Senatorial Aspirant Eggleston Alleged to Be an Avowed Prohibitionist.

A TANGLE FOR THE SUPREME JUDGES.

A Boy Falls in Front of a Motor and is Crippled for Life-New State Maps - Odds and Ends.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 1 .- [Special to THE BEE. |-The interest in the election of members of the legislature is taking up consider able of the time of the politicians, the senators being considered of the greater importance. Many anti-amendment voters are fighting Eggleston, the country nominee, because he disobeyed the instructions of the county convention which nominated him for the lower house of 1887. He voted for the submission bill, as see No. 49, page 1,492, house tournal. It is claimed that he was elected as a member of the town board of Bennett in 1887 by a direct vote for license, and when an application was presented for a saloon, he took the matter in hand and defeated it. There are many charges against him that he is a prohibitionist, and the record almost proves it. His defeat seems also to be desired by many republicans. It is claimed that he is now in a combination with the amendment people of Bennett. Moore will have a walk over.

CRIPPLED FOR LIFE. A most distressing accident occurred this morning to little Johnnie Oleson, the sevenyear-old son of Mrs. Mary Oleson at 914 X street, that will make him a cripple for life. In company with a number of other children Johnnie was gathering coal along the B. & M. and Frement, Elkhorn & Missouri Val Ley tracks near Fourteenth and Y streets.

J. H. Shouse, the section foreman of the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley, has had considerable trouble lately keeping the children off the tracks as the trains were coming in or going out, and at 10 o'clock fellows as usual to get out of the way of an incoming train. Among these boys was Johnnie Oleson. The lad, who had a heavy sack of coat, ran to the south and west and fell in front of the Rapid transit motor just as it was starting up Both his hands fell on the track and all the wheels of the motor and the car following passed over them, cutting off three fingers rom each hand and scattering them alo the track. The other fingers were badly crushed, the only uninjured members being the thumbs on each hand. The little fellow bore his pain bravely, uttering his agony only in scarcely audible groans. He was led to his home at 914 X street by

Mr. Shouse. Three physicians were called in and after chloroforming the boy all his mangled fingers were cut off.

The mother of the lad is a poor widow with four children, the eldest of whom is only fourteen years old. ANSWERED HIS WIFE. This morning Abel H. Kay filed an answer to the cross petition of his wife, Lydia V. Kay, in the pending divorce case. He denies that his wife has been chaste and obedient. He avers that he has supported both his wife and the children always and is now supporting them and has supplied them with more than the ordinary common necessaries of life. He alleges that Mrs. Kay is possessed of a violent disposition and temper; that she has on various occasions attempted and sometimes actually succeeded in inflicting physical force and violence upon his person, using sticks, clubs, iron rods, hot water and other instruher, nor any more resistance than was actus necessary to release him from her grasp in his hair and whiskers and to defend him elf against her blows. He declares that the property referred to in the petition was sught by both plaintiff and defendant, each

A TANGLE FOR THE SUPREME JUDGES. A mandamus was filed in the supreme court this morning in behalf of Clinton M. Brown and C. E. Pierpont, asking that A. J. McPeak, the treasurer of Furnas county, Nebraska, be required to receive the money tendered in payment of a lease of certain school lands held by them in Furnas county. Brown and Pierpont have offered $55.16 due as rent for the six months ending January 1, 1890, but it was refused by the treasurer. The trouble is whether the law passed February 24, 1883, concerning the determining of the rental for school lands affects leases made prior to the passage of the bill. Brown and Pierpont leased the land in ques-tion in September, 1882, and at that time the rental was determined by three appraisers, one to be appointed by the county clerk, an-other by the lessee and the third chosen by the other two appraisers. As Brown and Pierpont leased the land under that law they claim that it still holds good in their case and they refuse to pay the rental demanded by the county commissioners, who are the ap praisers under the new law. A similar case is now pending in the supreme court, in which Bermuda Beer is the plaintiff and Governor John M. Thayer the defendant.

WANTS HIS WANDERING BOY. Chester Morrison, the seventeen-year-old son of J. M. Morrison, who lives in the Union college colony southeast of the city, took French leave Saturday night. He also took a horse and saddle and was followed off by the spaniel dog. The father is greatly con cerned over the safety of his boy, but as the lad is 5 feet 6 inches in height and weighs 160 pounds the police believe him amply able to take care of himself provided the father isn't particular about having the horse and saddle

SWITCH ENGINES COLLIDE.

A Serious Smash-Up in the Yards of the Union Pacific. There was a collision in the switch yards of the Union Pacific last evening near the intersection of the tracks with Fourteenth street. Swith engine No. 1171, manned by Engineer W. B. Anthony, was running back ward down grade and pulling a heavy train of cars after it, while another Switch engine, No. 1013, in charge of Engineer T. D. Armstrong, was running westward on the same track. A number of freight cars were stand ing in the yards at that place, and the tracks curve there it was difficult for the trainmen to see very far down or up the track. When the two engineers saw they were upon the same track and coming toward each other they whistled down brakes and reversed their engines. The heavy train that was running eastward could not be got under control, however, until it had struck the other train, which was then almost at a full stop. The weight of the trains, although moving very slowly, was sufficient to jam the gines pretty badly, breaking the main beams and caving in the back end of the other. Three flat cars next to the engines were totally wrecked, and the tracks were covered for several rods with debris. Some of the trainmen jumped, but the two engineers stayed at their posts of duty. No one was injured.

The loss will amount to about $500.

THE WOODMEN AND STATE JURISDICTION

Here and Elsewhere-A Question of Importance to the Modern Woodmen.

Members of the society known as the Mod rn Woodmen of America have been receiv ing copies of the following letter which i being widely ctrculated by Lincoln parties: being widely circulated by Lincoln parties:
Neighbors: At the enjoined meeting of the Modern Woodmen of America, held at Des Moines, Ia., August 12 1800, a resolution was unanimously adopted by the delegates in convention assembled, endorsing state jurisdiction and also authorizing the appointment of a committee to draft suitable laws to be presented for adoption at the annual meeting at Springfield, III., on November 11, 1800.

Believing that the future success and welfare of our order demands such a change in its organization as will give us state jurisdiction with complete control of all assessments and disbursements, and that this is the only method by which the confidence of the members can be maintained and its future prosperity assured; perity assured:

Therefore, We, the committee appointed to represent the seven hundred or more members of the Modern Woodmen of America, located at Lincoln, Neb. do respectfully urge upon the several camps of the order located in Nebraska, the following:

To send their delegates to the Springfield meeting, instructed to act while there in the organizing and perfecting of a state jurisdiction for Nebraska, so as to do away with the additional expense of holding a meeting for that especial purpose.
 To send the same delegates if possible who represented them at the Des Moines meeting, for the experience gained at that time will be of material assistance in perfecting the state jurisdiction.

of material assistance in perfecting the state jurisdiction.

3. If an injunction to restrain, or any other method be used to prevent the passing of such laws as will make state jurisdiction possible, the delegate should be empowered to act in organizing a state jurisdiction independent of the head camp, and thus enable us to protect ourselves. All that will be required under the laws of our state to give us legal standing, will be to file with the auditor of the state a copy of our constitution ansi-by-laws as adopted, with the names of the officers elect, and number of members in good standing.

4. To urge upon all members of the order the necessity of keeping la good standing by promptity paying all assessments and dues, for our insurance is worth 100 cents on the dollar, and there is no doubt of the permanency and stability of the order. The strife and quarrels now in the order are but the dying struggles of disappointed ambition and avarice, of which we have no part or share and which we hope soon to legislate out of existence.

and which we hope soon to legislate out of existence.

5. Such camps of the Modern Woodmen of America in Nebraska, who feel as if they could not afford the expense of sending a delegate to the Springfield meeting, are requested to forward under seal of their camps, to any of the undersigned such expression in regard to state jurisdiction as they may agree upon, or send proxies, either for or against, as they deem advisable, and such proxies will be used as authorized; what is useded is an expression from every camp in the state of Nebraska, as all should be interested alike in the future success of the order. An Omaha member of the order who has been identified with its best interests since its establishment in this state, denounced this as a political move on the part of certain parties in Lincoln who are endeav-oring to create a false impression among members of the order who are not in a posi-tion to inform themselves of the actual sentiment in the state. Said he: "It looks like a scheme to rush this matter of state jurisdiction through before the different camps have had time to examine into the matter and make up their minds whether it is a good thing or not. There is no occasion for haste, the order is not going to the dogs, and we might just as the company with a number of airs on the
