successor to Chairman Finley chosen. Only two candidates are mentioned —Chairman E.D. Moore of the Chicago car service association and Chief Clerk McFad-den of the Trans-Missouri. A reason given by at least one line for the continuance of the Trans-Missouri is that if abolished all the lines would join the Western freight association and that Gould's line might gain an advantage owing to the close friendship existing between Gould and Chairman

A Judgment for Morris K. Jessup. CHICAGO, Oct. 6 .- In the case of Morris K. Jessup vs Illinois Central railroad company Dubuque & Sioux City railroad company and Cedar Falls & Minnesota railroad company. under a bill filed in the United States circuit court, an opinion was delivered by Justice Hartin of the supreme court this morning and concurred in by Judge Blodgett, holding that while the illinois Central rankoad com-pany was not liable for rent, that the lease between the Dubuque & Sioux City railroad company and the Cedar Falls railroad con was a good and valid one; that under it pany was a good and valid one; that under it the Dubuque road was liable to Morris K. Jessup, trustee for the bondholders of the Cedar Falls road, for accrued rent now due, which has been deposited in the registry of the court, amounting to over $300,000. The court in this opinion distinctly holds that there was no fraud in the making of the lease. This case was argued last June nearly a week before Justice Harlan and Judge

Eastbound Shipments Last Week. CHICAGO, Oct. 6 .- [Special Telegram to THE BRE |- Eastbound shipments for last week showed a total of 71,823 tons against 72,584 tons the previous week and 59,246 tons the corresponding week of 1889. The lake lines beat the rail lines in tonnage last week, carrying 79,414 tons, of which 54,011 were wheat. The Central Traffic association statement on flour, grain and provisions shows a total last week of 33.818 tons against 28.871 the previous week and 24,336 the corresponding week of 1889.

Of last week's business the Grand Trunk carried 33 per cent, the Michigan Central 19 the Nickle Plate 18, the Lake Shore 14, the Fort Wayne 13, the Baltimore & Ohio 7, and the Pan Handle 6.

The Southwestern Chairmanship. CHICAGO, Oct. 6 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. | - The executive committee of the new Southwestern Railway and Steamship association met here today and balloted in vain for a chairman. It is probable that W. S. Alexander of the Great Northern can have the position if he wants it; but rather than elect another man and have him refuse it was thought best to adjourn until November when it will be known in advance whether or not the candidates voted for will accept. It was decided to establish the beadquarters of the association in St. Louis.

The Rock Island Bridge Case. CHICAGO, Oct. 6. - The Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad company made known its defense today to the suit of the United States circuit court to recover $300,-000 for toll over the Mississippi river. The company sets up the act of 1868, which is construed as a contract between the railroad and the government, that the company should have the unqualified use of the bridge on paying half the cost of construction and half the cost of keeping the bridge in repair. The company claims that it carried out its part of the contract.

A Rumor Denied.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.- | Special Telegram to THE BEL.]-A rumor was current today, based on an interview with a Southern Pacific official, and corroborrated from New York, that President Huntington was in Chicago today arranging a traffic contract with the Burlington. President Hantington was not in Chicago, nor was he expected at any of the hotels or railroad offices. Vice President Harris of the Burlington also de-pied the form nied the story in every detail.

Cutting Passenger Rates. Sr. Louis, Mo., Oct. 6. The Ohio & Mississippi and Vandalia made today the $3 rate to Cincinnati and return previously announced by the Big Four. The Ohio & Mississippi also announced a rate of one fare for the round trip from Louisville, Burlington, Ia., Hannibal, Quincy and Peoria. The same road is now selling tickets from St. Louis to points east at greatly reduced rates.

NEW MEXICO'S CONDITION.

Governor Prince Pleads for a Settlement of Land Titles. Washington, Oct 6. Governor Prince of New Mexico in his annual report makes an carnest appeal for a settlement of the question of land titles in that territory. Of 213 grants presented to the surveyor general for action testimony has been taken in 162 and reports made to the interior department. Previous to 1860 congress acted upon only forty-four cases and during the next decade has acted upon but one, and since 1879 has not attempted to consider may cases whatever. The plan of having congress act upon these claims, he says, is a preposterous fallure. During the year entries of public lands aggregated 1,773, of which 423 were homesteads and 639 pre-emptions. The total assessed valuation of property in the territory is $46,041,010 and the indebtedness $870,960. The territorial indebtedness is $570,850. Crops of all kinds are fully up to the average and a larger acreage has been planted this year than ever before. The cattle industry has quietly improved of late, the sheep owners have had a good year, and the miniindustry is in a flourishin condition, the tetal output of gold, silver, lead and copper aggregating over $4,000,000. government in conclusion makes a strong plea for statehood and says none of the territories recently admitted compared with New Mexico in population, wealth, intelligence or in even quality a conssary to build up prosperous statehood.

So great and widespread was the resultant misery and wretchedness that the English parliament resolved to invite the sufferers to go to that country, thence to be sent to its American possessions. The unfortunates responded in such numbers, mostly from Palative (Bavaria), that vessels were not numerous enough to transport them. Huts and tents were erected in the neighborhood of London, but, when sickness broke out among their occupants to an alarming extent parliament resolved to send them temporarily to Ireland. There the sufferers remained

The hotel bill last year would have gladdened the heart of many a western hotel proprieter, but Dr. Thwing announced that all corporate members of the board, on orany members, visiting missionaries, heological students "and whoever else hooses to come," would be entertained free charge. This statement was quite as un expected and fully as welcome as the com comise resolution which President Stors surgested subsequently when trying to unavel the intricacies of a heated discussion. Not satisfied with effering to beard all cre tion free, Dr. Thwing and the able commit ee of which he is chairman have made every cossible effort to have the meeting not only meeting of three representatives from the following German societies: Concordia, Liederkramz, Swiss singing society, Macnerchor, Platticutscher verein, Turners' quariette, Treubund lodges Nos. 47, 51, 53, 54, Omnha Turnverein and the Schwaben verein epresentative, but the largest ever held. The board met here is 1873 and this city was the first place honored by having the annual gathering of this noble organization upon a spot where its own missionaries had formerly worked. Preliminary to the meeting the Northwestern Congregationalist, a bright and newsyweekly edited by the Rev. H. V. Gleason, the secretary of the commitarrangements, has published supplement giving a programme of the mee ng, sketches of the various Congregational hurshes, views of some of the prominent uildings and residences and a map of the city. In speaking of the changes which the visitors of seventeen years ago will find, it says: "In 1873 Min neapols was a compara-tively insignificant town close on the frontier with a population of scant 15,000. Since then it has made rapid strides in every ma-terial direction, enlarging its borders and increasing its population eleven fold until it will scarcely be recognized as the sameplace. programme for the meeting, on Wednesday includes reports by the secre-taries and treasurer in the afternoon, and a sermon in the evening. Thursday will be given up to special papers from the prudential committee, reports of committees and addresses by missionaries. On Friday there will be reports of committees on the missions and the election of of-cers, with an address by the presi-dent of the board. On Saturday there will be a farewell address in the formoon and in the afternoon a missionary meeting for children. Foreign missions will be the general topic in the various churches on Sunday, and Dr. Storrs is expected to speak in the University Collecum in the afternoon.

The income of the board this year has been 750,000, an increase of $65,000 over last year. A larger number of missionaries and associate missionaries have been sent out this year than ever before. But in spite of this cheering report, it is possible, if not probable, there will be bad blood shown before the week is over. Last year a committee of nine was appointed "to inquire into the methods of ad-ninistration pursued at themissionary rooms in Boston, to recommend any changes which may seem to them needful and important, and report at a subsequent meeting." Dr.G. I. Walker of Hartford, Conn., is chairman of this committee, and while its members hold widely divergent views in regard to the administration of the board and the Andover theology, it is said that a unanimous report has been prepared. Another committee whose report may cause much discussion is known as he committee of fifteen, with Dr. A. J.F. Behrends of Brooklyn as chairman. It was appointed to consider the relations of the board to the churches and individuals who make it their missionary agent, and the expediency in view of the facts which they may ascertain, of securing a closer union between them, especially including the subject of the corporate members. This committee handed in a preliminary report last year which was made the text for several ringing speeches against the present policy of the board. It has not prepared its report for the coming meeting, but has sent circulars to pearly 3,000 churches and tabulated the answers and views to these inquiries: "(1) Ought there be a change in the present mode of electing corporate members! (2) If a change should be finally thought desirable and expe-dient what method of selection should be substituted in pace of the mode now is use! (3) Ought the present limit of corporate membership (250) to be enlarged! and, if so, to what number! Dr. William M. Taylor of New York, sent this brief sentence the other day in reply to

Dr. Bradford of Montelair, N. J., said:
"As represented by Dr. Sterrs, I heartily approve of the policy of the board; as represented by Dr. Alden I am unqualifiedly opposed to it. That these men differ both is onfession from Birchall regarding the killing of Benwell. The dispatch says: "It cannot be said that he has made anything like a clean breast of the murder. What he has done and all he has done thus far is to make spirit and method is evident. The people are generally with Dr. Storrs, a number of half confessional statements, to drop hints and admissions which, pieced to-gether, form a tolerably coherent story. To more nearly unanimous is opposition to the of Dr. Alden. Dr. Lyman Abbott, the editor of the editor of the Christian Union, and Mr. Beecher's successor, said: "The changes I have to suggest in the board are two-fold; surn up, he acknowledges that he was an ac-cessory. He confesses that he took Benwell to Eastwood and betond in the direction of the swamps, but he resolutely sticks to it that his was not the hand that slew the victim. Frst, in organization; such changes as will make the board a truly representative body. All through his conversation since his convic-tion Birchall has insisted that he had an ac-complice. He has made it appear that this It is now a close corporation, substantially conformed in principle to that of the Papal church, and the only missionary organization in this country of any impact of the papal eccomplice was a young Englishman named Graham, who at one time lived with Pickin this country of any importance which is so organized. Second, is administration; such a change as would make the board as cathetributions for missionary purposes through other and existing organizations."

Prof. Smyth of Andover seminary writes:

IRISH LEADERS COMING.

American People Will Be Informed of Ireland's True Condition. Dunnix, Oct. 6. -At a conference of the Irish nationalists held in this city today, a deputation, consisting of John Dillion, William O'Brien, T. P. O'Connor, Timothy Sullivan and Abram Gree, were appointed to visit America for the purpose of laying before the people of that country a plain statement of the situation of affairs in Ireland.

There was a very large attendance and most of the prominent members of the nationalist party were present. Justin Mc-Carthy movel the adoption of four resolu-tions, all of which had been previously sub-mitted to Parnell.

The first of these pickes the fullest support of the national learne to tenants who are threatened with rain in consequence of the coarse adopted by the government and land-lord sydicates.

The second resolution demands that cer-tain distressed districts in the southern and wastern parts of Ireland be given special consideration by the government and that measures be taken at once for the relief of the inhabitants. The government is called upon to mangrate a series of public improvements for the purpose of giving employment to the people and enabling them to surpose, they useless ed enabling them to support themselves without charitable assistance.
The third resolution condems in emphatic terms the action of the government in causing the arrest of O'Brien. Dillon and other nationalist leaders arraigned at Tipperary.

The fourth resolution says the nationalist party is compelled by circumstances to make an appeal to its friends everywhereon behalf of Irish temants, and looks especially to its for the benefit of the distressed people.

Parnell sent a telegram to the conference the deliberations of the meeting would be guided by wisdom and patriotism and result for the good of the public. He also expressed the hope that themission to America would meet with all possible success. Dillon, O Brien and other nationalists at Tippearry sent tele-grams expressing regret that "the disgusting Judicial face" prevented their attending the conference, Justin McCarthy made the opening speech.

the referred to the trial in Tipperary as pro-tesque. Pamell, he said, although absent, was in active co-operation with every-thing they did. He had studied and sanctioned all the resolutions. The and sanctioned all the resolutions. The death of Sexton's mother compelled him to be absent. In spite of these absences the party was full of consequence. There was no difference of column among them. They had faith in the unconquentile Irish abroad and in the great people, in the Irish abroad and in the great liberal democracy of England. They had faith in the great leaders—Parnell, Gladstone and Mericy—and the prespect ahead was full of glowing light [Loudcheers,] O'Comor, in moving the first resolution, congratulated the party and rejoiced to be able totell Parnell thathe shood as high as ever in the affections and confidence of the Irish people and that they desired to express their appreciation of his uncerting genius and indomitable courage. They also desired to convey to the leaders detained in Tipperary proof of their sympathy and support. The nationalists, he said appeal to frishmen throughout the world by generous assistance to betray and defeat the hopes of the enemies of Ireland and to show that if the messes of the course of th land, and to show that if the purse of the ex-chequer is broad and deep it is not as broad and deep as the purses of the friends of fre-

Redmond paid a high tribute to the gener osity of Ireland's American friends, but, in too many cases, this generosity simply had the effect of filling the offers of the Irish landlonds. If Irishmen did their duty to themselves and the Pamellites were able to force the government to do a small part of its duty, it would be possible to tide over the coming distress without humiliation and the shame of again appealing to the charity of the world.

All the resolutions were carried mani-mousty. The Massion house was jammed and the greatest eathusiasm displaced. Dil-les, O'Brien, Sheeby, Harrison and Conglon returned to Dublin tonight. They were met the station by a great crowd escorted to Dillon's residence. Dillon's made a brief address, saying that he and his associates would be no party to parading the Irish people before the world as a nation of beggars. The people ought not to be driven to beg when there was food enough in the O'Brien praised the generosity of Irish-Americans and spoke of the importance of today's conference. The Woman's Liberal ociation of Bradford, England, has given £50 to the National league.
