THE PEOPLE'S MAMMOTH INSTALLMENT HOUSE
In their effort to convey a fair public impression of their Winter Styles in Fine Household Furniture, employs the language of printed pictures because of its truthfulness and brevity; because it is the only language of description which, while accurate, elaborate and free from exaggeration, gives, by instant sight, the instant understanding of all the main points of form, tone, taste, and finish. To present a million items to the eye, however, would require a million pictures--too great a page for daily printing. Ladies and housekeepers are therefore invited to a tour of wider personal observation through their immense establishment.
