THE SPECULATIVE MARKETS.

Final Crop Report a Bullish Influence in Wheat.

LOCAL TRADE PRETTY WELL STIRRED UP.

Corn Badly Demoralized Late in the Day—Oats Gain Strength During the Day—Great Weakness in Corn.

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—There was unusual activity at the opening on 'change. Washington crop report figures, of which the first appeared in Saturday's afternoon papers, was a disturbing influence in cereals. The figures were moderately bullish all around and started everything firm and higher. It was but a temporary bulge as it looked at the end of the first hour. May wheat sold all the way from 97¼c to 98c at the first flash, and after touching 98¼c sold back to 97⅛c, or ¼c over the close Saturday. Corn for May sold at 53⅜c and 53¼, off to 52⅞ in less than a half hour. Very great receipts of hogs broke provisions sharply. May pork opened 10c lower at $11.02½ and sold down 10c further to $10.92½ before the call. Lard was off to $6.25 and ribs to $5.50 for May.

The final crop report on wheat for 1890, making the total yield a little less than 400,000,000 bushels was in itself a trifle bullish as the trade expected something over this amount. The estimate of the condition of growing wheat at .985 compared with a condition of .95 for December of last year was slightly bearish. One influence about offset the other and leaves the market with two sides as before and the local trade pretty well stirred up. In the transactions today the bears took the advantage by the boldest trading and after a bulge of 1¼c early, from the closing price of last week there was a break of 2c straight from the top. The market opened with a whirl around 97¼c, but small shorts, who wanted to cover, got no wheat to speak of until the price got above 97¾c and around 98c. The first flurry carried the price of May to 98⅛c. On the bulge Partridge sold through every broker he could send into the pit. S. V. White & Co. sold, Walker & Co. and Baldwin & Farnum and the whole line of professional bears filled the small buyers with wheat. Logan & Co. and others sold some long wheat. The bulls, with good lines already on hand, did not feel like adding to their load to help the market. The foreign situation was strong but this was offset by pretty free receipts in the northwest, nearly 500 cars at Minneapolis. The visible supply figures were not far enough along to cut any figure. The market became heavy under the combined selling of the bears and tired bulls and from 98⅛c, price went to 96¾c, about midday. The visible supply figures showed a decrease of 355,000 bushels and under 97c. Partridge and others covered some wheat and not only checked the decline but brought about a rally to 96¾c, the closing price of Saturday. There was talk, on the decline, of bears seeking to dislodge the long wheat held by Kennett Hopkins and Baker & Co., but no one seriously expected strong houses to unload at this juncture. At 1 o'clock, May wheat was at 96⅛c, the low point of the day up to that hour. Nothing appeared to help wheat much, late in the day. The last half hour brought a break of ¾c from the price at 1 o'clock and May sold at 95¾c, closing ⅜c under Saturday at 96c. January was at 91¾c, early to 89¼c nominal, at the close. July was at 93¾@94c early, to 92c seller, at the close. New York reported two loads of fresh export business for the United Kingdom. On the curb puts on May wheat were 95⅝c; calls, 95¾c.

The corn market did not get out of the run on the crop report. The price of May started ½c up at 53¾c, touched 53⅞c, went off on large offerings and a few sales to 52⅝c the first hour, rallied to 52¾c, sold off to 52¼c, up to 52⅜c, and at 1 o'clock was just 1c under the opening at 52⅜c. A member of a leading firm sent this statement to his house this morning: "Although the government report reduces the estimate of the corn crop 76,000,000 bushels, it is a disappointment to the major ty of the bulls who have been expecting a reduction to 1,400,000,000 bushels. The price was 3c in Chicago a year ago, which netted the farmers, after deducting 15c freight, only 15c. It is now 5½c, which at the same freights nets them 35c. Last year large amounts were burned and wasted by farmers and feeders. This year, at the high prices, with an open fall and winter and abundant pasturage, every bushel is saved and we believe this saving will amount to 200,000,000 bushels, sufficient to make a long crop out of what seemed a short one." The corn market was badly demoralized late in the day. May sold down to 52⅝c or 1¼c under the early price. There was a little rally to 52¾c at the close. January was quoted 50c off to 48¾c, closing 48¾c; February at 51c off to 49¾c, closing at 49⅝c. Corn receipts were 188 cars, for Tuesday 275. Liverpool cables were firm and ½d up. There was a great deal of long corn sold out during the day and a much more bearish feeling seems to exist among the the trade. The visible supply increased 67,000 bushels and the local stock 62,000 bushels. May corn puts/ileges were quoted at 52c for puts, 52¾c for calls.

Oats followed the other cereals early, but did not prove so weak late in the day. May sold at 46¾c and 46⅝c and off to 46c, closing 1c under Saturday; January at 43¾c and 43⅞c and off to 43c; June closed at 45½c; July at 41¼c.

The provision market was the weakest on the floor today, but from causes entirely independent of the easier feeling in the grain markets. Coming on top of 254,000 hogs last week, the receipts of hogs today were about 60,000, instead of 40,000, a liberal estimate. The prices at the yards smashed at once 10 to 15c on the early estimate of 53,000. The provision trade had to follow. Mess pork opened 10c lower at $11.02½, sold around $11.05 for a moment and at once went off 10c further to $10.92½ before the call. Later there was a break to $10.75, a rally to $10.85 and the close was 30c under Saturday at $10.82½. January was off to $10.30. There was a proportionate decline in other products. Lard was hammered down until there was a sale for May at $6.25½ and the close was a loss of 10c for the day at $6.25. February was $5.85. March $6.00. Ribs sold at $5.55 and $5.45 for May, closing at the bottom; January, $5.00; February, $5.02½. Early in the day there was selling by Fowler and Sterling and many others. Schwartz-Dupee sold pork. Cudahy was a seller, although buying by Wolff was credited to him. The commission houses sold stuff supposed to be for local packers.

Board Notes and Gossip.

Late private cables on wheat were ¼d higher.

New Orleans reports 38,000 bushels of wheat cleared.

New York reports ten boat loads of No. 2 red wheat worked for export to Portugal.

Liverpool, poor demand for spot wheat at the opening, but firmly held. Corn strong.

Puts on St. Louis May wheat, 95¾c; calls, 96¾c. Puts on May corn, 49¼c; calls, 49⅝c.

India shipped last week to the United Kingdom and continent 640,000 quarters of wheat.

At 2 p. m.—Puts on Chicago May wheat, 95¾c; calls, 96¾c. Puts on May corn, 52¼c; calls, 52¾c.

On the little upturn from 96¼@96¾ Partridge fed the wheat market all it would take. He was a heavy seller at the opening and covered freely around 96¾c.

Beerbohm's Cable—Cargoes off cost wheat strong; corn firmer. Cargoes on passage and for shipment: Wheat strong; corn firm. Weather frosty in England.

W. G. McCormick & Co. to Swartz & Co.—Provisions weak on heave receipts of hogs, and we think they will go still lower, as the estimate of hogs for tomorrow is 60,000.

W. G. McCormick & Co. to F. C. Swartz & Co.: There has been considerable wheat sold today, for St. Louis account, also small lines of local long stuff have been liquidated.

W. J. McCormick & Co. to F. C. Swartz & Co.: The government reports 6,000,000 acres of corn abandoned but it is very conservative to say that the yield on this 6,000,000 would be 5 bushels per acre, or 30,000,000 bushels, and although this was not gathered it does not necessarily follow that it was a total loss, as stock was undoubtedly turned in on it. Therefore this should be added to the government's estimate of 1,400,000,000.

F. G. Logan & Co. to Benjamin B. Bryan—Wheat opened strong at 97¾c for May, sold up to 98c and closed at 96c. The government reports of 339,000,000 bushels is undoubtedly bullish, but the majority of our traders were prepared for it by having wheat on hand. On the decline considerable long was sold out. To maintain prices we must have more outside speculation. Corn closes weak at 52⅜c; trade light. Provisions moderately active. Packers were sellers early.

W. G. McCormick & Co. to F. C. Swartz & Co.: Owing to the mildness of the season there has been a heavy substitution of cheaper feed in the place of corn. The saving on the big crop of half fatted stock, amounts to 250,000,000 to 270,000,000 bushels, which gives us a crop of nearly 1,800,000,000, following the two largest crops we have ever produced. Can this position maintain 53c for May corn? We think not.

Kennett Hopkins & Co. to Christie-Lathrop Commission company: Wheat opened 1c higher in consequence of a bullish government report but weakness in provisions and sympathetically in corn and oats encouraged wheat bears and they began selling furiously. The tendency was continually downward until a 2c decline had been established when covering by shorts and a little investment buying on the strength of good cables and fifteen loads taken for export caused a rally to 96c but a bearish sentiment soon reasserted itself and a break followed carrying prices lower than before. Wheat would naturally have advanced on such a report as Mr. Dodges but the intensely bearish feeling prevailing overshadows all other considerations and the selling fever will have to run its course. The weakness at the close indicates a lower opening tomorrow. Corn, some local traders having covered their shorts put them out today, causing a lower market. There was no demand to speak of after the opening spurt except around 52¾c against puts. Champlin, Fowler, Walker, Parker, and others sold. If government reports is reliable it is sure there is to be no scarcity of corn except temporarily. It may be several months before a free movement sets in and in the meantime a nervous and occasionally higher market is probable but we look for increasing stocks and a slowly declining market. Oats were active within narrow limits. There seems to be more confidence in the long side of this cereal than any other, and the government report is calculated to encourage this belief. A very large marketing of hogs caused heavy trading in provisions. Longs were the principal sellers. Shorts covered liberally but on this break as on previous ones lately there has been noticed free speculative buying. Thus while it prevents as much immediate decline as the situation seems to warrant is not favorable to the future strength of the market.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—CATTLE—Good steers were not plentiful, but there was a heavy supply of medium, thin and common stock and the run of old cows was the largest for more than a month past, and there was also more stockers than for the past week or so. The general market opened slow, big buyers holding off until the last moment and then making bids fully 10c to 15c lower than the close of last week. On good to choice steers and on medium stock they would not make an offer unless at ridiculously low prices. Butcher stock, although not in as bad shape as fat cattle, sold 10c lower and perhaps 15c to 20c in some cases. The market on stockers does not fairly open on Monday, as both buyers and sellers are engaged in looking over and penning the stock previous to sorting. The top prices today were $5.25 for extra 1,700-lb. steers; $4.75@5.00 for 1,400 to 1,500-lb. averages; other steers, $4.05@4.56; on common, $3.25@3.75; stockers, $2.00@3.50; butchers' stock, $1.25@3.50.

Hogs—An unpected run threw the ordinary routine of business out of the usual course, hence the general business was ratner slow to open and there was a good deal of skirmishing between buyers and sellers before prices could be agreed on, but first sales showed a sharp down turn of 10c to 15c and from that on to the close there was no rally, hence the general market closed 10c to 15c lower than on Saturday, with common light mixed selling as low as $3.25@3.45; fair to good mixed, $3.50@3.55; primo heavy and butcher weights, $3.60@3.65; light, $3.50@3.90; pigs, $2.75@3.40.

FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—There was somewhat of a surprise in store for Wall street this morning. Either because of the prospects of a back dividend, or some other influence, there was intense excitement in Sugar Refineries, which recorded the first sale at 3⅞ per cent over its final price of Saturday. Dealings in it were enormous and its price mounted 1 per cent at a time, finally reaching 81⅛ against 70⅞ on Saturday. There was, of course, considerable feverishness in dealings and its price reacted to 78⅛, in which neighborhood it was maintained. The general list, while sharing in the early strength and activity showed irregularity in the later dealings and the opening advantages were not maintained in many cases. The Missouri Pacific was the strongest stock on the list, rising 3¼ per cent, while many others declined small fractions. Late in the hour Norther Pacific and Chicago Gas became more active, each rising over 1. The market at 11 o'clock, however, was still rather unsettled though very active. The upward movement in stocks, early, was helped by London buying. The easier feeling which followed about midday was on selling to take profits. This was followed before 1 o'clock by a second period of good buying and Burlington rose to 93, St. Paul to 56, Missouri Pacific to 66¾, Northern Pacific common to 28⅝, preferred to 70¾, North American to 17¾, Louisville to 84, Chicago Gas to 89. Lackawanna was off 1¼ to 137. The late hours of the session in stocks were devoted to pretty general selling. There was not any bad feeling over the situation, but the taking of profits on a big advance on the theory of natural reaction. At the close a few stocks, including Northern Pacific, preferred, and Burlington, were steady at Saturday's figures. Chicago Gas, after a rise of over 5 points to 42, closed at 38⅜. Sugar Receipts dropped back 78¼ at the close. In railroad stocks Atchison was off ⅜ at 31, Northwestern, ¾ at 106¼; Rock Island, 1¾ at 69⅝; St. Paul, ⅛ at 55¾; Missouri Pacific was up ¾ and Union Pacific off 1 per cent; Lackawanna 137¾, or 1 per cent lower. Sales were 290,000 shares.
