City Treasurer Rush sold $230,000 of paving and curbing bonds to Blake Bros. & Co. of Bostonart $1,0231 and accrued interest. This is only about one-third the premium offered for the last lot of these bonds placed on the market, which brought a premium of about 7 cents.

Allie Horine, the victim of Suicide Wiggand's revolver, has so far recovered that she is able to sit up. The attending physician expresses an opinion that she will soon be well, but that she will always carry three butlets in her body to remind her of her murderous lover.

At 10 o'clock Saturday morning Su-perintendent Whitlock, the building inspector, will appear before Judge Hopewell to explain why he refuses to issue the permit for the erection of the one story brick school building on the high school grounds. An order to this effect was issued and served upon Mr. Whit lock yesterday afternoon.

A man who is extensively engaged the advertising business yesterday made Custodian Alexander a cash offer of $50 per month for the privilege of putting a high board feace around the northeast corner of the new postoffice site. The offer was refused for the reason that Uncle Sam will not allow his property to be used for advertising purposes.

Chief Clerk Cramer of the railway postal department received word yester day that beginning on the 1st of next month 331 miles will be added to the Omaha and Ogden run. The new run will be known as the Cheyen as and Hunt-ington division. This addition will make a distance of 902 miles that will be cov ered by the Cheyenne and Green River divisions

Mr. G. Oaks, a traveling man for the Baumiron company of this city, died at Grand Island the latter part of September of brain fever. He carried no insur ance on his life and his wife was left in destitute circumstances. Mr. A. M. Lyneman of this city was acquainted with the circumstances of the case and has started a subscription paper for the relief of the widow.

Are already a necessity. In the medium weights we never had such a variety as we are showing this season. There is not a store in Omaha or anywhere else in the west that occupies the floor space or has anywhere near the room that we have. The assortment of overcoats we display on our second and third floors, is greater than any two large stores combined can show you. We make a specialty it overcoats, and our prices cannot be touched by other houses.

One glance at our prices and at the quality and make of the garments, will convince you that you would be doing an injustice to yourself if you buy an overcoat outside of our house. Our variety is immense; we have all grades and can suit the rich and the poor. Our lower priced garments are all of durable material and substantially made. We want it distinctly understool that we handle no satis nett or sholdy goods of any kind.

In boys' overcoats we also show a larger assortment than you can find elsewhere, and at no time were such low prices put on them. We are determined to make our boys' department the busiest place in town. The quantity of boys' suits we have sold already this season, is simply amazing; and we want to sell as many overcoats. At our prices everybody can afford to dress his boys neat and warm.

To judge from the way our Men's Suits are selling, they must be very attractive, and people must find them cheap. We have never done a heavier business in our suit department than we did so far this season. We are already getting in duplicates of lots sold out, and every day we open up new shipments. The advantage of coming tous for your fall suit is, that besides getting it so much cheaper than you can buy it elsewhere, you will find in our store every day something new in pattern and style.

Samples and catalogue sent on application, and goods sent by express with privilege of examining. If not satisfactory in every way you need not take them.

He is Wanted to Contribute to the Support of His Mother.

County Poor Agent Mahoney received a lengthy communication from Miss Rosaltha Olmstead of Council Bluffs, asking his assistance in flading one Daniel W. Smith, who formerly worked, so the letter states, at the Twentieth street power house, but who is now believed to be a traveling agent for a milling machinery firm. The writer states that she has reason to believe that Smith still lives in Omaha, and she wants to get track of him to compel him to contribute to the sup-port of his aged and infirm mother, who is living in the Blaffs with a crippled nephew, both being dependent upon charity for their support. The superintendent of poor in the Bluffs allows the two people $1.50 per week and they are obliged to depend on the neighbors for food Miss Olmstead states that Smith was married about a year ago in Omaha to a dress-maker who was a widow, and that they put the old mother out of the house, Smith giving her a written agreement to give her $5 per month for her support. Since that time he has not contributed a cent.

Mr. Mahoney turned the communication over to the chief of police,

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Strauss and his Vienna orchestra come to the Collscum for two nights and a matinee, beginning Saturday afternoon. The programmes to be played in Omaha are made up of the most popular numbers played by the famous orchestra. Among the numbers to be played will be the charming old English Bong, "Once I Loved a Maiden Fair," Gen-Boa's "Each Meditation," Moszkowsal's "Serenade," Weber's prayer, from "Der Freischutz," Strauss' "Oriental Barcarole," and some rarely heard, and new waltzes and points by the Strauss family. The immortal "Blue Danube," the charming, which is not affected by nage will be reserved for an encore piece at each concert. Strauss has made an extensive tour through the eastern cities, appearing in every instance to audiences of vast size and audent estimation. Even the proverbially philographic Canadians unbended before the irresistible leader and his men, and the demands for encores were as frequent and hearty in Montreal as they were in Bestion. The power of Strauss' musicians to de-light the senses and sways the enotions is in-disputable. Lovers of music, of whatever class they may be, sit entranced under their matchless playing, and the erndite and ignorant meet on common ground before the baton of the magnetic if the Saxon, whose name is a watchword wherever music is loved.

The celebrated actress, Rose Coghlan, will be at the Boyd on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings next in the following repertoire: Monday and Tuesday orenings, Charles Read's play, "Peg Wonington," and on Wednesday evening Bronson Howard's "Old Love Latters," and Dion Boucheault's "London Assurance."

The sale for the Strauss concerts is unprecedently large, and fashionable and eness may be looked for. The popular prices which prevail place the concerts within the means of all lovers of good music.

Sam Harrison, manazor of E. E. Ries's great spectacular attraction. "The World's Fair," which will be at the Boyd on Thurs-day, Friday and Saturday of next week, is in the city.
