The jury in the Boartz murder trial is still out, and Judge Macy said last night that he proposes to keep the case open until they agree on a verdict. The case was given into their hands last Friday afternoon.

Samuel Leonard has commenced suit against the company for injury caused to himself and horse by their falling into a watermain ditch which, it is claimed, had been left in an unsafe condition. His claim is for an even $1,000.

"Uncle" John Hammer was the victim of quite a serious accident last evening. He was driving home, and when attempting to turn the wagon into a narrow alleyway, the street lamp was overturned and Mr. Hammer was thrown out. The accident occurred within half a block of his residence and he was severely injured.

In the police court yesterday morning Judge McGee fined A. L. Nichols $10.00 for intoxication and beating a beard bill, and John Williams $10.00 for a similar offense. The two brothers, Edward and F. Overaker, who were brought over from the island on the schooner, were fined $10.00 each for disturbing the peace, which they paid and returned to the other side. A. C. Tolles was fined $10.00 for the same offense.

Officer E. H. Noyes, who distinguished himself by the free use of his revolver on John and Jimmy Maher, was laid off by the police force on account of an indefinite period. He was punished for an indefinite period as a clear case of going back upon one of the other members of the force. Yesterday morning Officer Murphy was laid off on account of a case in the police court. On Sunday afternoon he arrested a man named Kirkenland and booked him for intoxication. He testified that he had arrested him when he found him on Upper Broadway. Judge McGee assessed the usual fine and the man was taken from the station.

When Officer Noyes was in the court room but not on duty, made a remark that caught the ear of the judge. It was to the effect that he was not drunk at all when arrested. The court called upon him for his statement, and it was given without reserve. Deputy Marshal Noyes was also sworn in and gave the same kind of testimony. The judge then reserved his decision and discharged Kirkenland. He was told that Officer Noyes received a letter telling him that Noyes was laid off for an indefinite period.

The Board of Education.

The board of education met in regular monthly session last night. President Stewart presided, the chair and all the members were present.

The minutes of several previous meetings were read, and after some discussion concerning the records of meetings when there was no quorum owing to the absence of Members Wells, Schoontgen and Hunter, were finally approved.

The electric heat controlling apparatus at the Hooper building, which has been out of order, was discovered, and repaired under the direction of the chairman of the fuel committee and proposals to make the necessary repairs were referred to the gentlemen of the three committees.

Dr. F. S. Thomas sent in a communication stating that he had examined the basement and lower floor of the Hooper building in accordance with the request of the president of the board, and had discovered nothing of a contaminating nature. In the ventilating registers he found a mass of dirt, and he swept and flit that called loudly for cleaning. The report was referred to the committee on buildings.

The secretary made a report of the receipts from the sale of tickets at the commencement exercises. The receipts were $118.50 and the expenditure $112, leaving a balance of $6.50 which was ordered turned into the contingent fund. Chairman Hunter of the finance committee reported that there was now due and delinquent taxes against school property amounting to $245.82, and the treasurer was ordered to pay them at once.

The salary of Prof. Price, a teacher in the high school, was increased from $75 to $100 per month.

The time having passed in which to elect a secretary and treasurer, Chairman Hunter of the finance committee presented the bonds of Secretary George W. Brown and the treasurer, the present incumbents, and moved that they be approved. The motion prevailed, and the present officers will hold over another year.

Mr. Hunter moved that the teachers be paid for the two first days of the present term, when they did not teach on account of the middle over the superintendent. The motion prevailed, and the teachers will receive the money due them on Friday.

The regular monthly bills were allowed to the amount of $1,344.50. Of this sum $2,400 in payment of contractors' estimate on the new school building was allowed.

Chairman Hunter of the finance committee made a statement concerning the indebtedness of the district, and the amount of $200,000 of bonds of 1889. There were still outstanding bonds to the amount of $200,000, of which $100,000 will fall due in 1891. The remainder, $200,000, will fall due in 1893.

The finance committee were instructed to issue bonds to the amount of $150,000 on ten years' time, drawing not to exceed 5 per cent interest, payable at the banking house of Keating, Brothers, New York.

The time for holding the regular meetings of the board was changed from the first Monday in the month to the last Friday.

THE NEWS IN THE BLUFFS.

The Second Murder Trial and the Story of the Killing of Walter Madison.

FOR PURER AND BETTER CITY WATER.

Some Splendid Improvements Under Way—Struggling With a Loaded Gun—Disappointed Democrats—Minor Mention.

Peter Hensen still sits facing a jury, who are listening to the various accounts as to how he shot and killed Walter Madison. The prosecution was still bringing up its witnesses yesterday. There were several eye witnesses to the tragedy, but they varied somewhat in their accounts, some seeing but part of what occurred. The trouble originated in a dance held in Smith's hall, it being exclusively a Danish affair. Hensen and a man named Christofferson gave the dance. Hensen took charge of the bar, and the other was the doorkeeper. Shortly after midnight a quarrel came up in the stairs, among whom was Madison, a young man about nineteen, and they demanded admittance. Hensen and others put them down the stairs and a general fight ensued outside. Afterwards Hensen returned with blood on his face, and after washing it off, and putting on his coat, he started out again as usual for a policeman. He went with a companion named Swanson, about one block, and there came across a crowd of fellows, who told them to hold up their hands, and most of them broke and ran. Madison and another remained, and Hansen grabbing this one, told him to come back to the station with him. He got the patrol wagon. He consented, and as they started back Madison coming up behind him threw a brick into the stairs, striking him in the back of the head. The one whom Hensen had in charge then broke away, and Hansen, who had a revolver in his hand, turned and fired at Madison, who was running also. Hansen staggered and fell before the last of three shots was fired. The defense will not attempt to show that the shooting was justifiable under the law of self-defense.

The City's Water.

There has been marked improvement in the condition of the city water during the past few months and the people who have been objecting to its turbid condition have no cause to do so any longer. The improvement is the result of new appliances and a change in the system, but follows the more careful work of the employees and the operation of the system as its designers intended. The hydrant water now is almost as clear as the well water, indicating perfect filtration.

The waterworks people are not yet satisfied, but are quietly going ahead with the new system. The contract for the new system was awarded last spring, involving the construction of a new reservoir at the river and a generally improved system of filtering the water after it has been pumped from the river. The plans contemplate the erection of a standpipe at the river, near where the present second pumping station is located. The water will be pumped directly into this standpipe, and from there will be pumped into large mains to the subsidiary reservoirs around the central pumping station. The water will be filtered in the present two, and they will all be connected by weirs instead of pipes as now, over which the water will flow in a broad thin sheet, less than an inch deep. It is estimated that this system will cause the deposit of about 70 per cent of the silt in the present reservoir, and by the time it reaches the final basin from which it will be pumped into the Fairmount park reservoir, it will be relieved of all matter held in suspension, and will be as thoroughly treated as a mountain stream.

The projected improvements will give Council Bluffs as fine water for domestic purposes as there is in the world, for it has been declared by scientific men that the Missouri river water is the purest of all the rivers of the world. The organic matter and material held in solution.

The work is under the direction of Manager Hart and he is pushing it with all his available force. The contract for excavating has been let and some of the pipes for the new 24-inch mains are already on the ground. It will probably be an all winter job, and will give employment to a large force of men during the dull times.

The McKinley Bill has not affected the prices at the Peoples' installment house. Everything goes at the same old figures that have made our patrons so loyal. Struggling With a Loaded Gun.

About three weeks ago a man named Si Faver created a stir in Hardin township by banding up a revolver and a shotgun to shoot Mr. Yocum, for whom he had previously been at work. He had come to Council Bluffs the day previous and procured the weapon, together with ammunition. He had breathed fire threats before against several in the neighborhood, so that when he appeared with the gun he paid them very little attention. They were all being to the city and Sheriff O'Neal went out and arrested him. There seemed so much fear as to influence the prosecution, those who were most interested in having him put in a place of safe keeping apparently having an idea that he would be very active in securing this result he would in the future wreak vengeance upon them. Faver got off with a very light sentence, only fifteen days in jail. His new wife was up the other day, and being released he was advised to keep away from the scene of his former trouble. "You say that I created a stir here," he said. "Well, they had better be better than I am in this place." The reply showed little cooling of the blood, and developments on Sunday have led to the present situation. Faver, who has been in the city since he was arrested, was shot in the back by a man named Rice. He had left his child with a family named Rice, agreeing to pay a certain amount for the board. Sunday he called on the Rice family and demanded his child. Rice insisted on being paid for the board before letting the child go. Faver refused to pay, and he entered the house and take the child. On Sunday morning the front of the palpit was banked with flowers, and the new pastor and his new wife were given a very low opinion of him. There was a little smile went around when the pastor gave out the hymn, "A Charge to Keep I Have," and his eyes rested for a moment upon the new where the blushing bride was seated.

THE METHODIST HOSPITAL.

The Organization Perfecting at Last Night's Meeting.

There was a meeting of prominent Methodists at the Young Men's Christian association rooms yesterday afternoon, held for the purpose of completing the organization which is to open a hospital in Omaha. The committee on constitution and by-laws reported and the constitution and by-laws were adopted. The association will be called "The Omaha Methodist Episcopal Hospital Association." The payment of $10 will permit one to become a member. All clerics and others who pay $10 a year will be given a certificate which will guarantee them good care and treatment if they should be taken sick at any time. This feature will doubtless make the hospital scheme very attractive. The institution will be open to everyone in need of care and treatment.

THE STRANGE DISAPPEARANCE OF A PROSECUTING WITNESS.

Jerry Kinman and John Casey, who have been in jail for six weeks charged with an assault on J. C. Carter in a saloon on Capitol street, were tried yesterday before Judge Hensley and discharged. The evidence was indirect and somewhat contradictory. A singular thing in connection with the case was that Carter, who has been at the hospital for a month, most of the time insensible, disappeared last Thursday and could not be traced. The police are in the case. Dr. Neville, who waited on Carter at the hospital, says that he never gave permission to leave the hospital. He was well, although he had not fully recovered his mental equilibrium.

TERIBLY INJURED.

A brakeman has both legs and one arm broken. The Union Pacific freight car at 1012 Pacific street, was run over by a freight car in the switch yards last night about 8 o'clock and had both legs and one arm broken. The unfortunate man was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, where he is about equal chances for death or recovery.

AMUSEMENTS.

In these days of erratic literature in our book shops, and still more erratic plays on our stages, it is a positive delight to find in the atmosphere of "Peg Woffington," which is ideal purity compared to that surrounding some of the latter day dramas. Written upon an elevated plane, filled with the brightest bits of repartee and humor, and contemporary with the "School for Scandal," "Charles Rowley's" "Peg Woffington" in Miss Coghlan's hands is one of the sterling creations of the stage.

Since last seen on the local stage the charming old English comedy has been materially changed, and for the better. There is a new plot, and the story is so changed that it did not possess before, due to Miss Coghlan's efforts in behalf of the public which has been really found, and is worth seeing in the play, days when a number of the Wallace stock company.

The Trip of Mr. Thomas Whitten was a general success. The season you notice it stands out in his belief alongside the Baron Rudolf of George F. Knight the (Calio Plum) of Jefferson, the Solon Shingie of Owens. Nothing more than a man seen on the stage for many a long day.

Mr. John T. Sullivan played Sir Charles in a very satisfactory manner, with his methods and mentally equipped for any number of characters. Miss Coghlan is in many respects a better actress than she has been in the past, days when a number of the Wallace stock company.
