The case of Linton J. Usher of Lawrence, Kan., against THE BEE publishing company came up for hearing in the United States court yesterday morning, but on the representations of the plaintiff's counsel that important affidavits from Kansas City and Lawrence had not arrived, the case was continued until 2 p. m. Wednesday.

The home of A. B. Frary, 1908 North Twenty-seventh street, was sadly bereaved vesterday by the death of a two-year-old daughter. Death was the result of diphtheria in its most malignant form. This is the second death in the family in a very short time, a four-year-old son having died of the same dread disease only ten days ago, and another is now dangerously ill with but little hope of its recovery.

The New Year number of the Railway News-Reporter is one of the handsomest editions of the kind ever published in the west. It is a thirty-six-page number, under handsome comers, filled with well executed pertraits and sketches of the prominent railroad workers of Omaha and the west. Full-page portraits of Jay Gould and General Manager S. H. H. Clark are especially noticeable features, Editor Dan Honin is justly entitled to the hearty congratulations he is receiving in railway circles for his effort.

MR. STUHT'S INJUNCTION.

It will be Heard in Judge Doane's Court on Saturday.

Judge Donne held a short session of court vesterday morning to listen to the arguments in the injunction suit wherein Mr. E. Stuht asks for an injunction restraining the city authorities from turning over the Teath street viaduct bonds to the Union Pacific road or the Omaha union depot company. Mr McHugh aunounced that his partner, General Cowin, was out of the city, and as City Attorney Poppleton is in Lincoln, a metion to let the matter go over until Saturday at 10 o'chek was sustained

John D. Howe asked that his name be at-John D. Howe asked that his name be attached as a party to the plaintiffs, and the request was granted.

When asked by a Bez reporter why he had asked to become a party plaintiff, Mr. Howassad.

Howe said: "This injunction suit was brought in the name of Mr. E. Stuqt in behalf of the citizens and taxpayers of Omaha. I happen to be one of the latter, and came to the conclusion that the entire responsibility should not rest upon the shoulders of Mr. Stuht alone. In fact, I wanted a voice in the matter and it was granted me.

"I go into this fight without compensation, and solely for the purpose of seeing that the and solely for the burpose of seeing that the city gets all that the railroad company agreed to give. Twenty years ago the city of Omaha contributed twenty acres of land to the Union Pacific company just at the west end of the bridge upon certain conditions, as the older citizens well remember. One of these condi-tions was a gromise to build a union depot. The land that we then donated is now said to be worth millions, but the union depot is yet to be completed. This time we mean business, and propose to get all that has been promised. I have asked to go in as party plaintiff solely for that purpose, and we will give them a whirl this time that will bring them to time."

Mr. William T. Price, a justice of the peace at Richland, Neb., was confined to his bed last winter with a severe attack of lumbago, but a thorough application of Chamber-lain's Pain Balm enabled him to get up and go to work. Mr. Price says: "The remedy cannot be recommended too highly." Let anyone troubled with rheumatism, neuralgia lame back give it a trial and they will be

They Were Not Counterfeiters. Silas Cue was tried in the United States court yesterday on the charge of passing counterfeit money. The indictment set forth that Cue gave a counterfeit $5 gold piece to one Mart Huber last May for the latter to pass, telling fluber to give him (Cue) half the profits. The principal witness was Huber, who admitted that he had been arrested and convicted of passing the coin but could not identify the coin as the one given him by Cue. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty and Cue was discharged. James Russell, who was charged with being accessory to the crime, was discharged on account of lack of evidence to convict.

ANEX-CONSCL'S OPINION.

He Speaks of Missouri Politics and Omaha's N atness. Hon. Ephraim B. Ewing, ex-consul general to Mexico and managing editor of the Jefferson City Tribune, the official paper of Missouri, is in the city. Mr. Ewing was the youngest member of the convention that nominated President Cleveland, and was the youngest man in the diplomatic service. In speaking of Missouri politics, Mr. Ewing said:

"Yes, it is true the Farmers' alliance will control the general assembly, but they were nominated and elected as democrats and are nominated and elected as democrats and are loyal to their party. I know the most direful predictions are being made by the alarmists who can see no good in this organization and think it a menace to the prosperity of the country. I do not share this feeling, for I know our legislature to be composed of honest, intelligent and well meaning men who est, intelligent and well meaning men who ove their state and party and will not sacrifice the interests of either."

Of Senator Vest and his candidacy for reelection, Mr. Ewing said: "There is no opposition to Senator Vest in the democratic party of Missouri, and he will receive the unanimous vote of his party in the general assembly. He is a brilliant, aggressive and able man who is looked to for leadership whenever party lines are drawn in the senate. The country cannot spare him from that body."

Mr. Ewing said of Omaha: "What a beautiful and prosperous city you have! Its growth and improvement since I last saw it is marvelous. There are so many imposing business blocks and so many attractive residences that I scarcely recognize the Omaha I used to know. Do you know, I think the greatest piece of luck Omaha and Nebraiska has had recently is the reappointment of Mr. S. H. H. Clark as general manager of the Union Pacific road. We have had him in Missouri for five years and know what his Missouri for five years and know what his presence is worth to a state. No man in this country in his position has ever had as many friends, and none has so successfully managed the vast interests committed to his hands. He is not only a man of great ability, but is so fair, caudid and honorable in all his relations that his character and life compel the admiration of all who know him."
