 Banter-McFarland Asks to Have His Assignment Set Aside—A Senescence in Boone Business
 Circles—Iowa News.
 Boone, Ia., Nov. 29.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—The authorities here are trying to get traces of one Byron Devereaux, who has been in Boone for some time, claiming to be a detective. Last Sunday he was baptized and joined the Christian church. On Wednesday night he eloped with one of the members, Mrs. James E. Davis, while her husband was then going to the train. Devereaux said he had arrested the woman for passing counterfeit money. He told the policeman who saw them going to the train, Devereaux would take her to Chicago. The pair bought tickets for Marshalltown and here they were seen. Mrs. Davis left a note to her husband saying it would be useless for him to look for her.
 Says He was Unduly Influenced.
 Boone, Ia., Nov. 29.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—A sensation was sprung today in the McFarland bank assignment by Mr. McFarland, through his attorney, Judge Phillips of Des Moines, filing a petition in chancery asking that the deed of assignment be set aside. He alleges that he made the deed through being unduly influenced by those who were interested in adding in the bank property for less than its worth. He says that he signed his name, but he did not know what he was doing, and further, that he has plenty of money to pay all claims against the bank and will pay the money into court for this purpose as soon as the liabilities are ascertained. Sensational charges are made on the outside as to how McFarland was induced to sign the deed. These will come out in the trial of the case which will be fought vigorously on both sides.
 Fatally Injured in a Collision.
 CHENOKER, Ia., Nov. 29.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—An accident occurred here this morning in which Robert Leeds and Jerry Hitchcock were fatally injured. They wanted to go down to the stock yards, and jumped on the pilot of the switch engine that was backing down. When near the yards two freight cars that had been left at the top of the grade without the brakes being set started down hill and crashed into the switch engine. The two men did not see the approaching cars until it was too late to jump. Both were caught between the cars and engine and terribly hurt, their arms and legs being broken and their bodies badly bruised.
 Boone's Enterprise.
 Boone, Ia., Nov. 29.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—Boone's new packing house is drawing other industries here, another one being formed today which will utilize the casing factory which has been idle for several years. The new concern is a ham curing establishment, which will cure and smoke the hams and shoulders turned out by the packing house of J. McLeod & Co. The packing house men are the proprietors of the new enterprise.
 Fort Dodge's New Industry.
 FORT DODGE, Ia., Nov. 29.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—The cement wall coating company, with a capital stock of $70,000 was incorporated here today. The stockholders are John F. Dunscomb, E. G. Larson, I. M. Olson and G. A. Thorsen. All local capitalists except the latter, who is an investor. He comes from Grand Rapids, Mich. The company will build a three-story brick factory and employ thirty hands. Its product will resemble somewhat that of the eastern wall brick factories, but the company will not be covered by the pool.

 Diphtheria at Sioux City.
 SIoux CITY, Ia., Nov. 29.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—The board of health has ordered a quarantine on the Franklin school in this city, there being no less than twenty cases of diphtheria within a radius of three blocks of the school building. Dr. Schott, the city physician, says there are about sixty cases in the city, and a number of deaths have occurred. Unless there is a rapid decrease in the number of cases all the schools in the city will be closed.
 Looks Gloomy for Bootlers.
 Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 29.—A new turn was taken in the aldermanic boot cases today, when Judge Bishop called the attention of the grand jury to the matter and suggested that they investigate with a view to returning indictments for conspiracy. If this is done it will make the charge a penalty for the boot makers, who are in the city for back as far as 1876, since which time the practice of allowing themselves extra compensation has been the practice of the various city governments.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.
 Enterprise has always been the watchword of Manager Lawler of the Eden Musee. He is always on the alert to engage the best attractions of the day. This week Monahan Teahan and Briggs, the Sioux braves from the Pine Ridge, have been engaged to dance the Grand Dance for the edification of the amusement and curious public. The stellar attraction, however, is the Derville family, that family of music whose wonderful performances have caused comment all over the country. The family is comprised of sketch artists, character impersonator, singers, dancers and comedians, and they give an entertainment that stands unrivaled in its class. The Italian gypsy band is another musical attraction that has been successful in all parts of the world. This band of quaint, indolent, nonchalant people have a conception of the art of music seldom known in this country. Their music is superb and well worthy a Strauss or a Gilmore. Arline, the fairy queen of the nether kingdom, is a novelty never before seen in Omaha. Sydney the whittier, is a curiosity and must be seen to be understood. Last but not least is Dockstader, the minstrel king, who will appear this week only. He is well known and his production, "The entire entertainment is a novel one. It is too good to be so cheap."

THE COMMISSIONERS.
 Two Opinions Presented by County Attorney Mahoney.
 As soon as the county commissioners convened yesterday afternoon, County Attorney Mahoney presented two opinions. He formed the board that judges and clerks of election should be allowed $2 per day for their services, or $6 when they served more than three days. The other opinion was to the effect that constables are entitled to $2 per day while serving at polling places.
 County Clerk O'Malley presented a statement showing the delinquent land tax between the years 1870 and 1887. He reported the tax uncollectable and recommended the cancellation of the same. The list was referred to the county attorney. The list shows that $1,000,000 of land is delinquent and unpaid the sum of $28,698.77. Some of the tracts are in the river, while others cannot be located.
 The State street grade was again brought up and the bondsmen of J. C. Root, who has the contract, notified that he had completed work on the grade. He also asked that all estimates be withheld from Root. This was referred to the county attorney.
 The bonds of the newly elected assessors were presented, read and referred.
 Some weeks ago the commissioners decided to grade South sixteenth street and remove 24,000 yards of earth. Yesterday the amount was increased to 34,000. This will be the county's share of the grading.
 The usual number of bills were presented, read and referred to the respective committees.
 Upon motion the following constables were appointed: D. W. Cannon, Chicago precinct; G. V. Spethman, Millard; John C. Dingman, Third ward of the city of Omaha.
 Since the first day of May jurors and witnesses who have failed to receive their fees for their services. This was an account of objections raised by Chairman Anderson and Mr. Berlin. Yesterday the matter was settled by the bills being allowed and ordered placed in the next appropriation sheet. As usual, both Mr. Anderson and Mr. Berlin opposed the move, but that there is no law for allowing such fees.
 The electric light companies of Omaha were instructed to be on hand next Saturday with bids for lighting the new county hospital.
 The following appropriation sheets were read and passed: No. 5 of the general fund, $3,973.75; No. 5 of the general fund, $3,973.75; No. 4 of the bridge fund, $25; No. 16 of the road fund, $6,000.00; and No. 59 of the hospital fund, $100. Fleet No. 4 of the general fund, amounting to $1,620.20, was laid over until the next meeting.
 Bishop O'Connor on Canvas.
 A beautiful portrait of the late Rt. Rev. J. J. O'Connor has just been received from Rome, Italy, by John Rush, esq. for whom it was painted from a photograph, by the famous Italian portrait painter, S. Facelli.
 Mr. Rush has been engaged to have this portrait shall be placed on exhibition. It may therefore be seen in the gallery of the Omaha art exhibition association, at the corner of Harvard and Fifteenth streets.
 These galleries will be open day, evening, Sundays and week days and the many friends of the late bishop will doubtless take advantage of this opportunity to see this piece which is pronounced by those who have seen it a most excellent and lifelike portrait.
Building Permits.
 The following permits were issued by the superintendent of buildings yesterday:
 Kennedy & Newell, two-story frame ice house, Eighth and Webster streets, $ 2,500
 Max Withers, one-story frame cottage, 60
 Vinton and Spring streets, 60
 Barber Bros., addition story to brick block at 211 Jones street, 2,700

 "They Were Boys Together."
 There are few events in life more interesting and cheering than the meeting of companions of youth, and to recall the joyous times when "we were boys together." Such a reunion occurred in this city last week, consisting of three middle-aged men—E. D. Meadimber, John O'Brien and John Hackett. Twenty-five years ago they started out from Kalamazoo, Mich., flush with hope and ambition. They wanted to see the western world, which to their minds was bounded by Chicago. Blacksmiths by trade, they worked and slept together. Their paths soon diverged, however. Meadimber came to Omaha and engaged in business, which has grown with the growth of the city. Hackett took to railroading, amassed a competence and settled down in Cresson, Ia. O'Brien clung to Chicago, became an expert tradesman and is today superintendent of one of the largest carriage manufactories of the Lake city. For the first time in a score of years the three disciples of Vulcan from Kalamazoo came together last Tuesday to exchange reminiscences and experiences, and incidentally to celebrate the opening of Mr. Meadimber's new factory. The reunion was a joyful one, and those who witnessed the trio romping around would not suspect that each had passed the fortieth milestone of life.
Entertainment at the Meridian.
 A most enjoyable high-five party was given by Mrs. H. N. Blood Tuesday evening, the occasion being the birthday of Mrs. Rufus Foster and her daughter, Miss Mary Foster of Boston. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Cady, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Stickney, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Hobbie, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Miner, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. A. W. Copeland, Mrs. Rufus Foster, Miss Mary Foster, Mrs. L. M. Tuttle, Harry Foster, J. K. Hamilton, W. M. Featherly, H. N. Blood. The ladies' first prize was won by Mrs. L. W. Miner, the second prize by Mrs. Marshall. The gentlemen's first prize was won by Mr. Stickney, and the second by J. K. Hamilton.
A "Conversation" Party.
 The pleasant home of Mrs. Dr. Knoda, 3125 Mason street, was open last Tuesday evening for the reception of a small party of friends. The invited guests were received by the Misses Carrie and Alice Knoda, and were very charmingly entertained during the short hours of the evening. The programme of entertainment consisted chiefly of music, "progressive conversation" and parlor games, followed by the serving of very tempting refreshments.

 Those present were: Misses M. Eason, M. Eason, Yena Wells, Frances Emerson, Essie Pryor, —Johnson, —Axtell, Carrie and Alice Knoda, and Messrs. T. J. Hollan, Zermelion, Annie Olver, Annie Rockwell, Ellen J. Jackson, Maude Wilson, Lou Smith, Sundell, Grace Gleason, Anna Moore, Bonham, Burt, Maude Swin, Gertrude Gleason, P. Borell, W. Douglas Claypool.
The Coopers' Ball.
 The second annual ball of the Coopers' Union No. 1, took place on Thanksgiving eve at Forest hall. Despite the fact that there were so many other attractions going on, the coopers and their friends assembled in large numbers and tipped the light fantastic until early dawn.
 The coopers never do things by halves, and on this occasion they had spared no pains or expense to make the ball a success, and their efforts in this direction received the encouragement which they merited.
 The following gentlemen had charge of the affair:
 Master of ceremonies—Lewis Ull. Committee of arrangements—J. M. Baldwin, W. M. Fredericks, Charles Innes, Anne Burdick, James Hanson, William Cummings, Lewis Ull, Jake Diekmann. Floor committee—Jake Diekmann, Charles Innes, James Hanson, W. M. Fredericks. Introduction committee—William Cummings, Anne Burdick.
Thanksgiving Pleasuries.
 The house of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Holbrook on Madison avenue was the scene of a very pleasant gathering on Thursday afternoon, in honor of Miss Florence Frost, a sister of Mrs. Holbrook, who goes to Denver next week to remain through the winter and spring. High five was the game and was participated in by Misses Betty Moody, Clara Clarkson, Sue King, Clara Rooder, Carrie Holbrook, Gladwin, Florence Frost, and Mesdames E. O. Hamilton and M. S. Bostwick, Messrs. E. O. Hamilton, M. S. Bostwick, Mr. Merriam, M. F. Sears, A. C. Frost, A. M. Corvick, W. G. Perfect, H. L. Searle, H. H. Nye. After refreshments had been served, music and dancing was enjoyed by those who were not obliged to take the last motor for down town.
Dancing Party at Walnut Hill.
 A very enjoyable dancing party was given Thanksgiving eve at Mercer's hall, Walnut Hill, Misses Carrie and Jessie Johns being the moving spirits in the affair. The committee on arrangements was composed of Messrs. Gus Drexel, Frank Tompsett and Charles Gibson. Among the guests present were: Misses Wilkins, McClure, Alice Parker, Ada Parker, Carrie House, Weir, Leighton, Sellers, Creighton, Dwyer, King, Sue King, Mamie Free, Emma Free, Powers, Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. John Epener, Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter, Messrs. Deitz, Rathburn, Talmage, D. Roberts, Colby, Schaller, Ryan, Burgess, King, Finley, Spooner, Wilkins, Davenport, Cooper, Weir.
The "Maskers" Surprised Him.
 Last Tuesday evening Mr. D. S. Foster, being invited to a masquerade ball at Mueller's hall, Eighteenth and Vinton streets, was most agreeably surprised when the dancers unmasked to discover that they were all his friends, who had gathered together to surprise him on his birthday. After they had presented him with a magnificent easy chair, they repaired to the supper table, where, with many a joke and many a laugh, they did ample justice to a bountiful supper.
 Many of the costumes worn were very elaborate. Among the comic costumes Mr. Ed Brown took the honors with his impersonation of "Old Sport."
Social Doings in Council Bluffs.
 Thanksgiving night a turkey party was given by Prof. W. E. Chambers, in Royal Arcanum hall, in Council Bluffs. It was an elegant, full dress affair, and every detail of arrangement was so carefully planned and gracefully carried out as to render it a most enjoyable occasion to all participants. Prof. Chambers was ably assisted by J. McWilliams, Dr. H. A. Woodbury, L. Zermelion and Harry Bowman. The music was furnished by the musical union of Omaha. The grand march began at 9 o'clock sharp, and at 11:30 a tempting turkey lunch was served.

 The following were the guests present:
 Misses Annie Bowman, Mamie Olver, Myra Crane, K. Kunn, DeHaven, Reynolds, Nellie Bowman, May Bryant, Bennett, A. Ross, N. Zermelion, Mamie Olver, Annie Rockwell, Ellen J. Jackson, Maude Wilson, Lou Smith, Sundell, Grace Gleason, Anna Moore, Bonham, Burt, Maude Swin, Gertrude Gleason, P. The "Maskers" Surprised Him.
 Last Tuesday evening Mr. D. S. Foster, being invited to a masquerade ball at Mueller's hall, Eighteenth and Vinton streets, was most agreeably surprised when the dancers unmasked to discover that they were all his friends, who had gathered together to surprise him on his birthday. After they had presented him with a magnificent easy chair, they repaired to the supper table, where, with many a joke and many a laugh, they did ample justice to a bountiful supper.
 Many of the costumes worn were very elaborate. Among the comic costumes Mr. Ed Brown took the honors with his impersonation of "Old Sport."
Social Doings in Council Bluffs.
 Thanksgiving night a turkey party was given by Prof. W. E. Chambers, in Royal Arcanum hall, in Council Bluffs.
