The Election.

Yesterday's city election for the selection of a councilman from each ward, while lively in some respects, did not arouse interest enough to bring out more than half of the voting population of the city.

With the exception of the Fourth, Seventh, Ninth and Sixth, there was out little enthus! asm in the fight, and the polls were practically deserted, save for the few trusty patriots who braved the elements in the interests of their candidates. The weather was fearfully disagreeable.

The weather was fearfully disagreeatic, and people burriedly passed the polls, appar-ently not aware that an election was in pro-gress, the result of which would materially change the complexion of the city council. Greatest interest centered in the Fourth, Seventh and Ninth wards, where Wheeler, Chaffee and Davis, leaders of the council combine, were up for re-election. In the Fourth Wheeler had a losing fight from the start, and was beaten by an overwhelming majority. Chaffee and Davis pulled through by small pluralities.

The result completely breaks up the com-bine that has deminated city affairs for the past year.

The new council will have ten democratic The new council will have ten democratic and eight republican members. The democrats are Cooper, Madsen, Ostboff, Morearty, Burdish, Elsasser, Tuttle, Donnelly, Lewry and Conway. The republicans are Bechel, Blumer, Chaffee, Davis, Bruner, Specht, Olsen and McLearie.

Jubilee in the Sixth.

The republicans of the big Sixth were feeling very pleased last night over the election of Chris Specht to the city council, Some thing like a hundred of Mr. Specht's friends met at the corner of Twenty-fourth and Clark streets last night about 9 o'clock, and after forming in line, two abreast, they marched to eecht's residence, keeping step to the "Specht, Specht, Christian Specht," and called the councilman-elect out for

Mr. Speent responded in a happy mood and then invited everybody in for refresh-ments. The invitation was promptly accepted, and after half an hour of real repub lican Sixth ward sociability, the gathering dispersed, wishing Mr. Specht a successful term as councilman.

Davis, a deputy clerk, who has been pocketing money by this ingenious style of theft for the past four or five years, his total stealings amounting to several thousand dollars. When Clerk O'Connor discovered the robbery he was so enraged that he attacked Davis with his fists and so disabled him that he is now in the city hospital though under arrest. It was a part of the duty of Davis to issue certificates to all jurors and he has been in the habit of making a large number of certificates for jurors' fees in the names of fictitious parties getting them cashed at the county treasurer's office through some court official who pretended to be drawing for a panal.

GUILLEMOT'S MEMORY.

It Does Not Recall Incidents of a Fifteen Years Drunk.

New York, Dec. 2.- |Special Telegram to THE BEE. |- A most remarkable confession that forms the basis of an equally remarkable suit is the salient feature of a potition submitted today by Charles Guillemot through his counsel, Edward Gibbard, to Judge Andrews in the superior court in chambers. The petition occurs in a suit to cancel the contract by which Guillemot signed away his interest in the estate of John Howland, his father. He got $80,000 in a lump out of the estate valued at $500,000 shortly after his father's death and was en-titled to a third of the remainder at the death of his mother who is old and feeble. Now comes the queer part. After stating the above facts very clearly and vith every indication of a lucid and tenacious memory, Mr. Guillemot says that his memory of occurrences between 1870 and 1885 is altogether varue. The fact was, as he puts it, that between these dates, a period of years, he was habitually drunk and wholly engressed in a reckless endeavor to retrid of the $80,000 legally left him by his father, in which it is conceded he he was eminently successful. During this interval he says Mr. Benjamin C. Wetmore got him to sign away his interest in the trust fund in question, and it is to recover this interest that he has instituted the present action.

A RARE CASE.

Heirs to a Large Property are Willing to Obey the Wishes of the Testator. DEDHAM, Mass., Dec. 2.-[Special Tele gram to THE BEE. |-A most interesting case is now before the Norfolk county probate court-that of the estate of the late R. W. Shapleigh of Brooklyn, who died worth nearly $700,000, leaving no will and about thirty heirs. There was found in Shapleigh's wallet, however, a paper in his hand-writing, but unsigned, drawn in the form of a promisery note, in which he promised to pay different sums of $8,000 or $10,000 to his nearest relatives. The total amount thus mentioned was $500,000. It included several relatives who would not obtained mentioned was $30,000. It included several relatives who would not otherwise have received anything. A family meet-ing was held upon the discovery of this paper and the members decided to accept its provisions and abide by them. They agreed to set aside a sum for the maintenance of the church and the cemetery at West Lebanon, Me., in which the deceased had al-ways displayed deep personal interest. A lawyer says of the case that it is a most extracedinary one to see such a bulk of property distributed among so large a family with an evident desire to carry out the es of the deceased. It was also discovered ered that he had disbursed nearly $300,000 in

AN ALDERMANIC BOMB.

It is Exploded Among the City Fathers of New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Alderman Storm, just before the board of aldermen adjourned today, moved that the East river tunnel scheme should be revived. This caused Alderman Oakley to make some startling statements in opposition to the proposition. He begged that the scheme should remain buried where it is. He said that bribes had been offered to him to vote for it and he had no doubt that almost every other man on the board had also approached in the same way. It was in his opinion, a most gigantic swindle and a fraud on the face of it. An aldernan should be ashamed of himself to even dare to vote in favor of it. He characterized the promoters of it as enemies of the city of New York and public plunderers. A derman Gregory thought that owing to the grave charge made by Alderman Oakley the whole subject should be ventilated. The matter was said over till Tuesday.

Creditors of the Pettyman Bank Find Their Calculations at Fault. Cuicago, Dec. 2,- Special Telegram to THE BEE, ]-When the investigation of the Pettyman failure was resumed today, Attorney Shaffner sprung some surprises which were not agreeable to the banker's creditors. The attorney presented a statement of the asets, showing that but $31,155 worth of bonds, mortgages and other securities had been found, although it was believed that the assets would reach $70,800, a belief that was founded on the testimony of cashier Johnson. The $2,500 sent by Mrs. Pettyman to her mother in New York has been found to be effectually tied up, as the New York bank re-fused to cash the draft. Cashier Johnson was again put on the stand, and after some questioning admitted that he protected his friends when he saw the crash coming and had sent their balances to them. He began to do this, he said, as corly as the Friday before the assignment. This corroborates the evidence of Teller Bar tols. The benevolently inclined of Beatrice are doing some magnificent work toward con-tributing relief to the destitute settlers on the Nebraska frontier. A vast amount of clothing, provisions, etc., was collected yesterday and today by wagens sent around for the pur-pose, and the donations taken to the receiving station, where a committee of ladies ar-ranged and classified the contributions and packed them in boxes ready for shipment. It is the intention of the Beatrice committee to gather three and if possible four car loads of clothing and provisions for this purpose. Four or five wealthier citizens have already given orders for car loads of coal to be shipped to the settlers, and there is a good prospect for this number to be increased to ten before the week closes.
