PROPOSALS FOR OATS AND CORN.—U. S. Indian Service, Rosebud Agency, South Dakota, October 29, 1890.—Sealed proposals indorsed "Proposals for Oats and Corn", and addressed to the under; signed at Rosebud Agency, South Dakota, will be received at this office until one o'clock p. m. of November 19th, 1890, for furnishing and delivering at this Agency, 50,000 pounds of Oats, and 150,000 pounds of corn. Oats must be bright and clean, and well sacked, and weigh not less than 32 pounds to the bushel. Corn must be sound and clean; to weigh not less than 56 pounds to the bushel, and to be delivered in sacks of about two and a-half bushels capacity, made of 8 ounce burlap, well sewed. Bidders will be required to state specifically in their bids the proposed price of each article to be offered for delivery under a contract. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids or any part of any bid if deemed for the best interest of the service. Certified Checks. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check or draft upon some United States Depository, made payable to the order of the undersigned, for at least five per cent of the amount of the proposal, which check or draft will be forfeited to the United States in case any bidder or bidders receiving an award shall fail to promptly execute a contract with good and sufficient surities, otherwise to be returned to the bidder. E. B. REYNOLDS, Special U. S. Indian Agent in charge. o-24-d-21-t-n

Crazed by the Elections.

Frank Kraft, a Mount Olivet merchant, is lying at his home dying from a self-inflicted wound, says a Pittsburg telegram to the New York Herald. Kraft is a republican and last Tuesday began to drink heavily to celebrate a victory for Delamater. Wednesday when the tide had turned he became morose. When Thursday's papers announced that South Dakota had gone democratic it drove him mad. He bought a razor and spent part of the day in sharpening it. He then took his razor and cut his left wrist to the bone, crouched in a corner and awaited death. Not coming as quickly as he wished he slashed his left arm in four other places. Then holding his bleeding arm with his right hand he made a tour of the house, staining everything with his blood until he fell exhausted.

Ladies who experience a sense of weakness and sometimes lameness of the back should use Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier. It will supply the much needed strength and overcome all weakening irregularities.
