WHEN A WOMAN FASCINATES MOST.

Suggestion for a New Club House on a Grand Scale to Accommodate the Clubs Existing Here.

So little society is going on in the present, that society must content itself with existing hopes on the future. What the season may bring forth is wholly problematical. Beyond the reformation of the Assembly, which is contemplated, there is very little, even in the purview of mere speculation.

But every country does not possess a Strauss, more's the pity, and society must put its faith in the gift of gods, especially in the way of music.

Baino has said that if thirty a woman is at her most fascinating and dangerous as dangerous to the hearts of men. Perhaps no writer understood so well his own country as Baino. As Baino's criticisms would apply to a certain type of woman, more so in France than in America.
