Special communication of the City Council, No. 71, A. F. & M. M., this evening for work in the first degree. All Masons are invited.

There will be a meeting this evening of the Scottish Rite, United States Jurisdiction, at the hall on Pearl street. Work as a Lodge of Perfection.

A three-year-old child of L. C. Thomason died yesterday of diphtheria. The funeral will occur at 10 o'clock this afternoon.

W. F. Hendry, the nine-year-old son of Merritt Hendry, died yesterday of diphtheria at the father's residence, 611 East Broadway. The funeral will occur this afternoon.

Deputy Marshal Frank Fowler returned from Glenwood yesterday morning with J. H. King, the thief who stole a horse from Paul Louque, at the jail on Monday night, pending his hearing before Justice Schulz on Saturday.

A. Beresheim and Miss Clara Tol were happily wedded Wednesday evening by Rev. J. C. H. Hendry. They have many friends here, and she being one of the most skillful artists in the city.

Other Murphy made a raid last night upon a saloon near Green's barn on Upper Broadway, kept by J. C. Henry, and arrested the proprietor, C. A. and John Henry, and John Dunn and sent them to jail on Monday, keeping a gambling house. They were all locked up.

The case of Kelly, charged with abusing his wife, was called by the court yesterday morning. The defendant made affidavit that both Justices Barnett and Schurz were prejudiced against him, so the case was sent to the grand jury to hear the case for hearing on the 27th. An attempt will then be made to have him give bonds to keep the peace.

Mr. J. D. Jordan of Cedar Rapids will address the railroad men at the Young Men's Christian association Sunday at 2 p. m. Mr. Jordan has been general secretary of the Cedar Rapids association for seven years. He gives up the work there to go to Wyoming to engage in work among railroad men. All railroad men are invited to hear Mr. Jordan.

The Young Men's Christian association have arranged for a "military meeting" to be addressed by Rev. Dr. Stephen Phelps. The Grand Army of the Republic, the Legion and company A National Guards, will attend in a body. The meeting will be held at the Young Men's Christian association rooms Sunday at 4 o'clock.

An alarm of fire was turned in yesterday noon, calling the department to David Bradley & Co's big warehouse, where a pile of lumber had caught fire. The lumber was used for making cases for packing agricultural implements and was piled along the railroad tracks south of the old building. No company started to extinguish the fire, permitting them to do any more than scorch a small portion of the lumber. It is thought the fire was started by a match.

A jury of six men acquitted John Lindsay of the charge of stealing sand from the land of J. W. Paul after the case was tried in Justice Barnett's court yesterday afternoon. It was the first time Lindsay was ever in court for any purpose, and it was a trying ordeal to him. The sand lot cases are becoming to be a thing of the past in the courts, but it is probable that there will be several more of them tried yet. There are many prominent contractors guilty of the same offense if it comes to that. The reason why the townsmen are wondering why they should be selected and the wealthy men overlooked.

Although Mayor Macrae announced in the council last night that Frank Kane the leader of the young toughs who have been terrorizing a portion of the southern part of the city, the police claim to know nothing of an arrest made by the police in the case of Kane. Kane brought out that young Kane and his gang have been making their headquarters at a house of prostitution kept by a woman known as Mother Pike on South Ninth street, and that they have been maintaining a rendezvous there that is simply a disgrace to the city. The approach upon Christian civilization. It is certain, since so much publicity has been given to the matter, that the gang and their headquarters will be broken up.

Jack McNamee came down from his home in Monona county Wednesday afternoon and during the evening got into a row in a saloon on Lower Broadway. The saloon was kept by a man with a billiard cue on a loaded cue, and he is not sure whether, and inflicted an ugly looking wound over his left eye. He went to a physician and had his eye treated. The doctor assured his pain in frequent draughts of whisky. About 10 o'clock he started to the Northwestern depot to look for a train for home. He was met by a man on Avenue B and Ninth street, and growing weary laid down and waited for the train to come. He had a comfortable bed on the sidewalk in front of the residence of Alderman Knepler when the alderman returned from the council meeting at 11:30 o'clock. The man was taken to the police station, and yesterday he was fined $10.00.

The new residence of Treasurer Plumer is building for himself on Glen avenue is receiving the finishing touches, and will soon be ready for occupancy. Externally it is a handsome and imposing edifice in modern style of architecture, the exterior is finished in creosote stains. The comfort, beauty and elegance of the new home, however, is revealed more fully as you step across the threshold. From an ornate vestibule guarded inside and out with massive oak doors and plate glass you enter the reception room, from which the stairway rises, and which is connected by large sliding doors with the parlor and dining room. The parlor is oak, waxed and polished. The stairway is also oak finished in the same manner. All the woodwork is stained and polished to match, and so skillfully that the eye is deceived only the closest inspection reveals the real oak and the imitation. The decorations are new and attractive, and the furniture is of the best. The vestibule and reception room walls and ceilings are covered with the new lustre papers that have just been brought out by the American Paper Co. The colors in these rooms, and also the halls and upper chambers, are done in the material known as "Pineapple" with stripes to match. The dining room and parlor are decorated in ingrain in handsome but substantial combinations with stripes to match. The upstairs front chamber is done in rose tints with woodwork painted in parti-colors to match. In the sitting room is an old-fashioned fireplace with the surfaces of the bricks showing, suggesting comfort and stability.

All the work of decorating and desiring has been done by Mr. George W. Loney, 11 Pearl street, and that well known chief in original decorative work, Mr. Freeman, who is now decorating all his work perfectly.

Work while there is nothing quack, perfect harmony prevails in everything, and every touch of the artist has left something permanently attractive in the hands of special craftsmen who are practicing for more active business hereafter, and Kane is still at large. On Monday a warrant was issued for Kane upon complaint filed by a young man named Stanton, who had been assaulted by Kane, but before Officer Fowler could serve it the young man came back and stated that his mother wanted the case dropped, that she had promised Kane's mother that he should not be prosecuted. Kane was then in sight of the jail.

The church people, however, are anxious to prosecute him, and they will now be joined by a saloon man named Jack Strook, who keeps a saloon on South Ninth street, where Kane has been terrorizing the people. Strook believes that young Kane attempted to murder him. He has taken a little interest in trying to get the young desperado, and has earned the enmity of their leader. On Wednesday evening after Strook had left his saloon to go to his home he was fired upon by some persons in hiding. The saloon missed

It is probable that Kane and his gang will be broken up in the near future. The charge against him is that of circulating obscene papers, but there is very little evidence to substantiate this. A filthy note was found in his room, and it was in evidence in connecting him with it, or the leaving of it in the outbuilding, where he was found hidden. He seems to be indifferent to the affair, and has nothing to say.
