MINOR MENTION.

Council Bluffs Lumber Co., coal. The Knights of Labor ball last night was largely attended and proved to be one of the most brilliant parties of the season. P. J. Donahoe was fined $10 and costs at evening session of the police court just night Too much whisky was the cause of his trouble.

H. U. Bailey, editor of the Express-Republican, published at Mason City, Ia., was in the metropolis yesterday looking after some real estate investments.

J. H. Bradley, president of the Bradley manufacturing company, was in the city yes-terday in consultation with the managers of the general western branch in this city.

An elegant banquet was spread at the Council Bluffs restaurant on Main street last night for the Knights of Labor ball. A special banquet was tendered the press representatives.

The Klonas Literary society, connected with the First Baptist church, met with Miss Jennie Guittar on North Eighth street, last evening. A very pleasant evening was passed, the programme consisting of music, readings, recitations, etc.

The St. Helena gaild, a newly organized The St. Helena gaild, a newly organized society in St. Paul's church, gave a butterfly social last evening at the residence of Mrs. F. Trude, at 22 South Twenty-second street. The society is composed wholly of young ladies of the church. They entertained their friends royally last evening and created a nice little sum for their treasury.

that drift in and out of the city every day a twelve year old boy yesterday attracted a good deal of attention. He gave the name of Homer Perry, and frankly admitted that he was running away from his home in Kearney Neb. His objective point was Marshalltown, Ia., where he claimed to have relatives living, and whom he thought would be kinderto him than his father, whom he says, used to whip him regularly every day.

By a slip Tue Ben was made to give the Modern Woodmen credit for the splendid performance at the opera house on Wednesday evening for the charistian home. Many of the Woodmen were present and some of them took active parts in the play, but the credit of the enterprise belongs to the Ancient Order of United Workmen, who organized it and under whose auspices it was given. Both societies are very strong in the city and abound in good deeds, but neither desires any credit that does not be-

The information conveyed to the police that Frank Kane, the leader of the gangs of toughs which have distinguished themselves in the southern part of the city, was under arrest at Darlington, Mo., will not result in his being brought back. Warrants are out for his arrest upon several minor charges, but none of them are of sufficient importance to justify the expense of sending an officer after him. If he will keep away from town for good no further notice will be taken of him. He is not charged with a serious offense by the Missouri officers.

A telegram was received here yesterday morning by the sons of Peter Martison announcing his death at Mercy hospital, Davenport, whither he was taken last summer, having been adjudged insane. He was crippled on the Chicago & Rock Islant road twelve years ago, and it is thought that he never recovered from the effects of the accident. For the past five years he has been steadily failing, and so his death was not wholly unexpected. He leaves two sons in this city, M. D. and Martin Martison, and a wife, two sons and a daughter in Racine,

A reminiscence of the cutting affray at Big lake last summer for which "Slippery Sam".
Davis is serving a term in the penitentiary drifted into the city jailyesterday. It was in form of a character known as Robert Scott, who was a witness of the bloody assault by Davis upon Smith, and was an associate of the colored razor wielder.

On August 9 he was arrested for intoxication, and like a good many other fellows who have defeated the ends of justice by filing a bond, secured a stay of ten days by giving the necessary bond. He skipped the city immediately and left his bondsman to settle. Yesterday he returned to the city and his bondsman surrendered him. He was locked up and will be obliged to work out his fine on the streets in the rig orous weather of December instead of the balmy air of August.

The sympathies of many people were touched yesterday morning by the distresstouched yesterday morning by the distress-ing condition in which a husband and wife found themselves when they arrived at the union depot. They gave the names of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martin, and were enroute from Denver to lower City. Martin was a helpless invalid and his wife was trying to get him back to the low; town where they had friends. Their money gave out at this point, and penniless and friendless their pitable condition excited a great deal of sympathy. The excitement of the situation caused the husband to become much worse, and the young wife had grave reason to fear that she would have to conreason to fear that she would have to con tinue the journey alone. She stood up bravely under the trying situation and procured means to get her dying husband away by modest appeals for charity. A handsome sum was raised in a few moments and they took the Northwestern train last evening.

An attempt was made at 11:30 on Thursday night to burglarize the residence of C. W. Atwood, chief clerk in the Omaha & St. Louis railway general offices. Mr. and Mrs. Louis railway general offices. Mr. and Mrs. Atwood own a handsome little cottage on Bond street, and on Thursday they locked it up and attended a high five party at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Hereld. At the hour stated two young ladies who live in adjoining residences noticed a couple of men endeavoring to raise a side window. They watched them for some time, and when they realized that they were and when they realized that they were burglars became frightened and beat a hasty The noise they made attracted the attention of the burglars, and they left without effecting an entrance. They would have suc-ceeded in getting a nice haul if they had not been frightened away, including two gold watches. This makes the second attempt recently to get into Mr. Atwood's reside and he has made arrangements now to do some shooting if another attempt is made.

The Attraction This Wesk.

The attraction of the people looking for holiday goods is entirely centered at Else man's store. It calls out thousands of ladies and children to visit their holiday depart ment. People are astonished when they see our immense variety. The question of ever-one is, how could they get such an assert ment together; and how can they sell their goods so cheap! The reason is, because we buy them cheap enough and don't believe in the large profit system that other houses de We sell them close and sell lots of them Every market of the world has contributed to our display for this holiday season, matters not what you want to buy come our store and you will find it.

We have goods for the poor, the medium and the richest, and goods for all classes of trade, and cheaper than you can find them elsewhere. Therefore, make no mistage, call at Eisemans' store before you think of investing a cent, for the purchasing power of $\forall \text{1} at our store is equal to $\forall \text{2} elsewhere. A word to the wise is sufficient.

No Bank Account.

C. O. Maloney yesterday had a man rested for beating him out of $5 worth of food and lodging at the Manawa notel. It is claimed that the man, who gives his name as S. E. Pierce, on being presented with his hotel bill gave in payment a check on the First National bank, and that on presenta-tion of this check it was discovered that the fellow had no account there and no money. On being arrested be was unable to give bonds and was sent to the county jail to wait for the nearing which will take place before Justice Shurz next Wednesday.

Mason City Baptists Show Their Esteem for Their Late Pastor-Police News-Minor Mention and Personal.

Judge Deemer held court for a time yesterday merely to dispose of some motions and render a few decisions. Among these cases was that of Gray vs White, in which a decision was rendered against Gray. This was an equity case in which Gray claimed that certain property which was in Wnite's name was being held merely in trust, although the deeds showed an absolute conveyance. The court held that while a decision against Gray might result in White retaining title to property to which he was not fully entitled, yet it appeared that Gray was not blameless in the matter. One who sought justice in a court of equity must himself have clean hands, and Gray's hands did not appear to be clean. A man could not place property in the hands of another to avoid his creditors getting hold of it, and then come into court and seek to set aside such conveyance after it had served such a such conveyance after it had served such a

In the case of Lee Snyder vs L. P. Wright, the defendant had defaulted, as he claims by some understanding or misunderstanding with an attorney. The motion to have this default set aside was overruled. In the main court room Judge Carson was hearing the case of Datcher vs Gallagher, which has been on trial several days. The arguments were being made in the afternoon preparatory to submitting the case to a jury.

Thoroughly Depraved. Pete Biltgen, or Bilgen, the name under which he was arrested a short time ago, was caught by Deputy Marshal Fowler vesterday afternoon under circumstances that indicate that he is thoroughly depraved. He is the wretch who haunted the outhouses in the girls' department of the Bloomer school, scrawled shockingly vulgar stuff on the walls and sent bratally indecent notes to many of the older girls. He was finally captured and bound over to the grand jury for the January term of the district court, but after laying in term of the district court, but after laying in jail for a week or more was liberated by his friends filing the necessary bonds.

Since getting out of jail he has not been known to visit the Bloomer building, but for several days past has transferred his attentions to the high school, on Washington avenue. Firemen at No. 3 hose house have noticed him going under the Main and Bryant attentions to the main and Bryant attentions to the main and Bryant attentions to the second disappearing from high. street bridges and disappearing from sight for so hour or more. Their attention was attracted also by the fact that he timed his visits to conform with the hours of dismissing and convening the hours of dismissing and convening school when several hundred young ladies would be obliged to pass over the bridges. On Wednesday they saw the fellow disappear under the Bryant street bridge shortly before 1:20, the hour school is called. One of the Bremen concluded he would investigate the matter a tittle, and slipping down under the bridge found Biltgen kneeling upon the bank under the sidewalk part with his face bank under the sidewalk part with his fac pressed against a crevice between the planks,

The officers were apprised of the fact by telephone and Deputy Marshal Fowler was sent to take him. The officers found him under the north end of the bridge beneath the sidewalk on the west side. He was taken to the central station and locked up but no charge was placed against him, at the request of the city atterney, who is determined to make an effort this time to teach the fellow a lesson that he will not soon forget.

Thirty Days in the County Jail. Police Judge McGee yesterday sent Sheriff O'Neill two boarders to be cared for during the next thirty days. The first one was Dan Wallace, the clothes thief, who was con-victed of stealing the family washing of Jacob Haworth. It was a plain case of total depravity, and the severest penalty under the law was given the rascal. The other unfortunate was poor old Dave Tostevin, who has been struggling for a week with his ancient and only enemy. He was assisted by four days confinement in the city jail during the first of the week, which was part of a sentence of seven days on the streets, but the remainder of the sentence was remitted by Judge McGee upon the assurance of the victim that he would not get drunk again for a while. He was liber ated Thursday afternoon, and by night he had forgotten his promise and was in a con-dition that made it necessary for the patrol wagon to carry him to the central station. They Loved Their Pastor. The Mason City Express-Republican, printed in the former home of Rev. L. A. Hall, the newly installed paster of the First Baptist church in this city, prints the follow ing in its last issue, as an evidence of the high regard in which the minister was held by those among whom he has lived and la-bored for the past five years:

Last Sunday Rev. L. A. Hall closed his five years pastorate with the Baptist church.

The house in the morning was crowded to overflowing. The theme of discourse was, "The Mission of a Christian Church." In connection with the sermon was a review of connection with the sermon was a review of the doctrinal emphasis placed upon the buman element in the salvation of man. The Divme conditions are always the same, God standing at the door of men's lives willing to enter and occupy the entire field. The speaker referred to this first introduction to the enurch, its condition spiritually, social and financially. During the five years of his pastorate he has baptised 191 persons, receiving letters 11, making in all 242. The membership at the time he began was about 150. The net gain about 200. He has officiated at 137 funerals, 102 weddings and organized the social and missionary organizations of the church. The evening service was to be held in the church, but the crowd of the morning caused c Parker Brothers to anticipate the caused c Parker Brothers to anticipate the greater need of room for the evening and they kindly offered to keep the opera house in readless if needed. Three-quarters of an hour before the hour of service the church was overflowing with people. The pastor announced that he preferred to close his pastorate in the place where he had done his work, but as he was informed that the opera house was one-third full the people adjourned to the larger building. The house was soon packed to its ut-most capacity. Hundreds later were turned away. Mr. Hall's theme was "Truth Not away. Mr. Hall's theme was "Truth Not Bound." In closing he thanked the citizens for their many courtesies extended to him by all classes of business and professional men. He closed by inviting them to call on him at his new home at Council Bluffs.
