

GOSSIP FOR THE LADIES.

Two Recent Notable Weddings in Washington Society.

LITTLE BITS OF FEMINE GOSSIP.

Washington Belles Who Have Married Titles—Queen of the Hawaiians—Kisses Worth $250 Each—Miscellaneous.

The recent weddings of Miss Audreine and Miss Alice Gray Rice—weddings which were in effect the capture by foreign powers of two of the prettiest girls in Washington—has caused no end of comment as to the readiness of Washington belles to throw themselves into the arms of the corps diplomatique, says the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Post.

They Fought for Her. An unusual prize fight took place at Plymouth, Pa., in which two brothers were the principals. A sweetheart coveted by both was the object of the contest.

Reaching for the High Notes. If nature had endowed a singer with the power of producing high notes which will sing spontaneously, the sign of a soprano would be in the Ladies' Home Journal for February.

If I Were You, My Dear. I wouldn't turn my head to look after fine fellows who are in love with me. I wouldn't forget to sew the braids around the bottom of my skirt, or the buttons on my shoes.

How to Break Up a Scrofulous Cold. From the Virginia Mount. City, Mont., News. When we find a medicine known to possess genuine merit, we consider it a duty, and we take pleasure in telling the public what it is.

Weather Indices. Up to this date our monthly prognostications have been fully as reliable as the prophecies of the late lamented Wiggins.

He Ibbled Our State. Justice Ford looked alarmed when a policeman carelessly tossed a pistol down on his desk at the Jefferson market police court.

The New Queen. The recent death in San Francisco of King Kalanika makes interesting the question of the succession to the throne of the Hawaiian Islands.

Courtship in the Year 2000. While the unmarried woman of the year 2000, whether young or old, will enjoy the dignity and independence of the bachelor of today, says Edward Bellamy in the Ladies' Home Journal for February.

LOST AN ISLAND AT POKER.

How King Malletta Put Up the Isle of Manono Against $500.

IT WAS ALL ON ACCOUNT OF A JACK POT.

The Paymaster Laid Down Four Aces and a Five Spot and Laked in the Real Estate.

We have heard a great deal about Sam on one way or another, during the past few years, but history has failed to relate to us one of the most important incidents in his life.

The king's opportunity came soon after an American man-of-war sailed into the harbor of Apia one day. Among the officers was a young man, a lieutenant, named Malletta.

Every one stayed. The paymaster drew three cards, the lieutenant the same number, the assistant engineer two, and the trader one.

After Due Consideration. They wanted a girl and this tells how they came out. "Well," said Mr. Marter, "I suppose we must get a girl for the day."

Money Gone, He Put Up an Island. The paymaster's face grew serious and he looked at his hand with a beating heart.
