

This is What AN Old Iowa Friend Writes About Us.

The world's full of shoddy goods, and every new year brings schemes which should be squelched by law; Cheap imitations of genuine things.

Cheap Clothing sold by cheaper men. To catch the wages of the poor. Circulars from the tricksters' pen. Are left at every person's door.

The "bankrupt sale" and auction room. Catch many a hard-earned dollar. They'll sell a laundered shirt (on the boom). For less than you could buy a dozen collars.

By throwing one bait to the human fish. They'll catch a hundred suckers; Later, you'll kick yourself, and wish you hadn't, when the shoddy draws and puckers.

Your pants creep up, your coat's too short. You give'em to your little brother. But then it's no use to rave and snort. But show more sense when you buy another.

It's a perfect puzzle to me, ma; How people can be such fools. There's less sense now than there used to be. When we hadn't so many schools.

Most clothes, I am loth to say. For the sake of greater gain, Carry the shoddy goods today. "Compelled to," is their claim.

So skillful is the counterfeit. That not one man in every five; Can tell (the way the rooms are lit), Whether its "dead" cloth or "alive."

MR. DOCKERY THROWS A BOMB CAUSES A SMILING OF BITTER SMILES.

He Asks the House to Cause an Investigation of the Silver Pool. What Mr. William Sanders Saw in the South-General Rumay Still Cause a Sensation-After Free Silver.

WASHINGTON BUREAU THE OMAHA BEE. (Special Telegram to The Bee.)-For some time ago, Mr. Dockery, an employee of the B. & M. railroad in this city, has been paying loving attention to Agnes Hessling, a matter that was looked upon with great disfavor by the girl's parents, especially by her mother. The affair, however, came to the attention of Lee and Agnes packed their earthly belongings and this morning fled themselves hence. The fleeing struck the trail later in the day and found that Lee Hessling is not yet old enough to vote and that the girl in the case is little more than a sweet sixteen, consequently the mother induced the chief of police to wire the marshal at Hamburg to arrest Morgan on the charge of kidnaping, while she followed at her heels, and the next chapter in the affair will be conducted in Iowa.

Representative Dockery of Missouri threw what is ordinarily called a bombshell into the house today by offering a resolution calling for an investigation into the alleged silver pool in which various senators and representatives are said to have been interested during the silver legislation last year. This matter has been the subject of common rumor, but that portion of Mr. Dockery's resolution which intimates that those gentlemen made a profit of $1,000,000 will cause many of them to smile bitterly. It is generally believed that there was a pool of very considerable size which invested in margins on silver bullion before the passage of the bill last session, and that an attempt was made to unload the holding when the price of the metal ran up to 119 and 120. But the brokers in New York were a little too spry for the statesmen and when they learned that the silver was going to sell they unloaded so rapidly that the price fell to 100, and was when the legislation was commenced, and remains there in the most sorry and unprosperous condition. The pool has not unloaded. It is not supposed to be carrying many million dollars' worth of silver, the interest upon which is such a heavy burden for the purpose, properly belong to the country. The cases were argued and submitted and are now held under adjournment by Judge Applegate. The defendants have retained the leading legal talent of the city in their behalf. The outcome will be awaited with much interest.

Superintendent Porter has prepared a table showing the population of each state and the apportionment of members of the house of representatives to be from three hundred and thirty-two to three hundred and seventy-five. In any of these cases Nebraska will have six members in the house.

Mr. William Sanders, the veteran superintendent of the prototyping department of the agricultural department and the founder of the famous order known as the Patrons of Husbandry, has just returned from a somewhat extended trip to the south, and says that he is amazed over the growth and prosperity of that section. "Around the old-time centers of population," he says, "there have been revolutionary changes. Material advancement is noted everywhere, and is generally due to the Yankee leaven, which has extended the whole lump. Great cotton factories and iron mills have sprung up in unexpected places, and around are comfortable homes of those who have prospered. The population of the towns is made up exclusively of those who labor in the mills and factories, and they are mostly immigrants from New England. The important thing, however, is that the white people of the south with the dignity of labor which they have not always recognized."

It is understood that there will be another investigation of General Rumay, it being charged that he used the pension bureau very extensively during the late campaign for political purposes. The committee on the representatives Bynum and Cooper are determined to renew the attack upon him and resolutions may be looked for any day. The resolutions which investigated General Rumay during the last session has never made a report although the minority gave a false and sensational statement to the public just before adjournment.

Free silver coinage seems to be very popular as a result of the election. Conger's had nearly gone when the four bills for free coinage were introduced. Two are by republicans, Pickler and Barlow, and the others by democrats, Townsend and Clements, indicating that the free coinage sentiment is not confined to party lines.

There was a very funny incident in the senate today. It is not an Irish bill to say that the clerk started to read the president's message before that document arrived. It is customary to send the message from the government printing office in pamphlet form and have copies upon the desks of the senators as soon as the official manuscript is received from the president. Today the copies were distributed as usual, but owing to a misunderstanding they were not read by the senators before the committee appointed to wait upon the president had returned. The clerk had only gotten as far as the words, "The senators of the house of representatives," when somebody directed the vice president's attention to the fact that the message had not been read. A moment later the committee appeared to announce that the president would communicate with the senate in writing and were shortly followed by the executive clerk who delivered a package containing the manuscript message and the reading was renewed.

Proposed Advance in Freight Rates. CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—Much interest is manifested in the meeting of executive officers of the western railroads to be held here tomorrow, pursuant to the call of Chairman Midevel of the Western Railway Association. One of the objects of the meeting is to bring about an advance in westbound rates to the former basis of 75 cents per 100 pounds, first class, between Chicago and St. Louis. The present tariff is based on 70 cents first class, but now that the old per cent scale is in effect between here and St. Paul it is believed to be possible to bring the rate up to the level of last year. An attempt will also be made to advance grain rates between Kansas and Nebraska points, notwithstanding the fact that the Interstate Commerce act prevents the Interstate Commerce association. No attempt will be made to form the nucleus of a new association, a meeting that being left to the presidents and managers who are now arranging for a conference in New York.

SIoux CITY, Ia., Dec. 1.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—Treasurer Kifer of this county is in trouble. On application of A. E. Hoole an injunction has been granted by Judge Lewis against the sale of certain land at tax sale advertised to come off today. J. B. Jorman, the ex-county supervisor, who filed a few weeks ago, formerly owned the land and just before he was transferred it to Hoole, and in payment of the taxes gave the treasurer his individual check and took a receipt in regular form. The check was forwarded and Kifer is charged with erasing the entry on the books and destroying the duplicate receipt. An abstract made immediately after the taxes were paid shows a clear title, while one made last week shows the above defects. A Horse Thief's Matrimonial Career. DENVER, Colo., Dec. 1.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—Governor Cooper began his official duties this morning by signing the requisition papers of H. G. Wheelock, who is wanted in North Platte, Neb., for horse-stealing. Sheriff Baker of Lincoln county, Neb., will leave Denver tonight for Durango, where Wheelock is presently confined. Wheelock's career in the west has been somewhat eventful. He was formerly from Lockport, N. Y., which he left some years ago for Illinois, where he married two women in different parts of the state. He was arrested and brought up in North Platte, Neb., and once he married Miss Mary Upson, and after seven or eight months stole a horse and saddle from her. He fled to Colorado, where he continued his matrimonial career, by marrying a daughter of Richmond Castle. He lived here a year, but in some way his last wife was abandoned by him. He was arrested in Platte, and this led to the investigation, which resulted in his capture and arrest.

CHAFFEE'S INFAMOUS METHODS. How the Primaries Were Manipulated in His Interest.

Later developments go to show that Chaffee's plans for carrying the Sixth ward at the primaries were conceived and carried out to the letter. William Farr, who was appointed judge by the republican central committee, in speaking of the outrages perpetrated by the Chaffee hirelings, last night said: "It is well known that the central committee appointed P. J. Quaalley inspector, H. E. Cochran clerk and myself judge. On the day the primaries were held we all assembled at the polling place, and as soon as we entered the room Mr. Quaalley took the ballot box and said that he proposed to act as referee. I refused, and the hiring of a referee for Chaffee, and constantly stood before the windows obstructing the voters. The tickets issued by Roeder were smaller than those used by Chaffee, and when those men saw a Roeder voter step up to the polls they would challenge his vote, and without waiting for the clerk to read the name would take away the ballot. The voters of Seavey's eleven policemen who were here on duty and say, 'Take this man away.' The officers would at once obey, and I am confident that from one hundred to two hundred and fifty republicans, many of whom were alive in the ward for years, were thus deprived of their votes, simply to carry the ward for Chaffee."

"Late in the afternoon nearly one hundred graders, led by Ed Callahan, were marched to the polls with Chaffee tickets in their hands. Sam MacLeod, who was challenging for Roeder, objected to their votes being received, and challenged them. He was pushed back by the police, and the voters were taken without any questions being asked. Mr. MacLeod, who was a listener to Mr. Farr's statement, corroborated what he said, and then added: "I know of my own knowledge that 204 republicans were deprived of their rights at that primary by the infamous course pursued by Chaffee and his gang, aided by the police, who were doing his bidding and obeying his instructions. It was a systematic plan, and was carried out to the letter, so much so that when Ed Walsh or myself asked for fair play we were told to keep quiet or we would be locked up. Even after the polls were closed by the closing of the law courts, the voters were kept in the room and stayed all night until the vote was counted, while the citizens on the sidewalk were driven away."

A man should never allow himself to be without a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, for no man knoweth what the morrow may bring. Have you ever tried Salvation Oil, the greatest cure on earth for pain? It is cured many and will cure you. Price 25 cents a bottle.

Voters, Beware! Of the citizens candidates for councilman in the Eighth ward, if St. A. D. Halcorn had come out for the office at the primaries last Friday he might have been chosen there for the republican nominee, and might have been elected, and no doubt would make an excellent representative of the people; but since he did not announce himself a candidate until the eleventh hour, after all nominations are closed, he has no chance of election, and so that any one voting for him tomorrow will only rob C. E. Branner of possibly enough votes to be elected. Pat Connelly, the democrat nominee, is a good republican. I would have been too glad to support Mr. Halcorn had he been nominated. EIGHTH WARD REPUBLICAN.

Killed on the Bridge. PORTSMOUTH, Ia., Dec. 1.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—A young German named Kramer was struck and killed by a freight train on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, on the long bridge just west of this place yesterday. His father and brother were taking the bridge route with him as being the shorter one by which to walk home. The two got over the bridge all right, but this third one, being built on a trestle, was not so strong and was unable to get off the bridge, which is about 140 feet long. He was horribly mangled, and death was instantaneous. His father was quite cool about the tragedy, and got into the body from the track, taking it down the dump, and laying it down, and leaving it there until he and his little son went two miles to the home, which they had to move the body.

Officer Cox Sustained. The board of fire and police commissioners held a lengthy session last night upon the charges preferred against Officer Cox by J. O'Connor. The charges were then dismissed. Sergeant Sigwart, Patrolmen Kirk and Friend Wayman were given leaves of absence for the month, as against 100 for October. Resolutions of condolence with the family of Officer Lee were adopted by the board.

The Majority Of so-called cough-cures do little more than irritate the digestive functions and create illness. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, on the contrary, while it cures the cough, does not interfere with the functions of either stomach or liver. No other medicine is so safe and efficient in all cases of the throat and lungs.

"Four years ago I took a severe cold, which was followed by a terrible cough. I was very sick, and confined to my bed about four months. I employed a physician most of the time, who finally said I was in consumption, and that he could not help me. One of my neighbors advised me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I did so, and, before I finished taking the first bottle was able to sit up all the time, and to go out. By the time I had finished the bottle, I was well, and have remained so ever since."—L. D.
