A Question That Creates Decided Opposition From State Officials.

BATES IS FIGHTING FOR HIS SEAT.

Rev. Guild Thinks That Rissing is All Right-The State University and Country Boys-Lincoln News Notes.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 28.-[Special to THE BEE. |-Secretary of State Cowdery is moving the furniture of his office into the rooms across the hall occupied by the banking board. According to the resolutions adonted by the board of public lands and buildings. the secretary of state is to make such a change on January 1, and the governor's office is be hereafter in the place vacated by the secretary of state. What reason Cowdery has for moving a month beforehand is not known. But it is reported that the secretary elect is averse to the change of offices and is not liable to pay any attention to the wishes of the board after he enters upon the duties of his office. In case the moving is done before he comes in he will have to accept the situation.

Governor Thayer has evidently smelt a mouse, and he does not propose to have his office changed during the remainder of the erm. He has left positive orders that not a single article of furniture belonging the executive office shall be moved to the rooms now being vacated by the secretary of state. He wishes moved his successor to have a chance to choose for himself whether he will leave the present elegant suite of rooms occupied as executive offices for the less imposing ones now occu-pied by the secretary of state and his assistants.

BATES FILES HIS BRIEFS.

BATES FILES HIS DRIEFS. Edward Bates of the Sixth judicial district. filed his brief in the supreme court today in the action of mandamus brought by him to compel the canvassing board to canvass the votes cast for him in the recent election. Bates claims that the supreme covrt has the right to grant a mandamus against any officer, even the egovernor, to compel him to perform a merely ministerial duty. Max-well Pleading and Practice, 1887, p. 735 and Magee vs Board, 10 Cal. 376, are quoted. It is next alleged that the duty of the canvass-ing board is merely ministerial. ing board is merely ministerial. Bates claims that the question as to whether there was a legal vote or that there was not a proper natice given for the election of a certain person to fill a certain office, is not to be passed upon by the board, but is to be passed upon by the board, but is to be duty of the canvassing board is to ascertain and declare the apparent result of the vote. Article 6, section 21 of the constitution is quoted: "In case that the office of any judge of the supreme court or of any district court shall become vacant before the expiration of the regular term for which he was elected, the vacancy shall be filed by appointment by the governor, until his successor shall be elected and qualified, for the unexpired term, at the first general election that occurs more than thirty days after the vacancy shall have happened." On this authority it is claimed that Smith's On this authority it is claimed that Smith's appointment only lasted until the general election of November 4, hence by virtue of the constitution it was the duty of the electors to fill the vacancy at that election.

It is declared that the election comes from the constitution and statutes and not from the official notices. The want of notice, it is alleged, is not alone sufficient to invalidate an election when the law fixes the time for holding the election.

GUILD, THE RISSER.

Rev. Guild, who has gotten into unpleasant notoriety over his kissing proclivities, admits of having kissed Mrs. Chapman, wife of Rev. Chapman, but says that his manner of doing it was such that no decent person could take offense at it. He claims that this is true of all his kisses. It appears that Guild has not yet been tried by his parishioners for kissing Mrs. Chapman but has simply been taken to task by them. The reverend gentleman pro-resses to believe that his kissing of the sis-ters in the church is a perfectly innocent agement of the road, and that the system would be reorranized in accordance with the Gould idea. This report also announced that Traffic Manager Mellen would be retained under the new management with enlarged powers. But there was another report from equally "reliable authority" that was being widely circulated. This predicted a general walk-out of the officials in Omana. Mr. Hol-comb was to be succeeded by Mr. S. H. H. Clark and Mr. Mellen was to give way to Mr. Vining or Mr. Munroe. These are samples of the rumors afford and the interested officials can take their choice, accepting the report that has the most conso-

President Cable's Thanksgiving. President R. R. Cable of the Rock Island made a Thanksgiving trip in his private car Thursday over his company's new line to Lincoln. He was accompanied by Assistant Engineer R. W. Day, who had charge of the work, General Attorney Withrow and other minor officials of the Rock Island route. The trip occupied four hours, President Cable stopping to make a personal examination of the work on the bridges and at the heavy cuts or curves along the line. The new road is in excellent shape and will be ready for active operation in a few

President Cable expressed himself as well pleased with the work and said the road would be placed in operation by January 1, but not before that time. He had not fully decided upon plans for the equipment of the road other than that through trains between Chicago and Denver would be run via Omaha and that this city would probably be made a division headquarters, though but little would be done here until the completion of the new union depot, which would give the Rock Island and other Iowa lines adequate lepot and terminal facilities in Omaha.

Officials' Side Deals.

THE BEE's special telegram from Boston in which Russell Sage was quoted as having scored ex-President Adams of the Union Pacific for having used his official pofor his personal profit, was sition freely discussed at headquarters yesterday freely discussed at headquarters yesterday morning. "Adams is not the only man who has made money in side deals on the strength of his of-ficial position with the Union Pacific," was the comment of one official. "It is a fact," he continued, "that there are men yet in the service of the company who own large interests in enterprises that profit from Union Pacific patronage. The immense rock quarries at Harris Ford in Idaho are controlled by two Union Pacific officials and all of the stone used in the round house at Pocatello, the stations at Green River and Eagle Rock must come from these quarries, Earle Rock must come from these quarries greatly to the personal profits of the officials. "Then there are other side deals from the operation of mines down to the nickel-in-the slot machines in which prominent officials are interested."

Prof. Bessey of the state university, in speaking of country boys who are anxious to enter that institution, but believe they are not sufficiently advanced, has these words of encouragement: "It may not be generally known that the requirements for entrance to the first year of the preparatory department of the university are such that those who finish the course out-lined by the superintendent of public instruc-tion for the use of country schools can enter without difficulty. "Consultation of the course of study as given by Superintendent Lane in his last offigiven by Superintendent Lane in his last offi-cial report, on pages 818 to 355, will show that the state university course of study is within the reach of each boy or girl in any good country school in the state. This fact has probably not been generally known. Atten-tion has lately been called to it by inquries from outside parties who were not aware of the fact that the state university was in di-tract communication with the course of study rect communication with the course of study in country schools. if the country schools will do well the work which the state and county superintendents are urging them to do, there will be no difficulty whatever for any Nebraska boy or girl who wishes to take a university course.

A QUESTION OF CONSTITUTIONALITY.

The case of the state on behalf of Peter Fowlie and Josiah A. Armour vs J. A. Painter, county clerk of Custer county was appealed to the supreme court today. The guestion involved is whether section 2 of question involved is whether section 2 of article 1 of chapter 18 of the compiled statutes of 1887, by the act, chapter 5, laws 1880, is constitutional. The constitution says that no county shall be divided or have any part stricken therefrom without first submitting the question to a vote of the people of the county, nor unless a majority of all the legal voters of the county voting on the question shall vote for the same. By the act of chap-ter 5, the requisite vote is raised from a ma-fority of those voting on the question to jority of those voting on the question to three-fifths of those voting at a general elec-

In the case in point the question of divid-ing the county of Custer was submitted. The total vote polled at the cleetion was 4,650, of which 2,357 votes were in favor of cutting off enough territory from Custer county to erect the new county of Nobie. A similar case which concerns the division of Knox county, was argued today before the supreme court.

STATE HOUSE NOTES.

Articles of incorporation of the Papillion opera house company were filed today. The capital stock is $3,000. M. P. Brown and capital stock is $3,000, al. F. Drown and eleven others are the incorporators. Samuel E. Law, the nephew of State Treas-urer Hill, and a bright and promising young man, has been honored with the appointment of valeditorean of the graduating class of the law school at Ann Arbor.

ODDS AND ENDS.

In the state university the total enrollment of students now is 511, of which 303 are young centlemen and 208 young ladies. In the academic college are enrolled eighty-three males and eighty-one co-eds. In the industrial college there are sixty-seven males and sixteen co-eds. The romainder are in the preparatory class and special students.

John Carter, who drove Mrs. Brown from her home at Sixth and F streets and then plundered the house, was arrested last night by Detective Malone. Today he was as-sessed $51.80, and as he could not pay it he sessed $51.80, and as he could not pay it he was sent to the county jail. Some bold thief stole a gray mare last night beionging to Mr. Erickson. The steed was left lied to a post at 425 South Eleventh street by Edward Hartley about dusk. About an hour later when he returned he found that some thief had untied the mare and driven her away. There is no clue to the thief.

representatives of the United States: Resolved, That the distinctive badges adopted by military societies of men who served in the armies and navies of the United States in the war of the revolution, the war of file, the Mexican war, and the war of the re-bellion, respectively, may be worn upon all occasions of ceremony by officers and enlisted men of the army and navy of the United States who are members of said organizations in their own right.

In compliance with this resolution the uni-form regulations of the army are modified, as follows: The phrase "occasions of cere-mony," in the resolution, includes all mus ters, reviews, inspections, parades, and other occasions on which officers and men are re-quired to appear in full dress uniform.

The badges are to be worn on the left breast of the cont, the tops of the ribbons forming a horizontal line, the outer end of which shall be from two to four inches (according to the beight of the wearer) below the upper line of the shoulder.

The ribbons are to be suspended from a bar of metal passed through their upper ends and attached to the coat.

The Best in the World.

The Best in the World. J. B. Loughran, ex-mayor of North Des Moines, and the Locust street macufacturer of steam engines and bollers, said: "I had a a severe attack of la grippe. I used Chamber-lain's Cough Remedy, and applied Chamber-lain's Pain Balim to my breast. These reme-dies were just the thing in my case. My child had croup some years ago, and we used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with perfect success: since then we have never been withsuccess; since then we have never been with out these medicines in our house. I had a cousin who was a printer and was employed cousin who was a printer and was employed in this city, where they were printing circu-lars for Chamberlain. He had a deep-scated cold and a terrible cough, and while setting up the copy he made up his mind to buy a bottle. It cured his cough, and that was the first time I ever knew anything of Chamber-lain's remed and I have been strongly in their favor ever since. My own experience and that of my family convinces me that and that of my family convinces me that these remedies are the best in the world. That may be strong language, but that is what I think !

The Overcrowded Northwest. OMAHA, Nov. 28 .- To'the Editor of THE BEE: Your editorial published Thanksgiving day headed "Overcrowded Northwest," does a great injustice to that country. Instead of 4,000 men being out of employment at Portland, 4,000 more men could get employment at $2 per day within a week after land-'here are 400 miles of railroad ing 'here to work. Bricklayers get $6 for nine hours. Plasterers get $5 for nine hours. Carpenters get $3 to $4 for nine hours. Such wages would not be paid if there were more men than work. Besides the railroad work the forests can give employment to tens of thou-sands more people. The mining districts need thousands of men for operating and de veloping. Millions of acres of the finest ag ricultural lands in the world are laying idle for the want of men to till them. A Ne-braska farmer can go to Oregon and home-stead a quarter section of land with from six million to ten million feet of lumber standing on it, worth $1 per thousand feet as it stands on the stump, or $6,000 to $10,000 per quarter. When this land is cleared and the lumber on the stamp, or $6,000 to $10,000 per quarter. When this land is cleared and the lumber sold, it will year in and year out yield fifty bushels of wheat to the acre. In order to make this letter more convinc-ing I will name a few of the principal build-ings now being crected at Portland. Union depot and terminal improvements costing $1,500,000, Union Pacific steel bridge over the Columbia, costing over $1,000,000; Marquam theater, costing $1,000,000; city hall, costing $500,000; chamber of commerce, costing $450,000; Perkins hotel, costing $250,000; Daily Ore-gonian building, costing $250,000; Kams block, costing $100,000. These figures are all taken from architects' estimates, except for the steel bridge, the cost of which has been variously estimated by the newspapers from $1,000,000 to $7,000,000. Work is now being pushed on all of the above named build-ings, and is proof positive that there can be no searcity of work for contractors skilled laborers, brick, iron and lumber man-ufacturers. You say "people are crowding in there at the rate of from three hundred to five hundred per day." What does that provef Nothing against the country I am sure. If people would move to that country at the rate of 1,000 a day for ten years the great northwest would not then be as densely settided as Nebraska is now, and we all know that Nebraska can sustain three times her present population, without tearing her clothes. Send us 1,000 farmers, lumbermen, miners, merchants, mechanics, manufactur-ers and laborers daily for ten years to come and we will see to it that they get all they want to do and do not go hungry a day. Smart bookkeepers just turned out of eastern commercial schools, dudes, clerks, typewriters and all other people looking for a soft snap would better stay away from the northwest. I am sure The Base did not intend to misropresent the north-weat, but was simply misinformed by some sold, it will year in and year out yield fifty away from the northwest. I am sure THE BEE did not intend to misrepresent the north-west, but was simply misinformed by some one who was disappointed in not finding greenbacks on the bushes around Portland. Omaha jobbers must do fully a million dol-iars' worth of business in that country an-nually and cannot afford to have any jealous feelings stirred up against Omaha. FRANCIS L. MCKENNA.
