

THE OMAHA BEE COUNCIL BLUFFS OFFICE, NO. 12 PEARL ST. Delivered by Carrier in any part of the City...

THE NEWS IN THE BLUFFS. The Bartz Jury Discharged After Four Days of Dogged Deliberation.

A CONTROVERSY OVER A LOADED GUN. A Great Case in Justice Hendricks' Court—The Hansen Murder Trial—Benton Street War Settled—Prominent Deaths.

Twelve tired, sleepy looking men marched into court yesterday morning. They had been looking up since Friday last, and had four days no further opportunity of getting even a snooze than such as might be expected in a room furnished simply with chairs and a table, and occupied jointly by twelve men, discussing the question of whether or not Bartz was guilty of murder.

While the foreman from No. 4 was exercising yesterday morning the cover over the chemical box on the big truck was lost off. It is a fact that the jury was in a hurry on Monday night, it is reported to the effect that he will return to his home on Friday.

John J. Scherer, state commissioner of labor, addressing a large gathering at the residence of his parents, 501 North Seventh street. About thirty boys and girls were there and a merry time was had. Games and refreshments were served.

Miss Annie Scherff celebrated her birthday morning, dropping the cake at the residence of her parents, 501 North Seventh street. About thirty boys and girls were there and a merry time was had.

Carl Bartz, aged fifty-four years, died yesterday morning, dropping the cake at the residence of his parents, 501 North Seventh street. About thirty boys and girls were there and a merry time was had.

Justice Hendricks put in full time yesterday trying to determine whether Christ Klankus had been charged with the murder of Mark Lane. The defendant is the man whom Mark Lane arrested a few days ago, on charge of stealing from Mr. Mark Lane's field, and who resisted by pointing a gun at Lane and threatening to kill him.

The defendant suddenly forgot yesterday his knowledge of English, and insisted that he could not understand the simplest questions. In view of his claim to having lived in Omaha for ten years or more, and being somewhat of a capitalist and business man, his lack of knowledge of the prevalent language took the court by surprise.

The contest between lawyers in the case of Justice Hendricks' case, the witness for the defendant, who was under bonds, started out with his attorney and a friend, but instead of going with them up the street, he turned into an alley, crossed over to Main street, and he hurriedly going up Main street when Constable Forman, who had another warrant against him, arrested him and arrested him in the charge of the law.

The Iowa registration law calls for a revision of the registry for every election, and a complete new registration every four years. It has been three years since the present registry was made, and for the coming November election it will be necessary to revise the list. For this purpose the registrars will meet in the various precincts of the wards on Thursday morning at 8 o'clock and remain in session until the evening of the next day and the next day.

TRIFLING WITH HEALTH. Most people consider ailments like Hoarseness, Cough, Sore Throat, etc., not worth their while to look after.

Most people consider ailments like Hoarseness, Cough, Sore Throat, etc., not worth their while to look after. They ought to pass away without any further rest being taken of them. This neglect is very often the cause of severe and protracted sickness, which undermines the constitution of the patient and his general happiness.
